Albert Horter, 84, a resident of the Thief River Falls community since 1928, died Monday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Albert Horter will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the St. John Lutheran church. Rev. Paul R. Biegner will officiate and interment will be in the Immanual Lutheran cemetery near Radium.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from Thursday evening until Saturday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obituary will follow.

Rites Held At Bemidji For Mrs. Thomas Knutson

Funeral services were held Saturday, September 10, at 11 a.m. at the First Lutheran church, Bemidji, for Mrs. Thomas Knutson, 75, who died Tuesday, September 6, following a stroke. Rev. Raymond Williams officiated at the services. Mrs. Jerome Skeim was organist and Mrs. Peter Gundsrud was soloist.

Honorary pallbearers were Nels Lee, Will Francis, George Burke Sr., Martin Nichelson, Leon Jewett and Burt Morlan. Serving as active pallbearers were Harold Olson, Lawrence Jaycox, John Roberts, R. E. Terres, Richard Tarte and Henry Antos. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery at Bemidji.

Mrs. Knutson, the former Bertha Irene Paskewitz, was born Oct. 2, 1890 at Lynn to William and Estelle Paskewitz Sr. She was baptized, confirmed and was a member of the First Lutheran church.

She attended elementary school and completed a teachers training course. On Nov. 24, 1909 she was united in marriage to Thomas Knutson at Wabasso. They lived in Willmar prior to moving in 1912 to the Grygla community where they were engaged in farming. During World War II, she was employed by Boeings at Seattle, Wash. Upon her return to Minnesota, she had resided at Bemidji where she was active in community affairs and church work.

Survivors are her husband, Thomas Knutson, Bemidji; two sons, Kenneth Knutson, Bemidji and Clinton of Grygla; two daughters, Mrs. Halvor (Helen) Reise, Bemidji and Mrs. Harold (Harriet) Nelsen of Grygla; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren;

Also two brothers, Raymond Paskewitz of South St. Paul and William Jr., of Deland, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Ellis (Eunice) Nelson of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Edgar (Mabel) Wegge of Thief River Falls and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by a son, Thomas Shirley Knutson who was killed in World War II at Leyte, two brothers and two sisters.

Anton Johnson Services To Be Held Here Friday

Funeral services for Anton Johnson, 75, a long-time resident of the Thief River Falls community who died early Monday morning at Northwestern hospital, will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Redeemer Lutheran church. Rev. Dennis Rodin will officiate and interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. William Halbasch will serve as organist and Mrs. Sherman Idso will sing.

Pallbearers will be M. R. Leverson, Myles Jackson, Hjalmer Rafteseth, Arthur Knutson, Joseph Knutson and Werner Jacobson. The American Legion Post will furnish military honors.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from tonight (Wednesday) until Friday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Anton Leonard Johnson was born Aug. 28, 1891 at Ruthon to Nels and Lena Johnson. He was baptized, confirmed, attended school and grew to manhood there.

He served in the United States Army during World War I and after his discharge farmed for a short time near Ruthton. On April 10, 1926 he was united in marriage to Hilda Hedlund at Thief River Falls. The couple farmed in Excel township, Pennington county from 1929 until 1937. He then worked as a carpenter, both on the West Coast and in Canada, returning to this city in 1943 where he was employed for nine years by the Norby Construction company.

He was a member of the Redeemer Lutheran church and of American Legion Eklund Holmstrom Post of Thief River Falls for 30 years.

He is survived by his wife, Hilda; two brothers and one sister, Axel Johnson and Mrs. Elmer Benson, both of Balaton, and Walter Johnson of Hasting, and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and one sister.

Fred Berberich Requiem Mass Held At Brooks

Solemn Requiem High Mass for Fred Berberich, 84, a prominent resident of the Brooks area who died Saturday at St. John's hospital at Red Lake Falls, was held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic church at Brooks. Rev. Henry Carriere was Celebrant, Rev. Louis Proulx Deacon and Rev. Paul Cardin, Subdeacon. Interment was in the church cemetery with the Petterson Funeral home, Red Lake Falls, in charge of arrangements.

Serving as pallbearers were Kenneth and Robert Abrams and Lawrence, Linus, Jerome and Robert Berberich.

Fred Berberich, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berberich was born Dec. 11, 1881 at Sleepy Eye. There he was married to Margaret Neid on Nov. 10, 1908. In 1915 the Berberichs moved to the Brooks area where they farmed in Poplar River township, Red Lake County.

Mr. Berberich was very active in community affairs. He was the last survivor of the organizing committee that established the St. Joseph Catholic parish at Brooks. He was also on the founding committee of the Red Lake Electric, served on the Red Lake County ASC committee, was Poplar River town assessor for many years, served on the Brooks Farmers Union Coop Elevator association and was manager of the Brooks Shipping association.

Survivors include five sons, Aloysis Berberich, Arlington, Texas; Eugene of Medina, Ohio; Leander of Brooks, Fredric of Erskine and Vernard of Crookston; four daughters, Mrs. Donald (Marie) Abrams, Northwood, Iowa; Mrs. Bernard (Orlean) O'Malley, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. George (Phyllis) Baskerville, Carrington, N. D., and Mrs. George (Dorothy) Lessard of Drayton, N. D., 51 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren;

Also two brothers Ed Berberich of Sleepy Eye and Leonard of Comfrey and two sisters, Mrs. Dave (Laura) Johnson of Minneapolis and Mrs. Paul (Anne) Domer of Detroit, Mich.

He was preceded in death by his wife in 1958, three children and three brothers.

Marshall 4H Livestock Show Held Saturday

Sixty-two head of livestock and poultry were entered in the eighth annual Marshall county fat animal show and sale held Saturday in Argyle under the sponsorship of the Argyle Lions club.

Entered were 11 beef steers, nine barrows, 25 wether lambs, five trios of wether lambs and 12 poultry exhibits. Forty-eight 4-H members exhibited animals.

All of the exhibits except those going to the junior livestock show in St. Paul were sold at the afternoon auction sale. Premiums for the trip-winning animals were sold at the auction.

Winning trips to the junior livestock show were Peggy and John Larson and Dennis Hjelle of the Argyle Hustlers 4-H club with their wether lambs and Jerry Sedlacek of the Comstock club with his steer.

Rules of the state junior livestock show provide that only blue ribbon winners who will be 11 years old by Jan. 1, 1967 are eligible to exhibit in the show. In addition, they must not have won a 4-H livestock trip to the state fair this year. These requirements prevented the county from sending a barrow and an additional steer this year, according to Charles Peterson, assistant agricultural agent.

Grand champion steer was exhibited by Phyllis Edgar of the McCrea 4-H club; reserve champion by Jerry Sedlacek of Comstock. Blue ribbon winners were Dennis Hjelle of the Argyle Hustlers and Wayne, Rudy and Ronn Stark of Viking. Red ribbons were won by Debra Thun of Sunnyside, Gary Borg of Holt, David Dahl of Plainview and David and Arden Lamberson of McCrea.

Grand champion barrow was exhibited by Dale Cirks of McCrea; reserve champion by Charles Edgar, also of McCrea. Winning the only blue ribbon was Lynn Cirks of McCrea. Red ribbon winners were Wayne Merek, Boxville; Stephen and Dianna Gast Riverside, William Engen, New Maine; and Mark Olson, McCrea. Lynn Merek of Boxville won a white ribbon.

Grand champion wether was exhibited by John Larson, with the reserve champion exhibited by Peggy Larson, both of the Argyle Hustlers. Blue ribbon winners were Dennis Hjelle, Argyle Hustlers; Phyllis and Charles Edgar, McCrea; Bruce Ueland, New Maine; Joyce Olson, McCrea; Linda Stengrim, McCrea; Carol Olson, Cedar; Gene Anderson, McCrea; and Alvin Nybladh, Plainview.

Red ribbon winners in the wether class were Larry Nybladh, Plainview; Krista Boen, Sunnyside; Tim Menger, Boxville; James Dahl, Plainview; Dennis Erickson, Woodland, Mary Stengrim, McCrea; Vir-Jean Olson McCrea; and Mary and Alva Flaten, Sunnyside. Winning white ribbons were Emory Flaten, Sunnyside; Rodney and Robbie Jones, McCrea; and David Waterworth, Grove Valiants.

Blue ribbon winners among trio exhibitors were Dennis Hjelle, Argyle Hustlers; Phyllis and Charles Edgar, McCrea and John Larson, Argyle Hustlers. Mary Stengrim of McCrea won a red ribbon.

Blue ribbon-winning poultry exhibitors were Mary Flaten, Sunnyside; and Carol and Dennis Erickson, Woodland. Red ribbon winners were Neal and Carla Benson, East Augsburg; Marlys Anderson, Riverside; Alva and Emory Flaten, Sunnyside; Karen Erickson, Woodland; Wayne Stark, Viking; and Pat and Mike Knoll, Tamarac Tacklers.

Buyers from eastern Marshall county were the Middle River State Bank, the Marshall County State Bank of Newfolden, the Newfolden Coop. Elevator and Stan's Grocery of Newfolden.

Champion showmanship awards went to Phyllis Edgar in the steer class; Charles Edgar in the swine division and Dennis Hjelle in the weather lamb class. The auction sale brought a total of $4,243.81 to the 4-H exhibitors.

Good Hope 4-H Puts Many Hours In Club Project

Good Hope 4-H club has translated citizenship into action in its club project for the year. Members of the club have assumed the responsibility for improvement of the building and grounds of the Moylan town hall located about six miles north of Goodridge on highway 219.

The club has erected a flag pole, purchased and planted flowers in a circular bed at the base of the pole, painted the outside of the building, and painted a refuse barrel for use at the site. Families of club members work on a rotation basis to keep the site mowed and care for the flowers. It is also planned to plant some trees and do additional landscaping. Twenty-nine members are involved in the project.

Mrs. Erling Lundeen and Mrs. Lynn Hanson are adult leaders for the club which is only in its fourth year of existence. Although most of the members live in eastern Marshall county, the club is a member of the Pennington county council. Junior leaders are Rosemary Liedberg, Vickie Wiseth, Margaret Cullen and Lana Ellingson.

On Monday evening the club held its meeting in the hall, using a kerosene table lamp for light since the building is not wired for electricity. The darkness failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the members, however, as the business meeting proceeded with proper decorum.

Leaders of the club have noted that the Moylan township board furnished the pole and flag and paint for the exterior of the hall with 4-H club members providing the work.

GOOD HOPE 4-H club members met Monday evening at the Moylan town hall—site of a club project which has been underway all summer. The club has painted the outside of the hall, erected a flag pole, planted flowers, furnished a trash barrel and kept the lawn mowed. Club members at Monday night's meeting are pictured above, with newly-elected officers listed in parentheses: Front row, left to right, Mike Hanson (secretary), James Prestebak, Howard Liedberg, Tim Prestebak and Terry Wiseth; second row, Jane Prestebak, Tami Brown, Karen Peters, Diane Wiseth, Land and Kathy Lundeen, back row, Galen Peters (Historian), Margaret Cullen (treasurer), Jane Liedberg (vice president) and Kris Sjodean (president). Not present were Vicki, Vance and Valarie Wiseth.

WEEDING the flower bed at the base of the flag pole at the Moylan town hall at these three members of the Good Hope 4-H club. They are Terry Wiseth, Howard Liedberg and Kathy Lundeen.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Golfing Finale

The 1966 golfing season will come to an official close on Sunday, September 18, when the local golf club is host to its annual "Snowball Special" shortstop tournament.

This event has been a late season golfing attraction up here since the days of World War II. The club house in those bygone years was on the east side of the river, and the course played quite a bit differently than it does at present.

Sunday's shortstop could provide some top-flight golf if the championship flight golfers in this area make their appearance. It would be fine if Keith Janle, now a Texan but busy with potatoes in the Grand Forks area, could be here. And if Dr. Bob Harris of Roseau would be here to belt out those mile-long drives.

And Crookston's Ernotte Hiller is always welcome, and it is joy to follow this veteran of the fairways. Ernotte just recently made history when he won the Red River Valley tournament for the 15th time. Hiller, with his smooth swing, just seems to go on and on.

The championship flight will be on a nine-hole match play competition.

The Northwest Football Conference

The five-team Northwest conference Bemidji, Crookston, Central, East Grand Forks Roseau and Thief River Falls will begin play on its 1966 schedule this week when, on Friday night at Bemidji, coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks squad meets the defending champion Bemidji Lumberjacks.

Coach Kenneth (Red) Wilson's Lumberjacks have been the conference champions for the past for years, and while the 'Jacks lost heavily through graduation, Bemidji will be well-rated and favored to make a successful defense of its grid title. In meeting the Green Wave on Friday night, the 'Jacks will be up against one of the top contenders for the title.

East Grand Forks has shown good all-round balance in its two outings to date. The Green Wave defeated the Warren Ponies, 27-20, in a season-opener, and last week coach Thompson's club trounced Dilworth, 34-0. Looming large in the East Grand Forks offense have been fullback Jack Soltis and halfback Dan Beck. Beck has been a strong runner for the Green Wave, and this isn't surprising as the sturdy athlete is the conference, district and regional 440-yard dash champion.

Meanwhile the Bemidji Lumberjacks are in a rebuilding process, and last week, in their opener, they were beaten by Crosby-Ironton, 39-19, and had their four-year winning streak broken. The fact that Bemidji was able to score 19 points proves that coach Wilson has come up with fast-moving backfielders. Dave Bublitz, a 173-pounder, is the 'Jacks' fullback and he is a member of coach Don Thompson's Bemidji track squad.

And while the Green Wave and the Lumberjacks are meeting in an important conference game, the other three teams—Roseau, Crookston Central and Thief River Falls—are engaged in games against Sacred Heart, Park Rapids and Red Lake Falls, respectively. And of these three games, the Red Lake Falls vs. Thief River Falls game, to be played on the Lincoln field here, shapes up as the toughest. It's traditional for Red Lake Falls to be "up" for their game against the Prowlers, and this year, following the 39-0 defeat of last season, the Eagles' claws will be plenty sharp.

Coach Jim Sims and his Prowler coaching staff have been forced to reshuffle and blue-and-gold lineup. Dave Halvorson, a veteran left halfback, and Nickie Drees, another halfback and one of the kickoff return men, are out of action with crippling injuries. Halvorson has an injured right knee, and Drees has an injured right shoulder. It is doubtful if the two boys will be in action this season. And Paul Ihle is just recovering from an infection and he will not be ready for a week or two. But don't worry, the Prowlers will be on the field Friday night!

Big Game and Fresh Air

Several local hunting parties are completing arrangements for trips up into northern Manitoba. They will be after moose, and fresh air.

Next week Al Sampson and Hillary Stollman will be flown into the Bloodvein river area on the east side of lake Winnipeg. The two hunters will be on a week-long expedition after moose. The plane flying Al and Hillary into the Bloodvein river will carry a canoe lashed to its pontoons, and the two hunters will course the waterways by canoe in search of moose. They hope to be successful, and if they do bag a moose or two, the game will be flown out by a Norseman plane.

And due to leave next week, too, will be Russ Williams, Bob Jenkins, Dennis Kezar and their party. This group will also be on the east side of lake Winnipeg, and will have as their headquarters the area round Bissett. Sampson and Stollman had success up there last season.

But the farthest-north expedition will be Dr. Ernest Thorsgard's party. They will hunt the Hayes river area, around York Factory. And if you don't know where York Factory is, well, it's on James Bay of Hudson Bay. It's up where the north begins. When Dr. Thorsgard returns he should be able to enlighten us as to the kind of weather we will be having this winter!

Cross-Country Squad Defeats Bagley 20-53

Coach Roger Solheim's Prowler cross-country squad opened its 1966 schedule by scoring a 20 to 53 win over the Bagley Flyers in a dual meet that was contested over the golf club range here on Tuesday afternoon.

The Bagley Flyers' Tom Beltz (who is a half-miler on the Flyers track squad) won the individual honors when he came in first and posted a time of 7:53. But Beltz was pressed closely by the Prowlers' Jim Gibson who finished second with a time of 7:54. And Gary LaValley gained third place with a time of 7:58.

Other finishers in the top ten, all Prowlers, were Doug Knutson, Larry Johnson, Russ Delorme, Chuck Bedard, Kim Brandt, Lynn Stromberg and Dave Reeve. The first five finishers are eligible for the team point total, so it was Gibson, 2; LaValley, 3; Knutson, 4; Johnson, 5; and Delorme, 6.

Newfolden Meets Oslo in Second Game of Season

Middle River Skippers rolled over the Newfolden Nordics, 61 to 0, in a game played on the Nordic field on Friday. This non-conference game was the opener for the Nordics and the second game for the Skippers.

The next game on the Newfolden schedule will open Little Seven conference action for the Nordics as they journey to Oslo for a 7:30 p.m. game under the lights on Friday.

The Nordics were outweighed and outmanned in the Middle River game as at least three regulars from last year were missing due to work. Most of the Nordics were forced to play the entire game in the heat while the Skippers were able to alternate a few players at a time to give them rests.

James Hodny, a senior out for his first year of football, was one of the bright spots in the Nordic defeat as he made one interception and made the greatest number of tackles for the Nordics.

Desrocher Wins Top Placing in Archery Tourney

Thirty-two shooters participated in the invitational archery tournament sponsored Sunday by the Thief River Falls Archery club. Archers from Roseau, Crookston and Fertile were in attendance in addition to Thief River Falls entries in the last tournament of the season.

Trophies were awarded as follows:

Expert — William Desrocher, first, and Paul Halverson, second;

Archer — Dean Hams, first; Clarence Vaudrin, Crookston, second; and Tony Noel, third;

Bowman — Andy Anenson, first; Maze Thompson, Fertile, second; and Darrell Mack, third;

Women's Expert—Loreen Mack;

Women's Bowman—Marge Dunham, first; Yvonne Green, second; and Verna Teal third;

Juniors to age 15—Duane Kaiser, Crookston, first; Joel Folger, second; and Terry Dunham, third;

Juniors 15-17—Marlow Dunham, first; Dennis Benson, second; and Rudy Rose, third.

Saddle Club To Meet Sunday

Thief River Falls Saddle club has scheduled a social gathering Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Connie Haugen home, located near Long's bridge. Members and interested persons are invited to bring their horses. Games with prizes will be played and lunch served.

Best Canada Duck Crop in Years Ready to Migrate

The best duck crop in many years is poised and ready to move down the flyways, according to the September issue of the Ducks Unlimited "Duckological," prepared by General Manager Angus Gavin. Good rainfall across the western Canada prairie provinces has safely matured the excellent duck crop forecast earlier by D. U.

Early broods, now strong in flight, are massing with adults on the larger marshes in preparation for the flight south. Many late broods have yet to fly, but there is no lack of water except in very local areas. Some blue-winged teal and pintail have already gone south.

The report cites a "large early movement of geese into central Alberta. . .good numbers of Canada geese, white-fronts and some snows in the Hanna district."

Annual D. U. aerial survey of northern areas revealed that the ducks this year are on the prairies. Surveyors found northern water levels high and, except for Manitoba, fewer ducks than last year. Manitoba increase was deemed "significant."

Duck populations in the Saskatchewan River Delta are termed "excellent." An extremely heavy population is reported on the Saskeram Lake project near The Pas. The Winnipegosis area also turned up a good increase.

August rains fell where most needed. The area south and east of Edmonton Alberta, where water was becoming critical, had the wettest August on record. Many potholes were restored to May levels. These excellent conditions extend eastward through the parklands of Saskatchewan and promise a good water carry-over for 1967, Gavin reported.

U of M Aumni Group Plans for Annual Meeting

Officers and directors of the Thief River Falls chapter of the University of Minnesota Alumni association met Tuesday noon with Chet Tomczyk, assistant director of the association. Plans were discussed for the chapter's annual scholarship dinner meeting.

The local chapter board voted to make available a $200 scholarship to assist a graduate of the Thief River Falls junior college to complete training at the University of Minnesota at the Twin Cities, Duluth or Morris. Applications will be made available through the Thief River Falls junior college office.

The annual meeting is primarily designed to conduct the annual business report and election of officers, as well as establishing scholarship funds. The alumni association made arrangements for a faculty member from the university to be the guest speaker at the annual meeting.

Once again this year, the annual meeting is scheduled for the latter part of January. Present officers of the local chapter include Fred A. Sorensen, president; Dr. Donald R. Goodrich, vice president; and Mrs. Wendell Olson, secretary-treasurer. Directors include Dr. Edward T. Nelson, C. L. Charlson, Peter Probasco and Dr. Arnold Berg.

All alumni, parents of students now attending the university and friends of the school are invited to participate in chapter activities.

Camp Ripley Open To Bow Hunters During October

Camp Ripley military reservation in Morrison county will be open to bow and arrow deer hunting again this year during the October and December seasons, it was announced today.

State game and fish director Ted Shields said arrangements have been made with the National Guard through the adjutant general's office. Shields said he has been advised by Colonel Robert L. Moeglein, camp commander, that deer hunting would be permitted from October 1-31; and from December 3-18.

Because of military activities scheduled for the weekends of October 1-2 and 15-16, hunting on those dates will be restricted to the area north of Cassino Road.

All other weekends and week days will be free of military activities and will provide hunting of the entire camp Ripley reservation under a zoned management plan.

Camp Ripley has been the bow hunters' favorite hunting spot for many years. In 1965, Camp Ripley produced 262 of the 871 deer taken in the state by archers.

Shields said hunting zones will be established again this year in order to properly distribute the hunters. On week ends, hunters will be required to check in and out of these areas through a checking station manned by conservation department personnel.

Hunting hours will be from sunrise to sunset and all other state hunting laws and regulations will be in effect. Archers will be permitted to enter the hunting areas 1½ hours before sunrise and must be out of these areas by one hour after sunset.

Detailed instructions on hunting zones and other rules will be printed on the back of maps which will be given to each hunter entering the military reservation.

Entrance to the camp on weekends will be confined to the railroad gate located at the extreme southeastern corner of the reservation. The gate will be opened on Friday at noon and will remain open until Sunday night.

Hunters using the reservation on other days of the week will enter and leave through the main gate.

Camping will be permitted again this year in a new specially marked and more attractive area set aside by National Guard authorities. Bow-hunters will be expected to keep the camping area clean and orderly. Failure to do so could result in the withdrawal of camping privileges.

Colonel Moeglein has warned hunters to avoid the "impact" areas. Unexploded shells are sometimes found in these areas where they have fallen during military training operations.

Under no circumstances are these shells to be handled or tampered with. Impact areas will be clearly indicated on the maps provided to hunters and roads into such areas will be barricaded by the military authorities. Hunters are instructed not to enter any barricaded area. The use of snowmobiles and other off-road vehicles will be prohibited.

Shields and Moeglein said Camp Ripley is also open to hunting of raccoon, skunk, bobcat, badger, fox, coyote and woodchuck with bow and arrow only during the October and December deer seasons.

It is also open to the trapping of muskrat and mink during the established seasons and to the trapping of raccoon, skunk, bobcat, coyote, badger, fox and woodchuck from Oct. 1, 1966, through April 30, 1967.

Trapping will be by permit issued by the office of the camp commander.

Announce Schedule For Grand Forks Symphony Group

Four concerts will be presented by the Greater Grand Forks Symphony orchestra this season, it was announced by Thomas Facey, newly engaged conductor, at a meeting of the symphony association last week.

They are scheduled October 23, November 27, February 12 and April 2. First concert will feature the orchestra and introduce Facey to the concert audience. Guest artists are engaged to appear at the other concerts. All concerts are free and open to the public, and are scheduled for Sundays at 4 p.m. at the Central high school auditorium in Grand Forks.

There is a need for more musicians to join the orchestra, Facey said, particularly in the string section. Anyone who plays an instrument and would like to join the symphony may call Facey at 772-6307 or write to him at 613 Reeves Drive, Grand Forks, N. D. First rehearsal is slated Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Moose Walks Over Car Near Malung Saturday Night

One Roseau area resident is convinced that moose have no respect for civilizaton. Perhaps Nancy Sinatra should cut a new record entitled: "These Moose Are Made for Walkin' ". The following article appeared in the September 7 edition of the Roseau Times-Region:

Tell Oliver Dahlgren a moose on the loose isn't a threat to a parked automobile and he'll point to his vehicle and mince no words! There's one bull moose in the Malung area which goes where it's going even if it has to walk over an automobile to do it!

Oliver can bear testimony to the fact. That old bull, which has been stomping through yards in Malung, cost Oliver a new windshield and maybe some hammering to get the dents out of his automobile.

It all happened Saturday night as he was returning home after playing a musical date at Badger, we're told.

Near Malung Hall he saw the lights of another car approaching. Outlined in the lights was a big bull moose coming up out of the ditch. He slowed down. So did the other car. Both apparently saw the huge animal.

Oliver stopped his car so he wouldn't hit the moose. The other driver reportedly did the same. The moose kept right on his way. . . straight line. . .no deviation.

When he came to Oliver's car, he walked right over it!

First he stepped on the bumper. Then he stepped on the hood. Then he stepped through the windshield putting his big foot in Oliver's lap! Then he stepped on the roof of the auto!

"He looked like a mountain," Oliver told Oscar Erickson as he pointed out the damage to his car next day.

Apparently the hulking moose had kept two feet on the highway while planting the other two in various spots on Oliver's car! Some animal!

Oliver said there was some blood and hair around the hole in the windshield but the big bull kept right on going in a straight line as though walking over automobiles was all in a day's journey (or a night stroll) for a moose.

There was a footprint on his bumper. A foot print and deep dent in his hood. A hole through his windshield and a hoof mark along the roof where the animal dragged his foot.

"He was reluctant to tell about it as he figured no one would believe him," Erickson said. "But I saw it and it's true!"

He reports that the moose has been making a nuisance of himself in the Malung area. "He's been prowling around everybody's yard . . . and not even the dogs will chase him."

"If he's big enough to walk over an automobile while still keeping two feet on the ground, we don't blame the dogs!"

Quite a bull!

Ask Employers to Hire Handicapped After Training

John R. Murphy, manager of the Veterans Administration center, St. Paul, has urged employers in this area to hire handicapped persons who have had rehabilitation training. Murphy said that firms which have employed rehabilitated veterans have had the highest praise for their performance in their new jobs.

As National Employ the Handicapped Week (October 2-8) neared, Murphy cited progress in the field. At this time, he said, there are 9,623 veterans in the nation engaged in training to help them overcome their handicaps. Approximately 37 per cent of them were enrolled in colleges and universities, and more than half were training in trade schools. Only 1.3 per cent were taking part in on-the-farm training; however, on-the-job training programs accounted for 6.3 per cent.

One-fifth of the total trainees require individualized instructions at their home. This training is provided through special VA counseling for the severely disabled veteran, Murphy said.

Veterans hospitals also provide rehabilitation for hospitalized veterans to teach them how to make a living at a new job if their physical or mental status is changed, he said.

The VA spends $8 million a year for procurement and repair of artificial limbs and hearing aids. Research also continues to improve on any artificial appliance that will return the veteran to normal living, he said.

A Good Sale

It was encouraging to see the interest shown by buyers at the 17th annual purebred ram show and sale Monday at the livestock pavilion on the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. Peter Probasco, sale manager, was well satisfied with the quality of rams entered and the prices which consignors received for their animals.

Topping the sale was a Hampshire ram consigned by Edgar and Arlen Olson of Fosston. This animal was the champion in its class at the Minnesota state fair this year and fitted to perfection for the local show and sale. It brought $170—well above the sale average of $97.40 and the Hampshire breed average of $106.75.

Long-range forecasts indicate that sheep will be profitable for some time to come, and use of top quality rams will improve flocks for even more profitable production. It is good to see area sheep producers recognizing the value of good rams and continuing in the sheep business.

We are convinced that there is room for more sheep flocks in this area and that good management can bring good returns from this livestock enterprise—perhaps greater returns per dollar invested than most other types of livestock. Interest in sheep should rightly remain high for a number of years.

First Things First

You may not believe this, folks, but President Johnson has announced that he isn't going to spend all the money that has been appropriated by Congress. That is to say, he isn't going to spend all the agricultural appropriation. At least that was his declaration about a week ago.

The President didn't say just which programs were going to be limited, but we imagine a priority will be established. The original administration budget in January recommended reduction in the programs of school milk and school lunches, agricultural extension service, REA financing, land-grant colleges, agricultural conservation program, agricultural research and experiment stations, watershed planning and others.

For some years, these have been the more popular and most intensively used of the agricultural programs. Speculation is that the administration wants to divert some of the appropriations to its pet projects of rent subsidies and other experimental programs.

At any rate, failure to carry out the intent of Congress in voting these appropriations would be a disservice by the President to both Congress and the nation's agricultural communities.

By the Numbers

In case you need something to celebrate in October, the week beginning October 10 has been designated as National ZIP week. This is in apparent recognition of the post office department's numbers game.

It was three years ago that the Zip code was introduced, and the post office department states it has "some evidence that mail deliveries have improved". As an example it cites the following:

"Our attention has been called to a letter sent airmail from Addis Ababa in Ethiopia. The name was incomplete, the post office box number was inaccurate and the letter was addressed to the wrong city. It arrived at the correct address in two days—because it had the right Zip code number."

Contrast this, if you will, with a letter sent first class mail in St. Paul with the complete name, right post office box number, correct city and Zip code and delivered two days later in a Minneapolis suburb. Then ask yourself which situation you believe is the more common, and you will see that Zip code has not yet cured all of the postal department's problems.

But the post office does have a number of problems, and it perhaps is not fair to be too critical of Zip code. In time, and at more taxpayer expense, the department will have automated equipment to handle mail with Zip code numbers. This will likely provide no great decrease in service and, in spite of normal government mismanagement, facilitate the movement of some mail.

And if the P.O. wants to be fair, Zip code could help the mailer who has to address a large volume of mail. When Mr. Zip finally goes to work full-time, it should be necessary to write only a street address or box number and Zip code number for an address. Names seem to be only a nuisance to the department when numbers are so much more efficient.

In fact, Americans really dig this digit bit. You have to have 20-20 memory to memorize your home and office telephone number, house number, auto license number, Zip code number, social security number, etc. The time may come when names will be forgotten and everyone will be in the numbers game. Newspapers would then carry items like these:

"Mr. and Mrs. G1145682 of 56701 are the parents of twins born 9-14-66. They weighed 5-8 and 4-14 and have been numbered G1145682-A1 and G1145672-A2. Mrs. B6492835, maternal grandmother, 56753, has been staying with the other children, G1145682-C3 and G-1145682-X5, at 1143 Tenth street."

"56701 high school defeated 58130 on the sixth night of last week 14-13. 645-378-G3 scored the winning touchdown for 56701 on a pass from 863-743-K9, with 264-885-E3 kicking the extra point. On the sixth night this week 56701 will meet 54043 at 2000 hours at X-003 field."

But seriously, friends, Zip code should be given a chance to work. Use it.

A Heavy Fringe

"Fringe benefits," those items in labor contracts that are not included in "Take home" pay, last year provided American employees an average of $1,502 in such matters as hospitalization, vacation, health insurance, etc., according to a survey by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

This average figure amounted to 24.7 per cent of the total average payroll in the county. In 1947, "fringe" benefits averaged $124 per employee and represented 15.4 per cent of the payroll.

The 1965 figures showed that industry payments for such benefits ranged from 18.9 per cent in textile products to 32.1 per cent in financial institutions.

Need for Tax Reform

The following editorial appeared in the St. Paul Dispatch:

Minnesotans support a high level of public services in such fields as education, welfare, health and highways, ranking well above a majority of the states in per capita expenditure for these purposes. This reflects a generally progressive public attitude on such matters.

The problems of the taxpayers who pay the costs, however, are increased by the fact that per capita personal income here is below the national average. Another factor is lack of tax diversification. Levies on property and income supply almost all the revenues, except for highways, which get gasoline taxes and license fees.

In comparison with other states, the Minnesota Taxpayers association finds that this state ranks 24th in per capita personal income but next to the top in state and local taxes paid per $1,000 of this income. It is way down in 45th place in percentage of personal income remaining after state and local taxes are paid.

The statistics indicate a great need for more industrial development. The more industry a state has, with accompanying payrolls and property investments, the more personal income goes up and the broader becomes the overall tax base. By increasing the total wealth of a state, such development means that a given level of public services can be supported with less burden on the individual taxpayer.

In considering state and local tax reform proposals, therefore, it is clear that an essential ingredient should be efforts to encourage expansion of existing business and industry and attraction of new enterprises.

Property taxes have reached burdensome levels both for home and farm owners and for business and industry. Per capita property taxes here are exceeded in only four other states. Minnesota is third from the top in property taxes per $1,000 of personal income and seventh in the percentage of market value of property going into these taxes. The income tax story is similar. Minnesota income levies are the highest in the United States for the $10,000 a year bracket and second highest for the $5,000 group. For corporations the Minnesota income levy ranks 10th from the top.

These are some of the reasons that Minnesota needs far-reaching reforms in its state and local tax structure. The answers are not simple, but the general direction for change is indicated. Simplification of the present multiplicity of property tax classifications is one requirement. But even if desirable modifications are made, there will be need for additional sources of revenue, especially to relieve municipal finance pressures. Even higher receipts from present levies will not solve the problems.

Wish for Today

The following by an unknown author is appropriate for any day or any age:

What can I wish that this day, this year, may bring to me? Nothing that shall make the world or others poor, just those things which in their coming do not stop with me, but touch me rather, as they pass and gather strength:

A few friends who understand me, and yet remain my friends.

A work to do which has real value without which the world would feel the poorer.

A mind unafraid to travel, even though the trail be not blazed.

An understanding heart.

A sight of the eternal hills and unresting sea, and of something beautiful the hand of man has made.

A sense of humor and the power to laugh.

A little leisure with nothing to do.

A few moments of quiet meditation.

The sense of the presence of God.

And the patience to wait for the coming of these things with the wisdom to know them when they come.

"People expect far too much of children nowadays. All that emphasis on education is ridiculous. I disapprove of sending everybody to college. I'd put high school graduates to work building the Alcan highway or driving a bulldozer for two years. Let them find out what labor's all about. Give them a head start at making a bundle of loot. Then, if they still think college is for them—great." —Lee Marvin

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

The collectors were pressing down on Old Bill during a drive for church funds.

"I can't give nothin'," he pleaded. "I owe nearly everybody now."

"But," said one of the solicitors, "don't you think you owe the Lord something too?"

"I sure do," the old man said, "but He ain't pushin' me like the other creditors are."

Baudette Bridge Transfer Stalled By Legal Catch

Transfer of title of International Bridge at Baudette from the village of Baudette to the state of Minnesota has been delayed by legal complications, according to T. H. Rowell of Baudette, bridge committee chairman.

The action will require Canadian legislation, and since Canadian Senator William Bendickson informed Rowell of his belief that the matter was being delayed by the U. S. Department State, Rowell relayed that information to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who had dedicated the bridge.

The vice president said the state department will handle its part of the title transfer as expeditiously as possible, and urged the Canadian government to proceed as rapidly as legislative and administrative requirements permit.

Stumbling block in the title transfer has been the wording of Canadian permissive legislation enacted before the bridge was erected. The law states that if and when the title to the bridge was transferred from the village of Baudette, title to the portion of the bridge in Canada would revert to Canada.

With the state of Minnesota contemplating assuming bridge ownership, the Canadian law must be changed or permit it.

Governor Favors NW Angle Road

"I take some personal satisfaction from a suggestion I made in 1955 at a conference held at Kenora, Ontario, for extension of the Great River road from Lake Itasca into Manitoba and Ontario to loop around Lake of the Woods," Gov. Karl Rolvaag stated this week.

"Now I am pleased at the prospect of new action on such a road and I welcome the opportunity to reaffirm our support for legislation by Congress to ensure the construction of highway access to the Northwest Angle.

"I sincerely believe that this project, situated in the Upper Midwest, has not only national historical significance but social and economic importance as well, in the light of recognized need for expanding our country's recreational facilities," the governor said.

"Lake of the Woods Area offers a means of satisfying a part of that accelerating demand. Further, it offers an economical means of satisfying such demand. We do not have to 'create' the recreation area by building dams, lakes or similar facilities. The area is ready-made, needing only adequate access to begin to fulfill its potential.

"It is significant that the 10 Mississippi Valley states, acting through their respective Great River Road commissions, are consistent supporters of the Northwest Angle road," he stated.

Minnesota 4-H Livestock Show Set in St. Paul

Minnesota 4-H'ers with market livestock projects will show their stock at the state 4-H market livestock show on the state fairgrounds, St. Paul, September 10-21. Pennington county entrants in the show will be selected Saturday, September 17.

Livestock exhibited at the show will be consigned to commission firms at the South St. Paul Stockyard, where the top quality animals stand to return their young owners top market prices.

Judging of live animals is set for Tuesday, September 20 beginning at 8:30 a.m. Steers will be judged in the hippodrome and sheep and swine will be judged in the swine barn. Breed champions will be judged in the afternoon beginning at 1 p.m.

This year marks the 48th anniversary of the show, which is sponsored by the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, and the Minnesota Livestock Breeder's association.

Aside from the class prizes awarded by the sponsors, the various breed associations will award prizes to the top animals in the breeds. Business doners provide additional cash awards to exhibitors placing in the blue and red ribbon groups.

Traffic Accident Prevention Will Be Series Topic

Traffic accident prevention will be the subject of a series of workshops to be held throughout the state during September and October in conjunction with the regional meetings of the League of Minnesota Municipalities. The workshops will be sponsored jointly by the league and the safety education section of the Minnesota highway department.

One of these sessions will be held on September 21 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the city auditorium in Thief River Falls. The program is planned for all local city and county officials in this region, and special efforts are being made to include all officials concerned with traffic planning and control, enforcement, and safety.

To be covered in the workshop are the following:

The highway safety action program proposed by the President's committee for traffic safety;

Annual traffic inventory of the President's committee, which has been prepared in separate editions for each of a large number of Minnesota cities;

Pedestrian safety inventory of the American Automobile association, the model ambulance ordinance covering transportation of the injured, and the federal transportation act; and

Traffic legislation recommendations of the Minnesota highway department.

Highway department personnel will be assisted by representatives of the Minnesota State Automobile association and the state department of health.

The program will be of special interest to the communities because of the provision in the federal highway act which will provide funding at the community level for traffic accident prevention programs.

The workshops are scheduled in such a way as to permit persons attending the League of Municipalities meetings to include both in one trip.

Ask Farmers for Social Security Numbers in Co.

If the ASCS county office asks you what your social security number is, please don't think that you are being singled out for special attention, cautions Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. The number is needed by the Internal revenue for identification purposes in connection with farm program payments.

Many farmers have already filed Form 3435-A with the county office, listing their social security or employer identification number. Requests for the information were mailed last fall to each known producer who receives program payments. Producers who receive direct program payments and who have not yet filed the form, however, are asked to forward the information to the county office by October 1.

For 1966, ASCS must report to the Internal Revenue service any sight draft payments of $600 or more under direct payment programs. This includes the Agricultural Conservation program; the feed grain wheat and cotton programs; the wool incentive payment program; and others.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1967, and each year thereafter, all such sight draft payments made to producers under these programs, will be reported to IRS without regard to the amount. Producers will be advised annually of the program payments report to IRS, beginning with payments made in 1967.

Identifying numbers are already being used in payment-reports which banks and other paying agencies make to IRS, as required under the internal revenue code.

Any questions about this matter should be taken to the county ASC committee.

Good Breakfast Important for Good Nutrition

Since September is Better Breakfast Month it's a good time for families to take inventory of their breakfast habits, suggest extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota.

There is no hard and fast rule on how big a good breakfast should be. However, it is sound planning to have one-fourth to one-third of the day's food at breakfast, the nutritionists point out. A good breakfast should include a good source of protein such as eggs and meat as well as milk together with foods rich in vitamins, minerals and fuel foods for energy. Most important of all, breakfast should taste good.

A light breakfast can be a good one, the university nutritionists say. Start with fruit, add cereal or bread, along with milk or another beverage. Breakfast is a good time to include a fruit rich in vitamin C which the body needs every day. This vitamin cannot be stored in the body for future use. Citrus fruits or juices such as orange or grapefruit are rich in vitamin C. Strawberries, cantaloupe and some other fresh fruits rich in vitamin C add variety.

Cereals and bread furnish food energy and make a contribution in protein, iron and several of the B vitamins. Added food value will come from whole - grain, enriched or restored foods in the form of B vitamins and minerals. The butter on toast or cereal helps out with food energy and Vitamin A for the day.

Milk contain calcium which is an important mineral for bones and teeth, as well as the B vitamin, riboflavin and protein. Without a regular time to get milk each day it's hard to get the daily requirement of two to three glasses for children, a quart for teenagers and two or more glasses for adults.

A little heavier breakfast could be planned by adding an egg. Eggs add to the protein for the day and help with body building and repair. A good plan is to include some protein at each meal.

Field Clinic Set October 11 at NW Hospital

Fall field clinics have been scheduled for Minnesota cities by Crippled Children's Services, according to Morris Hursh, commissioner of the state department of public welfare. General field clinic in Thief River Falls has been scheduled fo October 11 at Northwestern hospital. Cardiac clinic will be held December 6, also at the hospital. Mrs. Harold Buck is appointment chairman for the Thief River Falls clinics.

One half of the children attending the field clinics now are under five years of age, Hursh stated. "It is encouraging that children are being referred earlier for their handicapping conditions," he added. "Early referral helps these children to attain their maximum potential through correction or alleviation of their handicapping conditions."

The field clinic offers a wide range of services, including screening, diagnosis and follow-up for physically handicapped children, to supplement those for which parents are not able to pay. Some clinics will provide screening of the children's vision and hearing, as well as a dentist to promote attention to the most widespread crippling disease, dental caries. This is an addition to the pediatrician, orthopedist, cardiologist, otologist, public health nurse and social worker.

AT THE CHURCHES

Evangelical Free Church
246 Kendall Ave. N.
Wesley Johnson, Pastor

"A Friendly Church With A Faithful Message".

The Fall is a time of preparation for winter and we find people busy doing many different things to make sure of comfort and good supply. This life is much like fall, in that we are to make ready for eternity. One of the helps in preparation is coming together for worship with God's people. We invite you to worship with us this Sunday.

Wed., Sept. 14: 8 p.m. Family Night. A time of Bible Study and prayer for the whole family. We have an Early Seekers group, a Crusader's group and a Jet Cadet group. This is for all young people up through 8th grade. The young people and adults meet in the main sanctuary. 9:15 p.m. Senior choir. They will be beginning on their Christmas music.

Sun., Sept. 18: 9:45 a.m. Sunday School hour. This is Rally Day in our Sunday school and we urge you if you do not have a Sunday school home to come with us this Sunday. Rev. H. G. Remple, who is returning soon to Germany, will present an interesting insight to the work there. 11 a.m. Morning worship service. Rev. Rempel will be speaking at this service. We will also have dedication of children. 8 p.m. Evening Gospel service. This service is broadcast over station KTRF and is known as the Bread of Life Hour. If you cannot join us in person, be sure to tune in on your radio.

Sept. 20 and 21st: Women's Retreat at Cooperstown Bible Camp at Cooperstown, N. D. All ladies invited to this time of information and inspiration.

We will look for you this Sunday at the Ev. Free church.

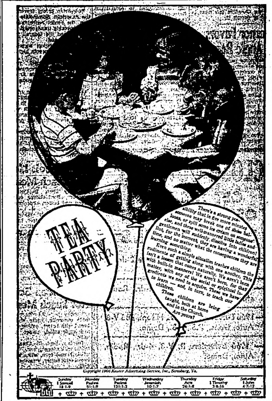
MAYFIELD . . .

Visitors at the Gunder Gunderson home on Saturday were Mrs. Albert Johnson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Arnold Carriere and Steven of Oklee.

Sunday visitors at the Asbjorn Asbjornson were Mr. and Mrs. Vedar Anderson of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waale of Kratka, and Mrs. Ole Austad and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Austad and Troy went back to Minneapolis on Monday after spending ten days at the Ole Austad home and also at her parental home, the Wallace Boman's of rural Thief River Falls.



There's a strong possibility that in five more minutes someone may break one of those balloons, or spill some ice cream on someone else, and these well-mannered little ladies and gentlemen will suddenly dissolve into children! But, for the moment, they are having a wonderful time, and no matter what the consequences they are learning something.

Even such a simple situation teaches children the rudiments of getting along with one another. This isn't a lesson that comes naturally. We aren't born with built-in manners! We aren't born, for that matter, with any of the social or spiritual ingredients we need to acquire. These we have to learn — and, in turn, to teach our children.

These children are being taught, both at home and in the Church. Are yours?

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

Can trees and shrubs be planted in the fall? As a matter of fact, fall is a good time to begin planting your landscape. Both shrubs and trees for landscape purposes can be successfully planted during the fall season. Container-grown nursery stock and materials that go dormant early can be started at this time also. Trees and shrubs may also be moved or rejuvenated in the fall.

Often it is possible to rejuvenate deciduous shrubs by pruning them. Overgrown plant materials may be replaced now. In fact, fall is a good time to make these replacements and to take advantage of the winter effect the new plant mererials will give to your landscape. Where construction is to be accomplished in the landscape design, it is a good idea to start the footings and get the foundation fill established this fall. Where changes of grade for patio or leveling of the lawn is necessary, the fill will settle during the winter season and the landscaping can be continued in the spring.

For new homes where foundations have just been completed it is best to wait until spring for the foundation plantings.

Permanent trees can be planted in the landscape just as soon as the leaves have fallen. Consult your local landscape nurseryman first of all on the development of the landscape plans, then on appropriate species and transplanting information. Often during the fall season there is more time available to devote to site planning and development.

Seeding and sodding are possible in autumn, too. Seeding can continue until September 10. If properly cared for, sod may be laid almost until frost.

Many homeowners ask when is the best time to start a new lawn. Most horticulturists agree that August 15 to September 10 is one of the better times for seeding a new lawn. During this season of the year, there is less weed competition and usually we can depend on fall rains to help germinate the seed. Sodding can be done throughout the fall season.

Thorough soil preparation is especially important before starting the new lawn; once the sod is laid or seed is sown, there is little that can be done to improve the basic soil.

If the soil is low in organic matter, if it is heavy clay or sandy, organic matters should be added. The source of organic matter might include barnyard manure, compost or commercial peat. The organic matter should be worked into the upper six-inch layer of the soil surface.

Along with the organic matter add 20 to 30 pounds of a 10-10-10 fertilizer for each 1,000 square feet of area. Most Minnesota soils do not need lime. However, if you are in an area where the soil tends to be acid, a soil test may be helpful before seeding or sodding. Your county agricultural agent can assist you with the soil test.

Use a good quality grass seed. Be sure the mixture has a high percentage of perennial grasses such as Kentucky bluegrass and a creeping red fescue. The Kentucky bluegrass is recommended for the heavier soils, whereas the fescue grasses are recommended for the lighter soils or for shady conditions.

Grass seed should be sown on a firm seed bed. If the soil is very soft or fluffy it is difficult to maintain a level surface. This is also true where sod is to be laid.

When the grass is growing, mowing should begin. Usually you should start mowing when the grass is about three inches in height.

There's no greater disappointment than to return home from a splendid vacation only to find that the garden is overgrown with weeds, the flowers are ravaged by diseases and insects and the lawn parched from lack of water. A few precautions taken before leaving on vacation will help to give the appearance of good grooming to the yard. Here are some suggestions for conserving moisture, preventing weeds and keeping insects and diseases in check.

A summer mulch carefully spread over the surface of the flower garden will help not only to conserve moisture and preserve the flowers but also to control the weeds. The mulch should be placed over the surface to a depth of about two inches. Such materials as well rotted barnyard manure, compost, buckwheat hulls and commercial peat can be used for this purpose. It's a good idea to weed the garden thoroughly and to fertilize lightly before applying the summer mulch. After the mulch is in place, water the garden thoroughly so the mulch is well soaked.

Though this is the time for crabgrass to go to seed, the only suggestion is to eliminate the seeding as much as possible by picking up the clippings. Remember that the most effective way to control crabgrass will be to apply a pre-emergent type crabgrass killer next spring.

Use a good all-purpose spray or dust for insect and disease control. For additional protection use a miticide such as Ovex, Aramite, Tedion or Kelthane.

If you are going to be gone longer than two weeks, have someone come in to supplement the watering if rainfall is less than one inch. In fact, if you plan to be gone more than a week, it's well to have someone water the lawn. Have the hoses and sprinklers located in a convenient place so that they can be easily used.

Because of better grass sod sources and improved sod-cutting equipment, the practice of sodding a lawn has become as popular as seeding. In past years, pasture sod was the primary source for sodding material, but today most varieties of grasses can be obtained from commercial sod growers.

It's true, however, that unless good soil preparation precedes sodding, many of the problems of growing turf will still persist.

Success in growing turf depends on a good soil base, adapted varieties or kinds of grasses and moisture. Heavy soils and sandy soils will benefit from a good application of organic matter. Commercial peat and peaty soil, rotted barnyard manure and compost may be used. Where a soil test isn't available, apply 20-30 pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 12-12-12 for each 1,000 square feet of area work the organic matter and fertilizer in to a depth of six inches.

Level the soil, then roll lightly and re-roll before sodding.

For heavy soil use Kentucky bluegrass. For shady or sandy soil, use a combination of fescue and bluegrass. If a fescue combination is not available in sod, you can over sow with fescue seed at one pound per 1,000 square feet.

Lay sod strips tightly together to avoid drying out. A top dressing of soil over the seams will help seal out the air.

Regular watering is necessary until the sod has been firmly knit to the base. Mow when the lawn is no taller than one inch above regular cutting height; in the fall, it should be one and one-half inches.

How's Your Health?

(Prepared in the public interest by the Minnesota Medical Ass'n)

In the age of modern medicine in which we live, we are exposed to vaccination and immunization from early infancy. Because our scientists are able to produce vaccines, we no longer fear many of the diseases which were prevalent just a few years ago.

How does immunization take place? According to the Minnesota State Medical association, a person may have a natural immunity to some diseases, or he may acquire an immunity to a particular disease by having had the disease. Some infants acquire immunity against various diseases before birth because of their mothers' immunity. The method commonly used to immunize people against many disease such as polio, smallpox and whooping cough is vaccination.

A vaccine may be made from the bacteria or virus which causes a specific disease. For some vaccines live viruses are used, while others use attenuated (weakened) or killed viruses.

When the vaccine is injected, the protective mechanisms of the body, which attempt to fight off any foreign material, are triggered. Antibodies are produced. An antibody is a specifically altered gamma globulin molecule. It is different from other gamma globulin molecules only in that it will react with the disease causing foreign material which has entered the body. This reaction neutralizes the virus or bacteria and prevents the disease from developing.

Continuing research is leading to the development of vaccines for many common diseases. Already most school children have been immunized against smallpox, whooping cough, diptheria, tetanus and polio. The measles vaccine which has recently been developed will have more widespread use within the next few years.

"Yellow journalist!"

If any of Tom Paine's enemies called him that, it was the kindest thing they ever said about him.

When Paine came to America he was uneducated, sick, demoralized, dead broke, and a failure. In England, he had just been fired as a tax-collector, charged with incompetency and neglect of duty. All he had was a letter obtained in London from Benjamin Franklin.

But soon he was aflame with the ideas of the American Revolution. He became a newspaper publisher ("pamphlet publisher" would be more accurate; since "Common Sense" was printed on one side only and folded in half) and found his true mission in life. Many Colonials didn't know what they were fighting for. Paine's "Common Sense" told them. His skill at interpreting the ideas of the Revolution to the common foot-soldier was a large factor in boosting Colonial morale. Gen. Washington thought so, for he ordered his officers to read "Common Sense" to the troops.

Before, during and after the Revolution, Paine's character was attacked on both sides of the Atlantic. The well-to-do called him an opportunist. The clergy said he was an atheist. When he died in 1809 he was nearly forgotten.

But Tom Paine showed what forceful words on paper can do. Among all Patriot writers, he caught the significance of the American Revolution. Historians, still puzzled about the origins of that war, theorize that were it not for a group of skillful writers—with Paine in the frontmost rank—the war might not have happened.

Words printed on paper have great power when written by fearless and responsible men.

That's the point the Minnesota Newspaper Ass'n. would like to make with you, as it recognizes its Centennial Year.

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it NOW, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: it is dearness only that gives every thing its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as FREEDOM should not be highly rated."

Fertilizing Alfalfa Prevents Starvation, Not Winterkill: All the fertilizer in the world will not stop alfalfa winterkill but a fall fertilization program can help prevent plant starvation.

Curtis J. Overdahl, extension soils specialist at the University of Minnesota, explains that true winterkill happens only about once in every 20 years and will kill alfalfa stands whether they are fertilized or not.

He says that most of what farmers usually consider to be "winterkill" is really plant starvation. The plants just don't have enough food to withstand the stress of a normal winter.

Potassium, phosphorus and sulfur can be added in the fall and these nutrients can be a big help in avoiding plant starvation.

Don't Neglect Springer Heifers: During the busy season, dairymen often neglect those springer heifers that will be calving this fall.

William Mudge, extension dairyman at the University of Minnesota, suggests feeding springer heifers one pound of grain daily for every 100 pounds of body weight during the last 30 days before calving. The extra care can mean more milk during the heifers' first lactation. Also, handling the heifers with the milking herd helps accustom them to the herd routine.

Planting New Lawn: Mid-August through early September is a good time to plant new lawn or renovate the old one, Gus Hard, University of Minnesota extension horticulturist, says planting lawns in fall helps avoid the weed problem and fall rains can give grass a good start. Be sure to prepare soil thoroughly for planting.

Peony Planting Time: Best time to plant peonies is from late August to early September. Gus Hard, University of Minnesota extension horticulturist, says you'll lose a year of bloom if you wait until spring to plant peonies.

For details on fertilizer, diseases and peony varieties, read Horticulture Fact Sheet No. 2, "Growing Peonies." Ask your county agent for copies, or write to the Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Stop Feeding Roses: Come late August or early September, stop feeding your roses. Late season feeding will stimulate new growth which will not harden off and will not mature for winter. This new growth will be subject to winter killing. So, remember come late August or early september, stop feeding roses.

Remove Dead Branches: Now is the time of the year when leafless branches are easily spotted. Unless the branch is leafless because of mechanical injury, or has been defoliated by insects, a leafless branch at this time of the year indicates a sickly or dead branch and as such, should be removed. If put off until spring, then these sickly branches will be difficult to spot. In pruning, it is always wise to keep the plant looking natural; do not give a heinie haircut.

New State Map Shows Wetlands, Management Areas

A new map showing all state-owned wetlands and public hunting areas is available without charge from the Minnesota conservation department's information bureau, it was announced today.

The wetlands are acquired and managed by the department's game and fish division for the production of waterfowl and upland game and to provide hunting areas for sportsmen.

Ted Shields, state game and fish director, said the new map shows over 600 such areas including 43 new projects added during the past 12 months. The hunting areas are posted with signs which read: Wildlife Mangement Area Open to Public Hunting; Minnesota Conservation Department, Division of Game and Fish.

Funds to purchase the wildlife lands are derived from hunting license receipts including a $1 surcharge on the small game hunting license, and from federal aid funds and the state natural resources program financed by a one cent per pack tax on cigarettes.

The new map may be obtained by writing the Minnesota Conservation department, Bureau of Information, 350 Centennial Building, St. Paul.

Newfolden School Names Officers

Newfolden student council elected officers for the 1966-67 school year at its organizational meeting Wednesday, September 7. Elected were Charles Swenson, president; Lyle Olson, vice president; and Cindy Green, secretary-treasurer. Named to a standing planning committee were Danny Olson, Mary Jean Johnson and Cindy Green.

City Policemen Win Trophies in Brainerd Shoot

Representatives of the Thief River Falls police department who participated in the Brainerd Invitational Police Pistol Match compiled a brilliant record of marksmanship. The match was held Sunday in Brainerd with 62 lawmen participating.

Attending the match from the local force were Irving Swanson, Wallace Heaton and Harold Blazek. Swanson brought home three trophies from the marksman division by winning third place in the slow and rapid fire events and second in the Camp Perry match.

Heaton, in the sharpshooter class, won third place in slow fire and first in timed fire. The three local policemen were accompanied to the match by Dale Heaton of Moose Lake, a brother of Wally's who is a state highway patrolman.

Firing at a range of 25 yards, contestants fired 10 shots in 5½ minutes in the slow fire event, five shots in 20 seconds in the timed fire event and five shots in 10 seconds in the rapid fire event. To complete the match, each contestant fired 20 rounds in each of the three events. Finale in each class was the Camp Perry match consisting of 10 shots in each event.

Seek Entries for Badger Flax Day Talent Contest

Contestants are being sought to perform in the talent contest to be held the evening of Badger's 26th annual Flax day Friday, September 23.

Persons interested in taking part in the talent contest may enter simply by writing to the Badger Civic and Commerce club, C. J. Peterson secretary, Badger. Type of entry, name and address is all that is needed.

Cash prizes will be awarded with first place receiving $15 second place $10 and third place $5.

A threshing bee will be part of the afternoon Flax day program. Power to run the old-time separator will be furnished by a steam engine.

In addition to the above activities, a flax king will be named and prizes given for sweet clover, timothy, bluegrass and oats. The exhibit list in the homemaker department has been enlarged this year to include arts and crafts, canned goods and several other baked items. A complete list of exhibits may be obtained by writing to the Secretary.

Orange Gloves Call Attention To Deer Hunters

Tests conducted by state game wardens have revealed that a hunter wearing blaze orange gloves is quickly seen and identified by others in the woods near him.

While a hunter may be nearly motionless at times and thus be overlooked by other hunters, it was found that a person hunting invariably moves his hands frequently.

If the hunter has blaze orange gloves, the movement calls immediate attention to his presence and distinguishes him from his surroundings.

Present Minnesota game laws require the wearing of red or blaze orange caps and coats for anyone hunting or trapping in an area open for firearms deer hunting during the season.

Hunting Synopsis Available Soon

Synopsis of Minnesota hunting and trapping laws should be available from the Minnesota conservation department or from license agents around September 19, it was announced today. License agents normally provide a copy of the synopsis with each license sold when they are available. There is no charge for the synopsis.

Usually the condensation of the hunting regulations is ready for distribution early in September. However, some difficulty is being experienced by the printer this year in obtaining the proper color and quality of paper on which to print the synopsis, game officials explained.

The synopsis is never printed on white paper as a hunting safety precaution. Officials said deer hunters could mistake the flash of white for the white tail of a deer and shoot before clearly seeing target.

Fifty-two per cent of the world's cars, trucks and buses are in the United states, AAA reports. There is one motor vehicle in this country for every 2.1 persons, as against a ratio of one for every 36 persons in the rest of the world.

Regional Welfare Conference Set At Warren Thurs.

Family problems of our day and ways to meet them will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. Wayne J. Anderson of the University of Minnesota at a regional welfare conference to be held at Warren on Thursday, according to Ronald Mooers, director of the Pennington county welfare department.

Theme of the conference is "Progress in Family Living". Registration will begin with a coffee hour at 9:30 a.m. in the basement of Our Savior's Lutheran church. All interested persons are welcome to attend each of any of the day's events. The only charge will be for the noon luncheon.

Rev. John S. Shew, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Grand Forks, N. D., will speak on the provocative idea "What's Pushing Our Families?". Representative Richard Fitzsimons, chairman of the Minnesota House appropriations committee, will present information of interest for not only those employed in the field of welfare but every citizen in his topic, "The Changing Role of State and County Welfare".

The program will close with a panel discussing the controversial subject of "Family Planning". Participants will be Harland W. Magneson, social worker; Rev. Gerald Foley, Catholic priest; and Dr. Robert I. Williams, psychologist.

TRF Bankers Get Appointments

J. J. Womack, president of Union State bank, Thief River Falls, has been appointed a member of the Minnesota Bankers association public relations committee for 1966-67 by MBA President Robert J. Hubbell president of the Eastern Heights State bank, St. Paul. Fred Sorensen of Union State bank has been named to the A.T.B. educational committee. Gene Betlo of Northern State bank is chairman of the MBA agriculture committee.

Winjum Elected Bank Director

At a recent special meeting of the stockholders of Union State bank, James H. Winjum was elected to the board of directors of the bank. Winjum is a native of Thief River Falls and is owner and active manager of Winjum's Hartz supermarket.

J. J. Womack, president, speaking for the board, stated that the election of Winjum, adding a younger man to the policy determining management organization of the bank, "is another step in the positive forward thinking of the Union State bank."

Concert Ass'n. Membership Sale Now Underway

Memberships in the Thief River Falls Concert association are now being sold by volunteer workers, according to Justus Larson, chairman of the association. The membership campaign is scheduled to be completed by this Wednesday.

Three concerts are offered by the association with admission to be by season membership card only. Concerts will be by The Revelers male quartet, Texas Boys choir and pianist Desire N'Kaoua. Membership is priced at $3.50 for students, $7.50 for adults and $20 for families. Local membership is also good for admission at the Crookston concert series.

Membership solicitation volunteers met last Wednesday evening to hear more about the concert series and have their questions answered prior to working on the membership campaign.

Langevin, Barry At Fire Meeting

Roy Langevin, Thief River Falls fire chief; and Patrick Barry, deputy state fire marshal stationed in Thief River Falls, are attending the Minnesota Fire Chief's association meeting held Sunday and today in St. Paul. Langevin is on the executive board of the state association.

State To Conduct Investigation of Driver Examiners

Drivers license examiners working in Crookston and Red Lake Falls are to be the object of an investigation which has been promised by the Minnesota highway commissioner. The investigation was requested by Sen. Norman Larson of Ada, chairman of the legislative highway interim commission.

Sen. Larson said that "... numerous complaints have come to my attention in regard to the discourteous manner in which drivers license examinations are conducted in Crookston and Red Lake Falls."

"Complaints have been registered for some time," Sen. Larson said, "but no doubt they have not reached those in high enough authority. It should not be necessary for a citizen to press charges against these examiners. It is the duty of the highway department to make this correction.

"The situation must be intolerable when citizens have telephoned me and sent letters complaining about the treatment they have received." Sen. Larson then quoted part of what he termed a "typical" letter as follows:

"This letter will elaborate on my telephone conversation with you today in regard to the surly, discourteous manner in which driver's license examinations are conducted here in Crookston and Red Lake Falls.

"All complaints of crudity and discourtesy have been from responsible adults, but driver license instructors say their pupils get the same treatment. Incidentally, most complainers ask that we do not reveal their names because they will at some time have a child taking the test and are afraid of revenge.

"An investigator need only sit around the Crookston office any Thursday to note the spirit of gruffness, discourtesy and intimidation that exists where the two examiners work. I am sure the unsmiling, boorish attitude of at least one of them is a reason why so few drivers ever pass the examination the first time. After many years of useless complaints, I think it is high time that the need for taxpayers to tolerate this insulting behavior from its public servants should be ended by high authority."

Theatre Group Meets Wednesday

Thief River Falls Community Theatre association will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium. Discussion of the coming play, "Bell, Book and Candle", will be held. The third play to be presented by the theatre group, the comedy will be staged on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 3, 4 and 5.

Curtis Geatz

New Corrections Agent Named for 7-County Area

Curtis Geatz, a teacher for five years at the state school and hospital at Cambridge, has begun work as the state corrections agent in the Thief River Falls district office. The office serves Pennington Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Red Lake, Clearwater and Lake of the Woods counties.

A 1960 graduate of the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, Geatz taught one year in Oregon before moving to Cambridge. He succeeds Joe Books who has been named athletic director at the state training school at Red Wing.

Geatz and his wife Judith have four children, Steven, 6; David 4; Mary Jo, 2; and James, six months. They will move to Thief River Falls when housing is arranged. Projections by the state department of corrections call for an assistant agent here in the near future to provide better supervision and service to the courts, schools and communities in the district.

Fair Weather Will Continue Through Tuesday

With weather during the past week being mostly fair and seasonably warm, harvest operations are virtually complete in northwestern Minnesota. With over half of the month behind, rainfall totals only .92 inch, and has occurred only twice.

Fair and pleasant weather, with rain unlikely, is forecast today, tonight and tomorrow. Highs today will range from 72 to 78; lows tonight in the 40's.

Temperatures recorded during the past week at the municipal airport are as follows: 87 and 57 on Monday, 83, 53 and .48 inch of rain on Tuesday 66 and 38 on Wednesday, 71 and 34 on Thursday, 72 and 38 on Friday, 72 and 39 on Saturday and 76 and 42 on Sunday.

$3,000 Is Stolen from Two Grygla Businesses

EXTENSIVE property damage as well as loss of cash resulted from robberies at the Cooperative store and Farmers Union Oil company early Saturday morning at Grygla. The safe at the store is shown in the top photo and the safe at the oil company in the lower picture. Investigation of the robbery is being conducted by the Marshall county sheriff's office in cooperation with the state crime bureau.

Thieves gained approximately $3,000 in cash in two robberies at Grygla early Saturday morning. Losses estimated at $1,500 were noted at the Cooperative store and the Farmers Union Oil company station. Safes at both places were pounded and peeled and the oil station vault was also entered. Both the station and store have been robbed on previous occasions.

Investigation on the robberies is being conducted by the Marshall county sheriff's office and Ken Christian of the Minnesota Crime bureau. The thieves took cash only at both places, leaving checks behind. The office and vault at the station was strewn with rubble, as was the safe area at the rear of the store.

Entry to the oil company was gained by forcing open the back door. The thieves then entered a restroom and pounded through a concrete block wall to gain entry to the vault. The vault door was opened from the inside and about $1,100 in cash was taken. Also pounded and peeled was a heavy safe in the station office with about $400 in cash taken from the safe.

At the store the robbers climbed an iron guard over a first floor window and forced open a second story window leading to the balcony-type office. The safe below the office on the first floor was pounded and pealed and about $1,500 taken. The robbers also broke a porcelain drinking fountain, spilled some milk, smashed eggs and opened a package of wieners from the store's refrigerated showcase.

A jacket taken from the store was found at the oil station, indicating that the thieves may have been in each place more than once. Methods employed in the robberies have led authorities to believe that they were not done by amateur thieves.

13 Pennington Delegates Attend NFO Convention

Thirteen Pennington county delegates were among the 239 in attendance at the Seventh District NFO convention held recently in the Mahnomen high school gymnasium. Speakers were Erhard Pfingsten, national vice president of the National Farmers organization, and Sen. Walter Mondale.

Pennington county delegates included Daniel Johnson, Jens Steen and Calvin Sorenson, Thief River Falls; Donald Erickson, Plummer; Juell Chervestad and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lundeen, Oklee; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kotrba, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stuey, Goodridge.

At the district session, Pfingsten discussed progress made by the NFO, explained marketing arrangements made for member use and stated that collective bargaining in agriculture is the process of farmers bargaining and selling together.

Sen. Mondale said that American agriculture is at the crossroads and that the farmer must be given a decent place in the world. He outlined farm programs, cooperatives and collective bargaining as means toward this end. There is little wheat surplus and no dairy surplus at present he said, and a drought or crop failure would be disastrous.

The senator added that the Food for Peace program would prove valuable in gaining friends throughout the world, but that the government would have to purchase food on the market since the surplus has been eliminated. With budgets of $58 billion for military expense and $22 billion to land a man on the moon, some money can certainly be spent to help the farmer, he said. He added that two out of three dollars in the agriculture budget is spent for the good of the general public.

Plan Sunflower Production As Oil Seed Crop in Area

GIANT HEAD of the high-oil Russian variety Peredovik sunflower is displayed by Bud Jacobi, who is growing 45 acres of the crop near Warren. Cargill, Inc., hopes to establish the sunflower, which produces seeds of 40 to 44 per cent oil, as a major vegetable oil crop in the Red River Valley. Jacobi's crop will be used to help seed some 50,000 to 70,000 acres next year.

To introduce the business community to a new effort in the agricultural field, two representatives of Cargill, Inc., met with Jobs, Inc., in Thief River Falls Friday. Dr. Freeman K. Johnson, research agronomist, and Kenneth Johnson, director of sunflower promotion, spoke and answered questions on the production of sunflowers as an oil seed crop.

"Right now we are in what we refer to as Phase I of our sunflower program," Kenneth Johnson told the Times in a special interview, "This is to familiarize the business community with our program so that they may speak knowledgably about it with their farm customers. We are also leaving posters which contain a supply of cards which persons interested in hearing more about sunflowers may send to our company. This will place them on our mailing list, allow them to receive informative literature and to receive notice of meetings for prospective growers next spring."

From seed which is currently being grown under contract for Cargill this year, the company hopes to have 50,000 acres seeded under contract next year. The schedule calls for 250,000 acres produced in 1968 500,000 acres in 1969 and up to a million acres in 1971.

The 1966 and 1967 crops will be

Iverson And Swanson Vows Exchanged AtSilver Creek

Miss Darlene Marie Iverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Iverson of rural Thief River Falls, became the bride of Lowell LeRoy Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson of Goodridge, at a recent double ring ceremony at the Silver Creek Lutheran church. Rev. Kenneth Kramer officiated. Mrs. David Schwartz presided at the organ and for the processional played the traditional "Wedding March". Judy Kaushagen was the soloist and sang "OPerfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

For the evening ceremony, attended by approximately 200 guests, the altar was graced with bouquets of yellow ans white carnations, Forming the chancel background were baskets of yellow carnations accented by small white mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a blue bridal gown styled with a lace bodice, featuring Tom Jones sleeves, and a floor-length Crepe skirt. A satin band encircled the empire waistline and falling from a large bow at the back neckline was a floor-length train of matching lace. Her blue shoulder length veil was secured by a cluster of blue fabric roses, centered with a white pearl, and she carried a crescent arrangement of yellow roses and white carnations.

A sister of the groom, Miss Linda Swanson of Goodridge, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow sleeveless gown fashioned with a brocade bodice and a floor-length crepe skirt enhanced at the empire waistline with a satin bow. Her headpiece was a large yellow satin bow edged with lace and she carried blue carnations and silver leaves, in cascade design.

Gary Iverson of Thief River Falls, a brother of the bride, was best man. Serving as ushers were Alan Swanson of Goodridge, a cousin of the groom, and Keith Poppenhagen of Minneapolis a cousin of the bride. All wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a beige lace dress with coordinating accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses and blue carnations as did the grandmothers of the bride and groom.

A reception followed with Mrs. Donald Rupprecht as hostess and Miss Anita Swanson, sister of the groom, registering the guests.

The pillared, four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses, was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Baked and decorated by the mother of the groom, the cake was cut and served by Miss Sharon Ruppreet; cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Sharon Kutson of Ada, sister of the groom. Mrs. Henry Panek and Mrs. Bernard Sturre poured. Waitresses were Joan Rupprecht and Susan Geving while Charlotte Myers and Beverly Nelson opened and arranged the gifts.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from California, Minneapolis, Goodridge, Ada and Newfolden.

For the wedding trip along the North Shore drive, into Wisconsin and down to the Twin Cities, the bride wore an aqua two-piece dress trimmed with white.

The bride and groom are graduates of Lincoln high school and the Goodridge high school, respectively, and both attended the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school; the bride graduating in the department of cosmetology and the groom in the aviation mechanical department. They are at home on the groom's father's farm at Goodridge.

Wold-Peterson Cousins To Further Their Education

That education is not taken lightly by the Wold-Peterson cousins has became apparent recently to Mr. and Mrs. Benhard Wold of this city. This spring when their daughter and three of her cousins were among the members of the 1966 graduating class at Lincoln high school it was known that several other cousins were listed as members of the 1966 graduating classes in various high schools and colleges throughout the United States. Upon contact, 14 graduates were discovered with the majority of them planning to further their education.

The four graduates of Lincoln high school and their chosen schools were their daughter, Sharon, Swedish hospital school of nursing, Minneapolis; Ralph Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman (Mildred Wold) Peterson of Silverton township, Lutheran Bible school at Association of Free Lutheran congregations seminary, Minneapolis; Ruby Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Peterson, practical nursing course at the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school, and Barbara Wold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wold, who hopes to enter elementary education next year.

The family tree reveals that Sharon Wold and Ralph Peterson are double cousins as their parents, Mr. Peterson and Mrs. Wold and Mr. Wold and Mrs. Peterson are brother and sister combinations, the parents of the first two being the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Martha Humble) Peterson who resided in Silverton township and later in this city.

To further complicate the family tree, Mrs. Peterson and Benhard Wold are double cousins as their fathers were brothers and their mothers are sisters. Mrs. Peterson is the daughter of Mrs. Adolph (Ottie Bredeson) Wold of Sanders township and the late Adolph Wold and Benhard Wold is the son of Mrs. Alma Bredeson Wold of this city and formerly of rural Agder township, Marshall county, and the late Ingval Wold.

Other graduates, their parents, schools from which graduated and in which they are enrolled, or future plans, are, Larry and Robert Peterson, sons of Mrs. Elaine (Leroy) Peterson of Angus. Larry, a graduate of the Warren high school will attend the University of Minnesota, and Robert, a graduate of the University of Minnesota is a member of the ROTC in the U.S. Army;

Also Gerald Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson of Housten and formerly of Thief River Falls, Houston high school, Winona State college; Jean Trochman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Bernice Wold) Trochman, Underwood high school, practical nursing course, Fergus Falls; and Marion Wold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wold, high school at Detroit Lakes, Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D.;

Also Mariam Wold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Wold, high school at Sioux City, Iowa, Waldorf College, Forest City, Iowa; Robert Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood Sr., greatgrandson of the late Kate (Peterson) Foss, Minnetonka high school, Excelsior, Ft. Lewis college, Durango, Colo., and Herbert Gullickson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lester (Florence Humble) Gullickson, high school at Ft. Lewis, Wash., School of dentistry at Fort Lewis;

Also Mary Lue Myers, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Donovan (Betty Lou Turk) Myers of San Diego, Calif., where her father is chaplain in the U.S. Navy, Crawford high school, San Diego. She is a granddaughter of the late Mary (Peterson) Johnson and will attend the University of Upsala, Sweden and will travel in Norway and Germany; and Mary Lue's mother, Mrs. Donovan (Betty Lou Turk) Myers, who received her B. A. degree at the San Diego State college. She will continue her studies towards her M.A. degree in psychology at San Diego State College and will work in the San Diego Probation department.

JoAnn Zavoral Marries Theodore William Hamm

Miss JoAnn Zavoral, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Zavoral of this city, and Theodore William Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hamm of Goodridge, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 27, at 10 a.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic rectory. Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were the bride's sister and brother, Miss Sharon Zavoral of this city and James R. Zavoral of Madison, Wis.

For her wedding, the bride chose a beige three-piece lace ensemble with a veiled black hat and coordinating accessories. Her corsage was composed of yellow roses surrounded by smaller red roses. Her attendant wore an empire fashioned street-length dress styled with a white lace bodice and blue skirt. Black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations completed her attire. The groom and his attendant wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a red and black two-piece suit complemented by black accessories. The mother of the groom wore a brown and green floral print dress with coordinating accessories. Their corsages were yellow roses and white carnations.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents where approximately 60 relatives and friends were greeted by the bride and groom. Guests attending were from Madison, Wis., Grand Forks and Pembina, N. D.; Minneapolis, St. Paul Park, East Grand Forks, Mahnomen, Goodridge and Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Waldo Field assisted at the reception by cutting and serving the three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with red roses and topped by a white wedding bell. Mrs. James Zavoral, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the gift table.

For travel on a wedding trip to Itasca State park and Northern Minnesota, the bride wore a light green three-piece ensemble with black accessories.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school and is employed at the processing plant by Land O'Lakes Creameries, Ind. The groom attended Goodridge high school and is employed by Earl Woods, Oklee. They are at home in this city at 618 Conley Avenue South.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. ALGOT ERIKSSON
916 MAIN AVENUE NORTH

Bars are here to stay is evident by the large variety of recipes now available and by the constant demand by homemakers for further new recipes. Made with or without a pastry crust, they are a cross between a pie, cake and cooky. However many homemakers prefer making bars as they keep fresh longer than pie or cake and are quicker to make than cookies.

Today's recipe from Mrs. Algot Eriksson is for tangy lemon bars and is made in three parts.

LEMON BARS

Crust;
¾ cup butter
1½ cup flower
6 tablespoons powdered sugar

Method: Mix thoroughly and pat into 9x13 inch pan. Bake 10 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

Filling:
1½ cup white sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
3 beaten eggs
Juice and rind of one lemon

Method: Mix thoroughly and spread over baked crust. Bake 25 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

Frosting:
1 cup powdered sugar
1¾ tablespoon butter
Juice of one lemon

Method: Mix and spread over bars that have been cooled.

The Erikssons have six children, five of them attending local schools and four-year-old Peter at home. Attending Northrup are Roger in third grade, Barbara in fifth and Sharon in sixth. Mervin is in eighth grade at Franklin junior high and Arlon in 10th grade at Lincoln. When the children are at home, the house is filled with music as three are taking piano lessons and four are in band.

With attending the children's activities at school, the activities at the Evangelical church, where the family attends, and in addition to doing all her own baking, a great deal of sewing and a lot of cleaning, Mrs. Eriksson said that she has little time for personal hobbies. She stated that for her attending PTA was very important as it formed a bridge between the home and the school. In church activities she is chairman of the housing committee of the Womans Missionary Society and teaches the third graders in Sunday school.

Her husband has been employed by Brodin Sheet Metal Works since he arrived in this country from his native Finland.

Peterson Attends State Hospital Ass'n. Meeting

Norman Peterson, administrator represented Northwestern hospital at the Minnesota Hospital association's annual meeting held Thursday and Friday, in Minneapolis. Myron DeMers, business manager, also attended.

Medicare was the major topic of discussion. James R. Neely of the American Hospital association summarized the impact of the first 10 weeks of medicare on the nation's hospitals. "The implementation of a program of this magnitude constitutes a great success story for hospitals in Minnesota as well as nationally," Neely said.

Friday afternoon was devoted to a medicare problem clinic during which resource persons from the Minnesota department of health, Minnesota Blue Cross, and the association's medicare committee discussed with hospital representatives in attendance matters of concern relating to the medicare program.

Carl T. Rowan, former columnist for the Minneapolis Tribune, was the featured speaker at the annual banquet on Thursday evening. A nationally known syndicated columnist Rowan has served in high governmental positions as ambassador to Finland, director of the United States information agency, and as deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs. Rowan spoke on "The Challenge of 1966 -In and Out of the Health Field."

L. M. Conley, director of the Baptist hospital fund which operates Midway and Mounds park hospitals in St. Paul, succeeded Paul A. Hofstad, administrator, Lake Region hospital, Fergus Falls, as president of the association during the business meeting Thursday afternoon.

College-Bound Veterans Must Get Certificates

Minnesota veterans planning to attend schools and colleges this fall under the provisions of the new GI bill were warned today that they must first secure their certificates of eligibility from the VA.

John R. Murphy, manager of the Veterans Administration center in St. Paul, said each veteran must apply for his certificate as his proof of eligibility to present to his college upon enrollment. Each veteran is also assigned a claim number which he will use in all correspondence with the VA concerning his rights and benefits under the law.

Murphy said that a last-minute flood of applications could occur as school - opening time nears. Veterans may attend college, high school, trade schools or take correspondence courses, and receive a monthly check from the VA under the new bill's provisions.

Applications and information may be obtained by writing, telephoning or visiting the VA center, he said.

Two Motorbike Mishaps Reported; One Driver Hurt

Two motorbike accidents, one resulting in a broken leg, happened within the past three days, it was reported today by the Thief River Falls police department.

The first was reported Friday at 7:27 p.m. A car driven by Arno William Cords, St. Hilaire, was traveling west on Fourth and at the intersection with LaBree avenue was struck in the left rear by a motorbike owned by Armond Sauve and driven by Mark Gilbert Froehle, city. Froehle suffered a fracture of the left tibia (lower leg bone) and was taken to Northwestern hospital. Damage was estimated at $60 to the car and $50 to the motorbike. The accident is under investigation.

Sunday at about 1:35 p.m. a motorbike driven by Frank Hazard Jr., city, with Duane Swanson, city, as passenger, was traveling west on East Third street in the center of the traffic lane. The cycle pulled to the right to park in front of the Fountain cafe and was hit by another cycle driven by Thomas Lindet Miller, city, which was coming up from the rear on the right side.

The impact threw Miller to the street. The cycles stuck together for about 30 feet; then the Miller machine broke loose and struck a parked car owned by Arthur Kenneth Bergland of Edina. The Hazard bike remained in control and was brought to a stop about 80 feet further west. Miller suffered skinned wrists and hands. Damage was estimated at $5 to the Hazard motorbike, $50 to the Miller cycle and $125 to the parked car. The mishap is under investigation.

Two automobile accidents were reported. Wednesday at 7:20 p.m. a car driven by Edwin Allen Reed, city, was stopped facing west on Third street at the Main avenue intersection and was struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Ralph Earl Dickerson, Baudette. Damage was estimated at $15 to the Reed car and $60 to the Dickerson vehicle. Dickerson was charged with following too close.

Friday at about 11 p.m. a car driven by Emil Julius Lundeen, city, had pulled out of the A & W driveway to go south on Highway 59 and started south in the northbound lane. The vehicle collided with one owned by Aaseby's Garage and driven by Jon Paul Aaseby, city, which was going north on the highway. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Lundeen car and $100 to the Aaseby vehicle. The case is under investigation.

A vandalism was reported Thursday. Dean Henderson of Crookston, roadmaster for the Great Northern railroad, reported that windows were broken during the previous night on a dozer parked on the railroad siding by the Phillips loading docks near the fairgrounds. Four large windows, two small ones and a light blub were broken.

Friday at about 6 p.m. Kim Markstrom, city, reported that while his car was parked on LaBree avenue between Third and Fourth streets, he had left the car for a few minuts, and a blue sweater, size 38, and a white blouse were taken. Value of the stolen goods was estimated at $14.

Salvation Army Conference Set Oct. 25 in Cities

A number of business and professional men and women from throughout the state have been invited to the eighth annual Minnesota Conference on Human Relations, sponsored by the Salvation Army and its advisory boards with the cooperation of many Minnesota towns and members of the medical, teaching and social science professions.

The conference is scheduled for October 25 in the Pick-Nicollet hotel in Minneapolis, with registration to start at 9 a.m. and luncheon to be served at 12 noon. Theme of the conference is "Comradeship of Need." Main speaker will be Dr. A. R. Gornitzka of Decision, Inc., who will speak on the convention theme topic. Several other speakers will also be featured. There is no registration fee; cost of the luncheon is $3.

Davison Charges Langen Fails To Establish Record

Keith C. Davison, Seventh district candidate for congress, charged today that the incumbent congressman has failed to establish a record after eight years in Congress.

Speaking at the Red River steam threshing bee at Olso, Davison said: "It is incredible that a man could sit in Congress this long and and accomplish absolutely nothing.

"In the 86th Congress, the incumbent congressman introduced 12 measures and had zero bills passed," said Davison. "The next session the incumbent improved, he introduced 18 measures, but he still had zero enacted into law. In the 88th session of Congress he introduced 24 measures but he still failed to have any enacted into law. And then, in the current 89th Congress, he has introduced at least 22 measures and has had zero passed."

"The people of the Seventh district have a right to expect more," Davison said. "This record of accomplishing nothing, coupled with his votes against every progressive piece of legislation in Congress, adds up to a blatant record of disregard for the interest of the Seventh district."

Pennington NFO Hears Reports

Merle Lundeen, milk board chairman, reported on progress in this agricultural field at the monthly meeting of the Pennington county NFO recently in the Highlanding hall.

Members were reminded of the livestock collection point at Winger which is open every Thursday for members. Trucking arrangements may be made by calling Alton Carlson at Thief River Falls or Albert Kotrba, Goodridge.

George Horachek, grain committee chairman, stated than anyone needing Timothy storage space may store timothy at Sjoberg's in Roseau. He urged all farmer members to store all grain now.

Ken Fredrickson, Shevlin, reported on the progress report meeting held at Detroit Lakes and attended by national president Orin Lee Staley. The state convention will be held October 8 at Wilmar.

The pacemaker, a transistorized device which stimulates the normal rhythm of the hert beat for victims of heart trouble, was developed by medical research at the Veterans administration hospital, Buffalo, N.Y.

Fitzsimons and Sinclair Invited To Conference

Senator Donald Sinclair, Stephen, and Representative Richard W. Fitzsimons, Argyle, are among legislators invited by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to attend a Great Lakes conference on federal water programs being held this week in Chicago.

Senator Sinclair, chairman of the subcommittee on water resources of the Senate public domain committee, and Representative Fitzsimons, chairman of the special studies committee of the Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources commission and chairman of House appropriations committee, received personal invitations, along with Senators Henry M. Harren: Albany, Gordon Rosenmeier, Little Falls; and Representative John A. Hartle, Owatonna, from the vice president, who arranged the conference.

The conference, at the Palmer House in Chicago this Thursday and Friday, is designed to give legislators and officials of the executive offices in each of the Great Lakes states an opportunity to be briefed on the various federal programs for water and sewer facilities and pollution control.

Keynoting the two-day meeting will be Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall. Conference moderator will be Interior Under Secretary John A. Carver.

Federal agencies scheduled to explain programs include the departments of interior, commerce, agriculture, housing and urban development, and health, education and welfare, the international joint commission and the U. S. Crops of Engineers.

Each of the agencies will briefly discuss their programs related to water and sewer facilities and water pollution control, with primary attention to answering questions from the floor about program procedures, planning and standards.

M. J. Mongoven

Agassiz Scout Council Names New Executive

Michael J. Mongoven, formerly of Arthur, N. D., has been named district Scout executive for the Pembina Trail, North Star, and Pen-Ro-Shall districts of the 15 county area Lake Agassiz council, according to H. W. Oehler, Grand Forks, council Scout executive.

Mongoven succeeds David R. Anderson in that Position, and will live in Thief River Falls. The districts he will serve include Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, and Polk counties with the exception of East Grand Forks.

A native of Hankinson, N. D., Mongoven has been a teacher for the past four years in Harvey, N. D. and Arthur, where he also served as principal of the elementary school. While in Arthur he was involved in various volunteer leadership positions in Scouting.

Mongoven served two years in the Army as a member of the Pathfinder division. He is a graduate of Moorhead State college with a bachelor of science degree in social studies. He recently returned from Mendham, N. J. where he spent six weeks of intensive training for Scout executives a the Schiff Scout Reservation.

Mongoven and his wife, Delphine, and their two sons are living at 324 South State in Thief River Falls. They are members of St. Bernard's Catholic church.

At present there are more than 1,300 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers registered in 50 different Scouting units in the area that Mongoven will serve. In his capacity as district Scout executive he will work with more than 400 adult volunteer leaders to help bring a quality Scouting program to an increasing number of boys.

The services of Mongoven are made available through the Lake Agassiz council by funds provided by area United Fund and Community Chest campaigns, and the Annual Membership Enrollment program for adults in the area.

Hueg To Direct U of M Station

William F. Hueg Jr. was named director of the University of Minnesota agricultural experiment station Friday by the university board of regents. His appointment is effective immediately.

Hueg has served as acting director since June of this year when former director H. J. Sloan was appointed associate dean of the university's institute of agriculture. He had been assistant director since 1962.

As director of the agricultural experiment station, Hueg has responsibility for agricultural research program development with department heads and staff, and the allocation and administration of funds provided by the state and federal government and private industry.

The agricultural experiment station is one of four major units of the institute of agriculture, and is responsible for managing all agriculture, forestry and home economics research conducted by the university throughout the state.

Psychiatrists at the VA hospital, Coatesville, Pa., have successfully motivated older, long-term patients in group sessions.

Performance Testing Aids Beef Producers

"Should I get involved in a beef improvement program?" Beef cattle producers all over the country have been pondering this question in recent years, according to Charles Peterson, Marshall county assistant agent.

They may say to themselves, "There is a lot of bother involved. I would have to keep track of which cow had which calf, then fool around and weigh them once or twice before I sell them. I get a weight on all the calves when I sell them anyhow, so it seems to me it is a waste of time to bring them in and weigh them one at a time, just so someone can put some kind of a score on them.

"So what if I have a few dry cows next spring, they won't eat so much that I can't keep them around until a year from spring; they are sure to have a calf then. I've had dry cows before and haven't gone broke. Besides, I must be improving my herd; I buy a pure bred bull every couple years, that should prove I'm trying to get ahead. If I had a hundred cows it may be different, but with my small bunch, it's hardly worth the bother. I'll think about it this winter and maybe next year. . ."

Sound familiar? For too many beef producers, next year never comes, as far as getting started on a program to increase production and profits is concerned.

The time spent identifying and keeping records is a small investment compared to the potential increase in actual dollars from the herd.

The cost of keeping one cow over a year with no calf on her costs between $60 and $80 a year, with no chance of making a nickel on her, Peterson said.

A purebred bull is no guarantee that you will improve the quality or potential economic gain of your herd, unless there is a performance record on him.

The size of the herd makes no difference as to whether you should test or not. If you can increase the weaning weight by 10 or 20 pounds per calf, which is what should happen, the first years on the program, the income from each calf will increase from around $3 to $6, regardless of the size of the herd.

Beef feeders are demanding more of their calves from herds that are on a performance testing program, says Peterson, and are usually willing to pay for the information so they will know what to expect from them.

Cow-calf operators on the western ranges are switching to the use of performance tested bulls, even if they have to go to tested grade bulls, over non-tested purebred bulls.

A western North Dakota rancher, for many years had been buying his purebred bulls from a purebred producer in western Minnesota. About a year ago, this Minnesota breeder got a letter from the rancher out west stating he wouldn't be back to get any more bulls because he had found that if he had his neighbor, who was testing his herd, save bull calves from his herd, his calves out gained and made more money for him than calves from non-tested purebred bulls.

The trend is for more producers, both commercial and purebred, to enroll in performance testing programs. The purebred cattle producers role is to raise tested breeding stock for the commercial cattleman, who in turn produces calves with a known background as to rate of gain from birth, which is an indication of what he will do in the feedlot, and produce uniform calves that will all grade about the same. The feed lot operator is looking for these cattle and the market is broader for tested calves.

In light of these trends, the best thing would be to get started this fall on a performance testing program. The county extension office personnel will be contacting Marshall county beef producers in the near future to see how much interest there is in the program, and assist in getting the calves on record.

For more information about beef cattle performance testing, contact the county agent's office in Warren.

MEA Reports on Teacher Salaries In Minn. Schools

Twin Cities suburbs have swung back into leading positions in Minnesota teacher salaries, but outstate small towns still rank high.

These are among the highlights in the just-published "Minnesota Salary Schedules", one of a number of studies conducted annually by the research department of the Minnesota Education association (MEA).

Of last year's leaders in non-metropolitan areas, Nisswa remains as the school district with the highest minimum annual salary for a teacher with a master's degree: $8,150. Thief River Falls minimum is $5,600.

Leading the suburban resurgence is Bloomington -- only metropolitan area district to lead last year -- which reports the top salary: $13,536 for a teacher who has a doctorate and 11 years of experience. For comparison; the south-of-Minneapolis suburb led last year with $12,878 annual salary for a doctor-degree teacher with 12 years.

Other toppers this year:

Highest bachelor's degree minimum, South St. Paul: $5,450 (TRF, $5,000);

Highest bachelor's-degree maximum, South St. Paul: $9,712 (TRF, $8,100);

Highest master's degree maximum, St. Louis Park: $11,130 (TRF $8,500).

More than 425 -- nearly 90 per cent -- of the graded elementary and secondary school districts, the study shows, have salary schedules. The 401 reported in the MEA study cover 32,208 teachers -- about 90 per cent of all teachers employed in Minnesota's graded schools.

Other highlights of the MEA study:

Fifty-three -- 13.1 percent -- of the salary schedules list extra pay for head of household.

Of the districts reporting, 118 -- 29.2 percent -- provide hospital, medical, life or income protection insurance.

Written personnel policies have been formally adopted by 327 districts, which employ 27,143 teachers; 286 indicate that teachers receive copies of the policies.

Albert Horter Services Held At St. John Lutheran

Funeral services for Albert Horter, 84, who resided at 708 Knight Avenue North, were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. John Lutheran church. Rev. Paul R. Blegner officiated and Mrs. Sherman Idso provided special music by playing the organ and singing. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery with Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Fred Koop, Carl Zinter, Walter Monroe, Ed Timm, John Steiger and Max Krause.

Albert Horter, a retired farmer and resident of this community for the past 36 years, died Monday, September 12, at Northwestern hospital.

He was born April 7, 1882 in Markirch Alsace Lorraine, France. There he received his education and grew to manhood. On March 28, 1908 he married Julie Hanold at Alsace Lorraine. They immigrated to the United States in 1911 living first in Illinois before moving to the Warren community in 1915. The following year his wife, Julie died.

On June 23, 1920, Mr. Horter was united in marriage to Jeanne Rueh at Warren. Eight years later he moved with his family to this community, farming just west of the city until retirement in 1948. Since that time he had made his home in this city.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanne; two sons, Verner and Clifford Horter, both of Grafton, N. D.; seven daughters, Mrs. Arnold (Lucy) Knoll, Radium; Mrs. F. V. (Paulette) Francis, Santa Clara Calif.; Mrs. K. A. (Deloris) Mason, Westport, Conn.; Mrs. Maurice (Lorraine) Steiger, Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Robert (Elayne) Ottinger, San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Richard (Bernice) Mason, Moline, Ill.; and Mrs. Ervin (Janice) Smuda of Elmhurst, Ill., 24 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

In addition to his first wife, he was preceded in death by one son, Daniel, two granddaughters, three brothers and two sisters.

Charles Dale, 74, Rural Farmer, Dies September 15

Charles E. Dale, 74, a rural Thief River Falls farmer, died Thursday, at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mr. Dale will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Seventh Day Adventist church in this city with Rev. Gary Schwarz officiating. Interment will be in the Lone Star cemetery at Beltrami.

The body will repose at Sinding's Funeral chapel until Tuesday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obituary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Mrs. Earl Jensen, Dies Unexpectedly In Frederic, Wis.

Mrs. Earl B. (Thora) Jensen, 66, 310 South St. Paul Avenue, administrator of the Hillcrest Nursing home, Red Lake Falls, and former superintendent of the Oakland Park Nursing home in this city, died Saturday at Frederic, Wis. The Jensens had gone to Wisconsin on Friday to visit relatives at Siren, where Mrs. Jensen became ill and was taken to a hospital at Frederic.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jensen will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran church. Rev. Reuben Wangberg and Rev. Paul R. Blegner will officiate and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will repose at Sinding's funeral chapel from 7 p. m. Wednesday until Thursday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obituary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Alfred Hamberg Rites To Be Held At Strathcona

Alfred A. Hamberg, 60, a resident of the East 8th Street trailer court, died Friday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Alfred Hamberg will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Gustavus Adolphus Lutheran church at Strathcona. Rev. Duane Nelson and Rev. Dennis Rodin will officiate. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery in Roseau county.

The body will repose at Sinding's funeral chapel from 7 p.m. today (Monday) until Wednesday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obituary will be in Wednesday's Times.

Rites Today For Edward Eliason, 62, Of Goodridge

Edward C. Eliason, 62, a longtime resident of the Highlanding and Goodridge community, died Thursday, September 15, at the farm home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Jones, near Goodridge.

Funeral services for Edward Eliason will be held today (Monday) at 2 p.m. at the Goodridge Lutheran church. Rev. A. B. Heltne will officiate and interment will be in the highlanding cemetery.

The body will repose at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. Funeral arrangements are by the Green Funeral home. A complete obituary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Nursing Home List Of Activities Started

Residents of six nursing homes within the area served by the Inter-County Community council are finding their days of confinement shorter, and the boredom of idle hours less of a problem, now that they are participating in the nursing home activity program sponsored by the council and financed with a grant of $56,957 from the office of economic opportunity, according to the council office.

Staff members of the council worked with nursing home administrators and utilized the professional assistance of Art Heinze, occupational therapist, as consultant to design a program that would fill idle hours with activity. "Something for everyone" was the plan and increasing participation by nursing home residents indicates that the coming months will see the goal achieved.

Residents active in the program find their idle hours spent at constructive effort now, and under the guidance of trained supervisors are producing such items as rugs, toys, ornaments, bird houses, belts, wallets, knitted apparel, crocheted doilies, etc. Funds acquired through the sale of finished products are used to purchase new equipment and supplies for the continuation and expansion of the program. Finished items are also available for display to groups and organizations.

Director of the nursing home activity program is Miss Ann Rolfson, occupational therapist, residing now in Thief River Falls. Each eligible home has a project supervisor and aides to assist in the program. They have all been given two weeks of training by Heinze and on-the-job experience working at Valley Home in Thief River Falls under the supervision of Heinze and Miss Rolfson.

Supervising under Miss Rolfson and the homes are: Sina Christensen, Valley Home, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Arlene Zimple, Hillcrest Home, Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Fosston; Mrs. Helen Skiple, Clearbrook; and Mrs. Verda Hole who had a program in progress at the Erskine home but attended the training sessions and is expanding the program in Erskine to take care of increasing participation.

--Mrs. Jean Lull has been employed as assistant supervisor to Mrs. Thelma Anderson, supervisor of Oakland Park's on-going activity program, and expansion of services there is being assisted.

Fertile's newly-constructed nursing home will begin the activity program in October. No supervisor has been employed.

The nursing home activity program will be conducted under the council sponsorship until May 1, 1967. Its continuation beyond that date will depend upon evaluation statistics compiled after several months of operation.

Walking Tours Of Arboretum Set Sept. 17-Oct. 15

Guided walking tours are being scheduled at the University of Minnesota landscape arboretum each Saturday at 10 a.m. beginning September 17 and continuing through October 15. Mrs. Inga Geving of Thief River Falls is a member of the arboretum board.

Purpose of the tours is to give visitors an opportunity to enjoy fall color of the arboretum, to see the many varieties of chrysanthemums in bloom, and the plantings of evergreens, other trees and shrubs, according to L. C. Snyder, director of the arboretum and head of the university's department of horticultural science.

The guided tours will last about one and one-half hours. They will start from the large parking lot.

The arboretum now has more than 8,000 cultivated plants representing more than 2,500 species and cultivars in the various plant collections in addition to some 400 native species. An important objective of the arboretum is to carry on research in testing and developing hardy ornamentals for home landscaping.

The arboretum is located four miles west of Chanhassen on state highway 5.

Fosston To Host District 17 PTA Conference Sat.

Mrs. James Wall

Freeman Smith

"Cause for Action" is the theme for the fall conference of District 17 Parents and Teachers association to be held Saturday at Central high school in Fosston. Registration begins at 9:15 a.m., with a noon luncheon being served in the school cafeteria. The Fosston P.T.A. will host the conference.

The morning session will be a workshop entitled "Don't Be a Parent Dropout". Guest speaker will be Mrs. James Wall, preschool service chairwoman and Freeman Smith, education specialist. Both are with the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers.

A film "Dance Little Children", will be shown in the afternoon. This will be followed by a panel discussion with Dr. Stanley Sahlstrom, director of the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston, as moderator. He is a member of Who's Who in American Education.

Other members of the panel are R. O. Sather, M.D., Polk county health officer; Dr. Robert Williams, psychiatrist at Northwestern Mental Health center at Crookston; Rev. Stanley Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Crookston; and Mrs. Lilja A. Snyder, R.N., public health nurse of Polk county.

Mrs. Howard Conneran, district president, urges all P.T.A. units to have delegates present at this conference.

James Ranum on Football Team at Augsburg College

James Ranum, son of Mrs. Lillian Ranum of Thief River Falls, is a member of the 1966 Augsburg college football team. He is a veteran of football wars in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic conference and as a defensive specialist, he has made himself known as one of the most respected defensive ends in the conference.

A 1963 graduate of Thief River Falls high school, Ranum is a history major at Augsburg.

National Hiway Week Observed in This Area

National Highway week, September 18-24, serves as a good point for Minnesotans to review the accomplishments that Minnesota is making in its highway program, reports District Engineer Carl M. Larson. But, he added, it is even more important to emphasize the needs that we see today and that must be met in the coming years.

Larson pointed out the importance of good highways by stressing that not a day goes by that each Minnesotan does not drive an automobile or truck, ride in a car or a bus, buy gasoline or consume products moved from farm-to-market via highways. Good highways are the lifeline for commerce, tourism, shopping, commuting, pleasure driving and industry, he noted.

In calling attention to highway construction progress, Larson noted that in the first nine months of 1966 contracts let for construction on the Interstate system will total about $61 million, which is considerably more than the total of $58 million expended for Interstate construction during the entire year of 1965.

During these same nine months, contracts were awarded for the improvement of 731 miles of state trunk highways and other state-aid roads. He added that as of July, 1966, Minnesota was second in the nation in the obligation of federal funds for regular trunk highway construction and above the national average in the obligation of Interstate funds.

He also cited a new resurfacing program begun by the department in 1965, under which a total of 475 miles of deteriorated highways is expected to be resurfaced by the end of the year, eliminating in the process lip curbs and depressed shoulder drains, adding years of comfortable, safe and useful driving life to these highways.

The state has seen improvements of 591 hazardous sections of highways since July 1964 in its extensive spot safety improvement program to reduce accident - inducing hazards along the state's roads. Since March 28, contracts have been awarded to correct additional hazardous locations and 29 more contracts are to be let before June of 1967. As of April 30, Minnesota ranked second among the 50 states in the number of safety improvement projects and fourth in the total amount being spent on the projects.

Some of the more important projects that have been completed or will be complete and open for traffic this season in District 2, all of which should benefit the safety and comfort of the motorist, are as follows:

1. New grade and surface on highway 92 between Trail and the west Clearwater county line.
2. The completion of the grading and initial surface of the second roadway on highway 2 between Foston and Bagley, which will provide a four-lane divided highway between these communities.
3. Grading, base and surfacing of highway 72 from Waskish to the north Beltrami county line. This is the final stage of a program to provide Baudette and vicinity with a seven ton spring outlet.
4. Reconstruction of highway 310 from Roseau to the Canadian border.
5. Completion of grading of highway 64 from highway 31 near LaPorte to Akeley. This will open a new route to the south from the Bemidji area.
6. Resurfacing of highway 11 from Baudette to Frontier.
7. Shouldering and resurfacing of highway 1 from 13 miles east of Northome to the junction of highway 6.
8. Several smaller projects by our maintenance department and in cooperation with the municipalities for the improvement of safety.

Even in the face of the accomplishments that Minnesota has made in its highway program, the state has a responsibility to its citizens to improve the complete highway system to bring it up to modern day standards, Larson said. He noted that the highway department has determined through a needs study that construction activity on the state's trunk highway system over the next 15 years must be double the current rate in order to accommodate the traffic expected to Minnesota's highways by 1981.

Some of the work that must be completed if the state's primary trunk system is to be brought up to an acceptable level by that date includes construction of 3,374 miles of highways; regarding, widening and resurfacing of 4,644 miles base and surfacing on 141 miles; surfacing of 1,184 miles; and miscellaneous construction and bridges on 834 miles.

Larson added that the highway department has proposed a five-year accelerated highway improvement program to double construction work on the regular trunk highway system through 1972. This proposal was presented by Commissioner Jamieson to the Legislative highway interim commission in July and must be acted upon by the Legislature at its 1967 session in order to become effective.

To provide the public with a better understanding of the highway program, Larson stated that the district office located in Bemidji has planned that the headquarters office in Bemidji, the area maintenance office in Crookston and the resident and engineers' and highway patrol office in Thief River Falls to be open to the public during the normal working hours.

Sunflower Oil Production Aired At Meeting Here

processed in Minneapolis. Since about 300,000 acres will support an oil processing plant, one or possibly two plants will be constructed by Cargill in the future, depending upon the acreage under contract. These will likely be built in the production area.

Dr. Johnson told the Times Friday that the net return from production of sunflowers of the oil seed variety under contract would be above oats, barley and flax and slightly under wheat. Sunflowers do offer the advantage of unlimited acreage planted, whereas the other crops are generally on a quota basis.

Oil from sunflowers has use both in the edible and industrial fields. It is considered a superior salad oil and can be used in margine, shortening, mayonnaise and as a cooking oil. Sunflower oil is low in linolenic acid, the acid which causes rapid drying, reversion and rancidity, but is high in linoleic acid, a desirable polyunsaturate.

Industrial uses for sunflower oil include paints, plastics, caulking compounds and putty. Sunflower meal is a source of high protein for livestock feed, and research is being conducted on use of the meal for human consumption.

Sunflower seeds were largely neglected by plant breeders in this country until recent years. But Russia, where the sunflower is now the major vegetable oil crop, has developed seeds that yield more than 40 per cent oil, and work is being done on superior varieties which will yield 56 or 57 per cent oil.

Some of the Russian varieties were imported to the United States and are now growing on plots near Crookston, Warren and Argyle, as well as in North Dakota.

Near Warren, three growers have a total of 135 acres under contract with Cargill. They include Lee Munger, 40 acres; Roy Johnson, 50 acres; and Bud Jacob, 45, acres. The Malm and Ekman farm near Argyle has 45 acres.

Dr. Freeman Johnson estimates that the yields of all the acreage under contract at Warren and Argyle should average out to 1,000 pounds per acre, if growing conditions remain favorable to harvest time. These seeds will yield 40 to 43 per cent oil, which would mean roughly 400 pounds of oil per acre. Soybeans, now the major oil crop in this country, yield only about 260 pounds of oil per acre on the national average of 24 bushels per acre.

Sunflowers can compete favorable in the Red River Valley with all crops except wheat, sugar beets and potatoes.

Since sunflowers are produced in rows, they can aid weed control; and since they are harvested in October, they spread the use of farm machinery. Cargill will contract with growers to pay a set price per pound of seed, based on world oil prices. A premium will be paid if world oil prices go up after Cargill establishes its price early next year.

Early in 1967, Cargill will hold growers' meetings in western Minnesota and eastern North Dakota to explain its program to farmers.

Cargill believes it will have little difficulty marketing the oil and meal, but hasn't decided what to do with the 200 to 250 pounds of hull per acre left after the crushing process. Canadians once pressed the hulls into fireplace logs. The Russians ferment their hulls into alcohol.

Tunberg Sponsors PP&K Contest Again This Year

Thief River Falls area boys from eight through 13 can put their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the fifth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D. C., and an appearance at the annual National Football league play-off game for the top 12 winners.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football league, the Punt, Pass and Kick competition (PP&K) will be staged in Thief River Falls by Tunberg Motor company. Competition will be held October 8 at Lincoln senior high school.

Boys will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and place-kick a football for distance and accuracy. First, second and third place winners will receive medal of achievement awards to plush velvet ribbons. Top award has a blue motif, second place award is red, third award is white. There will be 18 medal awards in all. Scores throughout the county then will be compared to determine the six top winners in each of the 360 zones—a total of 2,160 zone winners.

Zone winners will meet in 37 district competitions at which 228 district champions will win trophies. The 228 runners-up will receive certificate awards. All 228 district champions will compete for area championships to be held in 15 NFL city areas.

PP&K involves no body contact, there is no charge for entering and no special equipment is needed. Registration will be open through October 7 with Tunberg Motors as registration headquarters.

Several Hunting Seasons To Open Saturday, Oct. 1

Minnesota hunting seasons on squirrel and rabbit get under way Saturday, October 1, the conservation department reminded hunters today. The season on squirrel will run through December 31. Shooting hours are sunrise to sunset and the bag limit is seven daily and 14 in possession.

Cottontail rabbit snowshoe rabbit and jack rabbit seasons run from October 1 to March 1. The limit on each is 10 daily and 20 in possession. Shooting hours are also sunrise to sunset.

The October bow hunting season on deer and the goose season also start on October 1, so it looks like a busy week end for Minnesota sportsmen. Goose season opens at noon on October 1, with shooting permitted one-half hour before sunrise after the opener.

3 Million Acres Of Forest Land Open to Hunting

Minnesota conservation department's forestry division reminded hunters today that there are approximately three million acres of publicly owned land with 54 state forests that are open to public hunting.

Recently the departments game and fish division announced the publication of a map showing the location of over 600 state-owned wildlife management areas and public hunting grounds.

The state forests are not shown on this map but are shown on the official 1966 state highway map. The highway map is available without charge from the department's information bureau, 350 Centennial Building, St. Paul. Also available is a list of state forest camp grounds where hunters may camp while on hunting trips.

Forestry officials said many trails in state forests have been seeded to clover in cooperation with the game and fish division to provide food for grouse.

Selective cutting of mature timber on the state lands has also made forests very attractive to deer. Some state forests, notibly the Beltrami and Kabetogama, also offer good duck hunting.

Hunters are urged to stop at forestry field offices and ranger stations for information on the location of camp grounds and good hunting areas within the state forests. Forestry officials also asked hunters to be careful about fires since the hunting season corresponds with the fall fire season in Minnesota woodlands.

Boat Owners Are Asked To Await Renewal Notices

Minnesota boat owners were advised today that renewal notices for 1965-66 watercraft licenses will be mailed by December 1 to all registrants whose licenses expire at the end of this year.

Boat owners whose licenses expire on December 31 should not make application and remittance for renewal until they have received a renewal notice. Applications and remittances cannot be processed at this time and will be returned.

Milt Johnson, boat and water safety director, Minnesota department of conservation, urged all boat owners to notify the department of any changes in address in order that a renewal notice can be received.

Wardens Arrest 166 in August for Game Violations

There were 166 arrests during August for violation of the state game and fish laws, the Minnesota conservation department reported this week. Fishing without a license resulted in the arrest of 38 resident and 37 non-resident anglers.

Another 38 arrests were made on the charge of fishing with two lines. Twelve persons were found with over-the-limit catches and five had no license on their person when checked by game wardens.

Altogether, 135 arrests were made during the month by game wardens for violations of the state fishing laws. Fifteen persons were apprehended for transporting loaded or uncased firearms in a motor vehicle and one man was convicted of deer shining.

Game wardens also arrested two persons for littering public lands.

Prowlers, Eagles Play To 12-12 Tie Friday

A last-minute touchdown, on a 15-yard fourth down pass from Bob Brodin to Karl Poppenhagen, gave the Prowlers a 12-12 tie with the Red Lake Falls Eagles in a high school football game played here Friday night.

This week, on Friday night, with the kickoff slated for 7:30 p. m., the Prowlers will entertain the East Grand Forks Green Wave in a northwest conference game on the Lincoln field. Coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks club was defeated by the Bemidji Lumberjacks, 37-13, in a conference game played at Bemidji on Friday night.

After a scoreless opening period in Friday night's traditional game between the Prowlers and the Eagle, coach Jim Sims' blue-and-gold moved into the scoring column with an unconverted touchdown in the second period.

Captain Ross Hanson covered a Red Lake Falls fumble on the Eagles' 45-yard line, and the locals' moved to the Red Lake Falls' 3-yard line, and had first and goal to go. But the burly Eagles' line piled up two dives into the line a pair of passes were incomplete and the visitors had held off the scoring threat.

An Eagles' kick went out to mid-field where the Prowlers' had possession. Ward Johnson picked up nine yards on a sweep of left end, and Brodin made a first down on the 31-yard stripe. John Womack added four on a lateral pass and run around left end. And then Brodin found Womack with a pass, off to the left, and the junior halfback scampered over the north goal-line for a touchdown. The try for the point, on a run, was stopped and the Prowlers held a 6-0 lead at the intermission.

The Eagles, in the third period, put together a consistent drive that started from their own 41-yard line, with Scott Kleven and Lon Seeger picking up yardage on off-tackle slants. Kleven gave the Eagles' a first down on the Prowlers' 1-yard line, and in two sneaks over center, quarterback Mike LaChance went over the north goal-line for a touchdown. Kleven's run for the conversion was stopped, and the game was in a 6-all knot.

The Prowlers, early in the fourth period, made a bid to break the tie, moving to the Eagles' 27-yard line, but a pair of running plays and two incomplete passes failed to add enough yardage and the visitors took over possession of the ball on the 24-yard line. Halfback Kleven knifed through left tackle, cut back to the right and sprinted 76 yards for a touchdown. On the conversion point, the ball was fumbled and the Eagles' lead remained at 12-6.

The Prowlers, receiving the kickoff, picked up a pair of first downs, but the Eagles' Marc Petterson intercepted a Prowler pass on the Red Lake Falls 23-yard line, and it appeared that coach Oliver Czech's team would be able to "run out" the clock. But an Eagles' fumble, recovered by the Prowlers, Ron Sorvig gave the locals possession on Red Lake Falls' 15-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Three passes were incomplete, but on the 4th down Brodin found Poppenhagen in the end zone, just inside the northeast corner of the north zone, and the Prowler end made a diving catch of the ball, and the Prowlers had evened the score. Gary Almquist's drive over guard just failed to carry over the goal-line on the conversion point try. The game ended seconds later, with the score in a 12-12 knot.

Stordahl Wins in Snowball Tourney

Favored by ideal weather and playing conditions a near-record number of golfers participated in the local club's annual "Snowball Special" shortstop golf tournament here on Sunday. There was a 28-man championship flight, with the players engaging in 27-hole medal play; and in addition there were 10 flights of eight-man match play competitions. Twelve juniors also participated in the tournament, being arranged in two flights in a junior division.

The local club monopolized the top honors in the championship flight as Bobby Stordahl, with a five-under-par display of golf, won the first prize award, carding a fine 103-stroke total. And gaining runner-up honors was Ron Kvikstad of the local club, who scored at an even-par pace to tally a 108-stroke total. In third place, with a one-over-par effort, having a 109, was Fosston's Jim Haugstul.

Bob Stordahl gained a one-stroke lead on his first round, scoring a two-under-par 34 and getting this sub-par round in spite of a "water" ball on the fifth hole. On his second round, Bob had a three-under-par 33, to hold a four-stroke lead over Kvikstat and Haugstul; In the final round, which he toured in par figures, Stordahl picked up a stroke on Kvikstad and two strokes on Haugstul.

Skippers Shade Goodridge 13-6

Middle River scored twice on passes in the first quarter and held on for a 13-6 win over Goodridge Friday in a North Tri-County conference football game at Middle River. The Skippers play at 8 p.m. Friday at McIntosh in another conference game.

Nathan Engevik tallied both Middle River touchdowns as he was on the receiving end of 20-yard passes from Kirk Holmes. Rick Lansetter plunged for the successful extra point. Lillevold scored the only touchdown for Goodridge in the fourth quarter.

Sportsmen Club Meeting Set Wed. In Auditorium

Pennington County Sportsmen's club will hold its first meeting of the fall Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium basement. All members and prospective members are urged to be present as this meeting will commence the fall membership drive.

A report on the annual meeting of the Minnesota Conservation Federation, held last weekend at Hill City, will be given by Jim Wills and Vern Scholin, delegates from the club. State and federal wildlife personnel will be present to offer pertinent information to hunters. Lunch will be served.

ABOUT to be brought down after a gain in this second-period action here Friday night is Red Lake Falls' fine halfback Scott Kleven. The Prowlers' Bill Dicken and Tommy Tunberg are about to make the tackle, with Dicken being the closer to Kleven. The Eagles' halfback made a spectacular 76-yard touchdown run in the fourth period, giving the visitors a short-lived 12-6 lead.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Natural Affinity

Looking over the roster of golfers that were entered in the shortstop golf tournament here on Sunday, I was impressed by the number of ice hockey players who were in action. Among some of the noted names that were here (and it must be remembered that the two local golfers, who finished one-two in the championship flight, Bobby Stordahl and Ron Kvikstad, are former Prowler hockey players) and who were, or are, hockey players were such boys as Dave Janaway, Tom Iannone, and Bill Wilms of the North Dakota Sioux; Chuck Norby of the University of Minnesota by way of Grand Forks; Pete Lloyd of Grand Forks Central; Dave Wegge of last season's Prowlers; Jim Lundbohm and Steve Haslerud of the Roseau Rams; and Frenchy LaCrosse and Wendy Feist of Grand Forks.

But then it isn't strange to see so many hockey players spending their summer months playing golf, the two sports complement each other. Sturdy and flexible wrists are a requisite for a sound hockey player, and wrist action is vital in golf. The hockey players, with their slap shots, wrist shots and stick handling have well-developed wrists, and as a rule these boys make fine golfers. The hockey players in many cases are fine drivers and long-ball hitters.

And another point worth mentioning. The great majority of hockey players play left-handed, that is, they play hockey left-handed, with the power on their shots being given by the left hand. And these boys, when they play golf, are left-handed, but they play right-handed. And this follows the "book" on the fundamentals of golf, for the left is supposed to be the "power" arm in golf.

The shortstop tournament that was concluded here on Sunday evening, and it was quite dark when the final flight checked in, was one of the best in recent years. And the scores that were posted reflect the ideal playing and weather conditions. Bobby Stordahl took the course apart on his first two rounds, shooting a 34 and a 33. On his final round, holding a four-stroke lead over Ron Kvikstad and Jim Haugstul, and playing in the same foursome, Bobby shot a steady brand of par golf. He finished with a three-round total of 103 strokes, five under par figures.

Best on Television

While I admit a bias for baseball as an all-round sport, and a fine game for a well-coordinated youngster, I will acknowledge that as far as a television-spectacular is concerned, professional football is the best.

Baseball, except for the color and the impact of a World's Series, cannot compete with professional football as a TV diet. Baseball has too many idle moments and at the most the center of play in baseball is focussed on two or three players. Professional football, on the other hand, has 22 players in action on every play. And, too, the length of a football game is limited by the rules, while a baseball game can, at times, be a drawn out affair.

Of course there are lapses and time-outs in a football game, and that is as it should be for a continuing action would be too tiring on the viewer. One of the reasons that professional hockey can become tiring on the television screen is because of the continuous flow of the action. And from a look at the World's Cup Soccer matches, and some matches played at Winnipeg, this sport can become wearying as a television spectacle.

On a radio broadcast though, professional baseball is an attraction. And this is because of the number of records that are in the "book", and the radio broadcasters are well-versed in the background of the players, and the team records, and so on. But on television it's professional football that is the best spectator sport.

Early Frost, Maturity Of Corn Is Discussed

Corn growers in the Upper Midwest know that in a usual growing season most of the corn crop fails to reach maturity before frost sets in. Last year, for example, an early frost caught much of the corn at an immature stage of growth.

Speakers at the two-day Minnesota nutrition conference in Minneapolis recently discussed this problem at a special symposium.

Wise Burroughs, professor of animal science at Iowa State university in Ames, looked at the feeding of ear and shell corn silage to beef cattle and R. D. Goodrich, assistant professor of animal science at the University of Minnesota, discussed the nutritional value of immature corn.

Burroughs pointed out that it sometimes becomes necessary to pick corn with a high-moisture content early in the fall over picking corn at a later time when it is dry enough to crib.

At the earlier picking time, when the stalks are still "sappy" and contain some green foliage, there is a substantial reduction of corn picker losses due to dropped ears and blown-over stalks of corn.

Cornstalks provide more livestock feeding value when they are either made into silage or pastured before being damaged by heavy snows or late fall rains.

Early season high-moisture corn is a better feed than crib-dry corn.

He pointed out that experiments in Iowa and Indiana have shown that high-moisture ensiled ground ear corn has from eight to 10 per cent more feeding value than dry ground ear corn when fed to finishing beef cattle. However, dry corn has proven to be a slightly better cattle feed than high-moisture shelled corn or corn grain.

While there are differences of opinion on why high-moisture shelled corn differs from high-moisture ear corn in feeding value, Burroughs feels that the difference is related to the grinding of the corn kernels rather than to the ensiling of the cob portion of ground ear corn.

Iowa trials show that approximately 20 per cent of the high-moisture kernels of corn totally escaped digestion, whereas only about 10 per cent escaped digestion in the case of dry corn. This means that cattle apparently chew dry shelled corn more thoroughly in order to lubericate it for swallowing.

Concerning the nutritional value of immature corn, Goodrich said studies show that moisture content of the corn plant decreases with maturity. As a result, many farmers and ranchers recommend that the corn plant be allowed to become quite mature before ensiling if the silage is to be fed to fattening cattle. Mature corn will produce the maximum yield of nutrients and hence more pounds of beef per acre.

He added that because cattle fed this silage eat more dry matter and gain fully as fast as those fed less mature corn, smaller amounts of other feeds are required per unit of gain. Goodrich recommended that farmers put up corn silage with 40 per cent dry matter and 60 per cent moisture content.

However, when corn is fed as either corn grain or ear corn, differences in maturity are not as great. In studies of "soft" ear corn or shelled corn the soft corn was nearly equal to mature corn for producing gains in all cases except hogs.

While mature corn had a slight edge over immature corn in feed value for cattle, milk cows and sheep, very little change was noted. But in trials with pigs, a lower rate of gain was observed when soft corn was fed. Also, pigs fed soft corn required more corn and protein supplement per 100 pounds of gain.

In a University of Minnesota experiment with lambs and digestion trials, test weight was used to describe corn maturity. Results showed immature corn, with a test weight of 35.2 pounds per bushel contained about 93 per cent as much digestible energy (TDN) as mature corn testing at 57.8 pounds per bushel.

Cattle Feeders Program Slated Near Rosemount

Research with urea, types of silages, immature corn and hay in ear corn rations will highlight the program at the 14th annual Minnesota beef cattle feeders day Thursday at the University of Minnesota's agricultural experiment station near Rosemount.

Tours of experimental facilities and pastures, cattle on feed and a vacuum haylage stack will be conducted beginning at 9:15 a.m.

At 10 a.m., R. D. Goodrich and J. C. Meiske of the animal science department will present results of current research. Specialists from other departments on the program include P.M. Burson of soil's science; A. R. Schmid of agronomy and plant genetics; and H. E. Hanke of the University of Minnesota, Morris.

Research topics include: Urea supplementation of growing and finishing cattle rations; sulfur additions to urea supplements; levels of corn silage, whole vs. ground corn and long vs. ground hay in cattle finishing rations; sorgo - sudan vs. high - sugar corn vs. regular corn silage in growing rations; value of hay in ear corn rations;

Also value of immature corn; oats in finishing rations; complete ensiled rations; laboratory silo studies with limestone and nitrogen additions to corn; air-tight vs. concrete stave silo haylages; dry-lot cow - calf studies; wintering beef cows; and grazing studies.

The afternoon program starts at 1:15 p.m. Speakers and topics include: K. E. Egertson, extension agricultural economist, discussing how cattle feeders can use beef futures; R. E. Jacobs, extension animal husbandman, speaking on low moisture silages; Meiske on using urea in cattle rations; and Goodrich on mineral recommendations for beef.

Health Program Among 4-H Clubs Offers Rewards

It's generally assumed that 4-H boys and girls as a group are a healthy lot because the 4th "H" represents "health." All 2¼ million members have pledged their "health to better living," states the national 4-H service committee.

There is a health program, however, specifically planned to teach 4-H'ers the basic rules for good health and wholesome personal habits, and to safeguard community health. Supervised by the cooperative extension service, this program enrolls well over 600,000 4-H'ers annually.

Not only do members carry out individual projects suited to individual needs, but local clubs take on community health projects such as assisting with tuberculosis, heart and cancer educational campaigns. In smaller towns, drinking water surveys are made, safety hazards checked and help is offered to hospitals, old peoples' homes and the handicapped.

At the end of the 4-H club year, members' records are evaluated for progress and outstanding achievement. The extension staff carefully evaluates the records submitted for county and state competition and awards.

The member who completes the best health project in the entire state will be a delegate to the 45th national 4-H club congress at Chicago with expenses paid. Six national winners will be chosen from among state winners to receive $500 scholarships.

More than 5,000 4-H members are expected to earn the county 4-H Health medal this year. To be eligible for state and national awards, the boy or girl must be over 14 years of age, and have been a 4-H member for at least three years.

State Employment Breaks Records

Nonagricultural employment in Minnesota in August continued to smash practically every record in the book, according to Robert J. Brown, commissioner of the Minnesota department of employment security.

Jobs in Minnesota in August reached 1,160,100 which was 60,500 (5.5 per cent) above a year ago and 11,100 higher than in July.

At the same time, Brown reported that unemployment in the state dropped to 41,500 (2.5 per cent) in August, 10,100 below a year ago (when the rate was 3.2 per cent) and 3,100 under the number unemployed in July. Brown said this was the lowest August level of unemployment since 1953. Both the number unemployed and the rate of unemployment since the first of this year (3.5 per cent) have averaged less than for any corresponding period since 1953, Brown added.

Pointing to the consistent health of the state's economy, Brown said that the August employment level continued a 58-month record in which current employment eclipsed that for the same month in the preceding year.

Food for Thought

by BEA ZACHAR

I'll bet Gov. Rolvaag will agree that "the longest way around is sometimes the shortest way home"—until he became the "under dog" his chances for reelection looked mighty slim. Guess it shows the people still have something to say in an election. From the number of Rep. (I quote from the record) switching their vote to Rolvaag, makes one wonder if they figure he'll be easier to beat in Nov.

And Now to War!

Primary election skirmishes are completed in Minnesota and the political parties can now enter their verbal warfare with all the resources at hand. While the results of Tuesday's primary were generally expected, more than a few eyebrows were lifted in regard to the overwhelming vote total which Gov. Karl Rolvaag secured against the DFL-endorsed Sandy Keith.

While the Rolvaag landslide was naturally disappointing to the Keith supporters on the ticket—including several other endorsed candidates who fell before the Rolvaag coalition of Robert Short, Wayne Olson and Robert Hansen—it should also strike a note of fear in the hearts of Republicans in the state. Whereas the DFL admitted at Sugar Hills that Rolvaag could not win the governorship again, the GOP is far from sure that such an event could not happen.

Keith has provided the Republicans with a fair amount of campaign fodder during the primary contest. The lieutenant governor had attacked Rolvaag's poor record of administration. He said the governor offered no programs to the 1963 and 1965 legislatures and won't offer any to the 1967 legislature either. He placed politics ahead of the interests of the people in the state.

And while the GOP will have to shelve its "book" on Keith and his insurance company connections, it can point to the governor for either failure to know what was happening or failure to take proper action when he did know. Even Rolvaag's attorney general concedes that approximately $6 million has disappeared.

Nobody expects the DFL to roll over and play dead in the next couple of months, however. Republicans must remember that the DFL gubernatorial candidates together received about twice the number of votes which Harold LeVander polled on the Republican side of the ballot. Discount Keith's vote entirely and Gov. Rolvaag still has a commanding lead over LeVander.

How many of Keith's votes will be switched to LeVander is impossible to estimate, but we would expect very few. Keith was the endorsed candidate, and most of his votes must have come from party people. Party people are not in the habit of switching parties in the middle of a campaign. The most Republicans can hope for is that some miffed party faithful will neglect to mark their ballots for governor in November.

We don't expect that a crushing defeat in the primary will cause Keith to graciously slip into oblivion. With the pressures of the primary over, the lieutenant governor should now have time to collect his thoughts, get a haircut and make plans to reshape his image. With his experience, he need not worry about a job. If happy Hubert won't find him a job in Washington he can always sell insurance.

On the Seventh Congressional district level, it was interesting to note that Keith Davison, running unopposed on the DFL side of the ticket, polled only 1,107 votes in Pennington county. A. M. Keith and Rolvaag together received 1,677 votes—indicating that nearly a third of the DFL voters didn't bother to mark their ballot for Davison. This doesn't show a very enthusiastic following in the party for the endorsee hopefully contesting for the Congress seat held by Rep. Odin Langen.

Meanwhile, back at the DFL gubernatorial race, there is bound to be talk of Republican cross-over voting playing a role in the Rolvaag victory. Undoubtedly there was some, but it was just as certainly equally divided between Keith and Rolvaag and provided no advantage to either one. . .except to deflate the total Republican vote for LeVander. We don't think the Keith forces could lay their whipping at the feet of the Republicans; it was just too sound a thrashing.

Cicero No Utopia

Continual dissatisfaction being evidenced in riots and other civil disorders in recent years should not be expected to be abated even if the rioters and marchers obtain the ends which they profess to seek. Don Brown of the Waseca Journal makes a very good point in the following editorial:

How often we have worked for a reform or we have campaigned to achieve a change only to find after accomplishing the desired results that they were not to our liking?

The prohibitionists achieved their ends by law only to find that they made far greater progress in temperance by persuasion than by law.

Voters wanted a greater voice in selecting candidates for party office. They did much to rid the convention system of its evils but when they attained total voice in the selection of the candidates they no longer wanted it greatly enough to fight to retain it. The result was convention endorsements—splitting the power between the people and the politicians with the politicians on the long end of the power.

But there is no Utopia.

Negroes of Chicago want to live in all-white Cicero. All we know about Cicero was its frequent mention in gangland stories of the prohibition era. Thus we wouldn't desire to live in the town.

Negroes want to live there only because someone desires to prevent them. So they parade through Cicero, causing a lot of racial trouble, to gain something they will not want for long.

Suppose they gain the right to buy a house in Cicero, will they be happy living way from friends? We doubt it. They will have gained equality, but the prize will be an empty one. They will not be happy until their friends live in Cicero, too. When that happens and Cicero becomes a Negro section its citizens will seek some other place in which they would like to live.

Take Lakes for Granted

Recently a letter was received by the editor of a state newspaper from a Los Angeles, California resident who had spent his vacation in Minnesota. The letter said Minnesotans didn't realize how lucky they were to live in a state with so many fine lakes and streams and to have these waters available to the public.

He added that if even one small Minnesota-type lake were located in Los Angeles and he was fortunate enough to own the shoreline around it—he could be a millionaire.

But does the selling price of lake shore property reflect the real value of a lake to the community? A lake's contribution to the economy, for example, is usually expressed in terms of the revenue realized by resorts from tourists, tax collections from summer home owners and sales of food, fishing tackle, gasoline and other consumer products. However, a lake can make a vital contribution to the welfare of society in the realm of aesthetics and recreational opportunities. These are priceless values difficult to express in terms of dollars.

Unfortunately, some Minnesota lakes over the years have been drained—both legally and illegally. In other cases lake beds and natural shorelines have been altered by dragline and bulldozer, detracting from scenery, fish spawning areas, wild rice beds and other values. In a few cases, all manner of debris and fill have been pushed into lakes to create suitable building sites for lake homes or commercial property.

Lakes are being polluted by sewage. A number of the 15,291 lakes (now listed as the official number by the conservation department) are growing annual crops of grain or hay, having long ago been drained and converted to agricultural use.

Other lakes, although not completely obliterated, have been reduced both in area and depth by drainage, filling or by tampering with the watershed. Some have been reduced in area to create park lands for the benefit of the public.

Perhaps we are taking our lakes too much for granted. Considering the value of these waters in contributing to stream flow and the enjoyment they afford to hundreds of thousands of Minnesota citizens and visitors each year, laws protecting the waters of lakes and streams should be strengthened. The enforcement of those laws should be strict and there should be general acceptance of the principle that any deposit or discharge of any substance into the water which tends to impair its quality and reduce its value for conservation, fish, wildlife or recreational purposes is an offense against the public interest.

How About That Dump?

Rocksbury township health officials must have caused quite a stir when their resolution asking for discontinuance of the dump grounds was read at the Thief River Falls city council meeting Tuesday night. The resolution did not set a deadline for city action, but it stated in no uncertain terms the reasons for the request.

The resolution noted ". . .the garbage consists of food which spoils, ferments and rots, and thereby causes a nauseating and retchous smell. . .in the vicinity of the dump ground as well as several miles surrounding the said ground." It charged the city has ". . .made no effort to cover the said garbage and filth" and that it has been an ". . . attraction for flies, vermin, mice, rats and . . .bacteria which is harmful to the health. . ."

There is no doubt that the township is right in its assessment of odor, rodents and insects, as well as wind-blown debris. We believe it would be difficult to prevent at least some of this under almost ideal dump ground conditions, but some of it could certainly be avoided.

For some reason or another, people get very disturbed when approached on the subject of garbage. The city clerk's office, as well as members of the council, probably receive more complaints and suggestions about garbage than any other single item. We can imagine the Rocksbury resolution was something of a final blow.

Now the city fathers are faced with finding a new final resting place for the offal of its citizens. We imagine this will be somewhat different in nature from the city's last land search—the quest for a site for the new junior college. The residents near any suitable site will not likely think too kindly of locating a dump grounds in their area. Who says councilmen don't have problems?

Week's Record in Gatzke Area

Mrs. Aksel Gormsen
Gatzke, 294-2478

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Enger of Minneapolis were house guests at the Ed Monson home the past week while visiting relatives and friends in this community. They are former residents, visiting with them there Sunday were Mrs. Mary Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Monson, Colleen and Tommy of Roseau, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson of Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Simmons and family.

Janet Aune spent last week in Minneapolis, with her roommate-to-be while they attend Bemidji State college.

Mrs. Glenn Larson and Randy and Mrs. Petra Larson were lunch guests at the Chester Ruud home Wednesday.

Mrs. Luella Brandt of Roseau and Mrs. Elena Skoglund were dinner guests at the Mylan Ruud home Thursday and spent the afternoon with Mrs. Constance Ruud.

The local teachers, Mrs. Hilda Qualey, Mrs. Gil Myran, Mrs. Frank Cwiklin, and Elaine Koskela attended the teachers institute at Warren Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bernstein, Timmy and Tommy visited at the Walter Lunsetter home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gust and Arlette of Benwood were recent Sunday dinner guests at the Clarence Dahl home.

The Gatzke Farmers Union local held their regular meeting at the Gatzke school gymnasium Tuesday evening. In the absence of president Neil Morrissey, vice president Clarence Lian had charge of the meeting. 3 skits and 2 songs were presented by the juniors, namely Jaylene Aune, Jennette Lunsetter, Raymond Aune, Nathan Engevik, Dennis and Bobby Sparby, Richard Lunsetter and Quentin Johnson. The annual secretary-treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Arthur Johnson, due to the small crowd attending, it was made a motion and seconded that the same officers retain their jobs for another year. The meeting was adjourned and lunch was served by Mrs. Clarence Lian and Mrs. Aksel Gormsen.

Mrs. Reuben Engevik visited her mother, Mrs. Pearson at Alvarado Tuesday evening and also her brother, who is hospitalized at the Warren hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Willie Tale began working at the Land O'Lakes turkey processing plant in Thief River Falls, Monday.

Bringing birthday greetings to Arnold Engelstad Wednesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Engelstad, Mr. and Mrs. John Loven and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engelstad.

We were sorry to hear that Lyle Blahauvietz suffered a heart attack while being employed at Lake Agassiz Wednesday and is presently hospitalized at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls. We hope he will have a complete recovery and be able to return home soon.

North Central Walleye Crop Is Listed as Good

Test seining by fisheries crews of shorelines in lakes of north central Minnesota indicate a generally "good to excellent" crop of young walleyes were produced during the spring spawning run this year, according to the Minnesota conservation department.

In lakes such as Winnibigoshish, Leech, Bowstring and Kabetogama, walleye fingerlings were taken at a rate of between 150 to 4,300 per shoreline acre.

Fritz Johnson, fisheries biologist at Grand Rapids, said the excellent hatch was due to high spring water levels during the spawning period which flooded new spawning shoals often unavailable to walleyes in low water years.

If survival conditions continue to be favorable, said Johnson, anglers can look forward to a good population of "keeper" size walleyes three or four years from now.

He said walleyes usually grow to a length of about five inches the first year and will be approximately 15 to 18 inches long by the third or fourth year when they mature for spawn.

Medicare Offers Aid for Service By Chiropractors

Chiropractic services and treatment are being made available to Minnesota's indigent and those on limited income through its inclusion in provisions for health services under Title 19 of the social security law, according to Minnesota department of public welfare officials.

Persons are eligible for chiropractic benefits under Minnesota's medical assistance program if they qualify for aid under any of the state's other public assistance programs, such as old age, aid to families with dependent children, aid to the blind, disabled, etc.

Others eligible for chiropractic care as well as the other services furnished by any licensed practitioner or recognized vendor or health care services (hospitals, physicians, dentists, nurses, optometrists, physical therapists, etc.) include any state resident without regard to age; those whose real property does not exceed $15,000 in value; and those with limited liquid assets depending on marital status and spouse's worth.

Up to passage of the 1965 social security amendments (medicare), Minnesota's department of public welfare handled medical aid for the needy through the state's separate categorical aid funds. Now Title 19 of the amendments combines all medical aid into one program and increases the amount of federal aid involved.

Under the new program, Minnesota receives 60 per cent of its program costs from the federal government. The state and counties share the remaining 40 per cent, each contributing half. All 87 Minnesota counties participate.

Eligible persons in need of this type of care should apply to their county welfare boards who will furnish details of procedure in applying for professional care.

Approximately 300,000 veterans who served in the U. S. armed forces since Jan. 31, 1955, are expected to enter college this fall under the provisions of the new GI bill.

If you should happen to drive past a particularly interesting rustic home on Northern Avenue in Sleepy Eye—the one surrounded by Kasota stone walls—it may be the Sylvester Soukup residence, and formerly a famous Minnesota brewery. Owned some 70 years ago by the late Anton Steffen, the brewery sold beer by the keg and also catered to passers-by, who could purchase a huge mug of beer for a nickel—or a four-gallon "pony" for just one dollar!

Stamps With Beer In Britain

The "King and Queen" pub at Paddington, a section of London, now gives trading stamps to customers! At the rate of 10 stamps with each pint of beer served, it takes just 128 servings to get the nine-piece china tea set termed especially popular with British homemakers.

Beer Cookery from Experts

Wives of many of America's most famous brewers were interviewed for Dale Remington's "Kaleidoscope" radio program recently. A Seattle hostess recommended using beer instead of water for beef stew, while a Milwaukee wife suggested shrimp cooked in beer with caraway seeds. Another Milwaukeean makes a seafood aspic with beer, while two ladies spoke of barbecued chicken with beer sauce . . .Send for "Minnesota Hostess' Favorite Recipes", 333 WCCO Building, Minneapolis 55402, and try a bit of beer cookery! It's free.

Yard 'n' Garden
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

As the vegetable garden season comes to a close, thoughts usually turn to ways of keeping some of the produce in a fresh condition during fall and early winter. By providing suitable conditions, garden produce can be kept in good quality condition for several months.

Harvested vegetables are still living organisms, continuing to grow in storage. If growth is rapid, the food stored will soon be used, the quality will deteriorate and the produce will break down and decay. Proper control of temperature and moisture will retard growth and prolong storage life.

Root crops and beets store well in 10-gallon crocks. The temperature should be 32-40 degrees and the air fairly moist. Trimming the crowns of the carrot so no green color remains will help prevent sprouting. If you have—or can get—an old electric refrigerator, it will serve you well for storing some of the root crops for winter use.

Onions keep best in a dry, cool place. After the bulbs have been cured outside so the scales are dry and brittle, they can be placed in mesh bags in a room that is 32-40 degrees, but dry.

Squash and pumpkin should be kept for two weeks in a well ventilated room where temperatures are 75-80 degrees to harden the shell. Then place them in a 40-55 degree room that is dry.

The tomato season can often be extended by picking fruits at the pink stage or at the green-mature stage. At 40-50 degrees pink-stage tomatoes can be kept seven to 10 days while green-mature tomatoes will keep for one to six weeks at 50-60 degrees. Ripening increases with higher temperatures. Just before frost kills the plants, pull them up and hang them in the basement or garage with fruits still attached. The fruit will continue to ripen.

Jr. College Enrollment Is 266 on Opening Day

With enrollment still being accepted for another week, Thief River Falls state junior college is currently running slightly behind speculated registration, according to Dean Victor Charles. Opening day enrollment Monday was 177 freshmen and 89 sophomores for a total of 266.

College officials had anticipated total enrollment of 300 students this year, projecting registration figures of an estimated 200 freshmen and 100 shophomores. Enrollment during the next week may bring the total close to that mark.

Dean Charles told the Times Tuesday that the scheduling of classes has worked out quite well, considering that the courses in which students would enroll was an unknown quantity at the time schedules were arranged. Many of the college's extra-curricular activities will begin next week.

The junior college library, located in the former Carnegie public library building, will open on Thursday, Dean Charles said. Tables for the student center in the basement of the library building are expected next week, and other furniture should be received the week following.

First all-college assembly will be held Thursday with business to be mostly organizational in nature.

Student housing has been taken care of quite satisfactorily, the dean noted, but part-time employment is being sought by a number of students. Part-time jobs are needed by both men and women students. Anyone having part-time employment available is asked to call the junior college office—681-2181.

Local VFW Post Given Award at District Meeting

L. H. Thorstenson of Thief River Falls, Ninth District commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, presided at the district meeting held recently at Barnesville.

Among the awards presented at the session was the outstanding parade unit award to Post 2793 of Thief River Falls for sponsoring the Bridgeman Bridgettes in the department convention parade at Mankato in June. Other awards were presented to other posts, commanders and district members.

Attending from the local post in addition to Thorstenson were Harold H. Anderson, Benhart Johnson, Arnold Kelley, Earl Efteland, Dale Ranum, Leroy C. Olson, Harlan Huseth, Vern Lappegaard and Les DeBryn. Representing the VFW auxiliary were Mrs. Arnold Kelley and Mrs. Earl Efteland.

Wesley Klinger, department judge advocate, was a special guest. The next district meeting was be held in Crookston on December 4 and the Loyalty day meeting will be held in Thief River Falls on May 1, 1967.

Police Report $1,000 Mishap On Highway 59

A two-car accident at the southeast edge of town was reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. Sunday at 4:50 p.m. a car driven by Irving Easthouse of Goodridge was traveling south on Highway 59 and prepared to turn left into the driveway to Barnick's Furniture Mart. While waiting for oncoming traffic to clear, the car was struck from the rear by one driven by Leo Nelson of rt. 3, Thief River Falls. Damage was estimated at $600 to the Easthouse car and $400 to the Nelson vehicle. The accident in under investigation.

It was reported to police that the aerial was broken off a car while parked on a downtown street Monday evening.

Mrs. Daryl Williamson and Nancy Lynn left Sunday by plane from Grand Forks, N. D., to join Capt. Daryl Williamson, who is in the Medical Field Service school at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. After October 15, they will be located at Fort Polk in Louisiana. Mrs. Williamson and Nancy have been visiting at the Andy Williamson home in this city.

Enrollment in Plummer School Down Slightly

Enrollment was down slightly as Plummer public school students enrolled for the 1966-67 school year September 2. In the elementary school 102 students are now registered while 148 students are attending classes in the secondary school. The 1967 senior class has 28 members.

New members of the Plummer school faculty this year are Donald Fox, science instructor; William Beeks, industrial arts and coaching; Richard Paulson, social studies and coaching; and Mrs. Joan Johnson, girls' physical education and health.

TRF Women Are Guests of EGF Legion Auxiliary

Three Thief River Falls women, all high officials of the American Legion auxiliary, were special guests of the East Grand Forks unit at a membership dinner Monday evening. They include Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, department president; Mrs. M. R. Levorson, district president; and Mrs. G. L. Biddick, district secretary.

As guest speaker, Mrs. Johnson told of the various programs of service of the Legion auxiliary. Her theme, "The Lamp of Service," was emphasized with the use of lighted lamps on the table.

C of C Board Asks Bond Issue Favor

Adoption of a resolution favoring passage of the Thief River Falls school bond issue October 18 took place at a recent meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce board of directors. The resolution was presented by the education committee and approved by the board, according to Donavon Narverud, president.

Dr. O. D. Beich, chairman of the education committee, stated that the area vocational-technical school must enlarge to accommodate the growing number of young people who need special training before entering the labor market. He also cited the long-range benefit of locating the vocational school next to the junior college site to provide an impressive education complex at the northeast edge of the city.

In adopting the resolution, the Chamber of Commerce recognized that business and industry demands skilled workers. "By voting for the bond issue," chairman Narverud said, "district residents will assure high school graduates of this area the opportunity to better prepare themselves for earning a living and becoming members of the communities in which they plan to live."

The education committee called attention to the fact that four subjects are currently being taught in temporary rental quarters. These include auto body repair, welding, office education and architectural drafting. The state department of education has said that no new courses may be added to the curriculum of the school through the use of rental facilities. After moving the existing courses to the new

Newfolden School Enrollment Up 12 From Last Year

Opening day enrollment in the Newfolden community school found an increase of 12 pupils over the entire enrollment for the preceding year. The elementary grades showed an increase of seven students and the high school five students. Late enrollment may have brought up the figures.

Due to a shift in enrollment in some grades, the first grade has been sectioned this year and a new teacher added to keep enrollment in each class under 30 pupils. The seventh and eighth grades have also been sectioned.

Seven faculty members are new to the system this year. In the elementary grades, they are Mrs. James Sims, Thief River Falls, who has one section of the first grade; and Mrs. Larry Inman, Holt, second grade.

New high school faculty members are Mrs. Lyle Haugenson, Thief River Falls, social studies, English and girls' physical education; Miss Wilma Daby, St. Thomas, N. D., junior high science and social studies; David Gillie, Hallock, business education; Dale Gunderson, Langford, S. D., senior science; and Lester Thygeson Jr., Newfolden, industrial arts.

Mrs. Wayne Ulferts and Mrs. Philip Dyrud, who taught on a part-time basis last year, have been made full-time teachers. Mrs. Ulferts teaches senior English and library, while Mrs. Dyrud teaches junior high math and German I.

Other hold-over faculty members include Mrs. Rolland Amundson, first grade; Miss Valborg Huglen, third grade; Mrs. Glenn Rasmussen, fourth grade; Mrs. Lloyd Haagenson, fifth grade; Mrs. Elaine Roering, elementary principal and sixth grade; Wayne Ulferts, high school principal and counselor; Mrs. Lois Adolphson, home economics; and Philip Dyrud, social studies and driver's training;

Also Gordon Collin, English; Mrs. Pearl Gray, junior high English and social studies; Arnett Luhning, social studies, health, boys' physical education and coaching; Miss Ethel Torgerson, senior high math; Mrs. Vera B. Craig, elementary music and high school vocal music; and John P. Halvorson, superintendent.

Theatre Group Meets Tonight

Problems surrounding production of the play "Bell, Book and Candle" will be discussed at a meeting of the Thief River Falls Community Theatre association to be held this evening (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium.

The play is under the direction of Richard Norquist with Mrs. Gloria Bjorkman as assistant director and Frank Womack as production manager. All members of the association and other interested persons are urged to attend.

Area Delegates Attend NMEA Workshop Session

Thief River Falls, Goodridge and Newfolden representatives were among those attending the fall leadership workshop of the Northern Minnesota Education association held Saturday at Cass Lake. Francis Hamerlinck of Thief River Falls is NMEA president.

Others attending from Thief River Falls were Lawrence Brown, Orall Johnson, Elmer Porter, Grace Hartje, Edith Etter, Robert Wilson and Patrick Klemisch. Attending from Goodridge were Dr. David Brown, Edna Omlid, Eloda Knutson, Christian Pratt, Myrtle Thompson, Ron Johnson, Sue Pullam, Dale Moore and Eugene T. Connor. Newfolden delegates were Pearl Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dyrud.

Presidents of local associations and committee chairmen and members received briefings on their responsibilities connected with the operation and continued growth of the professional organization.

Allen Thiemich, assistant executive secretary of the state association, spoke on teacher tenure, liability and professional practices.

The workshop also served as the kickoff for the campaign of A. J. Kramer of Roseau for presidency of the 37,000-member Minnesota Education association.

Tuberculin Test Schedule Begins Here on Monday

Over 4,000 pupils will be offered tuberculin tests for tuberculosis when the Christmas Seal association sends its team of testers into Pennington county schools next week.

Christmas Seal funds will pay costs of this health survey, according to Judge Herman Kjos of Thief River Falls, president of the Pennington County Tuberculosis and Health council.

"No youngster will be tested unless he presents a signed consent slip from his parent or guardian," said Mrs. Margaret Race, Thief River Falls school nurse, who urges all school pupils to get their test at this time." Tuberculosis is as easy to catch as it ever was, and as dangerous. It remains the world's number one infectious disease. In this country we had around 50,000 new cases last year. Of this total, 587 were from Minnesota."

Starting Monday, testing will be as follows in Thief River Falls schools: Lincoln high school, vocational school and junior college at 9 a.m.; St. Bernard's, Seventh Day Adventist and Knox elementary schools at 1 p.m.

Tests will be given Tuesday at Franklin junior high school and the Mark Twain school at 9 a.m.; and at the Washington and Northrup elementary schools at 1 and 2 p.m. respectively.

On Wednesday, testing will be in the Goodridge school at 10 a.m., and at St. Hilaire school at 1 p.m. Administering the tests to pupils throughout the county will be the association's testers, Mmes. Helen Peterson, Maxine Anderson, Audrey Higgins and Alice Hobbis, registered nurses from Crookston.

"Tests will be checked two days after given, and if the person has been infected with the tuberculosis germ, a red, raised spot will appear on the skin. This does not mean he has tuberculosis, but it does mean that he reacts to the test and may at some somp period during his lifetime break down with the disease," Mrs. Race said. A chest X-ray film will show if the TB germs in the body of a reactor are damaging the lungs. Free chest J-rays will be given by the Christmas Seal assn. when it sends its mobile X-ray unit into this area in November.

Deadline Set For Emergency ASCS Practices

October 19 has been set as the deadline date to accept requests for emergency practices in Marshall county, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

These two practices are for the removal of debris, sand and silt deposits, filling holes and gullies, leveling and deep plowing or for the rehabilitating of drainage systems that have been severely damaged by floods or excessive rains and runoff in the spring of 1966.

Anyone interested in either of these two practices should contact the ASCS office in Warren and put in their request now, as the request must be made before the work is started.

New Public Library Will Open Monday Morning

"Restless Ones" Film Will Show Here Four Days

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Thief River Falls Friday through Monday at the Falls theatre.

Showings will be daily at 6:30 and 9 p.m. with 3 p.m. matinees on Saturday and Sunday. All seats are reserved at one dollar each. Tickets are available at local drug stores.

With the accent on youth, this feature - length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles crusade, "The Restless Ones" is described as "a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems."

One reviewer said, "Here is a picture that tells the world the truth and comes up with an answer, not an easy answer, but an answer from beyond us." The message of the film comes through in the midst of a realistic teen-age situation.

Screen writer James Collier has brought into focus the contemporary plight of both teen-agers and parents, a review of the film states.

Ballet Classes Start Saturday

Ballet classes in the Thief River Falls recreation program will begin Saturday at 11 a.m. in the city auditorium. All persons interested are asked to attend the registration program Saturday so that classes can begin the following week.

Minnkota Lignite Plan Aired Here

Lyle Lund, assistant manager of Minkota Power cooperative of Grand Forks, N. D., discussed Minnkota's role in the electric power system of the area at the noon meeting of the Thief River Rotary club Monday.

Minnkota, through its member cooperatives, had approximately 45,000 customers who used a peak load of about 120,000 kilowatts last winter, Lund said. The rural load is growing about 10 per cent per year, he noted, and is expected to double by 1976 to approximately 250,000 kilowatts. Generating capacity of the Minnkota steam plant at Grand Forks is 45,000 kilowatts, with the remainder being purchased from the federal bureau of reclamation.

Minnkota has now received approval for a loan to build a steam generating plant in the lignite fields of North Dakota and transmission facilities to bring the electricity generated throughout its territory. The 212,000 kilowatt capacity plant, distribution system and internal improvements will be financed by a $55,715,000 loan from the Rural Electrification administration.

According to Lund, the plant will be located on a 16,000 acre coal field which Minnkota owns near Center, N. D. The lignite is 12 to 14 feet thick and covered by 40 to 50 feet of earth. The plant will use about one million tons of lignite a year and the supply available is estimated at 175 million tons. Cost delivered to the plant is estimated at $1.10 per ton.

Minnkota has served Thief River Falls for the past nine years by wheeling bureau of reclamation power to the city over the cooperative's transmission lines to a substation east of the city. This ser-

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Ted Hoversten, field representative of the Social Security district office in Grand Forks, N. D., will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium on Tuesday, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

COMFORTS of home without the distraction of boisterous youngsters, await the visitors at the new public library in Thief River Falls. This area at the front of the library is the magazine section where literally hundreds of magazines are available for public use. The library will open officially on Monday with hours from 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11:30 to 6 p.m. Saturday. The entire interior of the building is carpeted, furnishings are new and special services are offered. For details, read the library opening story in today's Times.

Many Services Will Be Offered In New Building

Thief River Falls new public library will officially open on Monday, according to Miss Bertha Hastad, librarian. Located at the corner of Main avenue and First street, the new building provides several services not previously available to local library users.

The entire interior of the new library is carpeted, and large study area is available and a special magazine section offers readers copies of about 120 different magazines. A special section has been arranged for young readers, with tables and chairs of proper height for the youngsters.

Of particular interest will be the multi-purpose room which is available to groups for meetings. This room may be used during library hours by making reservations for it at the library. Winter hours at the library will be from 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Another new service will be the offering of 16 millimeter films for home or group showings. The local library is member of the Minnesota Library Film circuit and will receive 20 films every six weeks. A brochure describing the films is available at the library. Organizations, schools, churches or private individuals may call the library and reserve films for a certain date. This service is free to all people in Pennington county.

Films available in the current packet include a wide range of interest fields, and most of them are in color. Among the most popular will be Walt Disney's "Beaver Valley", Huber's "Animals of Alaska" and a 22-minute color film on "Science of the Sea".

Other film titles are "Agricultural Portrait", "Color of Man", "Figure Skating", "Flower Arrangements for the Home", "Good Grooming-Make-up", "Grapevine", "Heart of England", "Introduction to Denmark", "Little Red Hen", "Marion Anderson", "Marsh Waters--Waste or Wealth", "Mexican Village Family", "People of a City", "Skis on Mount Orford", "Talented Hands" and "This Is Canada—Columbia Icefields".

While the library will be opened to the public's general use Monday, it is expected that formal held in the future. The Friends of the Library organization is preparing a brochure on library history in Thief River Falls, and will place the booklet on sale within a short time.

Bank Debits in City Up 2 Per Cent from 1965

Bank debits in Thief River Falls during August showed an increase of 2 per cent from the same period a year ago, according to statistics released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. In dollars, the city's bank debits volume during August was $10,934,000. In the same month of 1965, the total figure was $10,760,000. During the first eight months of 1966 bank debits amounted to $77,045,000, an increase of 6 per cent from 1965.

For Minnesota the August volume of bank debits for reporting cities increased 30 per cent from August of last year. Debits for the first eight months of 1966 increased 20 per cent from the same period in 1965.

The volume of bank debits reported by the total sample of Ninth Federal Reserve district cities for August increased 26 per cent from a year ago. The cumulative total for the first eight months of 1966 indicated an 18 per cent increase from the comparable 1965 period.

Bank debits mainly include all debits against checking accounts of individuals, partnerships and corporations, and of states and political subdivisions. They do not include debits to the accounts of other banks, the United States government and savings accounts.

Hassenstab and Haagenson Vows Spoken At Moorhead

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Hassenstab and Lyle Kenton Haagenson exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 27, at 3 p.m. at a double ring ceremony at Our Saviors Lutheran church at Moorhead. Rev. Ariel R. Molldren officiated. Organist, Gary Stenehjem, cousin of the bride, played the traditional nuptial music and for the processional played "The Processional", by Handel. He also accompanied Miss Susan Rovelstad, a cousin of the bride, as she sang "Song of Ruth", "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". Candelabra and arrangements of palms graced the chancel.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Hassenstab of Moorhead and Lyman Hassenstab of Portland, Ore., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Haagenson of Thief River Falls.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of taffeta and chantilly lace featuring a fitted bodice of lace with long Mary Stuart sleeves and sabrina neckline outlined with seed pearls. The gown, fashioned with a full bouffant skirt of taffeta styled with a lace insert of cascading tiers of lace ruffles in front, featured a detachable watteau train of matching lace ruffles. Her viel of silk illusion fell from a pearl trimmed lace pillbox and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Ann Winger of St. Paul attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Olive Anderson of Grand Forks, N. D., and Carolyn Larson of Gonvick. They wore empire fashioned floor length gowns of tangerine crystalette with matching headpieces, dyed-to-match shoes, white gloves and carried bouquets of natural foliage. Their pearl errings were gifts from the bride.

The groom was attended by Ronald Moe of Thief River Falls as best man. Groomsmen were Wayne Hassenstab of Moorhead, brother of the bride, and John Anderson of New Brighton, friend of the groom. Ushers were Orville Larson of Newfolden and Mark Stenehjem of Williston, N. D.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua three-piece knit ensemble with coordinating accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a pink three-piece suit with beige accessories. Both wore identical corsages of pink carnations.

Attending the wedding as special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hassenstab of Wabasso and Mrs. G. A. Stenehjem of Williston, N. D.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony with Phil Stenehjem and Mrs. Homer Rovelstad, godparents of the bride, as host and hostess. Mrs. Julian Jensen registered the 175 guests and Miss Christine Hassenstab served the punch.

The Christogram topped three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with tangerine and white flowers, was cut and served by Mrs. Orville Larson, sister of the groom and Mrs. Phil Stenehjem. Mrs. Gil Stenehjem and Mrs. Robert Hassenstab poured. Others assisting at the reception were Miss Beth Stenehjem and Annette Hassenstab.

Guests attending were from Watford City, Grand Forks and Williston, N. D.; Minneapolis, Thief River Falls, Wabasso, Storden, Clitherall, Holt, Henning, St. Paul, Roseau, Duluth and Gonvick.

Following a wedding trip through northern Minnesota and into Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Haagenson are at home on a farm in rural Thief River Falls. The bride, a graduate of Concordia college, Moorhead, is teaching in the Newfolden school system and the groom, a graduate of Lincoln high schooll, is engaged in farming. Photo Don Olson, Fargo N. Directors Of The Mrs. Jaycees Plan Activities

Mrs. Jaycees board of directors met Monday at the Richard Contos home to make plans for several of the coming year's activities. Included were plans for the programs for the year with Sharon Kozojed as program chairmen. Ways-and-means chairman, Julie Bakke, presented some new ideas for raising money, which will be brought before the general membership, and membership chairman, Jean Tureson, announced the possibility of gaining seven or eight new members.

Several recommendations were made by the board and will be brought before the general membership for action. They include a new project; the Stranger-Danger slides to be shown to pre-school age children as well as to those of school age and the selling of bracelets in the outlaying towns as well as in the Thief River Falls schools.

Due to a conflict of dates the regular September meeting will not be held Monday, September 26, as previously planned but will be held Monday, October 3 at 8:30 p. m. at the James Matson home.

All Jaycees wives are cordially invited to attend. For further information regarding the Mrs. Jaycees or if in need of a ride, call Jean Tureson, 681-4663.

Pauline Crawford Marries Darwin Tanem in Wisconsin

St. Paul Lutheran church, Cudahy, Wis., was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Pauline Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford of South Milwaukee, Wis., and Darwin Tanem, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tanem of Goodridge.

Rev. W. Brassow officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by approximately 150 guests. Mr. Joseph Marko was organist and she accompanied Mrs. Wayne Minste as she sang "The Wedding Day". As the couple knelt at the altar, Mrs. Minste also sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Forming the background for the wedding party were arrangements of gladioli and pink honeysuckles. White roses with ribbon bows, attached to straw fans, marked the pews on both sides of the center aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white nylon over satin featuring a chapel length detachable train that formed into a bustle. The fitted bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrists. Reemboridered lace enhanced the front of the skirt and edged the train. A fabric petaled headpiece, outlined with dainty seed pearls, secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. For sentiment she wore something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her single strand of pearls was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Lloyd Tanem of Mound, a sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were friends of the bride from South Milwaukee, Gayle Greenes, Linda Bwening and Brenda Barsamian. They wore floor-length gowns of pink nylon voile over taffeta with matching cabbage rose headpieces, white gloves and shoes. Their silver cross pendants were gifts from the bride and each carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Pamela Tanem of Mound, niece and godchild of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown similar to the other attendants and carried a basket of mixed flowers. Her silver cross pendant was her gift from the bride. Scott Bakke of South Milwauke, Wis., another godchild of the groom was ring bearer. His tie tac was a gift from the groom.

Best man was Lloyd Tanem of Mound, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Wayne Bakke, a cousin of the groom, Richard Gillard and David Schlafer, all of South Milwaukee. Danny Crawford, also of South Milwaukee, a brother of the bride, and Gregg Tanem of Mound, a nephew of the groom, were ushers. All wore white tuxedos with white carnations boutonnieres and each received a tie tac, a gift from the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a three piece knit suit with white accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a blue lace sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories. Their corsages were pink carnations.

A reception followed in the Pythian hall at South Milwaukee. White candles and a blue floral arrangement, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Omlid of Goodridge, centered the bridal table. A catering service served the 6:30 p. m. dinner. Debbie Tanem of Mound, niece of the groom and Paulette Aaknes of Trail, a cousin of the groom, presided at the guest book.

The pillared four-tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Albert Aaknes of Trail, aunt of the groom, was decorated in pink and white. The cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom and between the tiers that rested on graceful swans were miniature replicas of the bridal party. On each side of the cake were two cakes designed like an open Bible, decorated with pink roses and inscribed with the names of the couple and the date of the wedding.

Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Aaknes and Mrs. Wayne Bakke, cousin of the groom. Virginia Elsbrenner of Plainview assisted the bride and groom in opening the gifts.

Guests attending were from South Milwaukee and Cudahy, Wis., Tennessee, Goodridge, Trail, Plaincorsage.

For travel on the wedding trip, the bride wore a brown dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of the South Milwaukee high school. The groom, a 1963 graduate of the Goodridge high school is employed at Norby's in Milwaukee, Wis. They will make their home They will make their home in South Milwaukee. Photo — Martin Radler, West Allis, Wis.

C of C Board As School Bond Issue Support

quarters, it will be possible for the vocational school to add courses to its curriculum, the committee noted.

Dr. Belch explained to the board that costs of the new building have been estimated at $800,000. Federal funds administered by the state department of education are projected to pay half the cost or $400,000. From the 1963 bond issue which resulted in construction of Mark Twain elementary and Franklin junior high schools, $100,000 was designated for vocational school use. The bond election October 18 will request authorization to sell $330,000 in bonds to pay the difference of construction costs and initial bonding costs to better fit the issue into the school district's bond repayment schedule. A tax increase of 50 cents for each $100 now being paid has been projected for the building.

The Chamber of Commerce concurred with the school board's contention that voters of the district should be given opportunity to express their wishes on the need for an indoor swimming pool. The district is placing a separate question on the October 18 ballot asking authorization of bonds not to exceed $200,000 for a swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school. The pool addition would add $1.50 to each $100 currently paid in taxes.

Any club or organization wishing to secure a speaker on the bond election is encouraged to call the Chamber of Commerce, 681-3720.

PFC. Robert L. Olson arrived home from Frankfurt, Germany some time ago to spend a 21-day furlough at the home of his mother, Mrs. Clara Olson of Thief River Falls. He returned to Fort Stewart, Ga. to continue training in construction engineering.

Fair Weather Will Continue

Fair, cool and breezy weather is expected to continue through tomorrow. A stiff northwest wind will bring cooler temperatures to this area today, spreading over the state by tomorrow. Highs today will be in the 70's; lows tonight from 36 to 42.

Temperatures recorded at the airport were 76 and 42 on Monday and 77 and 50 on Tuesday. No rain was measured, and chances of rain today and tomorrow are less than 5 per cent.

Sheriff Reports Theft, Vandalism

A larceny and a multiple vandalism were reported today by Pennington County Sheriff Charles R. Richards. The sheriff received a complaint Monday that two bucket seats had been taken from a 1965 Opal at Peterson's Auto Wrecking.

It was reported Friday that minor damage had been done to a number of mailboxes in the Rustad addition.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor:

A drainage problem still exists in Eastern Marshall County. There should be a solution for this problem.

For the past twenty years or more there have been numerous ditch cleaning projects carried out to enlarge the main ditches. This enlarging of the main ditches and the hundreds of miles of field ditches that have been put in on nearly all farms in this area are contributing factors in bringing the water too fast to the main outlet which is Thief River.

Nothing has been done to relieve this problem. There are many farmers that have flooded land every spring south of Mud Lake due to the fast run-off. A similar problem exists on the north side of Mud Lake.

I believe that now and until freeze-up is the time the river should be carrying water out of Mud Lake and Thief Lake in order to create a bigger reservoir for the spring run-off and spring rains. This would relieve some of the pressure on Thief River in the spring. This would not be the complete answer to the water problem but it would help.

With good public relations with the Thief Lake and Mud Lake management personnel, it should be possible for Eastern Marshall county and the Thief Lake and Mud Lake personnel to work together to get federal aid for a river cleaning project.

Sincerely,
Glenn "Bud" Larson

Mrs. Earl Jensen Services To Be Held Here Thurs.

Funeral services for Mrs. Earl D. (Thora) Jensen, 66, of this city, administrator of the Hillcrest Nursing home at Red Lake Falls since 1959, who died Saturday at Frederic, Wis., where she was visiting relatives, will be held here Thursday at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran church. Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg and Rev. Paul R. Blegner will officiate. Mrs Walter Larson will serve as organist and Mrs. Donald Olson as soloist.

Pallbearers will be Charles Stephens, Myles Jackson, A. B. Stenberg, Clarence Knutson, James Parkins and John Wold. Sinding's Funeral chapel is in charge of funeral arrangements and interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Jensen, the former Thora Garmoe, was born Feb. 12, 1900 in Norway to Mr. and Mrs. Ole Garmoe. At the age of two years, she immigrated to the United States with her parents, living in Wisconsin where she attended school and grew to womanhood.

She attended business school in Minneapolis. On May 22, 1920 she was united in marriage to Earl Jensen in Minneapolis. There they lived for several years before moving to this city where they have made their home for the past 25 years.

She was manager of the former Mercy hospital in this city for several years. She served as secretary of the former Oakland Park Sanatarium for 11 years before it was converted into a nursing home which she served as superintendent for five years. Since then she has been administrator of the Hillcrest nursing home at Red Lake Falls.

She was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church of this city and the American Legion auxiliary of Red Lake Falls.

Survivors include her husband, Earl; one son, Guy Garmoe Jenson, Independence, Mo.; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; one brother, Harold Garmoe, Siran, Wis.; and three sisters, Mrs. Helen Carlson, Medford, Wis., Mrs. George (Anna) Gledhill, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Marie Whaley of Minneapolis.

She was preceded in death by one brother and one sister.

Theodore Prestby, Formerly of TRF, Dies In Mpls.

A former resident of this city, Theodore E. (Ted) Prestby, 64, of 2214 Central Avenue North East, Minneapolis, died Tuesday, September 13 at a Minneapolis hospital.

Funeral services for Ted Prestby were held Friday, September 16, at 11 a. m. at the Columbia Park chapel in Minneapolis, Rev. Paul Stohlberg officiated and interment was in Hillside cemetery in that city.

He was born August 12, 1902 in St. Paul, a son of Anton and Julia Prestby, and resided for some time in this city.

Survivors include three sons, Gordon Prestby, Albuquerque, N. Mexico.; Anthony, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Duane of Columbia Heights; seven grandchildren and two brothers, Hans Prestby of Thief River Falls and Erling of Gonvick.

He was preceded in death by two brothers.

Attending the services from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Prestby of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Erling Prestby of Gonvick.

Mrs. Conrad Roal Dies Unexpectedly At Middle River

Mrs. Conrad E. Roal, 64, of Minneapolis, the former Ellen Anderson of Middle River, died unexpectedly Sunday afternoon while she and her husband were visiting her mother, Mrs. William P. Anderson, at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Niemela in Spruce Valley township, Marshall county. Mrs. Roal suffered an apparent heart attack and was taken to Northwestern hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival. The body was taken to Minneapolis where services and interment will be held later this week. Collins Funeral home was in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Roal, the former Ellen Sophia Anderson, was born May 4, 1902, at Kent, Mich., to Mr. and Mrs. William P. Anderson. As a child she came with her parents to Marshall county, settling on a farm near Middle River. She attended school in Middle River and lived at Fargo, N. D., and Minneapolis before her marriage. In June of 1931 she was united in marriage to Conrad E. Roal at Minneapolis and has since made her home in that city.

She is survived by her husband, Conrad; one son, Wayne Roal of Wayzata, one daughter, Mrs. Shelly (Marian) Janssen of Minneapolis; her mother, Mrs. William P. Anderson of Middle River; eight grandchildren; eight sisters and four brothers.

She was preceded in death by her father.

OPEN THURSDAY AND FRIDAY TILL 9 P.M.

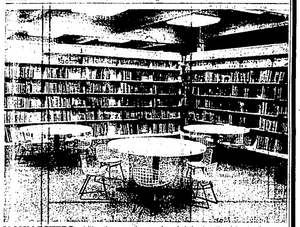
NEW HOME of the thousands of volumes available for public use is the Thief River Falls public library pictured above. The library is located on the corner of Main avenue and First street and will open to the public on Monday.

INTERIOR of the new Thief River Falls public library is modern in every detail, including the metal stacks for books and the comfortable furniture which is also designed for utility. The windows on the left of the photo look out on Main avenue, permitting the last rays of the setting sun to enter the building.



YOUNGSTERS visiting the new public library in Thief River Falls will have the above area for their semi-private enjoyment. Enclosed by stacks for books, the section has several round tables and a number of chairs just the right size for young readers. Like the rest of the library, the area is carpeted to reduce noise. This area closes to youngsters at 6 p.m. unless children are accompanied by a parent.

Mrs. Daryl Lewis, Rt. 1 City

We were sorry to hear that Jens Kirk was injured quite seriously in an accident involving his tractor and a farm implement two weeks ago Thursday. The following Wednesday he also underwent surgery, and is now recuperating at Northwestern hospital. He is wished a fast and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Dyrdal and Mrs. Esther Solseng and Mrs. Martin Solseng Jr., Sherry and Shelly left Friday evening via train for St. Paul. The Dyrdals were houseguests at the home of their son David, and also visited with the Lawrence Bensons and with Mrs. Dyrdal's other brother, Earl Benson, who is hospitalized in So. St. Paul. The Solsengs visited with the Ralph Newton family, also enjoying a visit to Como Park Zoo and other points of interest. Both families returned home early Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Lewis, Timmy and Todd accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dyrdal and Lynn to Cavalier, N. D. Sunday, where they visited with the Edwin Lewises and also enjoyed a picnic dinner. After their return the Dyrdals were supper guests at the Daryl Lewis home.

New Library Will Open to Public Mon. Afternoon

In addition the the services mentioned, the library has a storage and book repair area, restrooms, garage for a bookmobile in the event a multi-county library is formed in the future and many new fixtures and furnishings.

The former Carnegie public library, which has served the area for many years, will serve as the Thief River Falls state junior college library and a junior college student center. The junior college library will open Thursday and furnishings for the student center are expected in the next two weeks.

Further information and history on the library will be published at the time a formal dedication is held.

State Conservation Group Holds Meeting

Representatives from many of the 164 clubs affiliated with the Minnesota Conservation federation attended the 14th annual assembly of the federation last weekend. The convention was held at the Quadna Mountain Resort near Hill City.

The Pennington County Sportsmen's club were presented by Vernon Scholin, past president, and Jim Wills, vice president. Other representatives from the Northwest Association of Conservation clubs were Joe Sekula and Emil Mucher of Crookston and Jerry Hruby, Ronnie Stauss and Don Murray of East Grand Forks. Sekula was elected divisional vice president and Hruby a director of the Northwest district.

Speaker at the Saturday noon luncheon was Conservation Commissioner Charles F. Smith of Wisconsin, who made a strong plea for increased efforts to halt pollution of lakes and streams. Water pollution has become a problem in Minnesota as well as Wisconsin, he said, and he urged legislation to finance an anti-pollution staff to cover the entire state, to locate sources of contamination and to halt the threat.

Saturday's business consisted chiefly of committee reports and talks by state and federal conservation personnel. Election of officers was also held with all incumbents reelected. They included Jack O'Konek, of Hill City, president; John F. Rose, Robbinsdale, secretary; Bud Tischler, Delano vice president; and Lawrence B. Carlson, Robbinsdale, treasurer.

At the Saturday night banquet, Emil Weise of Lakefield was named state conservationist of the year, based on his efforts to bring about a federal small grains bill that provides farmer payments for leaving cover crops on diverted acres.

Banquet speaker was Dr. Julius Wolff Jr. of the University of Minnesota Duluth branch, whose topic was "Northern Minnesota Conservation Crisis in 1966." His talk covered a wide area of conservation, with special emphasis on water pollution and indiscriminate, wasteful timber cutting.

Main topic of discussion at he Sunday morning business meeting was employment by the fedration of a full-time executive secretary, or "field man," to act in a public relations capacity and as counselor and coordinator of sportsmen clubs. The matter was referred to the executive committee for further study and possible action. The convention concluded with action on resolutions which were passed Friday by the screening committee.

Coach Ken (Red) Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjacks opened the defense of the Northwest conference title they have won for the past four seasons by scoring a 37-13 win over the East Grand Forks Green Wave in a game played at Bemidji on Friday night.

East Grand Forks, entering the game with a two wins and no losses mark, gained a 7-6 first period lead, but the 'Jacks tallied two touchdowns in the second period and held an 18-7 lead at the intermission. Bemidji erupted for 19 points in the fourth period, while the Green Wave netted six points. Dave Bublitz, playing at fullback for Bemidji, was the game's offensive star, scoring three touchdowns.

Coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks squad will continue in conference play this week when they travel to Thief River Falls for a game against coach Jim Sims' Prowlers. Game time is slated for 7:30 p.m.

The other three teams in the conference, Bemidji, Roseau and Crookston Central, will be engaged in non-conference competition.

Sportsmen's Club Meets Tonight

Regular meeting of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the city auditorium. State wildlife and refuge personnel will be present with hunting information to divulge. Reports will be given and lunch served.

Newfolden Drops Conference Game To Oslo 20 to 7

The under - manned Newfolden Nordics dropped a 20-7 decision to the Oslo Bobcats in a Little Seven conference football game on Friday.

Oslo moved into a 7-0 lead in the first period when a Doug Farder to Rodger Farder pass accounted for a touchdown. Oslo held that 7-0 lead entering the third period when another pass to Rodger Farder tallied a touchdown.

Newfolden notched their lone touchdown late in the third period when Jack Halvorson circled end for a 35-yard gain, carrying to the Oslo 8-yard line. Halvorson drove off tackle for the touchdown. Lyle Hagenbeck added the conversion, paring the Oslo lead to 13-7.

Another completed Oslo aerial, with Doug Farder hitting Bob Johnson for a touchdown in the fourth period, boosted the Bobcats lead to 19-7. Doug Farder added the point and Oslo had their 20-7 win.

The Newfolden Nordics will host the Kennedy Rockets in a conference game on Friday, September 23. Kickoff time on the Newfolden field will be at 1:15 p.m.

Full Information Requested for Wool Payments

Producers were reminded today of the importance of supporting their applications for payment under the wool program with full and accurate information and sales records.

Marcel Dahl chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said that specific information is needed in filling out the application forms.

While all applications are reviewed before they are approved for payment, they can be handled more quickly if they contain complete necessary information and are supported by the necessary sales documents.

For instance, program payments are made on shorn wool sales by the applicant during the marketing year, provided the wool on which he is applying for payment was shorn from sheep or lambs which the applicant has owned for at least 30 days. There is need to supply the sales document in support of the application for payment, and the producer should maintain records verifying the 30-day ownership in case such verification is needed. The applicant also reports whether any of the wool on which payment is claimed is the first sheering from lambs that he purchased unshorn.

Payments apply only to wool produced and sold by the applicant; therefore, payments should not be claimed on wool purchased by the applicant.

Payments are also made under the program on unshorn lambs which the applicant has owned for at least 30 days. A full report supported by records on these purchases of unshorn lambs is necessary since the lamb payments are prorated among the producers who have owned the lambs for the necessary length of time. Payments on unshorn lambs owned for less than 30 days should not be claimed.

The chairman reminds producers that applications for the 1966 marketing (calendar) year payments under the national wool act may be filed with the County ASCS office any time but at least by the end of January of 1967. Payments on sales during the 1965 marketing year are about completed. In Marshall county, they amounted to $27,032.98.

The Lone Chance

Only one Northwest conference football game is scheduled for the Lincoln field this season, and that playing date will come around on Friday night when, at 7:30 p.m., the East Grand Forks Green Wave meets the Prowlers. So Friday night's date is the lone chance for local fans to see the Prowlers against the conference foe on the local gridiron.

And in meeting the East Siders, the Prowlers will be up against a squad that has been rated highly. Coach Ron Thompson's Green Wave team ran into problems last Friday, being defeated by the Bemidji Lumberjacks, 37 to 13. But the fact they held a short-lived lead, 7 to 0, early in the first period and forced the 'Jacks to play catch-up football, indicates that Green Wave does possess scoring punch.

In halfback Dan Beck and burly fullback Jacque Soltis, coach Thompson has a double-barreled offense. At the ends the Eastsiders will show Kim Krostue and Dave Achen. Krostue is an all-round star, being a standout in the hurdle events in track, and a fine center in basketball.

The Prowlers showed fine comeback effort by scoring a touchdown in the final minute of play against Red Lake Falls, gaining a tie on a 12 to 12 score against an Eagles squad that has been rated as one of the best in recent years. While East Grand Forks' Beck is the leading scorer among the teams in greater Grand Forks, it is doubtful if he is a better runner than Red Lake Falls' Scott Kleven. Fact is, Kleven and Beck are somewhat alike in their play, being very strong runners and having good speed. And East Grand Forks will have extra strength at fullback in 198-pound Soltis. Beck is a senior, and Soltis is a junior.

Kickoff time on Friday night is at 7:30 p.m.

A Cross-country Attraction

Local sports fans who haven't witnessed a cross-country meet will have an opportunity to see some of the finest runners in this area in action on Thursday afternoon. A triangular competition, with Grand Forks and International Falls joining coach Roger Solheim's Prowlers, will be run over the 1.8 mile course a the local golf club. The starting time for the meet will be at 5 p.m.

The Grand Forks Redskins squad, coached by Ken Hallgrimson, is the North Dakota state champions, and the team will feature such outstanding runners as Ron McClure, Casey Ryan and Scott Lee. Ryan is a top-notch miler, and Lee is a North Dakota high school champion in the hurdles.

And, of course, Rod Max will be bringing down a strong cross-country team from International Falls. Reports trickling down here from that area are that the Broncos are rated with the best on the Range.

Make a memo to the effect that you will be on hand at the golf club on Thursday afternoon. It's a different sports activity, and after watching the boys run that 1.8 mile course, you will realize that the athletes have to be dedicated to participate. And while the Prowlers will be lop-sided in the odds, with Grand Forks being heavily favored, coach Solheim's boys — Jim Gibson, Gary LaValley, Doug Knutson, Larry Johnson, Chuck Bedard, Russ Delorme and the others—will be making every effort to push the Redskins, and perhaps beat the Broncos.

Early Season Climax

The Pine-to-Prairie football conference will have an early-season climax when, on Friday night on Warren's Emdry Johnson field, the Ada Vikings meet coach Howie Emerson's Warren Ponies.

The two teams, along with Fertile and Mahnomen, are sharing the top rung in the conference standings, but it agreed that Ada and Warren are the two "powers". In their conference games, Ada scored a 19 to 0 win over Red Lake Falls; and Warren tallied a 19 to 0 win over Bagley.

And in the individual standings, Ada's Mike Eggen and Warren's Dean Peterson share the scoring leadership with two touchdowns apiece.

Friday night's game shapes up as a dandy and the winner will probably carry on to win the conference title.

Demonstrations of Instruments Set For Fifth Graders

Demonstration of instruments for band and orchestra will be held Wednesday, September 28, at 7:30 p.m. at Franklin junior high school, according to John Moum and James Solsten, band director and orchestra conductor in the local school system.

Parents of fifth grade students are urged to attend the demonstration, Moum and Solsten said. Ron Bratton, band director at Franklin junior high school, will be introduced.

Changes in the instrumental music program in the local school system will be explained at the meeting. Instruments will be demonstrated and assistance given in helping select instruments best suited to the physical characteristics of the child.

Bangsberg Tells BSC Faculty of College Plans

Change, building and expansion at Bemidji state college for 1966-1967 were forecast by its president, Dr. Harry F. Bangsberg, as he discussed college objectives before the faculty Monday.

At this opening faculty meeting, Dr. Bangsberg emphasized that several new academic programs are being studied and should be implemented this year. He mentioned medical technology and referred to a Hill foundation study which reported a need for such a program in colleges of the MidWest.

Dr. Bangsberg said that the Asian studies program is being strengthened through offerings in Oriental literature and said that a program or department of religion is being developed.

He called for the faculty to complete its study of an advanced placement program for entering freshman recalling that the several divisions of the college have started work in this direction.

Dr. Bangsberg told the faculty that plans where under way to work toward the college becoming a center for American Indian studies. In this line it is working closely with University of South Dakota in providing programs to help neighboring reservations.

He revealed that BSC is working closely with the University of Minnesota in a shared faculty plan. The first step will occur winter quarter when Anthony Paredes of the university faculty conducts a course on the BSC campus.

Dr. Bangsberg, who is starting his third year as president of BSC, said that he regarded the past two years as a period in which to strengthen the foundations of the college and bolster existing programs.

"I hope that this coming year will be one of building and expansion as well as a year in which there will be renovation, modification and innovation," the president said.

He told the faculty that it must recognize the existence of change and that programs will never be complete and satisfactory. In recognizing this, he asked the faculty to realize that change must be experimental and not permanent.

Tomato Canning Tips Given by Nutritionists

If you're still planning to can tomatoes from your garden, be sure to choose sound, ripe tomatoes and follow the processing timetables recommended for Minnesota so your tomatoes will kep.

Bacteriologists of the Minnesota department of agriculture recommend a longer processing time than is the case in many states because the organisms associated with tomatoes grown in this state are more difficult to destroy. Extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota point out, however, that the vitamin C content is not destroyed by the longer processing because the food is heated in the absence of air.

Either the raw pack or hot pack method is acceptable in canning tomatoes. They should always be processed in the hot water bath, according to the university nutritionists. Open kettle canning is not recommended.

Many homemakers prefer the raw pack method because it is quick and easy. After removing skins and cores, press tomatoes gently into jars, packing them to ½ inch from the top of the jar. Add one teaspoon salt per quart. Process in boiling water bath 40 minutes for pints and 50 minutes for quarts.

If you want to be sure of having your jars filled nearly to the top after processing, you may want to use the hot pack method. Heat tomatoes gently in their own juice and bring to a boil. Fill the jars to ¼ inch from the top with the heated tomatoes and juice. Add one teaspoon salt per quart and process in the boiling water bath for 35 minutes for pints and 45 minutes for quarts. Jars will be filled to the top as the shrinking of tomatoes occurred in the pre-heating.

The extension nutritionists stress the importance of using sound, ripe tomatoes for juice as well as for canned tomatoes to insure good flavor and keeping quality. Peeling the fruits is not necessary to make tomato juice, but remove stem ends. After cooking tomatoes gently until soft, put them through a strainer and add one teaspoon salt per quart. Reheat the juice until it just starts to boil. Fill the jars to ¼ inch of the top, wipe jar rims carefully and adjust the lids. Process juice in a boiling water bath for 35 minutes for both pints and quarts.

Don't worry if the tomato juice separates when it is stored. Before serving, shake or stir the juice.

Directions and timetables for processing tomatoes are given in Extension Folder 100, Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables. Copies may be obtained from county extension offices or from Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

Wheat Growers in County Receive Wheat Allotments

Revised farm allotments for the 1967 wheat crop have been mailed to growers in Pennington county, according to Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The new allotments reflect the increase in the national wheat acreage allotment recently announced by the secretary of agriculture, which boosted the total to 68.2 million acres. This is 16.6 million acres or 32 per cent larger than the 1966-crop effective allotment.

The chairman reminded growers that wheat price-support loans, as well as the wheat marketing certificates on the part of the crop allocated for domestic food use, will be available on wheat planted on a farm that is signed up and participates in the 1967 wheat program. A farm's share of the domestic-food-use wheat will be 35 per cent of the increased farm allotment's projected production for 1967.

The national average loan level for 1967-crop wheat is $1.25 per bushel; the domestic marketing certificates level will be based on 100 per cent of parity as of July 1, 1967, less the announced $1.25 per bushel loan value. (The certificate value for the 1966 wheat crop is $1.32 per bushel. If the parity figure is the same next July, the certificates would bring returns of $686 million to 1967 crop wheat producers.)

Knutson stressed the fact that there is no wheat acreage diversion program for 1967, so land formerly diverted will be available for wheat or other crops. Farmers with small wheat allotments who in recent years have diverted wheat acreage for payment—from the minimum up to their entire acreage—will be unable to do the same in 1967.

"Scandal is merely the compassionate allowance which the gay make to the humdrum. Think how many blameless lives are brightened by the blazing indescretions of other people." —Saki

Anti-Newspaper Week

Proposing in an editorial recently that an Anti-Newspaper Week should be adopted, the Midland, Mich., News said that the theme would be to join together to blame newspapers for what's wrong in the community and with the people in it.

"A COMMITTEE CAN be organized," The News suggests, "to work out all the details, but certainly special attention should be given to news reporting. Hundreds of people are convinced weekly that the news reporting idea is all wrong, and they would be glad to serve to help to correct it. Perhaps they can emphasize that the newspaper should only print good news, and glad tidings and nice things about nice people.

"They can campaign to do away with bad news, and prohibit newspapers from reporting that people do get drunk, get involved in auto accidents, receive traffic tickets, make fools of themselves, go into bankruptcy, shoot their wives, assault their neighbors, set fire to the church, embezzle money, and spend tax dollars foolishly.

"Perhaps a special award can be given for the newspaper which doesn't offend anyone," the editorial advises.

HERE ARE SOME OTHER POINTS made by the Michigan editorial writer:

"Of course, this paper couldn't run wedding stories, on the off chance that the bride may be pregnant or the groom a fortune hunter or both seeking matrimony on the rebound from unhappy love affairs.

"THIS PERFECT NEWSPAPER could never print church notices, for there are those who don't believe in churches, and who oppose organized religion, and the newspaper should not offend these people.

"THE PERFECT NEWSPAPER would carry no advertising, because advertising is competition, and it isn't fair for one store to buy an ad in the paper because it might help the store sell some merchandise at the expense of some other competitor who didn't buy an ad. That's not fair, and besides, everyone knows that newspapers have all the money they need anyway. Why give them advertising?

"OUR PERFECT NEWSPAPER will carry no pictures, because there is a very good chance that someone might be offended. The camera doesn't lie, they say, but maybe the newspaper does. The picture may be too close to the truth for many people to stomach, and it's easier to blame the newspaper for printing the picture than it is to blame whoever or whatever is represented in the picture.

"IT GOES WITHOUT saying that the perfect paper will never carry new reports of City Council sessions or School Board meetings or court trials or public hearings. We can't have the newspaper offending politicians and elected officials and bureaucrats who, as everyone knows, are the only ones who know how to run the government. There will be no embarrassing quotes, no reports of what they did or how they acted. Government will reach a new high in efficiency.

"THIS NEWSPAPER CAN'T carry social items, for fear someone will be hurt because they weren't invited to Mrs. Whosit's social; there will be no obituaries because there is the possibility that one might be longer than that of some other person, or might omit a pallbearer; no weather reports, because everyone knows it's 15 degrees cooler (or warmer) at the lake than in town; no legal notices, because they cost money and judges and the lawyers want to keep the estate costs as low as possible; no minutes of public meetings, because they are too expensive and nobody reads them except taxpayers.

"THERE WILL BE NO news stories of new stores or new people because someone may get a little free publicity and that's not fair to anyone else who doesn't have his name in the paper that week. If a Democrat comes to town, he will be ignored, for fear of offending the Republicans. If a Republican comes to town, same thing.

"THERE WILL BE NO sports stories, for in every game there is a winner and a loser, and we can't mention losers in the perfect paper. There is also the chance that the paper would forget to mention that Junior Glutz scored three points and Mr. and Mrs. Gultz would never forgive the editor for such an omission.

"MORE IMPORTANT, there will be no editorials or columns, no attempts to explain or to comment or to lead the community. This is the best way possible to offend people, so let's cut it out right now. Who cares if we have a better community? Who cares if someone attempts to speak for the people? Who cares, if the newspaper doesn't care?

"So there we have it—the perfect newspaper. No news, no pictures, no editorials, no ads. Take an imperfect newspaper and color it black and blue from the lumps it takes while doing its job. Take the perfect newspaper and color it nothing—leave it blank and drab and colorless, for that's exactly what it is.

"Not only is it a perfect newspaper, but you'll still be able to wrap your garbage and line the birdcage with it. What more do you want?"

Sunflower Outlook Sunny

Production of sunflowers for oil is a relatively new venture in this area, and the idea will require some earnest selling before such production becomes common practice. The principal proponent of production of the oilseed varieties, Cargill, Inc., realizes this but is still optimistic.

There is no surplus of the crop, and farmers can contract for as much acreage as they would care to produce—their entire tillable acreage if they prefer. Cargill will guarantee a price for the seed right off the combine and make immediate payment. Profits are said to likely average slightly under wheat—including allowances for extra practices necessary for row crop production.

In this area, where the alfalfa pelleting plant is seeking hay for its operations, it occurs to us that alfalfa, sunflowers and small grain such as oats would provide an excellent crop rotation. Alfalfa would provide a cash return as well as opening up the soil; sunflowers would give opportunity for weed control as well as providing a cash crop; and oats would benefit from both of the former crops.

Cargill representatives said they have hopes for a million acres of sunflowers in the Red River Valley area by 1971. They foresee no difficulty in finding sales for oil from this volume of production. Farmers in this area who have raised the varieties used for birdseed or human consumption have been satisfied with the crop and its return. We believe that more farmers should investigate the crop to determine if it can fit profitably into their individual operations.

It Gets Nasty

Investigation of driver's license examiners in this area at the request of a couple of area legislators is expected to get underway this week. The state highway department promised the investigation after the legislators registered complaints from citizens about the attitude and actions of examiners serving Red Lake Falls and Crookston.

It could be coincidentalbut we doubt it—that the investigation has been requested just as campaigning begins in earnest for the November election. The investigation at this point reeks of politics. It's too bad that a few selected individuals have to be jabbed with a fork just so a couple of legislators can put up some political hay.

In order to more effectively assess the situation, it shouldn't be improper to list names. The legislators in question are Rep. Harvey Wilder of Crookston and Sen. Norman Larson of Ada. The driver's license examiners in question are Anthony Madunich, Malcolm Magnuson and John Waltonen, all of whom live in Thief River Falls.

The examiners conduct written examinations and road tests which determine whether or not would-be drivers in Minnesota can obtain driver's licenses. They conduct these examinations and road tests in Thief River Falls and six other communities in the area. Since they are in the position of judge and jury in the awarding of licenses, it is natural that they will incur a certain amount of disfavor in the eyes of some potential drivers.

There are several points which interested citizens should consider before reaching a decision to condemn the examiners. Not the least of these points is this: If the examiners have been as "gruff, discourteous, intimidating, unsmiling, boorish, surly and insulting" as Rep. Wilder and Sen. Larson would have the public and the highway department believe, would they not have been the same in all communities in which tests are given? And if their conduct at all points is equal, why are the complaints so prevalent from Red Lake Falls and Crookston

Perhaps complainants were encouraged by a statement from Rep. Wilder on the Crookston radio station which solicited complaints. Apparently—and really to no one's late. Most people can find something they don't like about almost anything if they try, and particularly if it is called to their attention. It is easier to find those who will complain than those who will commend. Red Lake Falls is included in Rep. Wilder's district for the first time this year, and both communities have been added to Sen. Larson's district.

Rep. Andrew Skaar was quoted in a wire service story recently that he had complained about the situation a year ago but that nothing was done. The nature of Rep. Skaar's complaint, however, was not the conduct of the examiners but the conditions under which they work and the lack of sufficient number to satisfy the requests of the public and prevent waiting and rescheduling for tests.

Complaints about scheduling, broken "appointments", waiting in line and difficulty in passing tests are not necessarily the result of the attitude and behavior of the examiners. With the large number of people seeking service and the restricted number of examiners and hours for examination, there are certain to be misunderstandings, delays and less than ideal service.

The investigation could prove us wrong, of course, but we are quite sure that the complaints are low in proportion to people served and high in degree of personal exaggeration. Driving is a responsible privilege, and the fact that it is serious business needs to be impressed on would-be drivers. License examiners would be doing a disservice to the public if they permitted the unqualified to obtain licenses to drive.

The above-mentioned end can certainly be accomplished with tact and courtesy, however, and if the examiners have had lapses in these departments it is well to remind them of the fact. Until the highway department finds different, however, we will give the benefit of the doubt to the men in uniform. The charges by Rep. Wilder and Sen. Larson are a little nasty. Perhaps their tactics could stand some investigation.

Handsome new Fleetside... one of 29 all-new Chevy pickup models for 1967!
Here's the brand new '67 Chevy pickup! Strikingly new in styling, its trim appearance puts many cars to shame. And tough new body sheet metal resists rust better. New all-steel pickup box provides full-depth double-wall side panels and tailgate. And the attractive new color-keyed cab interior is roomier. Also, there's better visibility plus many added safety features. The new '67 Chevy pickup looks so good and is built so well you can use it for almost anything!
A BRAND NEW BREED OF CHEVY TRUCKS FOR '67!

NEW LENGTH!
MORE LOAD SPACE ON A LONGER WHEELBASE!
New Chevy-Vans in two sizes for '67... new V8 power, too!
All new for '67 is the Chevy-Van 108 with 108" wheelbase and 256-cu.-ft. load space. Or pick the Chevy-Van 90 with 209-cu.-ft. cargo area. Both can be equipped with hustling V8 power. There's a brand new breed of Chevy trucks at your Chevrolet dealer's, so stop by soon!

Mondale Opposes Toll Hike on St. Lawrence Seaway

Senator Walter F. Mondale told the Senate public works committee Tuesday that "a rise in tolls on the St. Lawrence seaway would seriously hinder the export of agricultural products from Minnesota and throughout the midwest."

Mondale was the lead-off witness at the committee's two-day hearings on his bill to prevent a threatened 10 per cent hike in seaway tolls.

The Minnesota senator pointed out in his testimony that nearly half the tonnage moving along the St. Lawrence seaway consists of agricultural products for export.

In the past six years, he noted, 39 million tons of cargo have moved in foreign trade through the port of Duluth, contributing more than $35 million to the economy of Minnesota.

The Mondale bill would reorganize the financing of the Seaway corporation and prohibit any future rise in toll rates. The measure has been co-sponsored by 14 senators of both parties and endorsed by the Midwestern Conference of Governors.

Mondale pointed out that the St. Laurence seaway is the only federally-financed waterway in the nation which must repay its capital, with interest, to the U. S. treasury. In addition, the seaway must pay its own operating and maintenance expenses. "No other waterway in the country is forced to bear such a heavy debt," Mondale said.

The only way it can pay off this debt is to charge tolls. And unless the seaway finances are put on a more equal footing with other U. S. waterways, these tolls will continue to rise, he added.

An ocean vessel fully loaded with cargo already can pay over $17,000 for a trip from the Atlantic to Duluth, Mondale indicated.

Local Guard Man Finishes Infantry Training in S.C.

Army National Guard Private LeRoy H. Peterson, 21, son of Herman E. Peterson of Thief River Falls, completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training at Ft. Jackson, S. C., September 9.

He received specialized instruction in small unit tactivs and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle the M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Peterson, a member of Company B, 2d Battalion, of the 136th Infantry in Thief River Falls, is on active duty and will return to his Army National Guard status following special training.

His wife, Ilene, lives on rt. 1, Plummer.

Social Security Disability Benefit Program Changes

A person may now qualify for social security disability benefits if he is expected to be unable to work for at least 12 calendar month according to Clifford Kittelson, district manager.

Formerly, the disability had to be at least of indefinite duration for a person to qualify. There has been no change in how disabled one must be. To be considered 'disabled,' a person must be unable to do any substantial work.

Social security disability benefits are payable only to persons under age 65 who meet these requirements. This includes a work requirement of having paid into social security at least 20 quarters out of the last 40.

Anyone under age 65 who feels he may meet the disability requirements is encouraged to contact the social security office or his local representative.

Sims To Direct Punt, Pass, Kick Competition

Jim Sims, Lincoln high school football coach, has been named competition director for the Thief River Falls Punt, Pass & Kick competition, according to Wallace Tunberg of Tunberg Motors, sponsor of the program here.

As competition director, Sims will be responsible for all arrangements for the competition in which boys of eight through 13 compete against boys their own age in punting, passing and placekicking for distance and accuracy. The local competition will be held Saturday, October 8 at Lincoln high school.

"Registration for PP&K, which features trips to National Football league games for district and area winners culminating with a "Tour of Champions" to Washington, D. C., and to the annual National Football league play-off gam for 12 finalists, will be open on September 1 and continue through October 7 at Tunberg Motors.

New Machinery For Logging To Be Shown Thurs.

Because of an increasing shortage of woodsworkers, more and more loggers are turning to specialized machinery in order to keep peace with the times, according to the Minnesota Timber Producers association.

Timber producers from across the state will be given a chance to see the latest developments in logging equipment as they assemble for the 13th annual logging demonstration Thursday September 22 at the Cloquet forest research center, four miles west of Cloquet.

Logging equipment will be displayed and demonstrated throughout the day by manufacturers and dealers from throughout the Lake States. The Silro fell-bucker allows one man to mechanically cut down the tree, remove the limbs and buck the tree into pulpwood lengths.

National Iron company's mobile automatic slasher for processing tree length logs will be demonstrated for the first time, as well as an electric start chain saw and a mechanical tree monkey—a gasoline powered trimmer which automatically ascends the tree and removes the branches before returning to the ground.

Dance Concludes BSC Frosh Week

Kay Brown of Little Falls and Steve Kallen of Hawardin, Ia. were crowned Beanie queen and king of Bemidji State college at the Beanie Coronation Ball Saturday night. Kathy Johnson, a junior from Thief River Falls, was chairman of this concluding event of freshman week.

Twelve couples vied for this honor from among the 1,400 registered BSC freshmen. The dance followed the BSC-St. John's football game. Music was provided by the Capris of Bemidji, a six-piece band.

BEAUTY'S BABY

One day, recently, the children and I stopped, on our way home, to pet Beauty and her baby. Beauty lives at Mr. Ryder's farm, not far from our home, and the coming of her colt has been a prime topic of conversations these past few weeks.

This particular day Carla's question about Starlight's Daddy and his whereabouts sparked a discussion with my threesome that ranged from God's plan for the birth and care of baby animals, on to people and their babies.

It was a rare and precious moment, such as parents and teachers treasure, when young minds reach out effortlessly for information and understanding.

As we drove home, I thanked God for the opportunity He had given me to share in this eager unfolding of my children's thoughts and ideas. I thanked Him, too, for His Church which has inspired my religious growth and thus helped me keep pace with the developing queries of my children.

• The Church is the source of great understanding.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"College Night" Program Scheduled on Wednesday

Twenty-four schools and branches of the armed forces are scheduled to participate in the fourth annual "College Night" program to be held Wednesday. The program is sponsored by the guidance departments of the Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls schools and will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Robert Reeve, counselor at Lincoln high school, will open the program with introductions and Supt. Dale Birkeland of Red Lake Falls will deliver the welcome. Main speaker for the evening will be Dr. Stanley Sahlstrom, director of the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston, who will speak briefly on "Planning for the Future".

Visitation periods will be held from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. Students and parents are urged to visit at least three representatives from colleges, universities, technical schools or branches of the armed services.

In addition to Thief River Falls, which will have juniors and seniors participating, senior students from Plummer, Goodridge, Oklee, Newfolden and Middle River have been invited to take part in the evening.

Senior high school student council members will serve as guides throughout the building during the visitation period. Hot chocolate and doughnuts will be served in the school cafeteria following the visitation.

Represented at the "College Night" will be the following: Alexandria area vocational-technical school, Augsburg college, Augustana college, Bemidji state college, Concordia college, Gustavus Adolphus college, Jamestown college, Moorhead state college, North Dakota state university, St. Cloud state and St. Lukes's hospital school of nursing;

Also St. Olaf college, Dunwoody technical institute, Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, Thief River Falls state junior college, U.S. Air Force, Marine corps and Navy, University of Minnesota (all branches) and the University of North Dakota.

Attorney General Candidate Visits City Wednesday

Douglas M. Head, state attorney general candidate, campaigned in Thief River Falls on Wednesday. He outlined the following three-point program:

(1) Convey to Minnesotans a thorough understanding of how much the office of attorney general affects everyone daily;

(2) Explain how his definitive 10-point program of legal reform can correct existing ills in legislation and law enforcement which, he says, have arisen from inadequate laws or administrative difficulties and

(3) Attract the votes which will elect him to office so that he can put his program into action.

A veteran of two terms (1961-65) in the state legislature—where he was selected by colleagues in both parties as one of two outstanding freshman lawmaker—he is convinced that many of his goals can be met by proper application of existing legislation rather than through passing new laws.

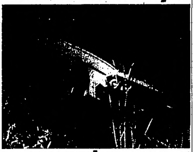
"Proper administration and revision of existing laws is just as crucial as passing new ones," Head insists. "We have to bring our laws up-to-date, making them 20th Century laws to meet 20th Century challenges."

Sheryl Rahier Crowned Oklee Festival Queen

In fair weather a large crowd gathered for the Fall Festival activities held recently in Oklee. Friday's activities included registration of farm and garden produce as well as articles for the community auction.

The main event consisted of the crowning of Sheryl Rahier as festival quen. Runnersup were Mary Melby and Margaret Person.

A kiddie parade held Saturday drew 69 entries. Winning first place were the Mattison children from Warren, who were dressed as miniature bride and groom. Also marching in the parade were the Plummer and Oklee high school bands and the Bridgeman Brigettes of Thief River Falls.



HURT in a motorbike and car accident about 8 p.m. Friday was Roger L. Hagman, 15, son of Emil Hagman of rt. 3, TRF. He sustained compound fractures of the left leg, cuts and bruises when struck by the car driven by Benhart A. Johnson, rt. 3. Pennington county sheriff's office said the motorbike and car were both traveling south on the airport road (SAR 17) when the motorbike attempted a "U" turn on the road. The Johnson car went into the east ditch in attempting to avoid hitting the motorbike. The mishap is under investigation.

Vocational School Graduates Review Jobs in Survey

A "follow-up" study of the graduates of the electronics, architectural drafting, welding and carpentry departments is presently being conducted by the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school. A survey form was mailed to 180 of the students who have completed these four programs. At the present time, 72 have returned this survey form.

The survey form requested the name of their employer, title of their present job and their present salary. The graduate was also requested to evaluate the training received as it related to his success on the job, according to Arnt Aune, director of the local school.

Electronics graduates are employed at Aberdeen, S. D.; Grand Forks and Pembina, N. D., Miami, Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; International Falls, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Crookston. Companies represented were Northwestern Bell Telephone, South Dakota Television, Inc., U. S. Satellite Tracking Station, KCND-TV, Honeywell, IBM, Univac and Control Data.

The highest salary reported for electronic graduates awas $750 per month and the lowest was $320 per month.

Graduates of the carpentry department reported employment in Warroad, Stillwater, Shelvin and White Bear Lake, and in Chicago, Ill.; Fargo, N. D.; Hillsboro, Ore.; and San Francisco, Calif. The salary range for these graduates is $1.75 to $4.83 per hour.

Architectural drafting graduates are employed in Thief River Falls, Albert Lea, St. Paul and Detroit Lakes, and in Grand Forks, N. D.; Omaha, Neb., and Tucson, Ariz. Range in salaries reported for this group was $400 to $600 per month.

Welding graduates reported employment in Thief River Falls, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Detroit Lakes, Hibbing, Edina, Forest Lake and Red Wing, and in Grand Forks, N. D. Salary range for this group was $1.85 to $3.25 per hour

Of the total group surveyed, 14 reported that they were in the armed forces and seven reported employment in an area not related to their training.

Mrs. Fred Albrecht of Mountain Iron was a Thursday afternoon guest at the Ed Christensen home. Friday morning callers were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McDonald of Anoka.

Moves Plant and Changes Its Name

According to Wallace Groberg, manager of the Brooks Manufacturing company, he has moved his business to Oklee and it will now be called the Oklee Manufacturing company.

"We expect the operations in Oklee to be permanent, therefore it is appropriate to adopt a trade name which identifies our location. The new corporate structure will assist us in obtaining financing for expansion; we hope to have 20 workers by October 1," Groberg said.

The factory manufactures items make from vinyl and foam and is currently making seat cushions and backs for Arctic Enterprises in Thief River Falls. The company also does upholstering for a large area.

Concert Ass'n. Membership Drive Nets Over 700

Officers of the Thief River Falls Concert association are enthusiastic in their comments concerning the membership campaign completed last week. More than 700 members have joined the association which will sponsor three concerts in Thief River Falls Lincoln high school for the 1966-67 season.

Since it was not possible for volunteer workers to contact all possible members during the one-week membership drive, membership has been held open until October 1. Memberships at $3.50 for students, $7.50 for adults and $20 for families will be available at the Chamber of Commerce office or the Larson Music company.

Particular emphasis was given by Justus Larson, president of the association, and Mrs. Goerge Martin, membership chairman, to the support received from neighboring communities. Volunteer workers in surrounding towns secured a large number of memberships for the series of concerts here.

Officers of the association again reminded the public that admission to the three concerts scheduled will be by membership only; no tickets will be sold at the door.

First concert of the series will be held October 29 when "The Revelers" male quartet will sing at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. This group was featured in the stage production of Meredith Wilson's "Music Man" and has traveled extensively in the United States and Canada.

On February 3 the association will sponsor an appearance by the world-known Texas Boys choir. Program of this group will include a variety of music from liturgical to Elizabethan madrigals to American folk song. The choir has toured the United States and Europe and appeared on the Ed Sullivan and Perry Como television programs.

Pianist Desire N'Kaoua will provide the third concert on March 3. Well known on the European concert stages, N'Kaoua won — the Geneva International competition in 1961.

Dorothy Man Hurt In Combine Mishap

Donald Boutain Dorothy area farmer, was badly injured in a combine accident about noon Monday when he barely escaped from being drawn into the machine.

Boutain, about 40, was combining on his farm and had stopped to make an adjustment when he felt his thumb being drawn into the machine. He lost his balance and than felt the spinning auger lashing his leg.

Reaching up to an overhead bar, Boutain was able to pull himself free, but not before his leg was badly mangled. He managed to drive the combine home where his wife summoned an ambulance. He was taken to St. Francis hospital in Crookston where he is recovering.

Natural Gas Service Is Now Available in City

With a network of approximately 20 miles of distribution mains now completed, North Star Natural Gas company has begun to serve Thief River Falls with natural gas. Approximately 100 residences and commercial buildings are receiving initial service with others being added daily, according to Norman Wassink, sales manager of the company.

John Arbuthnott, project manager for North Star, notes that the gas is brought to the city through a 28-mile transmission line which is four inches in diameter. This line connects to Midwestern Gas Transmission company's line near Angus and terminates at the North Star pressure reducing station on sixth st. W. Mayor Orin Green completed the initial turn-on last week.

Pressure in the transmission line to Thief River Falls is approximately 300 pounds per square inch. At the border station in this city it is reduced to about 30 pounds per square inch and fed through the distribution mains. Another pressure regulator on the outside of each house or commercial building further reduces the pressure to approximately five ounce per square inch, Arbuthnott said.

Before gas is turned into any main, the main is air tested at 100 pounds of pressure for a 24-hour period, the project engineer added. This is to insure an air-tight system.

"The latest construction methods and best grade of coating were used on this system," Arbuthnott added. "In addition, a small electric current is carried in the steel mains. This 'cathodic protection' will prevent corrosion. Every service line is also pressure tested, with every inch of pipe subjected to rigid inspection before considered fit for active duty."

More than 600 service lines have been installed to homes and businesses whose owners have expressed an interest in using natural gas. Conversion of previous heating systems to natural gas is being done by local heating and plumbing contractors and by trained personnel from North Star.

"Our total project cost for the Thief River Falls service is $750,000, Wassink told the Times. "We are optimistic about the reception which natural gas service will continue to receive in this community, and have been happy with the cooperation and response of the public during our early signup and construction period."

Source of the natural gas to be used in Thief River Falls is the rich Canadian gas fields in Alberta. This gas flows from wells 5,000 to 10,000 feet deep at pressures of 1,500 to 3,000 pounds per square inch. It is then transported to a central point by pipeline and is stripped of all impurities before entering the Trans-Canada Pipeline system.

Trans-Canada carries the gas through western Canada to Emerson, Man., where it is sold to Midwestern Gas Transmission company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Tennessee Gas Transmission company. North Star's allocation of gas is metered at Angus where it receives the supply from Midwestern. An odorant is also added to the colorless and odorless gas at that point, so that a leak would be BURIED in the mud when it slipped onto the edge of fill being dumped near the Horseshoe in Thief River Falls last week was this huge Tournapull operated by the company doing street work in the city. The machine settled quite deep into the soft earth, and two large crawler tractors were unable to pull it out until fill was removed from around the machine. There were no injuries reported, but the scene attracted quite a number of curious on-lookers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Christensen, Michael, Mark and Michelle left Monday morning for their home at Euless, Texas after visiting since Thursday at the home of their parents, the Ed Christensens, and other with relatives and friend. Sunday the two Christensen families were guests at Fisher at the Elmer Christianson home.

Raise Funds for Treatment Center

Minnesota Jaycees of Region 2, meeting in Roseau Saturday night, September 18, approved an effort to assist in raising $50,000 for an in-resident treatment facility for alcoholics at Crookston.

Among the 114 Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Neil McEwen, Mr. and Mrs. Art Heinze, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swenson and Mr. and Mrs Gene Bello, all of Thief River Falls

The move to assist in fund raising for the center for alcoholics came after a lengthy debate, it was reported. The sum is needed to obtain matching government funds for creation of the facilities. Plans are to start the "Four R's" house for men and later expand to create one for women alcoholics as well. Both would be located in Crookston.

Featured speaker was Ed Knuteky, state vice president, who outlined the annual goal of 10,000 members in the state and urged cooperation in this region to help obtain it.

Mrs. Jaycees, meeting at the Guest House, had as their main purpose an effort to convince Roseau Jaycee wives to start a Mrs. Jaycee chapter. No decision was reached.

The Jaycees and their wives were hosted at a dinner in the Catholic church basement where emcee Chuck Holmquist of Crookston regional vice president, told the audience that the Roseau chapter had received honorable mention as one of the outstanding chapters in the region. The chapter plans to attend the chartering of the Fertile chapter October 14.

Crippled Children Clinic Scheduled Here October 11

Thief River Falls will be a host town for a state Crippled Children Services clinic October 11, according to Norman Peterson, administrator. The clinic is sponsored by the Zehllen Woman's club of Thief River Falls.

Appointment chairman is Mrs. Harold Buck, who can be contacted at 235 Kendall av. N., Thief River Falls, or by phoning 681-2652. Appointments should be made two weeks before the clinic comes to town.

Minnesota children under 21 years of age with mental retardation, heart lesions, convulsions, cystic fibrosis, club feet, scoliosis and other physical handicaps may be examined. Children needing periodic follow-up and whose parents cannot provide the necessary care may return to the clinic. A physician's written referral and summary is requested on each new patient.

Each child is examined by a pediatrician and an orthopedist, and a report of their findings is sent to the family physician. A public health nurse discusses the child's health with the parents, and helps them work out plans to follow the medical recommendations of the physicians. A medical social worker helps the parents with any emotional, social or financial problems that must be solved.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Storlie of Golden Valley visited over the weekend at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Obert Morben.

Gatzke Young Man Tells Of Job Corps Experience

JOB CORPS graduate, Juell Olufson of Gatzke, discusses his training at Pine Knot, Ky., with Will Bartsch, right, representative of the Minnesota employment service in Thief River Falls. Olufson began work this week at the Hartz supermarket in this city. He is shown wearing his Job Corps blazer.

Among the first enlistees from this area to complete training at a federal Job Corps center is Juell Olufson of Gatzke. Nineteen-year-old Juell, who dropped out of Middle River high school during his senior year, termed the Job Corps "interesting" and said he was glad that he had completed his course.

Assigned to the center at Pine Knot, Ky., Olufson found that there were only 32 boys at the center when he arrived, most of them white. That was early in December of 1965. When he left the center this month after completing acourse in meat cutting, enrollment at the camp was 235-- nearly all negroes.

"A lot of the boys went home and didn't finish training," Olufson said. "Many of them came without knowing what the Job Corps was all about. They thought it was a place to raise cain and to fight. Guys came from all over the United States, a lot were from Oregon and Chicago, and more whites dropped out of the Job orps than negroes."

Enrollees in the corps can stay

Angela Mary Whalen Weds Dean Radniecki At Oklee

St. Francis Xavier Catholic church of Oklee was the scene of the recent marriage of Miss Angela Mary Whalen and Dean Richard Radniecki. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Whalen and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Radniecki, all of Oklee.

Rev. Paul A. Cardin officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted at the Mass by Rev. Keough Patnode of Thief River Falls. Margaret Bachand, friend of the bride, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the choir directed by Mrs. Marvin Bronken. Baskets of red roses and white gladioli graced the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of silk organza featuring a semi-bell skirt with a modified train. The gown, styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves, was enhanced with Alencon lace. Her ballerina length veil of silk illusion was secured by a double crown of matching lace highlighted by crystal drops and she carried an arm spray of a dozen red roses.

Attending the bride were her two older sisters, Mrs. Duane (Sharon) Carriere of Seattle, Wash., who was matron of honor and Mrs. Alan (Joyce) Gehrls of Thief River Falls, bridesmatron. Miss Stephani Radniecki, cousin, of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore floor length sheath styled gowns of pink georgette crepe with pink lace jackets. To complete their attire they wore net veiled headpieces with pink butterfly bows, pink shoes and each carried long-stemmed roses.

Joan Gehrls and Anthony Carriere, niece and nephew of the bride, respectlely, were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl wore a white dress featuring a pink chiffon bow and streamers. Her headpiece was a band of pink roses and white baby carnations and she carried a white lace basket filled with pink roses and white carnations.

The groom was attended by Allen Carriere, Keith Radniecki, a cousin, and Terry Lambert. Ushers were Michael and Tim Whalen, brothers of the bride, and Anthony Radniecki, brother of the groom. All wore dark tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres, except the groom, whose boutonniere was a red rose.

The mother of the bride wore a blue and white re-embroidered lace dress in a fitted A-line style, blue hat and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a sleeveless sheath dress of light green linen with a white lace coat, a light green hat and white accessories. Both wore corsages of a single red rose surrounded by miniature pink roses.

Floral arrangements by Mrs. Richard Radniecki, aunt of the groom, decorated the church parlors for the reception that followed the ceremony. Mrs. Emile Nadeau served as hostess with about 200 guests in attendance. The pink and white, four-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Albert Aakness of Trail, was cut and served by Mrs. Aakness and Mrs. Robert Bluemke, aunts of the couple. Miss Hazel Whalen and Mrs. Casimer Radniecki, aunts and godmothers of the couple poured.

Roxanne and Debra Radniecki, cousins of the groom, presided at the punch bowl and Carol Brievold was at the guest book. Opening and displaying the gifts were Mrs. Richard Lambert, Miss Renny Radniecki, cousins of the groom, and Miss Carol Fortier.

For travel on the wedding trip through Northern Minnesota and along the North Shore drive, the bride wore a creamy-white lace over beige dress styled with an empire waistline and elbow length sleeves. To complete her attire she wore bone accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Radniecki are at home at Fargo, N. D., where the bride is employed in the Correspondence Study department of the North Dakota State university. The groom is a student at NDSU.

Six Members Initiated Into BPW Club Tues.

The importance of keeping members active in the club as well as gaining new members were among the points stressed at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women held Tuesday at the Terrace room of the Rex Cafe. In keeping with the program on membership, with Ardis Tunberg in charge, two new members were admitted into the organization. They were DeLores Anderson from the office of the State Farm Insurance and Stella Krankkla, employee at the J.C. Penny Stores, Inc. They together with four other members were initiated into the club by Mrs. Dolores Johnson, president, and Ardis Tunberg, second vice president and program chairman for the evening.

Those initiated, together with their place of employment, were Norma Hanson of Kiewels Products company; Corlenne Jacobson, County Auditor's office; Joan Sorum, Chamber of Commerce office and Marilyn Winters, Union State bank.

Others participating in the program were Gloria Bugge, program co-ordinator, who told of the club's activities for the year; Clarice Collins, BPW chairman of District I who reported on the activities of the five clubs in the district, and Marilyn Winters who gave a brief summary of the objectives of the club.

A resume of the concerts to be sponsored by the Thief River Falls Concert Association, was given by Joan Sorum, who invited everyone to become a member. Miss Bertha Hosted, librarian, also invited everyone to "The Humanities", a film showing to be held Tuesday, October 11, at the new public library.

In view of the demand for the "Minnesota Meats Cookbook" members voted to place a fourth order for the books. President Dolores Johnson also reminded members of the district meeting to be held the following Saturday at Walker.

Floral centerpieces and autumn colored foliage graced the tables for the dinner that preceded the meeting.

Arlie Petersons Feted On 45th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie H. Peterson of Thief River Falls observed their 45th wedding anniversary Saturday, September 10. In observance of the event a reception, sponsored by their son, Gordon J. Peterson, and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Marks, was held at the Zion Lutheran church Sunday, September 18, between the two morning services. A large number of friends and relatives greeted the honored couple and was served anniversary cake and coffee. Refreshments were served cafeteria style with members of Mrs. Peterson's church circle assisting in the kitchen.

The Petersons were married September 10, 1921 at Nellsville. Mr. Peterson is retired after serving 31 years as immigration inspector.

Olaf Snettings Honored On Their 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Snetting of rural Thief River Falls were honored at an open house celebration at their rural farm home on Sunday, August 28, in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Clarence (Myrtle) Larson, sister of Mrs. Snetting was in charge.

The honored guests, Olaf Snetting and the former Hilda Roseland, were married Feb. 2, 1916 at Newfolden at the rural home of the bride. Her brother, Louis Roseland, was best man and her sister Netta, was maid of honor. Both are now deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Snetting made their home on a farm south of Thief River Falls where they are presently residing.

They have four children, Omer Snetting and Mrs. Victor (Myrtle) Moen, both of Minneapolis, Ernest of Lansing, Mich., and Leslie of Thief River Falls. With the exception of Mrs. Moen, who telephoned her greetings, all were home for the occasion.

The open house event was held from 2 to 5 p.m. with a program presented outside on the lawn at 3 p.m. Mrs. Theodore Bjorge, president of St. Pauli Ladies Aid in charge.

The program opened with the assembled guests singing "Beautiful Savior" and devotions by John Roseland, a nephew of Mrs. Snetting. Mrs. Clarnce Larson sang "Egtetart" (The Wedded Pair), a Norwegian song that she had composed for the affair. Other musical numbers included an instrumental trio "If You Know the Lord" by Joy and Janelle Hodik and Sharon Holmstrom and vocal solos "The Wedding Prayer" by Mrs. Don Smith, a niece of Mrs. Snetting, and "What God Has Promised" by Mrs. Lloyd Roseland. Mrs. Louis Roseland read, "Down the Years", a poem of her own composition.

Greetings and congratulations were extended by Rev. James Swanson, Linda Snetting, in behalf of the grandchildren and Leslie Snetting, for the family. The Doxology, Lord's Prayer and Benediction concluded the program.

A buffet lunch followed, served by the ladies of St. Paul church. They also presented Mrs. Snetting with a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses. Mr. Snetting was given a yellow carnation boutonniere.

The decorated three-tiered anniversary cake was topped with the same miniature ceramic, old-fashioned bride and groom that had adorned the cake on the Snettings 25th anniversary celebration. The cake was given to the couple by Mrs. Snetting's sisters, Margaret, Thora, Nellie and Julie, all of Minneapolis, and was also cut and served by them. Mrs. LeVerne (Dorothy) Snetting and nieces of both Mr. and Mrs. Snetting, poured. The guest book and gift table were attended by granddaughters of the couple, Pam, Linda, Becky and Cheryl.

Among the guests attending were Mrs. Snetting's only sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larson of Newfolden, and Mr. Snetting's brothers and sisters William Snetting of Cyrus, Henry Snetting, Margaret Snetting, Thora Nordstedt, Nellie Plante and Mrs. Fritz Undem and her husband, all of Minneapolis.

Others attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. LeVerne Snetting and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Roseland, all of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. John McKeith Sr., Galesville, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Roseland, Black River, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. James Snetting and family, Appleton, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Pederson of Cyrus; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waldron, Hibbing; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Roseland of Osseo and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bondy, Selma Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Roseland, all of Grand Forks, N. D.

A large number of friends and relatives in the area were also in attendance. Special greetings were received from those unable to attend. They were Mr. and Mrs. Tellof Nelson and Ella Nelson of Newfolden; Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Engebretson, June Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flaten and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brudervold, all of Cyrus, Mrs. Agnes Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Arneson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roseland, all of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grzywinski, Cloquet, Florence Arneson, Duluth; Arlene Thune, Red Lake Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Odin Langen of Kennedy.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. L. A. MEYERS
of rural Thief River Falls

If your family enjoys apple pie, this quick dessert should win their approval. Made without a bottom crust, if allowed to cool, it can be cut and served like any other pie. It may be served with whipped cream, ice cream or a slice of cheese.

CRUMB TOP APLE PIE

Slice apples as for any other pie and fill a generously buttered glass pie pan. Cover with two-thirds cup sugar, dot with butter and sprinkle with cinnamon. Add 2 to 4 teaspoons of water, depending upon the type of apples used.

TOPPING

1 cup flour
½ cup butter
½ cup brown sugar

Method: Mix ingredients with fork until crumbly. Spread evenly over apples and press down firmly, forming a top crust. Bake in a 350 degree oven for ½ to ¾ of an hour, again depending upon type and amount of apples used.

Mrs. Meyers said that she received this recipe from the apple country in southern Minnesota where people are looking for various ways of preparation.

The Meyers live on a farm seven miles north of Thief River Falls, on the Viking road between highways 32 and 59. They are retiring, have sold their farm and are moving this fall into Thief River Falls where they have purchased a home on North Duluth. There Mrs. Meyers expects to continue her hobbies of growing flowers and doing needlework. She is a member of the West Steiner homemakers club, Campanula garden club and the WSCS at the Community Methodist church, where they attend services.

They have five children, all married and 16 grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Bert Kron, lives at Rosewood; a daughter in Denver, Colo. a son and daughter in South Dakota and a daughter resides in Australia where she and her husband are engaged in teaching.

Day Hospital Studied For Psychiatric Value

A relatively new trend in psychiatric treatment—the day hospital—was outlined at a medical conference recently in Minneapolis.

Dr. Werner Simon, chief of psychiatry at the Veterans administration hospital in Minneapolis and professor of psychiatry at the University of Minnesota, reported on the success of the hospital's program, a new and experimental project for the VA on a national scale.

He spoke during a three-day program of activities marking the 20th anniversary of affiliation between the Minneapolis hospital and the University of Minnesota school of medicine.

The VA's day hospital provides a period of intensive psychiatric treatment for veterans who do not require 24-hour care, but need hospital treatment facilities during the daytime hours. These patients are able to spend their evenings and weekends in a supportive home environment close to the hospital.

"The treatment philosophy consists of exposing the patient to the full impact of hospital treatment while he also maintains his daily social interaction with his family and community," Dr. Simon said. "The regressions common to patients totally hospitalized are counteracted by the patient's daily independent life outside the hospital."

Dr. Simon believes that patients who are in constant interaction with their families are more readily diagnosed and better motivated to work on current reality problems and experiences. Such a program, he said, shortens the patient's hospital stay and lends itself to rehabilitating the patient to return to work.

The first day hospitals were started in Canada in 1946. There are aboug 70 day hospitals in England. In this country their effectiveness has attracted wide interest. From 37 in 1960 to 112 in 1963, there are now over 200 day hospitals in the United States.

"Estimates indicated that up to half the number of psychiatric patients who would ordinarily be admitted to a 24-hour treatment facility can be treated in a day hospital," Dr. Simon said. "This type of care is less expensive, decreases dependency and regression and retains the patient's ties with his family and community."

Patients attend the hospital five days a week from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. As their condition improves, attendance becomes more flexible, in preparation for their return to normal living in the community. All departments of the hospital are available to patients and, if necessary, patients may quickly be transferred from day hospital to full hospital status.

Of 106 patients admitted to the day hospital in Minneapolis during fiscal year 1966, the first year of operation, 92 were discharged after an average of 27 days' treatment. Dr. Simon said that only seven patients were re-admitted to the day hospital during the year—"a re-admission rate which is much lower than for the in-patient psychiatry service."

Of the 92 patients discharged, 51 returned to full employment to become self-supporting, tax-paying citizens, a 55 per cent rate of rehabilitation. The psychiatrist called this "a remarkable result in view of the severity of illness, the short period of treatment and the small size of the staff."

An important clue to the success of the program is shown in the patients' own opinions. In a written survey of patient concerning the day hospital program, the following thoughts were expressed:

"It keeps you in contact with the outside world. . .It's good to be home nights and weekends. . . It helps us to get back on our feet."

Offer Tax Help To Families of U.S. Servicemen

Tax refunds due wives of servicemen in Viet Nam are not delayed because of missing signature on joint returns, according to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue.

The wife should indicate in the space on the return for the husband's signature that he is in military service in Viet Nam, Lethert said, and the return will be processed and the refund will be expedited.

The same special consideration will be given by the revenue service to families where the servicemen is a prisoner of war in Viet Nam.

Lethert indicated also that an automatic extension of time is granted of servicemen in military service in Viet Nam. The due date for such federal income tax returns is postponed for the period of service in Viet Nam plus 180 days, with no penalty or interest being charged on returns filed within this period.

A wife, whose husband is in Viet Nam, who receives a bill, notice or inquiry from the revenue service should contact the nearest IRS office for assistance in tax matters and every possible consideration, Lethert said.

PTR Mission speaker at special services in the Immanuel Lutheran church of Plummer will be Rev. Loren Goodwin Fevig of Oslo. The services will be held at 8 p.m. each evening from Sunday through Wednesday, with the public invited. Rev. Fevig attended school at Ulen, spent four years in the Air Force starting in 1950, received his bachelor of arts degree from Concordia college in 1958 and graduated from Luther seminary in St. Paul in 1961. He served as pastor of churches in Swan River, Man. and Norquay, Sask, and is now pastor of the Oslo Lutheran parish. He is married and the father of two daughters.

Deadly Fumes Kill Relatives Of Local Woman

A Rock Lake, N. D., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spooner, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Emil Sjoholm of this city, were found dead in their home about 1:30 p.m. Monday, September 5. Carbon monoxide poisoning was ruled the cause of the deaths by Towner County coroner Dr. George Hilts.

The sheriff's office in Cando, N. D., reported that the couple, who apparently had been dead for 24 to 36 hours, was overcome by deadly fumes from a faulty heating system.

Services were held Thursday, Sept. 8, at the All Nations Lutheran church at Rock Lake with Rev. R. L. Harms officiating. Interment was in the Sarles cemetery.

Frank Spooner was Born March 12, 1921 at Donaldson, in Marshall county. He moved with his parents to Rock Lake in 1934 and farmed in that area until two years ago when he retired because of ill health. He was united in marriage to Ruth Novotny at Langdon, N. D., on August 23.

He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Zene (Mae) Maulsby, Everett, Wash., Mrs. Frances Bengton, Perth, N. D., Mrs. Elmer (Agnes) Hendrickson, Rock Lake, N. D., and Mrs. Emil Sjoholm of Thief River Falls.

His wife, Ruth, was born Sept. 4, 1944 to Mr. and Mrs. John Novotny at Cando, N. D., and attended school at Rock Lake. Her survivors are her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Novotny of Rock Lake; a brother, Donald, also of Rock Lake and one sister, Mrs. Oscar (Grace) Peterson of Bottineau, N. D.

Langen Expresses Disappointment at Veterans Pension

Congressman Odin Langen expressed disappointment today that income limitations were not increased in the veterans' pension bill approved last week by the House veterans affairs committee. This legislation is now pending consideration by the House.

"While the committee bill provides for a much needed cost-of-living increase in veterans' pensions," Langen said, "it could have been significantly improved with the addition of an income limitations increase similar to my bill.

"The bill does not satisfy the needs of the 29,000 veterans, widows and survivors who had their monthly pensions reduced or eliminated as the result of last year's increase in social security payments," Langen declared. "It is most disheartening to learn that passage of this bill will mean continued financial hardship for these deserving citizens."

Congressman Langen last January introduced a bill increasing veterans' income limitations by 10 per cent. At committee hearings in July, he submitted a statement in support of the Langen pension equity bill.

"As interest rates rise and purchasing power melts away, pensioners can use every last dollar to combat this inflation. There is absolutely no reason why veterans' pensions cut by the social security increase should not be fully restored."

Sunday Low of 30 Sets Mark For Fall Season

First sub-freezing temperature of the fall season was recorded at the Thief River Falls municipal airport Sunday morning, when a low of 30 degrees was reached. It was the lowest mark reached since May 10, when a low of 27 was recorded.

The temperature was not low enough to cause much damage to crops in the area, most of which are harvested anyway, according to Terry Courneya, county agricultural agent. Maximum temperature for a general killing frost is considered to be 27 degrees.

Forecast calls for partly sunny skies today with increasing cloudiness later in the day. Scattered showers are expected tonight and early tomorrow, with gradual clearing tomorrow. Cool weather will continue through tomorrow, but temperatures will not be quite so low tonight. Highs today will range from 56 to 62; lows tonight from 35 to 45. Winds will be southerly today from 10 to 15 miles per hour, diminishing and turning northwest tonight. Chances of rain are 10 per cent today, 30 per cent tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow.

Temperatures recorded at the airport are as follows: 71 and 55 on Wednesday, 73 and 43 on Thursday, 68 and 39 on Friday, 63, 40 and .03 inch of rain on Saturday, 63 and 30 on Sunday and a low this morning of 32.

up to two years, but many complete certain courses before that time and are considered ready for employment. Olufson wanted to return to his home area, and started work today at the Hartz supermarket. "I would never have gotten the job without Job Corps training," he said in a Times interview.

Excerpts from a report made by Olufson to the state employment office in Thief River Falls perhaps tell the story the best. They are as follows:

"I signed up for the Job Corps in 1965 after reading about it in a clipping sent by my aunt. It sounded very interesting. Then I worked in the forestry up until November when I got word that I would be able to get into the Job Corps on December 1. I had been into the employment office at Thief River Falls and got the low down on the opportunities it had to offer, so I decided to try it.

"I left by plane from Thief River Falls on Wednesday, December 1, and got to Minneapolis where I had four hours to stay. Then from there to Chicago and on to Louisville, Ky., and to London, Ky., where I was met by a Job Corps bus which took us down to the camp.

"We were brought to the office where they checked our luggage to see if we had any weapons. Then we were brought to the dorms by a corpsman. We were put into Dorm 1 which was very nice and clean.

"The next morning we got up at 6:45 and had breakfast at seven. We met in the recreation hall where Mr. Simms told us all about the camp. Then a boy took us all around the camp and buildings where we were to work. We took tests to tell where the teachers were to put us. We went to school one week and worked one week.

"In school we had reading, math and spelling and a course in driver's education an hour each day. At 5:15 in the evening we had mail call, and if we weren't there at 5:15 we had to wait until the next day to get our mail. At 5:30 we had supper and had to be through eating at 6:15. Then we could do whatever we wanted to but lights were out at 10.

"I took a course in meat cutting in a supermarket in Whitly City. I am not sorry that I went and would have not had this course finished if I had left like many other boys did.

"We had an interesting trip to the Capitol of Kentucky, met the governor, and took a trip to Cumberland Falls park. The 4th of July we went to the Smokey mountains."

Olufson noted that there was fighting at the camp on occasions, once after a group of negroes came into the dorms, turned off the television and turned on the lights, ordering the whites to leave. A number of both whites and negroes were sent home as a result. Others were sent home at various times for infractions of the rules of the center. Some corpsmen broke into the candy and pop machines in the recreation hall, and members of the welfare fund board voted to return the machines to the company.

Members of the corps were fined $2 for not having boots shined or beds made, $3 if clothes were not ironed and $5 if floors were not swept, waxed and buffed. First, second and third place trophies were given to the best-dressed corpsmen, and the best dorm received a flag following Saturday morning inspection.

Other school drop-outs from this area who have enrolled in the Job Corps have been assigned to centers in Indiana, California, Michigan, Arkansas and Idaho with three others to be assigned in the next two weeks. To qualify for the Job Corps, students must have dropped out of scool and have been out of school four months or longer.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

September 26, 1966
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINNESOTA
SEPTEMBER 12, 1966

Pursuant to adjournment the County Commissioners met in the Commissioners Room in the Court House at 10:00 a.m., Sept. 12, 1966.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Anderson, Lindberg and Tasa. All present.

At 10:00 a.m. the Board convened to conduct a hearing on a petition to make minor alterations in County Ditches No. 33, 59 and 32 as duly advertised and called for.

Landowners Simon Breiland and Clifford Hedeen were present to be heard in regard to the extent of the alteration of County Ditch No. 32.

Commissioner Anderson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, The County Board of Pennington County has now duly considered the plan for a minor alteration to County Ditch No. 33 and to County Ditches 59 and 32, as submitted by the County Engineer, pursuant Chapter 163.17, Minnesota Statutes, and has been heard by all parties wishing to be heard, and there being no objections to the proposed minor alterations:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Resolution of the County Board requesting this hearing, the plan of the Engineer and the Notice of Hearing have all been had according to Law and said minor alterations to County Ditch No. 33 is hereby authorized as set forth and included in the plans for grading CSAH No. 20, SP 57-620-01 and said minor alterations to County Ditches No. 59 and 32 are authorized as set forth and included in the plans for grading CSAH No. 22, SP 57-622-03 and upon completion shall be a part of County Ditches 33, 59 and 32 as though it had been originally so constructed and established.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Lindberg and declared carried.

Commissioner Hanson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED that pursuant to Section 161.36, Subdivisions 1 through 6, Minnesota Statutes 1961, the Commissioner of Highways be appointed as agent of the County of Pennington to let as its agent, contracts for the construction of portions of the County State-Aid Highways, specifically described as follows:

County State-Aid Highway No. 20 from T.H. No. 1, 3.0 miles East of Thief River Falls to the North line of Pennington County.

County State-Aid Highway No. 22 from C.S.A.H. No. 3, 13.0 miles East of St. Hilaire to the North line of Pennington County.

And the Chairman and the Auditor are hereby authorized and directed for and on behalf of the County to execute and enter into a Contract with the Commissioner of Highways prescribing the terms and conditions of such agency in the form as set forth and contained in "Minnesota Department of Highways Agency Contract Form No. IV", a copy of which said form was before the Board, assuming on behalf of the County all of the contractural obligations therein contained.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Olson and declared.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Olson that the above mentioned Contracts be advertised and called for to be opened Nov. 8, 1966 at 11:00 a.m. Motion carried.

At 11:00 a.m. the Board proceeded to open bids for a new truck chassis with a 1961 F600 Ford truck to be taken in trade. The following bids were opened and read aloud:

Northern Motors, Inc., Thief River Falls, $2,849.00.

Tunberg Motor Co., Thief River Falls, $2,786.00.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Lindberg that the bid of Tunberg Motor Co. be accepted as the lowest and best bid received and the Chairman and Auditor be instructed to enter into Contract for delivery of truck with said low bidder. Motion carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Anderson that the Road Committee and the Bridges and Culvert Committee inspect roads and bridges and culverts at 8:00 a.m. Sept. 23, 1966. Carried.

James Roche, Supt. of Oakland Park Nursing Home appeared with a report on the occupancy of the home and the utilization of the beds. The Board was advised that the Home has a consistent capacity occupancy and a constant waiting list. Permission was granted for permission to request the State Board of Health for a survey of facilities in the Thief River Falls area on a current basis.

Moved by Lindberg seconded by Hanson that the sum of $1,000.00 be transferred from the Revenue fund to the Incidental Fund. Motion carried.

Moved by Olson seconded by Lindberg that the sum of $100.00 be appropriated from the Revenue Fund to the Pennington County Safety Council. Motion carried.

Applications for reinstatement of Homestead on S½SE¼ of Sec. 32 and SW¼SW¼ Sec. 33 T154, R44 because of a life estate of Ingebret Dyrdahl was approved.

Commissioner Lindberg introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the County Welfare Board has submitted a budget for Welfare purposes for the year 1967 and has requested a tax levy to provide funds to enable it to meet its responsibilities under Section 393.08, MSA, and

WHEREAS, such budget and requested tax levies have been duly considered.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of County Commissioners approve such budget, including the following tax levy, with the provision that when taxes are collected and apportioned, the apportionment to each of the seven welfare funds shall be in the ratio that the levy for each bears to the total levy for Welfare purposes.

Old Age Assistance	$ 22,324.57	10.10%
Aid to Families with Dependent Children	31,996.41	14.48%
Aid to the Disabled	5,686.41	2.57%
Aid to the Blind
Poor (General Relief)	28,392.12	12.84%
Administration	50,500.31	22.84%
Medical Aid	82,181.19	37.17%
Total	$221,081.21	100.00%

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the County Auditor be hereby authorized and directed to spread a levy for Welfare purposes in the amount of $221,081.21 on the tax roles of the County.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Anderson and declared carried.

The County Auditor submitted the budget and proposed tax levy due and payable in the year 1967, as follows:

Revenue Fund	$127,231.18	24.30 mills
Road & Bridge Fund	104,824.58	20.00 mills
Welfare Fund	221,081.21	42.20 mills
Sanatorium Fund	7,600.00	1.45 mills
County Fair	5,241.36	1.00 mill
	$465,978.18	88.95 mills

Moved by Olson seconded by Lindberg that the Board accept the budget and tax levy as indicated by the County Auditor and authorized and instructed the Auditor to spread said tax levy on the tax books of the County for the year 1967, payable 1967, with the further provision that as part of the Road and Bridge levy there is hereby appropriated from the Road and Bridge Fund $10,500.00 to the City of Thief River Falls to be paid to the City from tax moneys collected in 1967 and to be used by the City of Thief River Falls on State Aid Street projects. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Lindberg introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of County Commissioners, hereafter known as the governing body of the County of Pennington, hereafter known as the Community, hereby requests that the Department of Business Development, State of Minnesota, make application for an urban planning assistance grant from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development, as authorized under Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954, as amended, for the purpose of providing planning assistance to the Community. The governing body of the Community hereby agrees to contribute $2,500.00 in cash to the Department of Business Development when it is required, for the planning purposes as hereinafter set forth.

The Chairman is hereby authorized and directed on behalf of the community to enter into an agreement with the Department of Business Development, State of Minnesota, in furtherance of its request for federal matching funds for planning purposes. The money so contributed shall be available for expenditure and use by the Department of Business Development, State of Minnesota, when they have secured a matching federal grant. The money so deposited shall bear no interest and shall be returned to the community if federal matching funds are not secured.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson and declared carried.

Lloyd and Alice Seaverson and School District 564 presented a Plat of a portion of Section 34, T154N, R43W (North Twp.) containing 34 acres more or less to be known as the First Southeast Addition. Moved by Olson seconded by Anderson and declared carried that the Plat of the First Southeast Addition to Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota be approved and accepted by the County Board of Commissioners of Pennington County this 12th day of Sept. 1966.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Lindberg that the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting be dispensed with until the next regular meeting. Carried.

Mrs. Anna Kolden Rites To Be Held At Middle River

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Kolden, 50, a long-time resident of Middle River who died Sunday at Hibbing where she had resided for the past 14 years, will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the First Lutheran church at Middle River. Rev. Duane Nelson will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery. Collins Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Gurine Hjelden Rites To Be Held Today At Trinity

Gurine Hjelden, 91, a resident of Thief River Falls for many years and formerly of Grafton, N. D., died Thursday at the Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Gurine Hjelden will be held today (Monday) at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran church. Rev. Harold Peterson will officiate and interment will be in the Grafton Lutheran cemetery, Grafton, N. D. The body will repose at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. Green Funeral home is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Requiem High Mass Said Today For Zelia Cote

Mrs. Zelia Cote, 98, of Terrebone, rural Red Lake Falls, died early Thursday morning at St. Vincent Rest home, Crookston, where she had been a resident for a number of years.

Requiem High Mass was offered for Mrs. Zelia Cote at 9 a.m. today (Monday) at the St. Anthony Catholic church, Terrebonne, with the Rev. Louis Proulx officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Petterson Funeral Home, Red Lake Falls, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Cote, the former Zelia Lambert, was born Dec. 3, 1867 at St. Ursule, Quebec, Canada. As a child she moved with her parents, Francis and Catherine Belland Lambert, to Lambert township, Red Lake county, near Oklee. She married Joheph R. Cote in 1887 at old Lambert town, rural Oklee and they farmed near Terrebonne.

She is survived by one son, Aristide Cote, Terrebonne; two daughters, Mrs. Aime (Della) Merell, Gentilly and Mrs. Walter (Florence) Farden, Crookston; 22 grandchildren, 82 great-grandchildren; one brother, Joseph Lambert, Saskatchewan, Canada and one sister, Mrs. Celina Emard, Portland, Ore.

She was prededed in death by her husband in 1930 and by six children.

Otto Eckstein Services Held At Red Lake Falls

A. Otto Eckstein, 72, of Red Lake Falls died early Wednesday morning at the Veterans hospital in Fargo, N. D. He had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services for Otto Eckstein were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. John Lutheran church, Red Lake Falls, with the Rev. Roger E. Raebel officiating. Interment was in the Wylie Lutheran cemetery. Petterson Funeral home, Red Lake Falls, was in charge of arrangements.

Serving as honorary pallbears were Clarence Dailey, Art Zutz, Nick Schouring, Carsten Mead, Walter Weiland and Erdman Schultz. Active pallbearers were Roger, Robert, Virgil and Richard Eckstein, Ray Dargan and Gary Paulson.

A. Otto Eckstein, a son of Nickolas and Fredericka Luders Eckstein, was born Oct. 20, 1893 at Wylie, near Red Lake Falls. On April 6, 1920 he was united in marriage to Laura Landman at Crookston. They lived at Wylie until 1927 when they moved into Red Lake Falls where they have since made their home.

Mr. Eckstein was a veteran of World War I and was employed by the Minnesota Highway department until his retirement several years ago. He was a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Red Lake Falls.

Survivors include his wife, Laura; three sons, Kenneth, Theodore and Larry Echstein, all of Red Lake Falls; three daughters, Mrs. Rolland (Donna) Toupin, Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Anton (Eunice) Paulson, Climax and Mrs. Wayne (Mary) Weflen of St. Paul and 15 grandchildren;

Also three brothers, Henry Eckstein of Rochester, Fred of Red Lake Falls; and August of Mahnomen and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph (Caroline) Draeger of Red Lake Falls and Mrs. Aaron (Clara) Hanson of Wheeler, Ore.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Lorraine, a son, Dale, two brothers and one sister.

Peter Mellem, 79, Local Resident, Dies September 22

Peter Mellem, 79, a resident of Thief River Falls since 1953 and a former resident of the Rosewood community, died Thursday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Peter Mellem will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Rindal Lutheran church with Rev. Marius Haakenstad officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home until 11 a.m. Tuesday and at the church the one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obiturary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Orban LaVoie, 47, Once Of Plummer Dies September 19

Orban B. LaVoie, 47, of Grand Forks, N. D., and formerly of Plummer, died Monday evening, September 19, at Deaconess hospital at Grand Forks.

A requiem High Mass was offered for Orban LaVoie at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Vincent dePaul Catholic church, Plummer. Rev. Henry Carriere officiated and interment was in the St. Joseph cemetery at Brooks. Petterson Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were P. J. Gerardy, Jerry Gerardy, Ted LaCoursiere, Gene Mattison, Jerome Bernier and Joseph Fallon.

Orban LaVoie was born June 8, 1919 at Brooks to Paul and Blanche Corneau LaVoie, now both deceased. For the past five years he had made his home at Grand Forks, N. D. Prior to that time he lived for several years at Crookston. He was a member of the Holy Name Society, St. Ann Catholic church.

He is survived by two brothers, Willard LaVoie of Djarkarta, Indonesia and Clarence LaVoie of Akron, Ohio and one sister, Mrs. Teddy (Ann) Jaeger of Plummer.

Green Wave Tops LHS 32-6 Here on Friday

East Grand Forks, flashing a strong running attack spearheaded by junior fullback Jacque Soltis, defeated the Prowlers, 32-6, in a Northwest conference football game played here Friday night.

Coach Jim Sims' Prowlers will play Grand Forks Central Redskins on the UND Memorial stadium at Grand Forks on Friday. Kickoff time is at 4 p.m. daylight saving time.

In Friday nights conference game played here coach Ron Thompson's Green Wave players scored in every period as they held control of the game to roll up their decisive 32-6 win. The visitors tallied their first touchdown midway in the opening period. A short kick gave East Grand Forks possession on the Prowlers' 38-yard line, and the Green Wave, with Soltis doing the bulk of the gaining, carried to the 14-yard line. A pass, Wade Johnson to Kim Krostue was completed, and the lanky end crossed the north goal for the touchdown. Gordy Bubendorf's placement try for the point was wide.

ELUDING an attempted tackle from Bill Dicken of the Prowlers, Dan Beck (40) of East Grand Forks starts up field with Paul Ihle's punt. The Green Wave halfback made the return good for 70 yards and a touchdown as his team swamped the Prowlers 32-6 Friday night.

In the early minutes of the second, the Prowlers were forced into a kicking situation. The Green Wave's Dan Beck gathered in Paul Ihle's punt on the 30-yard line and sprinted 70 yards down the east side-line to score a touchdown. Bubendorf added the conversion point, on a placekick, and the Green Wave held a 13 to 0 lead. The Green Wave added another touchdown late in the second period when halfback Dale Skyberg capped a drive by rushing four yards to rack up a touchdown and give the visitors a 19 to 0 lead at the intermission.

A recovered fumble early in the third period, with Skyberg gaining possession at midfield after the Prowlers had picked up a pair of first downs, set up a touchdown. Soltis rambled for nine, a pass Johnson to Dave Aeben added a first down, Kerry Knoff made a good gain over right tackle, and Beck drove to the locals' 4-yard line. Wade Johnson rushed over center for the touchdown, Bubendorf converted the point, and the Green Wave held a commanding 26 to 0 lead.

Late in the third period the visitors began an aerial attack, with Johnson having Krostue as his particular target, and the Green Wave drove to the Prowlers' 5-yard line. A pass, Johnson to Krostue, gained four yards, and then Roy Rystad dived over center for a touchdown. Bubendorf's placement try was wide of the uprights.

The Prowlers averted a shutout by accepting the ensuing kickoff and moved from their 32-yard line to the East Grand Forks 4-yard line. A pass John Womack to Tommy Tunberg was a 20-yard gainer, and another pass, Bob Brodin to Womack, picked up 15 yards to the Green Wave four. A pass was incomplete, but on a pitchout, with Brodin tossing to Womack, the junior halfback scored a touchdown The try for the extra point failed.

The East Grand Forks squad held a decisive advantage in the statistics, rolling up a total yardage to 284 to the Prowlers' 126. The visitors had 18 first downs to the Prowlers' 10.

Candidate Meet Tuesday Canceled

Cancellation of the "Meet the Candidates" session Tuesday was announced this morning by Donald L. Olson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce legislative committee. The session was to have featured Robert Forsythe, GOP candidate for U. S. Senator, but has been canceled due to faulty scheduling at Republican headquarters. Date for the next session has not yet been set.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Must be a Powerhouse

The Moorhead Spuds of coach Jim Gotta must be a football powerhouse. Last Friday night, in a game played on the Moorhead State college field, the Spuds scored a 74-0 win over the Fergus Falls Otters.

From the reports on that game, and talking with fans who have seen the Moorhead squad in action, it is rated as the best Spud team that has been developed down there. Will Gullickson of the Fargo Forum states that the Spuds should go through the season undefeated. Will says that the only team that appears able to test the Spuds this season will be Washington high school of Sioux Falls, S.D.

But enough of the Spuds and Region Six. It's the Prowlers of coach Jim Sims that are the concern of the local fans. The Prowlers were beaten by a strong East Grand Forks team on Friday night, losing by a 32-6 score. This week, with the game being slated for 4 p.m. on the UND Memorial stadium field, the Prowlers will meet the Grand Forks Redskins.

And this game will be another "tough" one for the locals, as will be all the games on the schedule. And what will make the game a bit tougher for the locals is the fact that Grand Forks was tripped up Grand Forks St. James last Friday, losing 19-0. So you can bet that the Redskins coach won't have any trouble in "firing up" his squad for Prowler game.

Quote

Says the spokesman of the team: "It wouldn't surprise me if we go through the bowling season undefeated." Referring, of course, to Mel Scholin's Thief River Realty team of the Thursday night Commercial league.

And it must be admitted that the boys have gotten a good start, as they have picked up 12 points, and are undefeated after the first three weeks of competition. Last week the Realty swept four points from the Land O'Lakes. The Realty team—Mel Scholin, Arlo Scholin, Ray Thryen, George Glum, Charles Hasnedl and Les DeBriyn—has an 832-pin average, and that comes close to being the city's best.

Two teams are carrying higher averages. The Elaine's team of the Tuesday night Business league — Marland Kloety, Dick Kling, Bob Larson, Dean Anderson and Carl Onkka—are rolling at an 852-pin average after the first two weeks of the season. And the Northern State Insurance team—Harold Johnson, Chuck Krause, Lloyd Samuelson, Dave Praska and Marv Washnesky—has an 842-pin average.

But some Commercial league team will have to knock off the high-flying Realty squad. And this will happen. Fact is, the averages will begin to catch up with the boys, and the pressure, too, will have an effect, and it's doubtful if they will be in the first division at New Year's.

Due for a Refresher Course

One of the more promising graduates of Happy Holz' school of handicapping is due for a refresher course, or some tranquilizer pills. The past two Sundays have been nerve-wracking, and at the conclusion of the two Viking football games the past two Sundays he has felt about like the bear in the TV ad.

A week ago this all-round sportsman had the Vikings and three points against the Baltimore Colts. And for a couple of periods he was looking good, but that three-fumble touchdown proved his downfall. And this week he had the Vikings and eight points in their game against the Dallas Cowboys. And you know the outcome, Dallas, in the final minute of the game, scored a touchdown to win by a 28-17 score.

He will be plenty cagey by the time the World's Series come around. He will make a small wager that the Baltimore Orioles will win one game, and that Frank Robinson will hit a home run. But he has to have odds!

4-H Program Changes To Include Urbanites

4-H is changing to keep in step with the times. Many of these changes are evident as members in Minnesota observe National 4-H club week September 24 - October 1.

In addition to the 55,000 members in organized 4-H clubs, more than 10,000 youth who were not members were reached through 4-H educational programs in 1966.

4-H continues to be a "learn-by-doing" program, but many of the traditional projects in home economics and agriculture are taking on a new look as stress is placed on economic and scientific aspects —the "why" as well as the "how".

Once a program designed for rural youth who had few educational opportunities, 4-H is now moving to town and city, according to Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader at the University of Minnesota. Projects are being added to interest urban and suburban youth, not only the middle classes, but in the lower income groups as well.

An evidence of the attempt to broaden the appeal of 4-H as a youth education program is the appointment by the University of Minnesota's agricultural extension service of area extension agents in Hennepin and Ramsey counties to work with boys and girls in the inner city.

In Hennepin county, the area extension agent is working with established community agencies in the inner city—churches, community centers, settlement houses and schools—in an effort to encourage their on-going educational youth programs and supply 4-H resource material uniquely adapted to youth needs. These programs may be short-term "learn-by-doing" projects such as food preparation, child care (baby sitting), grooming, buymanship and selection of clothing, indoor and outdoor gardening crafts, woodworking or mechanics.

This summer the same agent worked with Minneapolis schools on "head start" and other enrichment programs in animal, plant and soils units, bringing live baby animals for children to see and tomato plants for them to set in their own gardens.

In Ramsey county extension agents have worked with girls in low-cost housing projects and in the Selby-Dale area, teaching clothing construction, grooming and better buymanship.

Another evidence of change is 4-H is in "operation expansion," a pilot program being conducted in Dakota, Beltrami and Redwood counties. Short-term programs of five to 12 weeks are offered to meet the needs and interests of suburban, urban and rural non-farm youth nine to 19 years of age. These short courses vary from county to county but may include bicycle care and safety, baby sitting, outdoor cooking, beautifying the home, family life education, automotive, small engines, money management, make-a-dress workshop and knitting.

Increasing concern for the community is expressed in a number of 4-H programs. One of these is the recently adopted 4-H-RFD rural roads safety program, which has the objective of saving lives through correcting hazards on county and township roads. Efforts of 4-H clubs are also being intensified in community beautification, a long-time 4-H concern, and in a variety of community service projects.

Young Men May Take NROTC Test Set December 10

Test date for the 21st annual national competitive NROTC examination has been set as December 10. Parents and high school officials are urged to remind eligible young high school seniors and graduates to submit their applications before November 19.

The regular NROTC program offers an opportunity for a young man to gain a regular commission while studying at one of the 52 NROTC colleges and universities. The Navy furnishes tuition, fees, books and uniforms, plus a subsistence allowance of $50 per month to NROTC midshipmen. In addition, midshipmen go on training cruises each summer. After completing his college course and all military requirements, an NROTC midshipman is commissioned as a regular officer in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the operating forces.

The program is available to male high school seniors and graduates who have reached their 17th but not 21st birthday by July 1, 1967. Those who make a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude test will be interviewed and given thorough medical examinations early in 1967. Approximately 1,700 young men from those remaining in competition will thus be selected to attend college next September to prepare for their naval service.

NROTC Bulletins of Information for 1967 and application forms are available from local high school counselors and Navy recruiting stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-B6261), Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

Concordia Sets Enrollment Mark Of 2,235 Students

Another enrollment record has been established at Concordia college. The official enrollment report released by the registrar's office shows 2,235 students in attendance. This is a 6 per cent increase over last year's 2,101 students.

A comparison with last year's statistics shows 855 freshmen, an increase of 40 students. The number of sophomores stands at 589—30 more than last year. There are 440 juniors compared to 382 last year, while the number of seniors has remained almost the same—329 this year and 323 last year. Also enrolled are 22 special students. Included in the total are 54 transfer students from other institutions.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor, the Times
Thief River Falls, Minn.

In the matter of the Drivers Examiners conduct I am afraid our young editor has again "goofed off" on a subject of which he knows naught. We have observed this tendency on the part of this editorial writer on many occasions.

In the case in question all he would have to do in order to arrive at the true background on the case would be to go to the courthouse any time in the past months and sit quietly in the back of the room while these men are conducting examination routine. I myself was greatly shocked at the arrogant and insulting manner in which these men conducted themselves. Had he done so he would not under any circumstances find any justification for this misbehavior.

Placing these men in uniform apparently gave these three men an exaggerated sense of importance. They completely forgot that the public that they were to serve had committed no crime and that these people had the right to come in for that interview to be treated with respect and courtesy. I found from observation that the women were the chief targets of these examiners discourtesy.

There can be no justification for this conduct. Generally speaking, the Highway Patrol officers conduct themselves with extreme courtesy even when they deal with stubborn drivers. This is why the conduct of these examiners was such a surprise to me.

So far as the defense which the Editor puts forth on behalf of these men I can only say "Was you there Sharlie".

Green Wave Tops LHS 32-6 Here on Friday

East Grand Forks, flashing a strong running attack spearheaded by junior fullback Jacque Soltis, defeated the Prowlers, 32-6, in a Northwest conference football game played here Friday night.

Coach Jim Sims' Prowlers will play Grand Forks Central Redskins on the UND Memorial stadium at Grand Forks on Friday. Kickoff time is at 4 p.m. daylight saving time.

In Friday nights conference game played here coach Ron Thompson's Green Wave players scored in every period as they held control of the game to roll up their decisive 32-6 win. The visitors tallied their first touchdown midway in the opening period. A short kick gave East Grand Forks possession on the Prowlers' 38-yard line, and the Green Wave, with Soltis doing the bulk of the gaining, carried to the 14-yard line. A pass, Wade Johnson to Kim Krostue was completed, and the lanky end crossed the north goal for the touchdown. Gordy Bubendorf's placement try for the point was wide.

In the early minutes of the second, the Prowlers were forced into a kicking situation. The Green Wave's Dan Beck gathered in Paul Ihle's punt on the 30-yard line and sprinted 70 yards down the east side-line to score a touchdown. Bubendorf added the conversion point, on a placekick, and the Green Wave held a 13 to 0 lead. The Green Wave added another touchdown late in the second period when halfback Dale Skyberg capped a drive by rushing four yards to rack up a touchdown and give the visitors a 19 to 0 lead at the intermission.

A recovered fumble early in the third period, with Skyberg gaining possession at midfield after the Prowlers had picked up a pair of first downs, set up a touchdown. Soltis rambled for nine, a pass Johnson to Dave Achen added a first down, Kerry Knoff made a good gain over right tackle, and Beck drove to the locals' 4-yard line. Wade Johnson rushed over center for the touchdown, Bubendorf converted the point, and the Green Wave held a commanding 26 to 0 lead.

Late in the third period the visitors began an aerial attack, with Johnson having Krostue as his particular target, and the Green Wave drove to the Prowlers' 5-yard line. A pass, Johnson to Krostue, gained four yards, and then Roy Rystad dived over center for a touchdown. Bubendorf's placement try was wide of the uprights.

The Prowlers averted a shutout by accepting the ensuing kickoff and moved from their 32-yard line to the East Grand Forks 4-yard line. A pass John Womack to Tommy Tunberg was a 20-yard gainer, and another pass, Bob Brodin to Womack, picked up 15 yards to the Green Wave four. A pass was incomplete, but on a pitchout, with Brodin tossing to Womack, the junior halfback scored a touchdown The try for the extra point failed.

The East Grand Forks squad held a decisive advantage in the statistics, rolling up a total yardage to 281 to the Prowlers' 126. The visitors had 18 first downs to the Prowlers' 10.

ELUDING an attempted tackle from Bill Dicken of the Prowlers, Dan Beck (40) of East Grand Forks starts up field with Paul Ihle's punt. The Green Wave halfback made the return good for 70 yards and a touchdown as his team swamped the Prowlers 32-6 Friday night.

Candidate Meet Tuesday Canceled

Cancellation of the "Meet the Candidates" session Tuesday was announced this morning by Donald L. Olson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce legislative committee. The session was to have featured Robert Forsythe, GOP candidate for U. S. Senator, but has been canceled due to faulty scheduling at Republican headquarters. Date for the next session has not yet been set.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Must be a Powerhouse

The Moorhead Spuds of coach Jim Gotta must be a football powerhouse. Last Friday night, in a game played on the Moorhead State college field, the Spuds scored a 74-0 win over the Fergus Falls Otters.

From the reports on that game, and talking with fans who have seen the Moorhead squad in action, it is rated as the best Spud team that has been developed down there. Will Gullickson of the Fargo Forum states that the Spuds should go through the season undefeated. Will says that the only team that appears able to test the Spuds this season will be Washington high school of Sioux Falls, S.D.

But enough of the Spuds and Region Six. It's the Prowlers of coach Jim Sims that are the concern of the local fans. The Prowlers were beaten by a strong East Grand Forks team on Friday night, losing by a 32-6 score. This week, with the game being slated for 4 p.m. on the UND Memorial stadium field, the Prowlers will meet the Grand Forks Redskins.

And this game will be another "tough" one for the locals, as will be all the games on the schedule. And what will make the game a bit tougher for the locals is the fact that Grand Forks was tripped up Grand Forks St. James last Friday, losing 19-0. So you can bet that the Redskins coach won't have any trouble in "firing up" his squad for Prowler game.

Quote

Says the spokesman of the team: "It wouldn't surprise me if we go through the bowling season undefeated." Referring, of course, to Mel Scholin's Thief River Realty team of the Thursday night Commercial league.

And it must be admitted that the boys have gotten a good start, as they have picked up 12 points, and are undefeated after the first three weeks of competition. Last week the Realty swept four points from the Land O'Lakes. The Realty team—Mel Scholin, Arlo Scholin, Ray Thryen, George Glum, Charles Husnedl and Les DeBriyn—has an 832-pin average, and that comes close to being the city's best.

Two teams are carrying higher averages. The Elaine's team of the Tuesday night Business league — Marland Kloety, Dick Kling, Bob Larson, Dean Anderson and Carl Onkka—are rolling at an 852-pin average after the first two weeks of the season. And the Northern State Insurance team—Harold Johnson, Chuck Krause, Lloyd Samuelson, Dave Praska and Marv Washnesky—has an 842-pin average.

But some Commercial league team will have to knock off the high-flying Realty squad. And this will happen. Fact is, the averages will begin to catch up with the boys, and the pressure, too, will have an effect, and it's doubtful if they will be in the first division at New Year's.

Due for a Refresher Course

One of the more promising graduates of Happy Holz' school of handicapping is due for a refresher course, or some tranquilizer pills. The past two Sundays have been nerve-wracking, and at the conclusion of the two Viking football games the past two Sundays he has felt about like the bear in the TV ad.

A week ago this all-round sportsman had the Vikings and three points against the Baltimore Colts. And for a couple of periods he was looking good, but that three-fumble touchdown proved his downfall. And this week he had the Vikings and eight points in their game against the Dallas Cowboys. And you know the outcome, Dallas, in the final minute of the game, scored a touchdown to win by a 28-17 score.

He will be plenty cagey by the time the World's Series come around. He will make a small wager that the Baltimore Orioles will win one game, and that Frank Robinson will hit a home run. But he has to have odds!

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

For the past several months the motor vehicles committee of the Minnesota Legislature of which I am vice chairman, has been conducting hearings into the causes of the extremely high death rate on our highways. In order that I might have a better understanding of the problem, I rode all night with an officer of the Minnesota highway patrol one Saturday night some time ago. It was one of the most interesting and revealing experiences I have ever had. We traveled on highways in Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties.

An officer will stop motorists for either serious infractions of the law or to issue warning tickets for minor infractions. He also assists motorists in times of need. In emergencies he may be called upon to radio for a doctor or an ambulance. During these hours he will pursue some motorists at very high rates of speed in order to catch and arrest those who make our highways unsafe for others.

Why am I so interested in traffic safety? For many reasons. Our nation is very concerned about the 5,000 American servicemen killed in Viet Nam. This is a tremendous loss of life. Yet in 1966 the National Safety council says at least 50,000 people will die in traffic mishaps in the United States. In 1965 one out of 10 drivers in Minnesota was involved in an accident; 50,200 people were injured and 875 were killed—in Minnesota alone.

In 1966 the death rate is up nearly 10 per cent. As your State Representative, I would be derelict in my duty if I did not make every possible effort to urge each of you to be very conscious of the dangers of driving, especially if one does not strictly obey the law.

Our highway warning signs are spaced so as to give a driver ample warning of dangers at 60 MPH on most straight and clear roads. To drive faster is to gamble that there will be nothing unusual in a given spot when you arrive. . .and you gamble with your life and the lives of others.

My observation gained while riding with an officer of the highway patrol is that they are very efficient, well trained, courteous and dedicated men. They have a duty . . .to prevent accidents and keep traffic moving safely, and also to assist the traveling public. With two patrol officers working together as a team the speeder has very little chance of getting away from either or both of them. They have the odds on their side and they use their training and equipment effectively.

An officer dreads to come upon or be called to the scene of a bad accident in which anyone, particularly children, may be badly injured or killed. You see, most of these men have children of their own. According to the record, about 85 per cent or more of those stopped on Saturday nights have been drinking. Patrolmen have many opportunities to see the reckless driver at his worst. They also have ideas regarding certain changes needed in our laws to better protect our law-abiding citizens.

This seems to be the year to stress motor vehicle safety. Congress has just passed a safety law. Our Minnesota highway department is asking for several new and stricter laws regarding issuance of driver's license and re-examination of drivers, and a better method of detecting and convicting drunken drivers.

We are at a point in history when there is so much to do about traffic safety that everyone who is part of the problem is trying to shove the burden for its solution on to someone else's shoulders. Congress spanks the automobile manufacturers for unsafe cars and the automobile manufactures in turn blame the drivers. Drivers ask for uniform laws and federal intervention and the President of the United States says that the individual states must establish strong safety programs. AAA bemoans cheapy tires, regrooved tires and the hodge-podge of labeling in the tire industry. . .and the president of Firestone Tire and Rubber company counters by suggesting compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

This problem has been with us for many years and we are not about to solve it to everyone's satisfaction overnight. Re-exploring the problem from all angles, as we are now doing prior to the 1967 session of the legislature, is a first step toward getting all facets of the problem in proper perspective.

Once again, I urge everyone - drive safely.

Funds Provided For Roseau River Flood Control

Congressman Odin Langen has announced that the designing and planning funds for the Roseau river flood control project were included in the public works appropriation bill approved by the house appropriations committee.

Langen, a member of the committee, expressed satisfaction that efforts to have these funds included in the bill were successful, since they were not a part of the original budget request.

The sum of $50,000 was set aside for the project, authorized in last year's flood control act. Langen previously urged his colleagues on the committe to support it and appeared personally with a delegation from Roseau county before the public works subcommitte earlier this year.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Legislative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

For the past several months the motor vehicles committee of the Minnesota Legislature of which I am vice chairman, has been conducting hearings into the causes of the extremely high death rate on our highways. In order that I might have a better understanding of the problem, I rode all night with an officer of the Minnesota highway patrol one Saturday night some time ago. It was one of the most interesting and revealing experiences I have ever had. We traveled on highways in Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties.

An officer will stop motorists for either serious infractions of the law or to issue warning tickets for minor infractions. He also assists motorists in times of need. In emergencies he may be called upon to radio for a doctor or an ambulance. During these hours he will pursue some motorists at very high rates of speed in order to catch and arrest those who make our highways unsafe for others.

Why am I so interested in traffic safety? For many reasons. Our nation is very concerned about the 5,000 American servicemen killed in Viet Nam. This is a tremendous loss of life. Yet in 1966 the National Safety council says at least 50,000 people will die in traffic mishaps in the United States. "It is always better to say right out what you think without worrying too much about proving your point. After all, our proofs are only variations of our opinions, and the contrary-minded listen neither to one nor the other." Goethe

A Little Too Much

When a person asks for a drink of water, common sense should indicate that he doesn't necessarily want to be thrown in a lake. Too much of something is often worse than nothing at all.

Such is the case with federal intervention in the situation involving daylight saving time. Due to this intervention, Minnesota will be on "fast" time until 2 a.m. Sunday, October 30. That stretch from April 24 to October 30 this year is a long time for late sunsets.

We must confess that we enjoy the long summer evenings for recreational pursuits, but the complexion changes when the youngsters go back to school. By the end of October, quite a number of Minnesota children will be waiting for the boarding school buses in at least semi-darkness. The former system of observing daylight saving time from approximately the Memorial Day weekend to the Labor Day weekend suited us about right.

There are a few other selfish motives involved in the clock manipulation at this time of the year. Not the least of these is the difficulty of fitting morning duck hunting around the normal work schedule with the loss of an hour of daylight due to DST.

Federal waterfowl regulations permit shooting one-half hour before sunrise this season, but DST being in effect will result in a net loss of one-half hour before it is necessary to pick up the decoys and get back to the desk. That half hour is quite a large percentage of the average morning's hunt.

There must be quite a number of waterfowl hunters in Minnesota who will be unhappy over the situation. They will likely agree that stretching daylight saving time into the end of October is too much of a good thing.

A Fast Start

It was a whirlwind week for volunteer salesmen, but the Thief River Falls Concert association is off to a fast start for the 1966-67 season. With a number of volunteers yet to report from both Thief River Falls and neighboring communities, total membership was already over the 600 mark on Thursday.

We believe this support of a concert series speaks well for our area of Minnesota. Although the officials of the association shun the word "culture" when referring to the series of concerts, it is not a dirty word and certainly applicable. We don't imagine that a little culture does anyone any particular harm, and is a worthwhile addition to the community.

Quite frankly, however, we are somewhat surprised at the response. Due credit must be given to those who organized and spearheaded the membership campaign, and to those who presented the association's story to the public. As good as the series might be, personal contact by a large number of volunteers is what made the membership campaign successful.

We understand that the drive has produced enough finances to pay the contract for the three concerts with a small surplus for incidental expense. It seems advisable that the group should continue on the basis of three concerts this season—rather than adding to fourth programand apply whatever surplus that may be available to secure first rate entertainment the following year.

It remains now to see how the concerts on schedule are received by the association members, for the impressions made are certain to have an effect on membership in following years. At any rate, the association is off to a fast start for 1966-6s.

Plain Common Sense

The Murray County Herald at Slayton carried an editorial prior to the primary election which commented on proposals by Gov. Karl Rolvaag and A. M. Keith to ease the plight of Minnesota farmers.

"It's the same old garbage from both DFL candidates," the editorial stated, "and regardless of which is ultimately nominated the agricultural areas can expect the same results if they are elected. The answer is nothing."

Then the editorial continued as follows:

"It is interesting for farmers to note that in six years of the last decade the Democrats have had full control of both the legislative and executive branches on the federal level. During that time the most memorable moments, as far as farmers are concerned, were the efforts of both President Johnson and agriculture secretary Orville Freeman to REDUCE farm prices.

"The president succeeded in driving beef prices down by urging housewives to fight inflation by not buying expensive cuts. Our hero in the department of agriculture originally agreed with the defense department when it ordered military installations overseas to buy foreign meat rather than ship it from the United States. Does this look like the friends in high places of both Mr. Keith and Gov. Rolvaag are very concerned about the plight of the farmer?

"It is equally interesting for farmers to note that on the state level the DFL has had executive control for 12 of the past 14 years. There were times during that period when they also controlled one house of the legislature. With the predominantly conservative senate active during those years, it is understandable why some of the DFL programs were not enacted—but can any of you even so much as REMEMBER ONE EFFORT made by the DFL leadership to ease the problems of agriculture when they were in a position to do so?

"Farmers should face the fact. The DFL at the moment is labor-dominated and agriculture will not benefit if either of these two candidates is eventually elected. Karl Rolvaag is bound hide and soul to organized labor and the unions don't want higher prices for farm products.

"How much longer will the voters of rural Minnesota continue to cast their ballots on the basis of heredity, tradition and birthright instead of plain common sense?"

Just Coincidence

Human Events magazine carried the following editorial recently:

"Evidence mounts that heavy contributors to the President's Club, an adjunct of the Democratic National committee, are receiving preferential treatment and lucrative contracts from government agencies.

"As readers will remember, Rep. Charles Goodell (R-N. Y.) disclosed last month that the Justice Department had dropped an anti-trust suit against Anheuser-Busch after executives of the firm kicked in $10,000 to the sequence of events was pure coincidence.

"Goodell and Rep. Albert Quie (R.- Minn.) then revealed that the Office of Economic Economic Opportunity "ignored" four experienced firms to grant a $1.3 million contract to a company whose Washington manager had given $3,000 to the Democratic campaign kitty. Another coincidence, insisted the Administration.

"Rep. Donald Rumsfled (R-Ill) turned up still another "coincidence" last week when he probed a multi-million federal contract for Project Mohole. On May 5, the House Appropriations Committee deleted $19.7 million for Project Mohole from the budget. Eight days later, the family of George Brown contributed $23,000 to the President's Club.

"Brown is the chairman of the board of Brown and Root, the Texas firm which is the prime contractor for Project Mohole.

"Five days after the contributions were received, the President made an extraordinary appeal for the restoration of the Mohole funds, despite overwhelming evidence that the project was a scientific boondoggle.

"Rumstad led the House fight against Mohole, noting that Brown and Root was given the contract in 1962 at a figure of $13.6 million, "only slightly under the highest bid and almost double the lowest." The recent contributions to the president's Club, he said, were merely the latest in an amazing series of "coincidences". The House agreed and rejected an administration amendment to restore the Project Mohole funds."

The Name Game

Voters in Minnesota must have been playing the name game during the primary election this month, judging by the results in a couple of scrambled races. Two candidates named Youngdahl and Gallagher gained nominations, although neither were considered serious contenders on the basis of record or qualifications.

Most Minnesotans will dismiss this with a shrug of the shoulders and shake of the head; politics is a funny business anyway. But it does serve to show that the people are taking their right to vote far too lightly, are unwilling to become familiar with the candidates and their qualifications and are generally apathetic about their government.

William R. Youngdahl filed for the office of railroad and warehouse commissioner on the DFL ticket, paying the normal $100 filing fee. He did not campaign, yet he became the winner when the votes were counted. The Minneapolis plasterer and cab driver defeated the DFL-endorsed candidate and other rivals, including former Minneapolis and St. Paul aldermen. He lives in a rooming house and has no phone. When told he was high man in the primary, his comment was, "Are you kidding?"

Thomas Patrick Gallagher, 31, Minneapolis attorney, polled the most votes for associate justice of the Minnesota supreme court. He did this in spite of endorsement of Theodore B. Knudson by the majority of the state's lawyers and a ballot which explicitly stated that the candidae was Thomas PATRICK Gallagher.

A recent Gallup poll showed that: five per cent of the voters don't know the names of their representatives in the U. S. Congress; 62 per cent don'tknowwhethertheir gress; 62 per cent don't know whether their representative voted on any major bill during the year; 86 per cent don't know of anything their revresentative has done, or tried to do, for his district.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

A customer, waiting for a small job to be done on his car, watched a mechanic change the oil in another car without spilling a drop, check the radiator, clean the windshield, wipe away all the greasy finger marks, place a clean cloth over the upholstery, wash his hands thoroughly, and drive the car slowly out to the street curb.

"Now, there's a real mechanic," the customer observed.

Remember "The Good Old Days"

Remember the long hours, long days, and back-breaking work that used to be involved in threshing? Just as farming has modernized and progressed, so has electricity. It used to take three weeks to do three days of work. Not only has the farmer's work been simplified, but his wife is enjoying the many benefits of a full time electric maid in the home. Remember cooking for the threshing crew on the old cook stove? No electric appliances to control the heat. The food was terrific, but the hours of work involved in preparing the food were formidable. Scenes like the above picture are now disappearing from the American scene, while dependable rural electricity lightens the work load of all farmers.

Expect Increased Use Of Urea for Cattle

Urea, a commercially produced chemical compound, has emerged in recent years as the most practical and economical non-protein source of nitrogen in beef cattle rations.

J. C. Meiske, associate professor of animal science at the University of Minnesota, predicts that urea will soon be the major supplementary source of nitrogen for ruminant animals.

Speaking at the 14th annual Minnesota beef cattle feeders day at the University's agricultural experiment station near Rosemount, Meiske explained that technological advances in ammonia production, along with increased size and efficiency of urea production plant may mean a price decrease for urea in the near future.

Results of research on the use of urea in beef cattle rations show that urea can be used to supply all the supplementary nitrogen in high energy diets and diets containing good quality corn silage. But in low energy rations, urea can best be utilized if it supplies not more than one-third of the nitrogen in the supplement.

According to Meiske, when urea replaces all or part of the preformed protein supplement, additional minerals and energy should be supplied to obtain equal results.

Studies conducted by Meiske and R. D. Goodrich, assistant professor of animal science, show that sulfur additions to high corn grain or corn silage rations containing urea improve the efficiency of feed utilization.

University recommendations are to include four pounds of elemental sulfur or 40 pounds of Galubers salt per ton of supplement containing urea. When good quality forages are fed, the need for additional sulfur is less than in rations containing corn, corn silage or poor quality forage.

He emphasized the importance of mixing high-urea supplements thoroughly into the ration. The importance of this cannot be overstressed, he said, since there have been recent cases of urea toxicity with cattle.

Meiske warned that if too much urea is fed at one time, or if sufficient carbohydrates are not readily available to combine with the ammonia formed from urea, there may be a build-up of ammonia at a faster rate than the bacteria can utilize it. If this happens, the animal may waste the nitrogen, or the ammonia may have a toxic effect--possibly resulting in death.

The most desirable method for feeding a high-urea supplement is to mix it into a complete, full-fed ration. Meiske listed three reasons for following this practice: (1) it aids in masking the taste of urea; (2) it prevents large amounts of urea from being consumed in a short period; and (3) when cattle are full-fed, the rapid loss of ammonia nitrogen is reduced since the rumen is kept acid.

is started therumen bacteria must adapt to the new ration. As a result, when feeding a high-urea supplement it is safest to include urea at low levels and gradually increase it until the desired level of feeding is reached.

MIGHTY MOMENTS are captured upon the screen in Cecil B. De Mille's Technicolor production of "The Ten Commandments," in which Charlton Heston portrays Moses. Opening Sunday at the Falls Theatre in a "command performance"—the first since its original all-record-breaking run—the Paramount Picture is considered the greatest film achievement of all time. Not only is it the recapturing of the most dramatic part of history, it is an outstanding accomplishment in terms of celluloid technique and style.

PRETTY Kay Webster of Beltrami poses for comparison with her likeness in the American Dairy Association of Minnesota's "Beauty in Butter" sculpture exhibit at the 1966 Minnesota State Fair. Offering a milky salute to both the artwork and the loveliness of Northwest Minnesota's dairy princess is the newly-crowned Princess Kay of the Milky Way, Linda Kottke of Glencoe. Each of the 11 finalists in the 13th annual Princess Kay contest took a turn posing for the sculptor in the special butter promotion exhibit. Helping out with the dairy industry public relations chores, the Princess Kay finalists greeted an estimated 130,000 visitors to the Fair's dairy building.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—Several people have told me that my husband, a World War II veteran now deceased, is entitled to a marker on his grave site stating he was a veteran. Could you give me any information on this matter?

A—Headstones or grave markers are available for any deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service whose last period of service was terminated honorable by death or discharge. If you desire a headstone or grave marker, you may contact the nearest VA office which will provide an application and assistance in filing. If you mean a marker in which the service organizations place flags on Memorial and Veterans day, contact the service organization to which your husband belonged.

Q—I receive a pension from the Veterans administration. I have some money in the bank and I was wondering if I have to report the interest on the account to the VA?

A—All income, including interest from bank accounts, must be reported to the VA in the year received.

Q—Can I attend a trade school overseas under the new GI Bill?

A—A program of education may be pursued only at an approved educational institution of higher learning overseas.

Q—I bought a home with a GI loan in 1952. My wife is now confined to a wheelchair, and cannot maneuver steps to the basement or to the second floor. Can I sell this home and buy another one-story home with a GI loan?

A—Your wife's disability is a compelling reason for selling your present home. But the VA must be released from all financial liability on the first property. Contact your nearest VA regional office for details.

Q—I am a female veteran and was denied disability pension benefits in January, 1964, due to excessive income because my husband's wages were $5,200 per year. Has there been any change in the law under which I could qualify now?

A—Yes. Effective Jan. 1, 1965, the spouse's income, if consisting of wages only, is not considered as the veteran's income.

Q—Two years ago, I surrendered my right to monthly service-connected compensation payments in order that I might receive a greater monthly payment of disability pension for nonservice - connected disabilities. I now have an opportunity to return to work but find that my income will bar me from receiving further pension payments. Will I be permitted to again receive service - connected compensation payments?

A—The VA did not consider your election to receive pension as a "surrender" of your right to compensation payments. You may again receive compensation payment effective as of the day following termination of nonservice pension payments to you.

Q—My service-connected disability of emphysema is rated at 60 per cent. I have been unable to work since 1959 because of this disability. How can I reopen my claim?

A—You should submit evidence of your unemployability. Veterans who are rated at least 60 per cent disabled for one disability may be increased to 100 per cent based on individual unemployability if the service - connected disability causes the unemployability.

Region Firemen Will Meet in City Thursday

Northern Region Firemen's association will hold its annual meeting for election of officers at the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls Thursday. Registration will be from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. According to Roy Langevin, local fire chief and secretary of the regional association, 150 delegates from 25 towns in the northern corner of the state are expected to be present.

Speakers for the evening will be Frank Holmes, area supervisor of North Star Natural Gas Company; Pat Barry, assistant state fire marshall; Chief Welter of the Crookston Fire department; Chief Robertson of the Argyle Fire department; Langevin; and Regional President Lawrence Sunsdahl, Stephen, who will also be the master of ceremonies.

A one hour movie, "Fire Rescue", made by the New York Fire department, will be shown later in the evening. Also to be discussed will be Fire Prevention Week to be held, October 9-15, and "Operation Edith" (Exit Drill in the Home).

"The largest number of people killed by fire, die in dwelling fires. A high percentage of these would be alive if they had planned, practiced and used an emergency exit route," Langevin said.

The plan of "Operation EDITH" locally is to have each family in the area prepare for and practice an exit drill in the home. At 8 p.m. October 12, on a signal given by radio and television, all the participating families will hold their drill.

Pointers given to help plan family fire drills include the following:

(1) Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allowing for blocking of stairways and halls by fire.

(2) Particularly for night time fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke, allow extra time for escape.

(3) For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders or trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and that they are low and large enough to get through.

(4) Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet, and be sure everyone understands the rule "once out—stay out".

(5) Know how to call the fire neighbor's phone, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.

Cancer Crusade In Pennington Hits $1,823 Goal

Pennington County Cancer society recently announced that a goal of $1,823.36 was reached from the annual crusade. Mrs. Roland Glass, county cancer crusade chairman for 1966, stated, "I would like to thank all workers, organizations and contributors, who gave so generously to make this a very successful crusade."

Volunteers included residental chairmen Mrs. John Lynskey, Mrs. Leonard Furuseth, Mrs. Winton Dahlin, Mrs. Erling Olson, Mrs. Charles Dicken, Mrs. David Wefald, Mrs. Chester Nessen, Mrs. Doris Goulet Mrs. Roy Lee, Mrs. Robert Brooten, Mrs. Duane Glass, Mrs. Robert Dondelinger, Mrs. Art Stenberg Jr., Mrs. Harry Hendrickson, Mrs. Wallace Tunberg, Mrs. Carl Lee, Mrs. Harvey Delage and Mrs. Robert Jenkins.

Business district volunteers were Mr. and Mrs. Al Thorkelson. Rural volunteers included Mrs. William Puppe, Mrs. Burton Johnson, Mrs. Virgil Collins, Mrs. Glen Olson, Harold South, Mrs. Palmer Lovly, Mrs. Julian Lendobeja, Mrs. Mel Jopprn and Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom.

Mrs. John Kruse canvassed St. Hilaire, while Mrs. Joe Scholfer and Mrs. Lila Stephanson were in charge of the Goodridge area.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet Monday

American Legion Auxiliary No. 117 will hold its regular meeting Monday at 8 p.m., preceded by a dinner at 7 p.m., in the Legion club rooms. Special guests will be the 1966 Girls State representatives. All members are urged to attend.

WITCHCRAFT plays a major role in the three-act comedy "Bell, Book and Candle" by John van Druten to be presented by the Community Theatre association in the Lincoln high school auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. In this scene, Peggy Stahl and Bernard McKigney are bewitching a telephone.

Theatre Group To Stage 3-Act Play

Third offering of the Thief River Falls Community Theatre, "Bell, Book and Candle" will be presented Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Lincoln senior high school auditorium. The three-act comedy is under the direction of Richard Norquist with Gloria Bjorkman as assistant director and Francis Womack as producer.

Peggy Stahl plays the role of Gillian Holroyd with James Solsten as Shep Henderson. Diane Marshall is Aunt Queenie, Bernard McKigney portrays Nicky Holroyd and William Moeglein is cast as sidney Redlitch.

A description of the play notes that the author assumes "...that a few modern people can cast spells and perform feats of supernaturalism. Gillian Holroyd, of the Murray Hill district, casts a spell over an unattached publisher, partly to keep him away from a rival and partly because she is attracted to him.

"He falls head over heels in love with her at once, and wants to marry her. But witches, unfortunately cannot fall in love, and this minute imperfection leads to a number of difficulties."

Staging for the play is under the supervision of James Solsten, William Jensen and Everett Marshall. Art work is done by Donald Lerud, Margaret Moeglein and Peggy Stahl. John Johnson is in charge of lighting with Rosemary Dahlen handling make-up, JuaNita Lieske directing publicity and Marjorie Hanson handling tickets sales.

Tickets are available at Ekeren Drug, Larson Music company, Tischart's Fabrics and Yarns and the motor vehicle license bureau, or can be ordered by mail from Mrs. Hanson at the license bureau. Advance purchase of tickets will result in a saving over the admission charge at the door on the nights of performances. Advance sale tickets are $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. Admission will be $1.25 and $1 at the door.

Previous plays were "The Tender Trap" and "Romanoff and Juliet".

VFW Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Thief River Falls VFW auxiliary held its regular meeting Monday with President Mable Nelson presiding. A senior citizens' party is planned for Saturday afternoon.

The auxiliary voted to send $15 to each of the following hospitals: Fargo, St. Cloud, Fergus Falls, Ft. Snelling and the Fargo Silver Dollar; also that $25 be sent to the National Home for Health and Happiness and $25 to the Christmas Cheer at the National Home. Hostesses were Gladys Hamre, Lois Dimmen and Gloria Leach.

National Guard Unit Will Train At Camp Ripley

Company B, 2nd Battalion, 136 Infantry, which is permanently located in Thief River Falls, will train with the Minnesota National Guard's Viking division at Camp Ripley this weekend.

Over 2,500 men of the division's 2nd Brigade will be at the Minnesota training center for Operation Jack Frost. The maneuver will simulate actual combat conditions as closely as possible and will continue around the clock. Action will be controlled by umpires who will evaluate the effectiveness of each fighting unit.

The men participating are all members of the nation's Selected Reserve force which has been assigned by the President to attain combat readiness at its home stations.

Total enrollment at Thief River Falls state junior college, according to Dean Victor Charles, is now 297, just below the expected 300.

A breakdown of enrollment is as follows: Sophomores, 68 men and 23 women for a total of 91; freshmen, 126 men and 50 women for a total of 176; part-time students, three men and four women; adult evening classes, three men and 20 women.

College activities are being organized with campaigns for student council officers planned for the next two all-college assemblies.

Local Delegation Attends Highway Information Meet

Eleven people from the Thief River Falls area were among 100 people in attendance Monday evening at a highway report meeting held at the River Bend Country club in East Grand Forks. The session was sponsored by Minnesota Good Roads, Inc.

John C. Jamieson, Minnesota commissioner of highways, outlined the state's general highway plan which will be presented to the 1967 session of the legislature. Carl Larson, district engineer, reviewed plans for District 2, commenting on the eventuality of making highway 2 a four-lane divided highway from East Grand Forks to Duluth.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting were William LaFave, chairman of the transportation committee; Richard Hamilton, executive secretary; Fred Sorensen and Ed Sisler.

City council members attending were Arthur B. Christianson, chairman, Arnold Narverud, Ambrose Wysoski and Dr. A. E. Jacobson.

County officials in attendance were Glenn Tasa, chairman of the county board of commissioners; Carl Anderson and Merle Lindberg, commissioners; and Joe Seidel, highway engineer.

Rep. Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls, member of the Minnesota legislative highway interim commission, was also in attendance.

Hold First Fall Meeting Monday

First general membership meeting of the fall for the Thief River Falls Mrs. Jaycees will be held at the James Matson home, 110 Kendall av. S., Monday at 8:30 p. m. School Superintendent Marshall Hankerson will speak and answer questions on the bond issue for the vocational school and swimming pool.

Mrs. Roger Person and Mrs. James Fisher will serve refreshments. All Jaycee wives are urged to attend. For information on Mrs. Jaycee activities or a ride call Mrs. Sander Tureson at 681-4663.

City Approves Permits for New Building

Calls for Bids on New Police Car To Be Opened October 25

Elton Cummings Thief River Falls chief of police presented specifications for a new police squad car to the city council at the regular council meeting Tuesday night. The specifications were approved and the council voted to open bids October 25 at 4 p.m.

Two building permits having a total valuation of $60,000 were granted. The Northland Chemical company was granted a permit to construct a fertilizer blending plant adjacent to the company's present building at an estimated cost of $40,000. The other was granted to Dr. Donald Goodrich for a $20,000 dwelling.

Police Patrolman Harold Blazek submitted his resignation effective October 15. He has been qualified to attend officer candidate school for training as a highway patrolman.

Don Laidley was hired by the water and light department as a meter reader at a salary of $390 per month effective October 1.

The council voted to advertise for bids for additional pipe for the river dredge. Bids will be opened October 25 at 4:30 p.m.

In line with discussion on moving the city dump a motion picture produced by the Caterpillar company dealing with sanitary land fill was shown. The issue was referred to the sanitation committee for a concrete recommendation at a future meeting.

A change order was extended to the Edling Electric company of Fargo, electrician for the municipal airport, to check runway light transformers and replace those found to be defective. Cost to the city would not exceed $250.

Finally, the council approved an estimate amounting to $9,277.20 submitted by the Kasson Sewer and Water company for last year's sewer and water project.

Council Elected

Student council of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school has been organized with Mike Forsberg as president and Gayle Quern as secretary.

Forsberg, Thief River Falls, is enrolled in the office education department and Miss Quern, Oslo, is enrolled in practical nursing.

Other members of the council, their home address and course of study include the following;

Susan De Lisle, Stephen, cosmetology; Darrell Mack, Thief River Falls, architectural drafting; Gordon Johnson, Clarissa, aviation mechanics; Allan Iverson, Bemidji, auto body repair; Ron Jenson, Badger, welding; Dale Evenwoll, Shevlin, electronics; David Boroski, Karlstad, auto mechanics; and John Lublitz, Thief River Falls, carpentry.

County Plays Host to Norwegian IFYE Student

COFFEE is the elixir that makes conversation easier, and considerable quantities have been served recently at the Silas Hanson farm home east of Thief River Falls. Discussion has centered around similarities and differences between 4-H programs in the United States and Norway since Aud Knutsen arrived as an International Farm Youth Exchange student. In the above photo, Mrs. Hanson pours coffee for her Norwegian guest.

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

It is altogether "fittin' and proper" that Pennington county should play host during National 4-H club week to an International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) representative. She is Aud Knutsen of Bodo, Norway, who has been active in the 4-H program in the county of Nordland since January 1957.

Aud (pronounced "Out") is one of 105 men and women from 33 countries visiting the United States for a six-month period, staying with host families in several areas of the nation. While in Pennington county for several weeks, she is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hanson and their children Ross and Linnae northeast of Thief River Falls.

Arriving in New York City in May, she spent a week of orientation in Washington, D. C., then stayed with families in Virginia and Kentucky. From Thief River Falls she will go to Winona, having stayed first in Isanti county in Minnesota.

It was our pleasure to visit with the county's Norwegian guest Saturday afternoon, discussing the 4-H program and the life and customs in Norway. As is frequently the case in exchange programs, it is likely that the visitor to a nation does more teaching than learning. Such seemed to be the situation as Miss Knutsen talked of her home and work in Norway.

Aud's home is on a 25-acre farm about five miles from Bodo, a community of about 20,000 people north of the Arctic Circle. She works as a pharmacist's assistant in a drug store in Bodo, riding the bus to and from work six days a week.

A volunteer worker in the 4-H club program, she was one of two volunteers selected in the country of Norway to receive a citation and silver medallion from King Olaf in recognition of her work with the 4-H club program. Coveted as this award is, Aud said she was almost sorry to receive it, since she feared it would not be possible to receive the citation and also to be selected as a representative in the exchange program.

Although there are major geographic differences between the flat plains of Minnesota and the mountains and fjords of Norway, the 4-H club program is much the same. It was in 1936 that 4-H came to Norway from the United States, and the program is patterned after the system here.

Club members carry yearly projects and hold an annual fair, although the fair is usually on a club basis rather than having a number of clubs combined for competition. Norway is divided into 20 counties, and only in several of these is a county fair held.

Projects include hay (similar to the crops project here), garden, and others much like projects in the United States. Embroidery is offered as a project in Norway, a country noted for its colorful costumes and exquisite handiwork. Many of boys inthe 4-H club program take cooking projects.

American Legion Rallies Slated In Three Towns

A large delegation of American Legion, and auxiliary members from Thief River Falls are expected to attend the 9th District rallies this weekend. Rallies are scheduled for Detroit Lakes Thursday, Warren Friday and Crookston Saturday.

District Commander Joe Kloeckner, Dilworth, and District President, Mrs. M. R. Levorson, Thief River Falls, will be in charge of the meeting which will open at 8 p.m. each evening, after which there will be separate sessions.

Department President, Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, Thief River Falls, is expected to be present at the Crookston meeting. Department Commander Ed Salk, Minneapolis, will be the guest speaker at Detroit Lakes with Department Vice Commander, Frank Hylla, Cold Springs, speaker at Warren and Crookston.

Main theme of the rallies will be membership with reports given by the posts and units present. Mrs. Lloyd Volen, Fergus Falls, vice president, is the auxiliary membership chairman, and Vice Commander James Cuppett, Thief River Falls, serves for the Legion in the north area.

4th College Night Set This Evening

Fourth annual "College Night" will be held this evening beginning at 7:45 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The program is sponsored by the guidance departments of the Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls high schools.

Robert Reeve, counselor at Lincoln high school, will open the program and Supt. E. Dale Birkeland of Red Lake Falls will deliver the welcome. Main speaker for the evening will be Dr. Stanley Sahlstrom, director of the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston. His topic will be "Planning for the Future".

Visitation periods will be held from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. Students and parents are urged to visit at least three representatives from colleges, universitities, technical schools or branches of the armed services.

Students from Plummer, Goodridge, Oklee, Newfolden and Middle River have been invited to take part in the evening.

Represented at the "College Night" will be the following: Alex-

Miss Olga Lund Retires at J. C. Penney Company

After 45 years with the J.C. Penney company in Thief River Falls, Miss Olga Lund will retire this week. Friday will be her last day at work in the local store, after which she plans to do some traveling to visit friends and relatives in Wisconsin and Canada, and perhaps make a trip to Norway.

Miss Lund began work for the company in 1921, one year after the first Penney store started at the corner of Main avenue and Second street in Thief River Falls. A year later the store was moved to the southeast corner of Main avenue and Third street. Two years ago the present store opened across Main avenue from the previous location.

During her years with the company, Miss Lund has worked for five managers. They include William Heinricks, 1920-1923; H. E. Nelson 1923-1938; E. B. Benson, 1938-1958; Robert Baker, 1958-1961; and M. E. Goddard, 1961 until the present time.

A dinner party in Miss Lund's honor was held Tuesday evening in the American Legion club rooms with 48 employees of the local store and some of their wives and husbands in attendance. Presentation of a camera and other gifts was made during the evening.

Mrs. Tom Logan of Seattle, Wash. and Ardith Coyner of Salem, Ore., left by plane Monday after visiting relatives and friends here for the past week. While here they were house guests at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Tuura.

Holiday Lighting Program Planned

Announcement of a new and complete Christmas lighting program for Thief River Falls—the first comprehensive and most elaborate in the history of the city—was made this week by a special sub-committee of the retail trade committee of the local Chamber of Commerce. Total cost of the project has been placed at about $6,500.

James Frey heads the special sub-committee which has been studying and planning the program for almost a year. Other committee members are Walt Larson, Rudy Mehlhoff and C. R. Waldera.

Arrangements for the program of city beautification during the Christmas season were made with a Minneapolis firm specializing in outdoor decoration. This company has assured the committee and the city that there will be no comparable decorative theme in any community within a radius of 75 miles of Thief River Falls.

Planned and coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce committee, the Christmas decorations will be purchased as a joint effort by the city of Thief River Falls, business and professional men and fraternal and service organizations in the community. A portion of the decorations used in previous years will be incorporated into the total display, providing for an expanded program from what the city has had in the past.

Seventy-two poles in the city will be decorated with 55-inch lighted 18th Century lanterns, lighted balls and natural roping. The four approaches to the city on highways 32 and 59 will feature overhead banners 45 feet wide, of proclaiming "Season's Greetings" in lighted letters three and one-half feet high.

At the downtown intersections of Third street and Main avenue and Third street and LaBree avenue, 17-foot glitter plastic Christmas trees will be suspended over the intersections. These will be lighted, as will decorative roping used for the intersection display.

The committee stated that total use of overhead display had been investigated, but that cost necessary to provide such lighting would have been prohibitive. Plans are being made for a formal lighting of the Christmas decorations, with November 25 set as the tentative date. Decorations will be erected to the specifications of the manufacturer by employees of the Thief River Falls department of utilities.

"We are most anxious that the Thief River Falls community support this program for city beautification during the holiday season," chairman Frey said.

Mossestad And Paripovich Vows Spoken At Hibbing

Miss Marlys Mossestad and Loren Paripovich, both of Hibbing, exchanged marriage vows at a nuptial Mass at 11 a. m. Saturday, September 3, at the Blesses Sacrament church at Hibbing. Rev. Antus officiated at the double ring ceremony with Mrs. Braun, church organist, porviding the traditional nuptial music. Baskets of white gladioli accented with yellow chrysanthemums graced the chancel..

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose an empire fashioned sheath gown of silk linen fabric with a detachable train. A self belt directed the easy sheath skirt. Alencon lace etched the portrait neckline and continued out onto the shoulders. Below-the-elbow sleeves were cuffed with a deep band of matching lace and large lace inserts added aisle beauty to the flowing train. Her veil of silk imported sheer illusion bellowed from an over-the forehead plateau of hand-fashioned petals dewed with pearls and she carried a cascade arrangement of white Fuji mums and yellow starburst chrysanthemums.

Miss Carolyn Jorgensen of Minneapolis attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Kelly of Minneapolis, friend of the bride, and Arlys Mossestad, also of Minneapolis, a copsin of the bride. They wore identical two-toned floor-length gowns fashioned with leaf green velvet bodices styled with scoop necklines and above the elbow sleeves. Their sheath skirts were of peppermint green French crepe and fabric leaf trim enhanced the empire waistlines. To complement their attire they wore matching circlet veils held by tiered loops of crepe, leaf green shoes and wrist length white gloves. Each carried a cascade arrangement of yellow, gold and bronze pompons. Their pearl necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Michael Paripovich of Minneapoplis attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were friends of the groom, Charles Bussey and Ted Von Feldt, both of Minneapolis. Serving as ushers were Louis Ahachich of Fargo, N. D., cousin of the groom, and James Tellor of Minneapolis. The men of the wedding party were attired in strollers composed of oxford jackets, gray striped trousers and gray vests. Their boutonniers were white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mossestad chose a beige woolen three-piece knit ensemble with beige and brown accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a green woolen two-piece knit suit with brown accessories. Both wore identical corsages of yellow roses and bronze pompons.

Honor guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Anna Mossestad, grandmother of the bride, and Frank Kosluchar, grandfather of the groom.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride were hosts at a dinner in the Memorial Building with approximately 100 guests in attendance. Floral arrangements of yellow, gold and bronze mums together with green candles in candelbra formed the table decorations. Yellow roses trimmed the four tiered, pillared wedding cake topped with two satin wedding bells. Mrs. Oscar Mossestad, aunt of the bride, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Konickson, cousin if the bride, cut and served the wedding cake while Mrs. Mike Scanlon Jr., aunt of the groom, poured.

Mrs. James Tellor presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. Michael Paripovich and Mrs. Louis Ahachich, sister-in-law and cousin, respectively, of the groom, opened and arranged the wedding gifts. Mrs. Alwood DeLaPointe, a friend of the bride, registered the guests. They attended from Marshfield, Wis.; Fargo, N. D.; Minneapolis, Plummer, Thief River Falls, Grand Rapids and the surrounding Range towns.

The parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal luncheon and a reception for relatives and friends.

For travel on a wedding trip to Nassau, in the Bahamas, the bride wore a two piece Navy suit with coordinating accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and white carnations.

The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school, was Miss Thief River Falls of 1965. She attended Hibbing technical institute and is a student at the Hibbing General hospital. The groom, a 1961 graduate of Hibbing high school, attended St. John's University and the University of Arizona and is associated with his father in business. They will make their home at 2515 Second Avenue East, Hibbing. Photo · Nicholson Studio, Hibbing.

Marlys JoAn Buck Marries Don Skyberg At Bismarck

Miss Marlys JoAn Buck, daughter of Mrs. John Vuck of Streeter, N. D., and the late John Buck, became the bride of Don Edward Skyberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Skyberg of Newfolden, at a double ring ceremony at the Evangel Temple at Bismarch, N. D., on Saturday, September 10. Rev. Raymond Rueb of Medina, N. D., brother-in-law of the bride, officiated. Mrs. Ron Relswig of Bismarck presided at the organ and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Don Redman of Bismarck and the Rev. Raymond Rueb who sang "Each For the Other" and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Me". Baskets of white and gold colored gladioli graced the chancel for the 7:30 p. m. ceremony attended by approximately 225 friends and relatives.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, LeRoy Buck. For her wedding she chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a modified bouffant skirt. A crown of seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of bridal roses.

Mrs. Aaron Rueb of Street, N. D., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Donna Hoffman of Bismarck, N. D. a friend of the bride and Mrs. Robert Olson of Middle Riverr a sister of the groom. They wore street length gowns of burnt gold satin with white gloves and golden leaf pins, gifts from the bride. Their headpieces were matching veiled pillbox hats and each carried a colonial arrangement of yellow Mums.

Serving as flower girls were Connie Hauff of Golden Valley, N. D., and Julia Nelson of Thief River Falls, nieces of the bride and groom, respectively. They wore gold colored dresses with matching bow headpieces, white shoes and white gloves. A nephew of the groom, Daniel Trontvet of Thief River Falls was ring bearer. He was attired in a black tuxedo.

The groom was attended by his brother, Harvey Skyberg of Newfolden. Groomsmen were Lyle Molskness of Minneapolis, a friend of the groom, and Paul Rueb of Medina, N. D., a nephew of the bride. Ushers were Edward Johnson of Lancaster, brother-in-law of the groom, Jim Larsen of Minneapolis, a friend, together with Ronald Dockter of Wishek, N. D., and Reo Fandrich of Medina, N.D., nephews of the bride. The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos. The groom's boutonniere was a yellow rose. His attendants wore white carnation boutonnieres tipped with brown.

The mothers of the bride and groom were both attired in brown dresses in figured designs with coordinating accessories. Both wore identical corsages of white carnations accented with red baby roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony with the bride's mother as hostess. The square, four tiered wedding cake was trimmed with brown and gold roses and topped with a small frosted open Bible ornament inscribed with "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and the names of the couples.

Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Oscar Rueb of Bismarck, N. D., and Mrs. Ervin Schauer of Medina, N. D. Miss Bernice Schmidt of Medina and Mrs. Larry Frietag of Dickenson, N. D., served the punch while Mrs. Marvin Nelson of Thief River Falls registered the guests.

Waitresses were Marlene Miller, Joyce Mantz, Linda and Sandra Moos. With the help of the attendants, the bride and groom opened and displayed the wedding gifts.

Guests attending the wedding were from Aberdeen and Herreid, S. D., Streeter, Medina, Dickinson, Ellendale, Wishek, Golden Valley, Napoleon, New Salem and Dodge, N. D., Minneapolis, Thief River Falls, Lancaster, Newfolden and Middle River.

For traveling on a wedding trip to the Bad Lands of South Dakota, parts of North Dakota, Montana and Minnesota, the bride wore a two piece royal blue knit suit.

The bride, a graduate of Streeter high school and the Aberdeen school of Commerce, was employed before her marriage at the Bank of North Dakota, Bismarck. The groom, a graduate of Greenbush high school and the Army Postal school, was employed at Lieberman's in this city before leaving for Minneapolis where he was employed by the Twin Cities Federal Savings and Loan. He is presently attending Hub City Bible Institute at Aberdeen, S. D. The bride will be employed by the North Aberdeen National Bank. They will be at home at 620½ North Arch, Aberdeen, S. D. Oski-Kainz Vows Spoken Saturday at St. Bernard's

Miss Catherine Oski and Dennis Kainz were married at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls, Saturday, September 24. The 11 a. m. nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Keough Patnode.

Miss Erin Carlson of Thief River Fall presided at the organ for the processional and recessional. She also played "O Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast" following the vows and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" during the communion. At the conclusion of the Mass, while the bride and groom knelt in silent prayer at the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary, she played "Ave Maria". A long-stemmed white rose was left by the bride at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Oski of Goodridge and the groom is the son of Mrs. Lillian Kainz of Thief River Falls.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an antique white peau de sole floor length, A-line gown which she had styled and made. Fashioned with elbow length sleeves, high neckline and a detachable train, the gown was encircled at the empire waistline with a band of lace. Her brief bouffant veil of silk illusion was borrowed from her friend, Mrs. Bruce Russell of Thief River Falls. It flowed from a headpiece of net petals enhanced with pearls and crystal droplets. She carried an arrangement of long-stemmed white roses together with a white rosary. Providing the traditional "something blue" was a little blue medal of the Virgin Mary, a gift from the bride's mother.

Miss Judy Oski of Goodridge attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Carol Peterson of Thief River Falls, a friend of the bride. Their orange peau de sole floor-length gowns which they had styled similar to the bridal gown, were accented at the empire waistline with a band in a deeper shade of orange. To complete their attire each wore a brief orange veil secured to a deep orange peau de sole rose headpiece, matching shoes and gloves and carried an arrangement of long stemmed jack-o-lantern roses.

The groom was attended by his brothers, Dayle Kainz of Goodridge as best man and Franklyn of Minneapolis, as groomsman. Seating the guests were Edwin Hruby of Detroit Lakes and Rodney Wayne of New Brighton, friends of the couple.

The father of the bride, together with the groom, groomsmen and ushers, wore black business suits. A white rose boutonniere was worn by the groom and the bride's father. Jack-o-lantern roses composed the boutonnieres worn by the groom's attendants and white chrysanthemums were worn by the ushers.

The mother of the bride was attired in a teal blue dress with orange and black accessories. The groom's mother wore a two-piece dress of olive green with black accessories. Both wore corsages of jack-o-lantern roses and bronze mums. The two white chrysanthemum plants that graced the altar during the ceremony, were given to the mothers by the bride.

A reception dinner, given by the parents of the bride, was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. St. Ann's ladies aid of Goodridge prepared and served the meal with Mrs. George Breznay of Goodridge as hostess.

A golden Christogram, symbolizing marriage in Christ, topped the all-white four-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride and her mother and decorated by Mrs. Will Wayne of Goodridge, a friend of the family. Sisters of the bride, Mrs. Richard Grimes of Minneapolis and Kans., cut and served the cake.

Pouring were Mrs. Michael Kehoe of Ashland, Wis., sister of the bride and Mrs. Henry Lutz of St. Paul, sister of the groom. Their daughters, Carol Kehoe and Brenda Lutz served the punch. Waitresses were Carol Stenseth, Marlene Hanson, Carol Hoffman, Beverly Tvelto, all of Thief River Falls, and Marilyn Mandt of Seattle, Wash. Those in charge of serving the head table were Coleen Kehoe and Diane Lutz.

Miss Karen Svendsgaard, Miss Kathy Svendsgaard of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Edwin Hruby of Detroit Lakes opened and arranged the gifts. Presiding at the guest book were twin niece and nephew of the bride, Terry and Tim Kehoe.

Guests from a distance attending the wedding were from Wichita Kans.; Seattle, Wash.; Ashland, Wis.; Grafton and Hope, N. D.; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit Lakes, Austin and Staples.

The bride chose a two-piece emerald green dress znd black patent accessories for traveling, after the wedding trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Kainz will be at home at 4509 Oregon Avenue North, New Hope.

Selmer Sorters Honored On Their 25th Anniversary

About 150 relatives and friends attended the open-house celebration in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Sorter on Sunday afternoon, September 18. The event, in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary, was hosted by their two daughters, Mrs. Dale (Sylvia) Cole of Warroad and Julie Sorter of Middle River.

Corsages and boutonnieres, gifts from the children and grandchildren, were worn by the honored couple and by Mrs. Orlin Ness of Holt, sister of Mrs. Sorter, and Elmer Korpi, a friend and neighbor of the couple, who were attendants of the Sorters at their wedding 25 years ago. Annette Dunham of Wannaska, a niece, registered the guests.

A program was given outdoors with Mrs. Elmer Korpi presiding. Annette Dunham led in devotions, readings were given by Mrs. Gary Blucher of Wannaska, LeMae Ness of Holt and Mrs. Dale Cole of Warroad. Vocal solos included "Bless This House" by Mrs. Richard Luoto of Middle River and "The Lord's Prayer" by Sharon Gusa, also of Middle River. After the presentation of the gifts from the assembled guests the honored couple responded with thanks. Greetings by the Rev. Kenneth Kramer, who also led the group in the table prayer, concluded the program.

A reception followed. Centering the reception table was a four-tiered, silver-pillared anniversary cake decorated in pink and white, Baked and decorated by Mrs. Lawrence Lubitz, the cake was topped with a white wedding bell. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. John Cole of Warroad and Mrs. Albin Oslund of Wannaska. Mrs. Newell Dunham of Wannaska, a sister of Mr. Sorter, poured.

Guests attending were from Minneapolis, Rouseau, Warroad, Wannaska, Holt, Grygla, Middle River, Goodridge, Newfolden, Karlstad and Thief River Falls.

Robert Forsythe, Senate Candidate, Visits City Today

Robert Forsythe, Republican candidate for the United States senate, is in Thief River Falls today (Wednesday). He made personal appearances at Valley Home this morning, visited the Lions' noon meeting and met the public at a coffee hour at the Rex cafe.

Forsythe served in Washington, D. C., as administrative assistant to Ed Thye and later as assistant secretary of the department of health, education and welfare. In 1963 he was appointed by president Kennedy as a member of the Presidential commission on voter registration and participation, and he was Minnesota Republican state chairman in 1961-65. His present position is executive vice president of Consumer Financial corporation.

He graduated from St. Olaf college in 1947, received his LLB from the University of Minnesota law school in 1949, and was admitted to the Minnesota Bar association. Forsythe taught speech and coached forensics at both the College of St. Catherine and the College of St. Thomas. His honors include being listed in "Who's Who in America," and being a member of the board of regents of Augustana college.

Eighteen per cent of all nurses who graduated in 1966 had some part of their clinical experience in VA hospitals, the Veterans administration announced.

Cub Scouts Host Winnipeg Visitors

On Saturday, September 24 Cub Scout pack 59 of Zion Lutheran church held its regular meeting. The group had as its guests the representatives from the seven Oaks district, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold, president of the district, and daughter Marilyn.

Also attending were the following district cubmasters and their wives: Harold Hobbs, Walter Carter, Ernie Adolph and Don Torrance; cubmasters Len Bartlett, Ernie Marsden, Vic Savage, Dick Savage, and Ray Lewis; assistant cubmasters Bill Bridges, George Thompson and Linda Simons; and secretary - treasurer Miss Gladys Wilson.

Carter and Hobbs narrated a film of "Space Day" which was held in Winnipeg early last June. Thirty-six cubs from the local pack participated in the event.

Mike Mongoven, District Scout executive, presented C. M. Larson with the National Summertime award for conducting the local cub scout program on a 12 month basis.

Walter Carter led the group in a song fest after which the meeting was adjourned and a pot luck supper followed.

Later in the evening the Canadian guests gathered at the Ralph Foster home for a social hour. Those present from the local pack were: Rev. and Mrs. Paul Biegner, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Kritz, Mike Mongoven, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Onken, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sjulson, Mr and Mrs. Don Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McEwen and Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kritz hosted the Canadians and the following to a noon meal: Rev. and Mrs. Paul Biegner, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Onken, and Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan and family.

Later Sunday afternoon the pack guests were entertained at the Adrian Larson home at which time slides were shown of the "Space Day" event. Present from Thief River Falls were: Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kritz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sjulson, Mr. and Mrs Neil McEwen and Mr and Mrs. John Brennan.

County Is Host To Norwegian Exchange Student

Aud's father, Knut, works as a carpenter for a company in Bodo, since the 15 acres used for production of hay, potatoes and garden will not supply the family's needs. Some of the potatoes raised are sold, but most are kept for the family and together with meat and fish comprise the bulk of the daily diet.

Aud has an older sister, Anna Marie, 24, and two younger brothers, Gunnar, 15, and Dagfinn, 18. All members of the family work on the farm, particularly in haying time to provide winter feed for the cattle and sheep kept on the farm.

Since Bodo is north of the Arctic Circle, there is a period of about six weeks each year when the sun does not shine. Enough light breaks over the horizon, however, to give daylight time the appearance of a heavily overcast day.

Miss Knutsen was taught English from the sixth grade in school and is at ease in speaking the language. When she has difficulty with an explanation in English, however, Si's slightly tainted Norwegian usually provides a satisfactory outlet for translation.

Young people in the IFYE exchange join in the work of the home and farm and share in the social life of the community. From the United States, 102 young men and women from 31 states will be IFYE representatives this year in Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Ceylon, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Finland, Germany, India, Iran, Israel, Italy, Japan, Jamaica, Mexico, Nepal, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Tunisia, Turkey, United Kingdon, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Stated purpose of the program is to provide opportunities for young people to exchange ideas between rural youth organizations in other countries, develop understanding of their own and other cultures, and to make a contribution to the social and technical development of their own and other countries.

It was only a few years ago that Bill Svendsgaard, a member of the Mavie 4-H club in Pennington county, was an IFYE student in Switzerland.

GUEST speaker at the Assemblies of God tabernacle, 315 Duluth av. N., at 11 a.m. Sunday will be Rev. Julius Olson, an appointed Assemblies of God missionary to Brazil. Rev. Olson and his wife first went to Brazil in 1946, and ended their second term of missionary service in September, 1956. They are preparing for a third term. He will show slides and tell about various occasions when he narrowly escaped with his life during severe persecution, and of the spiritual revival in Brazil. At the 7:45 p.m. service Missionary Ray Trask will be the special speaker. He is the son of Rev. Waldo Trask, former pastor of the local tabernacle, and was one of the last to leave Burma in response to the government order for all missionaries to leave the country. The public is invited to both services.

REV. Gordon Meyer, pastor of Park Avenue Covenant church of Minneapolis will be the guest preacher for a series of special services sponsored by the Mission Covenant church of Thief River Falls. The series begins Sunday, October 2, and continues through Sunday, October 9. Meetings will be held each evening at 7:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. On the first Sunday he will speak at the Sunday school rally at 9:45 a.m. and on both Sundays he will bring the messages at services at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. The public is invited. Having served Covenant churches over a period of years, Rev. Meyer came to the Park Avenue church last spring from Minnehaha academy in Minneapolis where he was teacher of Bible and assistant to the president.

Administrator Appointed for Hillcrest Home

Hillcrest Nursing home board announced today that Mrs. Joseph Pinsonneault has been named to succeed Mrs. Earl Jensen as administrator of the home in Red Lake Falls.

Mrs. Pinsonneault received her high school diploma at Red Lake Falls in 1940 and graduated from the St. John's hospital school of nursing at Fargo, N. D. in 1944. She has served as a registered nurse at St. Vincent's hospital and St. Francis' hospital in Crookston and at St. John's hospital in Red Lake Falls. She was employed by the Red Lake Falls Clinic as office nurse for three years.

Mrs. Pinsonneault was initially hired in the capacity of nursing supervisor at Hillcrest on April 18, 1966.

Hillcrest Nursing home is presently being expanded from a 45-bed to a 75-bed nursing care facility. This building program will be completed April 1, 1967. Along with the additional room for 30 nursing care patients, the building plans call for greatly expanded room for patient activities. Additional staff will be added in April and women interested in employment at Hillcrest are asked to contact Mrs. Pinsonneault.

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation and thanks to those relatives and friends who were so kind and helpful during the illness and then at the time of the passing of our dear wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Knutson of Bemidji. A special thank you to the Bemidji friends and relatives, the Pastor Williams and Pastor Peterson for their comforting words, Mrs. Jerome Skelm, organist; Mrs. Peter G. Gaudarud, soloist; Olson Funeral home for their effecient services, the honorary and active pallbearers, to the Eastern Star, to Our Mother's circle, and the neighbors for the food and the serving of it at three special meals; also to Mrs. Hegman's Bible group for the Bible given in memory of our loved one to be placed on the Altar at the First Lutheran church on Sunday, Oct. 2 at 11 o'clock service.

Also our heartful thanks to Pastor S. J. Sigurgeirson, Grygla, for his comforting words to the pupils, teachers, cooks and custodian of the Grygla school for their thoughtfulness at this time. Special thanks to all who sent cards, memorials and flowers or helped in anyway.

It is indeed gratifying to know our loved one had so many friends and relatives. God bless each and everyone of you. Thomas Knutson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knutson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Halver Reise and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Knutson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelsen. 1t76c

Card of Thanks

Sincere thanks to relatives and friends for cards, letters and visits, while I was a patient at Northwestern hospital, and also to the doctors and nurses for their care. Mrs. Joel Sistad. 1t76p

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Torjus G. Flom who passed away Aug. 17th, 1966.

You left a beautiful memory and a sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who have loved you and lost you, your memory will never grow old.
Always a silent heartache, many a silent tear, but always a beautiful memory of one we loved so
dear.
God gave us strength to bear it,
and courage to take the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
no one will ever know.

Sadly missed by his wife Ella, brother Nels, sisters, Hilma, Clara and Mabel. 1t76p

The Goose Honks High

In the breasts of hunters and fishermen, hope springs eternal, and that's how it will be on Saturday when, at 12 o'clock noon, Central Daylight Time, the goose hunting season in Minnesota opens.

The duck season, and the sharp-tailed grouse and partridge (ruffed grouse) season will open at noon on Saurday, October 8.

But it's the geese that will be the target of the magnum loads and the number two shot this week. And from the reports that I have received from hunters who have been on numerous scouting trips, and from personal observation, there appears to be quite a concentration of geese in Thief Lake and the Agassiz refuges. And these geese have been on feeding flights.

But much of the prime hunting land is being posted tightly, and the ordinary hunter will have difficulty in finding a promising location, especially if he wishes to get into some field shooting at geese. Of course, there is the public hunting area in Thief lake, and there is always the chance that a gaggle of geese will fly over a hunter who is well-concealed in the rushes. It's about like playing bingo.

The geese out of Agassiz have, it appears, established a pattern that finds the birds moving out to the south-east and north-east. And there are some birds that swing out over the north-west corner, too.

But it is admitted that the prospects are not as bright as last season. And as one inveterate goose hunter said: "Be sure to bring a transister radio along, and a big lunch, and the afternoon won't be a complete bust."

Some of the sportsmen may take the day off and go up to Lake of the Woods and try their luck at catching a mess of walleyes. It's a fact that the walleyes have been hitting. On Saturday, Ear Arnold acted as guide for Lloyd Samuelson and Ray Thyren, taking the boys to the weed beds off Popple Point in Buffalo Bay, and the party netted 26 walleyes.

And Norma Jean Looker, Mrs. John Helm and Lois Helm made a limit catch of walleyes at Morris Point on Saturday morning. And this I know as I saw their stringer of fish. Art Johnson and I got up there a bit after dinner, about two o'clock or so, and had a miserable time with the line squalls that drove through the gap and we each caught a walleye. But the others were catching fish, so it must be that Art and I have lost our touch.

And a week or so ago Harry Phillips and Frank Klein made a fine catch of walleyes at Morris Point. The fish were of a size that Harry's wife questoned the catch, asking if Harry and Frank had purchased the pike at a fishery. But they were caught on a minnow and spinner combination.

On Collision Course

It is evident from the football conversations I have had with North Dakota fans, that the North Dakota State and the North Dakota University football teams are priming for a "battle royal". The North Dakota State Bison have been carrying the rating as the number one team in the small college category; and the North Dakota Sioux are rated as number three or four Forrest Johnson of East Grand Forks, who had a son playing with the East Grand Forks Green Wave here on Friday night, quarterback Wade Johnson, has been officiating several games for the North Dakota State squad. Forrest says that the Fargo school has a powerful and versatile squad, and he would give the club a slight edge over the Sioux.

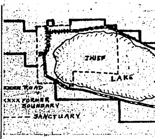
And on the other hand I have had talks with fans who were impressed by Marv Helling's Sioux, especially the passing of Coley Colehour and the running of Pete Porinsh.

On the local level, coach Jim Sims' Prowlers received a boost to their morale this week when halfback Dave Halvorson, who had been sidelined since the Grafton game because of an injured right knee, reported for practice. It is possible that Dave will see limited action against the Grand Forks Redskins on Friday afternoon. Don't forget, the Prowlers vs. Grand Forks game is slated for 4 p.m. on Friday in the UND Memorial stadium.

WORKHORSE of the East Grand Forks team, especially during the first half of the game here Friday night, was fullback Jacque Soltis (32) Coming up to make a stop on Soltis' first period off-tackle rush are Prowlers' Duane Morben (42) and Bill Dicken (31). East Grand Forks won the game, 32-6.



HUNTERS taking to the field for the opening of goose season Saturday and duck season on October 8 are advised by the Minnesota conservation department of a change in the sanctuary boundary at the Thief Lake wildlife management area. As noted on the map above, the sanctuary line has been moved north and west in part of the area. Hunters are cautioned to pay careful attention to posted signs to avoid hunting in the sanctuary area. Shooting hours begin at noon for geese October 1 and ducks October 8, with shooting from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset permitted except for the opening days.

JUST ABOUT a dead heat was the first place finish in the cross-country meet held here Thursday afternoon. Coach Roger Solheim's Prowlers defeated coach Rod Max's International Falls Broncos, 15-53. In this finish, with both runners being timed at 9:43, Jim Gibson, left, edged out teammate Gary LaValley. In an invitational meet held at Crookston on Friday morning, the Prowlers, with 27 points, scored a win. The Bemidji Lumberjacks were a distant second.

Prowler Cross Country Squad Wins Two Meets

Coach Roger Solheim's Prowler cross country squad won a pair of meets last week. On Thursday afternoon the locals defeated the International Falls Broncos, 15 to 53, in a meet held here. And on Friday morning, in an invitational at Crookston, the Prowlers finished first in a six-team competition, having 27 points to Bemidji's runner-up total of 60.

Against the Falls' Broncos here on Thursday, Jim Gibson, Gary LaValley, Larry Johnson, Doug Knutson and Russ Delorme finished in that order to mark up a "perfect" 15-point total. Gibson and LaValley finished the course in a near-tie, having a time of 9:43.

At Crookston on Friday morning, Bagley's Tom Beltz, in 8:41, gained first place. Gibson had an 8:43 for second place. Middle River's Roger Larson had a time of 8:44 for third place. LaValley was fourth, Knutson was sixth, Delorme was seventh and Johnson was eighth to give the Prowlers their 27-point total.

Other team totals wee Bemidji, 60; Middle River, 79; Bagley, 106; Crookston, 127; and Fosston, 156.

The cross country schedule:

Saturday, Oct. 1, Bemidji State invitational, 10:30 a.m.
Tuesday, Oct. 4, Triangular at Bagley, 5 p.m.
Thursday, Oct. 6, at International Falls, 6 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 8, Oak Grove invitational, Fargo, 10 a.m.
Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Grand Forks St. James, 5 p.m.
Thursday, Oct. 13, Thief River Falls invitational, 5 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 15, Northwest conference meet, Crookston, 11 a.m.
Saturday, Oct. 22, Regional meet at Crookston, 10 a.m.

Agassiz Refuge Pays Marshall County $11,386

Bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service announced that $11,386.32 has been paid to Marshall county by the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge. Claude R. Alexander, refuge manager, presented a check for that amount to county officials last week.

This money has been made available under the refuge revenue sharing act of 1964, Public Law 88-523.

In brief, the law provides for the use of a new formula to determine payments to counties. It requires annual payment of 25 per cent of the net receipts from reserved public domain lands to the counties in which such bureau land are situated. Counties containing lands acquired in fee by the bureau will receive three-fourths of one per cent of the current value of these areas annually or 25 per cent of the net receipts collected by the bureau from such lands, whichever is the greater.

The three-fourths of one per cent formula is applied to the current value of the land, not to the assessed value, which is generally considerably less. The current value of refuge lands will be adjusted by the Secretary of the Interior at five-year intervals to reflect changes in land prices.

The law requires that these funds are to be expended by the county for the benefit of both public schools and roads in the county. The law further stipulates that before this money can be made available, the county must make assurance to comply with title VI of the civil rights act of 1964.

The return to Marshall county this year under the new law represents better than an 18-fold increase over last year's payment of $615.14.

Bemidji—Roseau Game Featured In NW Conference

The Northwest conference football title could be decided this week, and the game that could be a factor in determining the champion for the 1966 season is the Bemidji Lumberjacks vs. the Roseau Rams on Friday night.

A week ago the Bemidji squad, the defending champions, defeated a strong East Grand Forks team, and this week the 'Jacks will be meeting coach Kay Kavanagh's undefeated Roseau Rams. If Bemidji is successful in hurdling the Rams' barricade, the 'Jacks will be heavily favored to defeat Crookston and Thief River Falls in their remaining conference games.

In the lone conference game on last week's slate, coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks Green Wave with a strong running attack centered around fullback Jacque Soltis, defeated the Thief River Falls Prowlers, 32 to 6, in a game played at Thief River Falls. The Green Wave gained a 19-0 first half lead to control the tempo of the game, and it was only in the final minutes of the contest that the Prowlers were able to get on the scoreboard, with halfback John Womack taking a pitchout from quarterback Bob Brodin and circling end for four yards and a touchdown.

Pennington 4-H Members Attend Livestock Show

Roderic Jones, 16-year-old 4-H'er from Lake Crystal, won the grand champion beef award—keeping it in the family for the second straight year—at the Minnesota 4-H market livestock show last week.

His brother, Ronald, won the award at last year's show showing an Angus steer. This year, Roderic exhibited a 1,005-pound Angus steer to top all entrants in the beef division. He has been in 4-H for eight years and this was his third year at the show.

Some 750 4-H members from throughout Minnesota showed livestock at the show on the state fair grounds, September 19-21. Pennington county entrants and exhibits were Diane Timm and Julie Oen, steers; Gary Oen, barrow, and Jerry Owen, market lamb.

The reserve champion beef was another Angus shown by Mary Jean Burke, 17, Blooming Prairie. Miss Burke has been a 4-H member for nine years. Don Theuninck, 19, Marshall, won the champion beef showman award. He was secretary of the Minnesota 4-H federation in 1965-66. Jay Baumgard, 15, Brewster, was reserve champion beef showman.

Gary Hull, 12-year-old 4-H member from Waubun, received the grand champion lamb award as his Hampshire topped the lamb division. This was his first year at the show. Hull has had the lamb project since joining 4-H three years ago.

Lyndon Severtson, 15-year-old 4-H'er from Hills, and his purebred Poland China barrow won the grand champion swine award. He has been in 4-H for five years and this is his second year at the market livestock show.

Eight Local MEA Members Attend Fall Workshop

Eight members of the Thief River Falls Education association attended the Northern Division Minnesota Education association fall workshop Saturday, September 17, a Cass Lake.

Grace Hartji represented the association at the professional rights and responsibilities committee meeting; Lawrence Brown on the legislative committee; Robert Wilson and Patrick Klemisch on the economic welfare committe; Sam Porter on the public relations and American Education Week committee; and Edith Etter on the department of classroom teachers committee. Orall Johnson attended a meeting of the Northern Division presidents representing the presidents of the various locals in the division. Frank Hamerlinck presided over the workshop general sessions.

The film, "National Convention Highlights," played a prominent part in the workshop. The session closed with the formal launching of campaign activities for A. J. Kramer of Roseau, MEA vice president, who is seeking the office of president.

State High in Obligated Funds For Highways

Minnesota ranked second in the nation in obligation of federal funds for regular trunk highways on the federal aid system as of July 31, 1966, according to figures released by the U. S. bureau of public roads.

The state had obligated 87 per cent of its available funds while the national average was 39 per cent. Louisiana, the only state that ranked higher than Minnesota, had obligated 88 per cent of its available funds.

Minnesota ranked above the national average in the obligation of interstate funds. While the national average was 59 per cent, Minnesota had obligated 68 per cent of available federal funds.

Minnesota was tied with seven other states for 10th place in the nation for obligation of available highway funds for interstate and federal - aid trunk highways combined. Minnesota had obligated 73 per cent of available funds by July 31. The national average was 54 per cent.

Funds allotted to the 50 states by the bureau of public roads are federally - collected highway users taxes, most of which are held in trust for highway construction purposes.

Veterans administration hospitals are affiliated with 75 of the nation's 88 medical schools for teaching programs, the VA reports.

Drinking Drivers Involved in Many Fatal Accidents

Drinking drivers were involved in more than one out of five fatal accidents in Minnesota in 1965, a Minnesota highway study indicates. About half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents had not been drinking, and the condition of the remaining 30 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents was not established, the study of 1965 accidents revealed.

In non-fatal accidents the proportion of drinking drivers involved fell to one in 10, while the ratio of non-drinking drivers rose to two out of three.

Speeding also was a factor in the more serious accidents, the study indicates. "The percentage of drivers drinking and speeding increases in proportion to the severity of the accident," says the study. Speeders were involved in 23 per cent of the fatal accidents and 11.4 per cent of the non-fatal accidents.

Although possession and consumption of intoxicating liquor is forbidden to persons younger than 21 under Minnesota law one in seven of the drinking dirvers involved in fatal accidents was found to be under 21. One in 14 was 18 or younger. The study found the greatest concentration, 20 per cent, of drinking drivers involved in accidents in the 21 to 25 age group. This group comprises 10 per cent of the total driving population.

Police Report Two Mishaps

Two automobile accidents with estimated damage totaling $490 were reported today by the Thief River Falls police department.

Saturday at 10:30 a.m. a car driven by Mrs. Helen Christensen, rt. 3, was traveling east on Third street and struck a vehicke driven by Roy Loken, rt. 3, which had been proceeding north on Atlantic avenue, stopped for the stop sign at Third and entered the intersection. Damage was estimated at $105 to the Christensen car and $85 to the Loken vehicle. Charges are pending.

Sunday at 1:45 a.m. a car driven by Charles Svendsguard, Goodridge, was traveling west on Eighth street and struck a parked car owned by Arthur Koglin, city, which was parked near 603 East Eighth st. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Svendsguard car and $100 to the Koglin vehicle.

Gladiolus can be dug and stored as soon as the new corm is well formed and the tops begin to show signs of maturity. It is not necessary for the tops to be killed by frost before digging the glad corms.

The glads should be dug very gently by lifting them with either a spading fork or shovel. This is to bring them out of the soil and still preserve the cormel or small bulblets at the base of the newly formed corm. After the glads are dug, the tops can be cut back to four or six inches. These are then placed in a shallow tray or net bag for curing.

Because the curing temperature should not exceed 95 degrees, the corms should not be left in full sun but rather placed in a dry, well ventilated, cool location. The garage or porch is an excellent place for curing them.

After the curing process the glads may be cleaned by removing the mother from the base of the newly formed corm as well as the tops or flower stalk. The corms are then ready to be placed in winter storage.

The desirable temperature for winter storage is 33 to 40 degrees with low humidity. The corms should be placed in well ventilated containers in a location where they can be protected from freezing. A five per cent DDT dust will protect the corms against thrips.

Inspect the corms during winter storage to see that no rot diseases are developing or that growth is taking place. Any rotting corms should be removed and the storage conditions should be checked.

More than four million veterans who served in the armed forces since the end of the Korean conflict are eligible for benefits under the new GI bill, the Veterans administration says.

Rising Prices

Roy Harrison, president, American Institute of Food Distribution Inc., in an article, "What's the Real Cause of Rising Food Prices?" in the institute's Weekly Digest, writes

"Those who are currently calling for yet more investigations of the food industry, those who would blame the farmer, those who see "profiteering" as the problem - all of these people might do better to forget about the food indusrry as a unit for a while and call for an investigation of just what has been inflating the general cost of doing business - not just the food business, but all business.

"If anyone is to blame for rising prices - and if "blame" is the word - it would seem to be a general society that espouses many fine goals, but is unhappy when it comes time to pay for them. However admirable the goals, if society is going to insist on increased Social Security, Medicare, higher minimum wages, Government spending in excess of Government income, aid to needy people overseas and at home, elimination of foreign labor and increased pay for domestic harvest crews, higher incomes for farmers, larger unemployment compensation etc., etc., etc., etc., - then the general cost of doing business is going to continue to rise. And these rises, of necessity will show up in higher prices. He who calls the tune pays the piper!"

Medical Costs Soaring

Food for thought comes from this editorial in the Los Angeles Times:

Medical and hospital costs were rising faster than consumer prices for many years before the advent of medicare and medicaid. Such charges have gone up 25 per cent since 1958. In the last year the increase has been 5 per cent. But the truly disturbing figure is the reported 7 per cent increase in the last month. Even the most ardent advocates of the federal programs must be startled by ballooning cost estimates. The medicaid program was assigned an initial - year price tag of 250 million dollars. Thus far 19 states, including California are participating and the cost projection is now said to be nearing 700 million dollars. If the bulk of the states sign up the cost might sour into the billions. Under medicare a physician is reimbursed at "reasonable and customary rates" for patients normally charged the least under a sliding fee system. Hospitals are paid on a fee basis for some services normally provided by personnel on straight salary. Some federal fees are higher than those paid by leading health insurance programs and thus pressure is generated for an increase in the voluntary program rates. That raises a possibility that some private insurance programs might be driven to the wall.

Three years ago an official of the American Medical Association deemed it quite possible that hospital charges might reach $100 a day by 1970.

Obviously some brakes have to be applied somewhere along the line. It would be unfair to place all the blame on the federal programs yet, very plainly, those programs and how they are administered loom as a major factor in spiraling costs.

Want to Play Editor?

Columnist Wallie Nelson commented in an exchange paper recently on some of the things a newspaper editor must contend with in a normal day. He missed a few things, but here are some of his thoughts:

"Explain to Mrs. Smith why Aunt Sarah's 85th birthday party was not on the front page last week. Explain to an advertiser why he can't have page three. Explain to an ex-subscriber why you had to cut him off the mailing list. Explain deadlines 40 times a day and why you have to have them. Try to explain why you don't run a poetry column. Sooth a lady who brought in her party news too late. Explain why some weeks you have news running out of your ears and other weeks the paper reads like a report on Amalgamated Steel.

"Apologize to an advertiser for a mistake in his last week's ad. Then smile sweetly while he tells you that you should be digging ditches instead of editing a newspaper. Decipher copy that comes in written on check backs, a milk bill, a corner from junior's arithmetic paper, paper napkins or on the back of letter from Uncle Frank.

"Pat a linotyper who is getting fed up with his job or as he claims, a machine that's held together with baling wire. Or try to find what is wrong with the job lino which has been showing signs of being as nervous as a cow in buck season. Cope with a folder that is antisocial and wallowing in its own importance.

"Try placating an advertiser who wants his ads canceled because certain goods have failed to arrive, when his ad has already been printed on the first run. Tell the banker, when he calls, that you know that your note is way past due, but you'll make a payment in a couple of weeks. Try to explain to a club secretary why she can't have her meeting notice on the front page. Try to convince her that it isn't exactly news, and it would cost her a lot more to mail out notices. You refrain from mentioning anything about being lazy. (She could phone all the club members.).

"This all sounds like it must have been the day before press day. You have a lot more to do, but you put it off until after the final press run the next day, sort of hoping that those problems will go away all by themselves.

"Would you still like to own a newspaper? We know where there are several for sale."

Equal—But Different

In a recent release from the U. S. Department of Labor, secretary W. Willard Wirtz notes that negro employees inthe department have made "very notable" gains over the past five years.

Secretary Wirtz is said to be determined that the department set an example in equal employment opportunity on its staff. He states that more than half of the department's negro workers are now in the middle pay grades (971 receiving from $5,331 to $12,056) and 148 are in the upper grades ($10,927 to $25,890). Proportion of negro workers in the clerical grades has been reduced from 68.7 per cent to 41.9 per cent.

The department employs 9,272 workers with 1,929 or 20.8 per cent negroes. Secretary Wirtz says this data ". . .shows encouraging and dramatic progess in the labor department's equal employment opportunity program over the past five years."

We say it proves nothing of the kind.

It proves that the labor department is making a special effort to appeal to negroes as a race rather than as individuals. It mentions nothing about "equal opportunity" for American Indians, Chinese or Japanese—also minority groups but less vocal and less numerous.

It also proves that the labor department wants the public to believe it considers negroes "equal" but actually considers them different. If not, why would the department have special data dealing specifically with negro employees?

Are negro leaders seeking equality or supremacy? Is the labor department concerned about equality or favoritism? Does civil rights apply only to the negro? Is it possible to be equal but still different?

Choosing Sides

November election time is scarcely more than a month away, and voters throughout Minnesota who have not made up their minds on candidates will have to choose sides soon. This is not always easy to do, for it is difficult to explain how you can be "for" someone without being "against" someone else. Somewhere, somehow, sometime, someone is going to be offended by your choice.

Anyone who enters the field of politics, however, must do so with the idea that he can not expect support from everyone. He can look forward to public scrutiny and exposure and must be cautious of his actions. In other words, he leaves the comforts of a cozy living room for life in a fish bowl.

The politicianif he is to be a true gentlemen—must not resent his opposition. He must realize that he himself is an opponent, and the best he can expect is to rally a majority of voters to his support. The area of politics is not one in which unanimity of opinion is possible—nor is it desirable. Our American way of life is dependent upon the freedom of the individual to disagree.

As the election draws closer, this newspaper will be choosing sides. We will be naming names, expressing opinions, presenting reasons. We will be "for" some candidates and "against" others. Some candidates and their supporters are going to be unhappy. We offer them our public opinion column to reply to our editorial comment if they desige. We feel this is fair.

We intend to carry no running fued with any office seeker. Any candidate who feels he wishes to reply to an editorial may do so with the assurance that we will not editorially "answer" his public opinion letter. This would be taking unfair advantage of our situation.

It is our feeling, however, that discussion of public issues is important to our free society, and that we cannot in good conscience refrain from stepping on a few toes if it seems necessary to illustrate a point. We don't expect everyone to agree, but we want you to read, to discuss, to think and to decide for yourself.

Another Attraction

If you are starved for entertainment or simply enjoy a hearty laugh once in awhile, be sure to attend the Community Theatre's production of "Bell, Book and Candle" next week. The local group will stage the play Monday through Wednesday at the Lincoln high school auditorium.

As in the case with most fledgling organizations, the community theatre group has not been without its problems. Many organizations in addition to family and business life compete for the time of area residents, making it difficult to attract large numbers to a particular cause.

Commendation is due to the stalwarts of the community theatre, however, for they have not only maintained the organization but have done a creditable job of presenting two previous plays. It is anticipated that the forthcoming production will be equally as entertaining, and use of the Lincoln high school auditorium rather than the city auditorium should add much to the staging and to the comfort of the audience.

While the actors and the production staff enjoy their participation, they do their best when they perform before a large and receptive audience. This can be provided only by an interested and appreciative community. Why not plan now to be in attendance one of the three nights, and invite a friend to attend with you? The theatre group deserves your support.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dahl and Wayne of Minneapolis were overnight visitors at the Berton Johnson home a week ago Sunday.

Good Cheer Club met Wednesday at the Daryl Lewis home with Mrs. Berton Johnson and Mrs. Donovan Dyrdal assisting hostesses, and Mrs. George Solney and Ronnie as guests. It was decided that the gowns to be made and sent to the home for retarded children at Brainerd should be completed and brought to the October meeting. This will be a month earlier than decided previously. Also, any old purses, containing perhaps a piece of discarded jewelry or a small mirror, and sensible shoes or good usable pieces of clothing will be collected at this next meeting to be sent along with the gowns. A short program consisting of readings was presented, after which the hostesses served lunch and a social afternoon enjoyed.

Mrs. Daryl Lewis was an afternoon coffee guest of Mrs. Marvin Olson in Rocksbury a week ago Tuesday. Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wally Lamb and family of Warren were brief callers at the Lewis home and Mrs. I. E. Dyrdal was a supper guest there, and Mrs. Don Dyrdal was a Sunday brunch guest of Mrs. Lewis.

Daryl Lewis was a Sunday dinner guest at the Leroy Schalin home of rural St. Hilaire after assisting the Roger Dyrdal family there in the moving of their household belongings.

In the Thief River Falls Area,
1967's going to be an In year
at your Quality Buick dealer's. GM

IN BUICK '67
Your Quality Buick dealer says "Now!" like nobody else. He's got a line of cars new from engines to brakes to the new GM safety features. And nothing's now-er than the Buick look. You could spend a lot of time just looking. But wait till you get your hands on the keys to one of these '67 Buicks. You think they're going to be easy to give up? Come to think of it, why should you give them up? Four out of five new-car buyers pay Buick sized prices. Make sure you get the Buick, and all the good things that go with it.

NATIONAL 4H CLUB WEEK

September 24 — October 1

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

Pennington, Minnesota

WHEREAS the 4-H Club Program has since its beginning, over 50 years ago, contributed much to the health and welfare of the nation and has encouraged many young people to choose careers which help improve family and community living; and

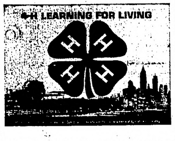
WHEREAS 4-H members put into practice the skills and science they learn through their 4-H projects and activities and strive -'To Make the Best Better", the motto of 4-H Club work. and

WHEREAS young people, who are the citizens of tomorrow, must discover and acquire the virtues of responsibility, thoughtfulness, morality, and understanding in these changing times; and

WHEREAS the 472 boys and girls now enrolled in 4-H Clubs throughout Pennington County, under the guidance of adult leaders, will soon be establishing homes of their own and taking their places in society as community leaders:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Glenn Tasa, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County, in recognition of the fine achievements of 4-H members and their families, do hereby proclaim the week of September 24 — October 1 as NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK IN PENNINGTON COUNTY.

JOIN 4-H



We join with other firms of Thief River Falls in saluting the 4-H Clubs of the area during National 4-H Club Week.

4-H is in a sense building. Yes, building not with hammer and nails but rather with Head and Hands. Building constantly for a better America through numerous club projects. 4-H Club Leaders play an all important role in this phase of the 4-H program. Without their efforts 4-H could not possibly succeed.

AS THEY LEARN, THEY SERVE . . .
AND THE FUTURE IS BRIGHTER

With pride, we salute our local 4-H members, for their efforts and achievements. Through their Head . . . Heart . . . Hands . . . Health program, they are learning better ways of farming and homemaking, better ways of working together, better citizenship for a brighter tomorrow. Valuable 4-H training for our youngsters means much to our community today . . . and will mean still more tomorrow, for experience shows that the worthwhile work, the aims and ideals of 4-H, do much to foster the priceless qualities of leadership. We take pleasure in congratulating our 4-H boys and girls, and we wish them the best of success in all their projects.

Step Into The 4-H Picture

4-H Club work is a program of and for the people. Young folks from 10 to 21 years of age enjoy themselves while learning useful skills through 4-H projects. Their parents and other adults in the community derive great satisfaction from serving as volunteer 4-H Club leaders. In addition, businessmen, educators and other far-seeing citizens help to provide incentives to 4-H members. You, too, can have a place in the 4-H picture. REMEMBER "THE GOOD OLD DAYS"

Picture Courtesy Minnesota Historical Society
Threshing . . . what an undertaking it used to be! Crews of threshers would move it . . . it would take three weeks to do the work now done in three days. And the food! It took tons of food to feed the crews, all prepared on a wood-burning stove. Just as farming has modernized and progressed, so has electricity. Scenes like the above are now disappearing from the American scene, while dependable rural electricity lightens the work load of the farm family.

Area Can Raise More Livestock, Professor Says

Favorable changes in the milk price situation recently have made dairying a more appealing enterprise, and may stimulate expansion of the industry in the Northern Great Lakes region, according to C. L. Cole of the University of Minnesota.

Cole, professor and head of the Department of animal science at the university, wondered out loud at Bemidji recently about whether this is the kind of agricultural development this area needs.

Speaking at the quarterly meeting of the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development committee, a citizen's committee dedicated to the development of the 81 counties in northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, Cole suggested that "we look toward the development of other animal enterprises to supplement our animal agriculture in the area."

Since milk processing facilities have not developed while dairy cow numbers decreased, Cole feels that a great increase in milk production might create a situation that would be undesirable from a processing standpoint.

"I believe we have come fairly close to a rather stable situation of supply and demand in the area, which means that the dairy industry can be profitable for the men who are now in it.

"We are still one of the greatest forage producing areas ever known, he said, "and we must take advantage of this real asset in terms of feeding all types of ruminant animals."

As possible additions to animal industry in the area, Cole suggested cow-calf production, as well as the production of sheep and feeder calves. He told committee members that there are some real possibilities for the northern area if an attempt is made to balance agriculture properly.

"I doubt that there is any question but what American agriculture is out of the 'pay-for-not-producing' phase," he said, "And with our rising interest in international agriculture and helping to feed the hungry nations of the world, we have an opportunity to produce to the extent of our ability."

The development committee meets quarterly to consider opportunities for development in the area. It makes recommendations to the states, the federal government and other concerned groups.

Davison Lauds Grant to Fosston Civic Building

Keith C. Davison, Seventh District candidate for Congress, said last night that he was "pleased to note the earmarking of $269,834 in federal funds for construction of a civic center in the village of Fosston.

Davison speaking at a "Meet-The-Candidates" session in Wadena termed the approval of the grant reservation "additional specific evidence of the progress that is being achieved in our local communities through combined federal and local resources."

The preliminary approval of the grant was announced Tuesday by the department of housing and urban development. Funds are to be used to help build a planned $404,731 civic center to be named for the late A. O. (Spot) Reierson of Fosston. Programs and services to be offered in the new center include adult education, employment, health welfare, farm and homemaking services, recreational activities, vocational rehabilitation and cultural events.

"Like so-many other worthwhile projects now going forward in the communities of our Congressional district, this project would not have been possible had the votes of my opponent prevailed in Congress," said Davison.

Davison added that his opponent was "apparently sleeping on the job when the people of Fosston secured approval for their project. The first my opponent knew of this project was reportedly when the department of housing and urban development made the announcement this past week. Not only has my opponent failed to establish a record in Congress," said Davison, "but it is quite evident that he has failed to keep himself informed of the wants, needs and desires of his constituents as well".

"I think we can do better," Davison concluded.

Loan Awarded To Build Pine River Sawdust Plant

Approval of a $39,845 loan to help establish a sawdust processing plant at Pine River was announced recently by Eugene P. Foley, assistant secretary of commerce for economic development. Funds are from the Economic Development administration, U. S. department of commerce.

Sawdust processed at the Natural Wood Products plant will be used for poultry and animal bedding and for mulch. The plant is expected to provide year-round employment for seven persons.

Processing will consist of dehydrating and sterilizing sawdust. The product will be bagged for marketing. Turkey producers in Minnesota and Iowa are expected to be the leading customers.

Total cost of the plant is $61,300. The state of Minnesota is making a loan of $12,260, the local development corporation is providing $3,065 and the applicant has $6,130 in equity to complete the financing. The EDA loan is for 10 years at 4 and five-eighths per cent interest annually.

EDA was set up under the public works act of 1965 to aid areas with lagging economies. Cass county, in which Pine River is located, is qualified for assistance under terms of the act.

State Historcial Society Offers Voyageur Record

"Alouette" is a hardy song of the 17th, 18th and early 19th-century French voyageurs, chanted with gusto and in tempo with their even strokes as they guided huge birchbark canoes along lakes and rivers from Montreal to the Pacific.

It is also one of 12 selections now available on a 33 1-3 rpm. long-play record, "The Song of the Voyageurs," produced by the Minnesota Historical society. The songs are from the voyageur era, sung in French.

Songs of the voyaguers were folk music, passed along in sound, not writing. The number of verses was dictated by the ingenuity of the individual singer.

Attention was given to choosing a chorus for the record, for the singers would have to be at ease with the French language. From the Universite de Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada, the only French - language degree-granting university in the province, the farmed Universite de Moncton Male Choir, directed by Father Neil Michaud, C.S.C., was decided upon.

Accompanying the record and bound into the jacket, is a booklet prepared especially for the project by Dean Theodore C. Blegen, which explains the role of the voyageurs in the early exploration and commerce of Canada and the northern United States.

The record will be available directly from the society or through normal retail outlets.

For additional information, write Voyageurs Record, Minnesota Historical Society, Cedar & Central, St. Paul, Minnesota, 55101.

Ride the Wide-Track winning streak!

From the same drawing board that gave you Grand Prix, GTO and Overhead Cam Six now come the newest Pontiacs since the invention of Wide-Track!

You're looking at the most beautiful Pontiacs ever to ride on Wide-Track. The incomparable GTO returns with a 335-hp 400 cubic inch engine under a magnificently refined new skin. Or you can order the 255-hp version or the fabulous new 360-hp Quadra-Power 400. And for the first time, you can order your GTO with our famous three-speed Turbo Hydra-Matic.

The Le Mans and Tempests come back better than ever. Bright new interiors. Bold new colors.

A 165-hp Overhead Cam Six is standard. Or you can specify a 215-hp version, a 250-hp regular gas V-8 or its 285-hp premium gas cousin. Or step into the neatest grand touring car this side of the Atlantic with our OHC 6 Sprint package.

Our big Pontiacs are new from the famous split grille to the slickest innovation of the year—disappearing windshield wipers! They're less subject to freezing. And only Pontiac has them.

Also new: a Grand Prix convertible!

There are now 400 and 428 cubic inch V-8s. New safety features such as front seat belt retractors, a four-way traffic hazard flasher, folding front seat back latches and General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column.

Of course, all Pontiacs come with the road-hugging security of Wide-Track.

HOW MANY POINTS HAS YOUR SAVINGS ACCOUNT GONE UP THIS YEAR?

If you had put $25,000 in a savings account on January 3 of this year, by September 2 that $25,000 would have bought stocks that were priced at $29,675 on January 3. This means that your savings account increased 18.7% in stock purchasing power in addition to paying generous earnings over this period. (These figures are based upon the Dow Jones Industrial Average stocks at the market close on these dates.)

We're not saying that it is unwise to invest in the stock market. Far from it. The stock market is a vital part of our national economy, and stockbrokers perform a useful and necessary function.

What we are saying is that many investors keep a substantial part of their estates in savings accounts in Insured Savings and Loan Associations such as ours. They have safety, liquidity and good earnings. And, if the stock market goes down, the value of their savings accounts goes up in terms of the number of shares of stocks they can buy. How many points has your savings account gone up this year?

Federal Reserve Bank Gives Monthly Review

Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis reported today that economic statistical indicators for the Ninth Federal Reserve district continue to measure strength in general business conditons.

The most recent data indicates a renewal of strength following an April-May pause in some statistical series. Industrial output as measured by the district's industrial use of electric power has shown gains, particularly in the minerals industries. Gains in manufacturing have been led by fabricated metals and machinery industries.

Retail spending in the district has continued substantially above year-earlier levels, and recently has shown a somewhat stronger trend than in the nation as a whole. The 11 per cent district increase from the year earlier may be due partly to a substantial increase in the purchasing power of agriculture in 1966.

Although the number of construction contracts let in the district increased in earlier months, as credit has steadily tightened some evidence of a slowdown more recently has appeared. The valuation of building permits issued during the first six months of this year was about seven per cent below the same peroid of 1965. The weakness was primarily centered in residential building.

District cash receipts from the marketing of farm production totaled $1.6 billion during the first half of 1966, up 15 per cent from the year earlier and a record high for the period. The bulk of the increase was in livestock and livestock products, with crops showing only modest improvement.

Bank loans at district member banks advanced sharply during June, fell off somewhat more than seasonally in July, then bounded up again in early August. In terms of usual seasonal patterns, recent business loan demand has continued relatively strong.

Deposits, too, have grown, sparked by an upsurge in time deposits at country banks. Liquidity and reserve positions of city banks remained relatively tight in July.

The Ninth Federal Reserve district consists of the states of Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota, as well as Upper Michigan and northwestern Wisconsin.

Saturday Most Hazardous for Driving in State

Most hazardous day of the week for motorists on the state's roads is Saturday, with Friday and Sunday running close behind, reports the Minnesota highway department.

Saturday accidents during 1965 totaled 14,396, of which 135 were fatal, the highway department reported. This accounts for one in six of all accidents, and almost one in five of the fatal accidents. There were 14,137 Friday accidents, 132 of them fatal, and 11,001 on Sunday, 132 of them fatal.

The worst hour of the day for accidents was 4 to 5 p. m. (7,783) The same hour on Friday was the worst hour of the week, (1,417). For fatal accidents, 5 to 6 p. m. was the most seerious, with a total of 60. Midnight to 1 a. m. Saturday proved to be the worst hour of the week for fatal accidents (15).

One out of four of the 875 persons killed in traffic accidents was under 20, and nearly one out of three of the 51,000 persons injured was a child or youth. Forty of the young people killed were pedestrians and 15 were bicyclists.

Eighty persons were killed crossing roadways, 41 of them not at intersections. Eleven were killed while walking on the right side of the roadway, but only one was killed walking on the left side of the roadway. State law stipulates that pedestrians must walk on the left side of the road where no usable sidewalks are present and must yield to oncoming traffic.

About one in six of the drivers involved in all accidents was under 20 years of age although this group comprises less than 10 per cent of licensed Minnesota drivers.

Langen Submits Bill To Combat Riots, Violence

"If we truly have a government under law, then we should not hesitate to enact a meaningful deterrent directed at curbing riots and other recent outbreaks of violence in our major cities," states Congressman Odin Langen.

Langen's remarks came before the House of Representatives as he introduced a bill which would make it a federal offense to travel in or use a facility of interstate commerce with the intent of inciting a riot or other violent civil disturbance.

"My anti-riot legislation is identical in language and intent to the amendment that was adopted overwhelmingly by the House when it passed the civil rights bill last month. Inasmuch as the Senate decided last week to shelve the civil rights bill," Langen continued, "I have introduced the House-approved anti-riot provision as a separate bill."

Congressman Langen's bill would make the instigation of riots a federal crime punishable by a fine up to $10,000 or imprisonment for a period up to five years or both.

"Our law enforcement officers need this legal weapon to help them cope with and deter those who would incite riots. A government under law cannot afford to tolerate crime and violence."

Alvarado Given $117,000 Loan for Sanitary Sewer

Arthur Hansen, Minnesota FHA director, announced today that Alvarado is scheduled to receive a loan of $117,000 from the Farmers Home administration to construct a sanitary sewer system.

The Village of Felton in Clay county will receive a combination loan and grant of $145,380 for the installation of a central water and sewer system.

The two loans will serve the needs of about 170 families. In recent weeks, a total of nine loans and grants has been made to qualified Minnesota communities under the provisions of the Aiken-Poage bill, Hansen said.

Cattle Feeders Institute Set Near Crookston

Cattlemen, as well as others interested in the cattle feeding industry, are urged to be at the winter shows arena at 3 p.m.

At 3:30 p.m. sharp the group will leave on a tour of the experimental beef lots at the Northwest experiment station, and then out to the controlled environment feeding system of Francis DeBoer. Polk county agricultural agent Carl G. Ash will lead the tour.

The group will return to the winter shows arena about 4:30 p.m. where Don Bates, agricultural extension engineer, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will present an illustrated discussion on conventional and confinement feed lot handling. This will be followed with a demonstration showing the feeder cattle available on today's market. The demonstration cattle will be brought in by Central Livestock association, Inc.

The beef barbecue supper will be served at 6 p.m. by the dining hall staff from the Northwest school.

Harvey F. Windels, animal husbandman, will present a brief report on the results of the alfalfa haylage trials just completed at the Northwest experiment station. Richard D. Goodrich of the department of animal science, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will report on the current research conducted by the animal husbandry department at the university's St. Paul campus.

A highlight of the program will be the discussion of how Northwestern Minnesota fits into the beef production picture of the region. Ken Egertson, extension economist, will present this discussion.

Larry Hansen Receives Grant

DECISION

There's a difference of opinion here. Both of these Little Leaguers stand ready to put up a good argument, even though it is a foregone conclusion that the "ump" is going to win. But when the game is over, differences will be forgotten and umpire and catcher will go down to the drug store together for a banana split.

In doing so, they will be reflecting something that is a basic part of our heritage — the ability to lose, without holding a grudge . . . the ability to yield.

These are qualities important not only to sportsmanship but to life. And this importance is stressed in the most powerful of terms again and again throughout the Bible.

Little Leaguers learn the rules of sportsmanship — and of life — in one way on the playing field and in another, deeper way when they attend church with their families on Sunday. Are you taking your Little Leaguer to church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Thief River Survey Given Approval by C of C Board

In response to a recommendation from the agriculture committee, the board of directors of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce has given endorsement to completion of a survey of the Thief river and Red Lake river by the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers.

Work was started on such a survey a few years ago, but was halted when agreement could not be reached among persons benefiting from projected improvements. Since that time, flooding along the Thief river below Agassiz National Wildlife refuge has become worse, ~~and action following completion~~ of a survey has been assured by the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district.

Research and review by the agriculture committee showed the problem to be flooding of approximately 17 square miles (10,880 acres) west and south of the Agassiz refuge. This problem is created by improved drainage north and east of the refuge area which brings spring run-off water through the refuge to the twisting and inadequate channel of the river below the refuge.

"This is a fertile area with good income potential," the committee report to the board of directors stated. "It can contribute greatly to the economy of our area if drainage is accomplished. Unless drainage is improved, these farmers will be forced out of business."

Citing need for a comprehensive study of the drainage situation by the Corps of Engineers, the committee noted that the overall picture must be examined in order for proper action to be taken. Correspondence by the committee with the Corps of Engineers and U. S. Senators, Congressman and Minnesota Governor was authorized by the board.

A meeting of the problem and possible work on the survey will be held tonight at the Otto Ruprecht home northeast of Thief River Falls. Discussion will be held at that time on completion of the survey by the Corps of Engineer.

Area legislators have also been made aware of the problem, and several of them toured the area during the flood last spring, as well as meeting with interested individuals and the board of directors of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district. Attempts were made at that time, and continue at present, to get farmers working together on the solution to a common problem

Med Assistants To Form Society

Preliminary meeting for the Red River Valley Medical assistants society will be held at the Northwestern clinic, 220 South Broadway, Crookston, on Friday at 8 p.m.

The group will consist of persons employed by or working under the direct supervision of doctors of medicine and will be eligible for membership in the Minnesota State Medical assistants society and the American Association of Medical assistants.

Mrs. Joy Golden, Osseo, will be the guest speaker. She was instrumental in organizing the state society in 1963 and served as its first president. Mrs. Betty Strand, Minneapolis, who was the second MSMAS president, will also be in attendance. She is the current state membership chairman.

Purpose of the society is to inspire its members to render honest, loyal and more efficient service to the profession and public and to offer educational services for the self improvement of its members. The association is non-union.

More than 13,000 persons are in the national group which is made up of 46 state chapters.

Warroad Youth Severely Injured Due to Shooting

Fredrick Urtel, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Urtel, Warroad is in a Grand Forks hospital with a shattered leg following an accidental shooting. Part of the bone in his right leg was destroyed when hit by a glancing .308 caliber bullet which then lodged below the knee in his left leg.

Authorities told the following story about the shooting, according to the Roseau Times-Region:

Fredrick and his father were picking rocks on the family farm southeast of Warroad when they saw Casmir Flick coming down the trail with his tractor and plow. Flick then tried to drive over to the Urtels and got stuck in the ditch as he turned toward the field.

The Urtels came over to the trail to help him out and the men were hooking a chain to the tractor with the boy standing near the plow when a shot rang out.

A bullet from a .308 rifle glanced off the moldboard of the plow and struck Fredrick in the right leg, shattering it and then slamming into his left leg.

The boy screamed that he was hit and his father ran up on the road and saw Ted Walker, formerly of Warroad and now of International Falls, standing down the trail with a rifle in his hands. He shouted to Walker that he had shot his son and Walker ran to the scene. He got his car and rushed Fredrick to the Warroad hospital where he received emergency treatment before being rushed by ambulance to a Grand Forks, N. D., hospital.

Walker told authorities that he had thought the plow was a deer and had fired at it. He is expected to appear in court in Roseau on a charge of reckless use of a firearm.

Members of the board of directors of Thief River Falls Jobs, Inc., went on record at a meeting Friday noon in unanimous support of the two school bond issues to be presented to voters of the district October 18.

Considerable discussion was held by the board on the elimination of rentals which the new vocational - technical building would provide, and the educational and recreational aspects of the proposed swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school. The school board has asked authorization of bonds not to exceed $330,000 for the vocational - technical school and $200,000 for the swimming pool addition.

Langen Visits Briefly in Area

Congressman Odin Langen was in his office in Washington last Monday following a weekend visit to northwestern Minnesota when he toured as much of the Seventh district as was possible in the limited time. He stopped briefly in Thief River Falls September 24.

"It is regretted that Congress has remained in session so late into the fall season," Langen said, "making my usual complete tour of the district almost impossible. However, I still hope to visit in most areas as time becomes available.

VFW Auxiliary To Offer National Scholarships

Scholarships totaling $1,750 will be awarded to three top national winners in the annual scholarship program announced by the ladies auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Open to high school students, the program is designed to stimulate the ideals of America's youth into the truest meaning of patriotism and good citizenship.

Any student who attends a private, parochial or public high school may enter.

Each entrant must fill out an application including a questionnaire on his or her thoughts concerning responsibilities of a young American citizen.

The recipient of a scholarship will be selected on the basis of his or her keen sense of purpose and worthiness as an individual. Applicants must show genuine interest in family, community, national and world affairs, display a sense of responsibility, truthfulness and loyalty and ability to present new ideas with sincerity.

All applications are to be returned completed to the local auxiliary by March 15, 1967. Winner in each state will be selected from top local participants. First place state winners will be judged for national scholarships. National scholarships are: First, $1,000 scholarship and gold medal; second, $500 scholarship and gold medal; third, $250 scholarship and gold medal; and 10 citations for honorable mention. State and local winners receive additional Auxiliary awards which vary with the community.

Application folders may be received from National Scholarship Dep't., V.F.W. Auxiliary, 406 W. 34th St. Kansas City, Mo. 64111.

Two Middle River Business Places Robbed Last Week

Thieves broke into two Middle River business places recently and made away with about $17 in cash and a tire from the Cooperative Oil association station and nothing from the Cooperative Creamery office.

The thieves gained entrance into the oil association by breaking a glass window in the lavatory and took out a glass in the front door of the creamery. At the oil station files were broken and a pop machine was jammed.

No clues as to the identity of the thieves have been reported to the Marshall county sheriff's department and state crime bureau are continuing their investigation.

Police Report Accidents and Shoplifting Cases

One three-car accident, one two-car mishap and several theft and shoplifting cases are included in the Thief River Falls police department summary for the past week.

The three-car mishap occurred Friday at about 3:25 p.m. at the intersection of Third street and Knight avenue. A truck owned by Ness Construction company of Mahnomen and driven by Norman Opdahl of rural Thief River Falls was traveling east on Third street. A car driven by George E. Olson, Middle River, was traveling south on Knight avenue, stopped for the stop sign and then proceeded into the intersection where it was struck by the truck.

Impact of the accident caused the Olson car to cross the intersection and strike a car driven by Roy Sandmark, route 2, Grygla, which was stopped facing north on Knight avenue at the stop sign protecting Third street.

Henry Olson, 71, a passenger in the Olson car, was reportedly treated for injuries at Northestern hospital. Damage was estimated at $100 to the truck and $350 to the Sandmark car while the Olson vehicle was said to be a total loss Charges are pending in the accident.

At about 1:15 p.m. the same day a car driven east on Seventh street by Mrs. Arelia Elgert, city, was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Helene Leach, city, which was traveling north and entering Seventh street from the alley between Atlantic and Horace avenues. Damage was estimated at $50 to the Elgert car and $75 to the Leach car with charges pending in the mishap.

Police also received report of the theft of a large bundle of magazines valued at $22 and taken from the entry to a local grocery store, and the apprehension of a 14-year-old girl, and 12 and 13-year-old boys for shoplifting on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. All cases are under investigation.

Newman Club To Meet Wednesday

Regular meeting of the Thief River Falls Newman club will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Bernard's Catholic church. Father Mehrchens, chaplain at Bemidji state college Newman foundation, will speak on "Christianity on Campus." All catholic students from the junior college and vocational school are invited. Social and refreshments will follow the meetings.

Offer Absentee Ballots For School Bond Issue

CAMPAIGNING in Thief River Falls Wednesday, Robert Forsythe, GOP candidate for U.S. Senator, distributed campaign material to Mrs. R. F. Contos, left, Pennington county Republican chairwoman, and Mrs. Gene Belto. Mrs. Belto recalled taking a Bible study course at Bethlehem Lutheran church in Minneapolis a number of years ago when Forsythe was the course instructor. The former state Republican chairman spoke to a group of campaign workers Wednesday in the Rex Cafe.

Absentee ballots for the special bond election in School District 564 may now be secured from clerk Robert Bredeson, according to M. R Hankerson, superintendent of schools. Voters will be casting ballots on two questions asking authorization for issuance of bonds for vocational - technical school construction and an indoor swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school.

State law requires that voters desiring absentee ballots must make application in writing not more than 25 nor less than five days before the election, either by registered mail or in person. The bond election has been set for October 18.

The request for ballot shall contain the permanent address of the applicant, the reason the applicant cannot vote in person, that the applicant wishes a ballot for October 18 and that the applicant will be qualified to vote in the election.

Eligible to vote in the election will be any person 21 years of age or older and a legal resident of District 564. To be a legal resident, the person must have established residence in the state of Minnesota for six months and the precinct for 30 days.

Thief River Falls board of education has called the bond election for 3 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, October 18. The first question will ask for authorization to bond issues in the amount of $330,000 for construction of a new vocational - technical school and the second question will ask authorization of an issue not to exceed $200,000 for a swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school.

Brochures are now being prepared by the board to provide a factual presentation of the needs and costs of the two questions to the voters of the district. T. G. Evensen and associates, bonding consultants for the school district, has estimated that the vocational school issue would add 50 cents per $100 currently paid in taxes while the swimming pool issue would add approximately $1.50 per $100.

The vocational - technical school would be located on a site purchased by the district just northeast of the city and would include a building with approximately 38,000 square feet of space. This would be immediately adjacent to the site purchased for construction of a junior college campus. Rental facilities of the vocational school would be replaced by the building and it would be constructed for expansion as additional courses may be added.

Total cost of the vocational-technical school project is estimated in excess of $800,000 with approximately $400,000 expected in federal aids through the state department of education.

Leo Guiterrez Found Guilty of 3rd Degree Murder

A Marshall county jury found Leo Guiterrez Jr., 20, Viking farm youth, guilty of third degree murder on two accounts and one count of aggravated assault after more than six hours deliberation in a verdict handed down in Ninth Judicial court at Warren.

Guiterrez was charged with the killing of two youths and wounding of two others in a shooting in Argyle on the night of July 4. The trial lasted five days.

Prosecution witnesses called by Warren A. Salere, Marshall county attorney, included Greg Travino, Donald Anderson, Eugene Durand, Thomas Conway, George Ramone Dr. E. E. Pumala, Amelia Bed and Jack Sedlacek and Sheriff Oscar C. Erickson. Travino and Ramone were the two in the group of four migrant workers who were wounded in the shooting.

Witnesses called for the defense by the defense attorney Jaroslav Kruta, who had been retained by Leo Guiterez, father of the youth charged with the crime, included Theodore Guiterrez, uncle of the charged youth; Natalio Lopez whose interpreter was Olga Florez; Kenneth Setterholm; Leo Guiterrez; Jr., charged with the shooting; and Carl Adolphson.

Ted Guiterrez testified Thursday that he was hit with a chain by the boys who were shot, noting that the incident had occurred prior to the July 4 shooting. He also added that he didn't know if this was the cause for the action of his nephew.

Victims of the shooting were Tom Travino, 17, and his brother Angelo Travino, 16, both of Soledad, Calif., who were killed by the shots of a .22 caliber rifle. The wounded were George Ramone, 18, and Greg Travino, brother of the dead boys. All were migrant workers employed in the beet fields in the Red River Valley area.

The young Viking youth could receive a maximum of 25 years in prison on each of the two murder counts and 10 years in prison on the aggravated assault charge for an acculumated total of 60 years. The sentence was not announced by Judge H. O. Chommie, Thief River Falls, who presided over the trial and who is expected to make the announcement when he reconvenes court for the civil cases listed on the calendar.

Jodi Martin Returns From European Tour

JODI MARTIN, last summer a member of the International Peace Garden Music Camp Choir, is pictured above with the souvenirs she purchased on her European tour. The sweater she is wearing is a product of Norway. The two wood-carved figurines were purchased in Scandinavia, and the wooden shoes in Holland. Jodi is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George B. Martin of Thief River Falls and a senior at Lincoln high school.

by Jim Wills
Times Reporter

"Join the International Peace Garden Music Camp Tour Band and Choir and see the world" is a fitting variation on an old recruiting slogan. Jodi Martin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Martin of Thief River Falls, didn't see the whole world while a member of the organization last summer, but saw some of its most interesting areas during her tour of northern and western Europe. In the course of the tour, Jodi and her fellow musicians presented concerts in Canada, the British Isles, Scandinavia and the Low Countries.

The tour band and choir is highly select. Out of some 2,100 aspiring members who auditioned, 57 were accepted in the choir and 75 in the band. Miss Martin learned in November of last year that she had been accepted as an alto in the choir. After months of individual work on the concert material, with the help of Bryant Ulseth, then vocal music instructor at Lincoln high school, she traveled to the International Peace Gardens Music camp where the choir and band rehearsed for four days starting July 24.

The two musical groups left on the following Thursday for Grand Forks, where they gave a concert. On Friday, they made the six-hour flight from Winnipeg, Man., to London, England. Director of the choir is Prof. John Strohm, chair-

Announce Hospital Auxiliary Drive For New Members

Northwestern hospital auxiliary has announced its annual membership drive. A series of coffee parties is planned for the purpose of inviting new members to join the auxiliary and those already affiliated to renew their membership.

Coffee parties will be scheduled between October 3 and 15 in the homes of members. Membership dues are $1 per year. Members may contribute to the hospital actively in the institution or at home.

The auxiliary has prepared a brochure with which members may state their preference among a number of methods of aiding the hospital. Among these are sewing garments for children and other patients, helping with Christmas parties and other special occasions, working in the occupational therapy department, distributing magazines and books, working in the gift shop and coffee bar or donating gifts, wheeling gift carts to patients, telephoning for auxiliary functions, donating records or games to the pediatrics department and training or supervising candystripers.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kays spent the weekend in Minneapolis visiting relatives and attending the Twins-Detroit ball game. Miss Olga Bloomsness, who had been visiting relatives and friends in the Cities, returned to her home with them.

Marjorie Dalzell Is Bride Of John Gustafson, Oklee

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Ruth Dalzell of Detroit Lakes and John P. Gustafson of Bemidji was solemnized at the First Baptist church in Thief River Falls at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, September 3rd. The Rev. W. Ronald Dalzell, father of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. Floyd W. Dalzell, uncle of the bride.

The chancel was lighted by candelabra in a setting of potted palms and baskets of white and yellow gladioli and bronze chrysanthemums. White satin bows and lighted tapers lined the white carpeted aisle.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. Ronald Dalzell of Alcester, S. D. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gustafson of Oklee.

The guests were seated by James Anderson of Winnipeg, Man. Canada and Roger Johnson of Plummer while Mrs. Alvin Dahlstrom of Thief River Falls, organist, played a group of appropriate selections. The traditional wedding marches were used. Vocalist was Mrs. Walter Hoffman of Emery, S. D., aunt of the bride, who sang "Prayer by St. Francis of Assisi" as arranged by Oda Richter, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Our Prayer" by Norman Clayton.

The bride, escorted to the alter and given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of silk organza over taffeta. Styled with an empire waist, featuring long tapering sleeves and a crescent neckline, the gown was fashioned with a floor length skirt and detachable chapel train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace encircled the waistline and was repeated on the skirt and the train. A matching organza headpiece embroidered with pearls, secured her veil of silk illusion. She carried an ivy-entwined cascade bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Orrin Linder of Littlefork, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Claudia Erickson of Minneapolis, Miss Kathleen Terevold of Detroit Lakes and Miss Janice Melvie of Thief River Falls. All are friends of the bride. All wore floor length gowns of pale yellow crepe fashioned with a bodices of moss green lace and featuring a hem-length watteau panels. Narrow bands of moss green satin accented the empire waistlines. Three petals of yellow crepe secured by embroidered seed pearls formed their headpieces. White gloves and pale yellow shoes completed their attire. The attendants carried tropicanna roses and bronze chrysanthemums secured in a wicker circle. The bride's cousin, Jane Marie Hiebert of Steinbach, Man. was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of pale yellow crepe and carryed a basket arrangement of tropicana roses.

Orrin Linder of Littlefork served as best man. Reginald Dalzell of Alcester, S. D., brother of the bride, David Lindgren of Minneapolis and Howard Hendrickson of Fertile, friends of the groom, were groomsmen. The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos and white carnation boutonnieres.

Candlelighters were cousins of the bride Miss Joyce Dalzell and Timothy Dalzell, both of Thief River Falls. Miss Dalzell wore a pale yellow crepe dress with moss green trim and Mr. Dalzell was attired in a black tuxedo.

The mother of the bride wore a mint green lace sheath with a matching linen coat. The groom's mother wore a two-piece dress of moss green wool. Both wore corsages of tropicana roses.

Honor guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dalzell of Killarney, Man., Canada paternal grandparents of the bride and Mrs. Pete Gustafson of Thief River Falls, paternal grandmother of the groom. The grandmothers were presented with corsages.

Serving as the bride's personal attendant was Mrs. Lowell Collins of Thief River Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson of Aberdeen, S. D. acted as host and hostess at the reception given at the church by the bride's parents for about 300 guests.

Mrs. John Enns of Steinbach, Man., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. David Drotts of Thief River Falls cut and served the five-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a lighted church and featured a spiral staircase encircling the cake. The bridal table was draped in yellow net caught with sprays of ivy.

Mrs. Marvin Hiebert of Winnipeg, Man. and Mrs. Floyd Hiebert of Steinbach, aunts of the bride poured. Serving punch were Mrs. William Jensen of Thief River Falls and Miss Wanda Lundeen of Duluth. Mrs. Mary Jane Brenneise of Alcaster, S. D., registered the guests. Mrs. Raymond Savaloja of Wadena and Mrs. David Brainard and Miss Blanche Smith, both of Detroit Lakes, arranged the gifts. They are friends of the bride.

Jane Marie Hiebert and Bryan Dalzelt offered grooms cake to the guests. Waitresses were Marian Magnuson, Mrs. Charles Daley. Crystal Lundeen, Elaine Thompson, all of Thief River Falls. Sandra Wik of Detroit Lakes and Sandra Protz of Minneapolis. Their white organdy aprons, were gifts from the bride.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a plum-colored two piece linen suit with black accessories and a corsage of tropicanna roses. The couple is at home at Winner, S. D., where both are employed. The groom, a graduate of Bemidji State college, holds a teaching position in the Winner high school and the bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school, Thief River Falls, is employed by Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. WILLIAM STEINHAUER of Holt

What is nicer than with the nip of fall in the air to walk into a warm kitchen filled with the aroma of baking, especially if it is the spicy smell of pumpkin pie? Served with whipped cream or a scoop of ice cream, this pie is festive enough for any occasion.

Today's recipe, according to Mrs. William Steinhauer of the Holt community may be varied according to individual preferences—such as adding up to a half cup more sugar and increasing the amount of cinnamon to a teaspoonful.

PUMPKIN PIE

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 beaten eggs
1½ cup milk
3 cups pumpkin
1 tablespoon molasses
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt

Method: Mix ingredients in order given and pour into a pie tin lined with your favorite unbaked pastry. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake until a knife comes out clean when inserted.

Mrs. Steinhauer and her son, Donald who is an auctioneer, live in the Holt community on a farm 12 miles north east of Thief River Falls. She has two other children, both married. Her daughter, Evelyn, Mrs. Marvin Johnson, lives at Erskine and Clifford lives in the Holt community. Mr. Steinhauer died about four years ago.

Mrs. Steinhauer enjoys gardening, especially raising flowers. She is a member of the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt.

Miss Kathaleen Wold And Lloyd Hoefer Speak Vows

Miss Kathaleen Wold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wold, and Lloyd Hoefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hoefer, all of rural Thief River Falls, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, September 3, at 3 p.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city. Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the double ring ceremony. Henry Wood, cousin of the bride, served as organist and the children's choir sang "Ave Maria". Baskets of yellow flowers graced the altars.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a white floor-length gown of bridal satin designed and fashioned by her mother. The gown featured a fitted bodice, long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrists and a full length train attached at the waistline. Lace appliques enhanced the scoop neckline and the lower section of the bell skirt. A halo of lace held her elbow length veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations with blue accents. For sentiment she wore a gold cross that had been worn previously by her mother at her wedding.

Miss Barbara Wold attended the bride as maid of honor and Sandra Wold was bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns of a blue brocade fashioned by their mother in a style similar to the bridal gown. To complete their attire they wore brief veils of blue net held by a blue brocade bow and carried arm bouquets of yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brothers, Donald Hoefer, as best man and Earl Hoefer, as groomsman. Seating the guests were Arnold Geske, friend of the couple, and Stephen Wold, cousin of the bride. The men of the wedding party wore charcoal gray coats, striped trousers and white carnation boutonnieres, with the exception of the groom, whose boutonniere was a blue carnation.

The mother of the bride was attired in a blue and green tweed suit with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a plum colored suit with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses. Presented with a corsage of white roses was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Cora Wood.

A reception in the church parlors was given by the parents of the bride for about 125 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wold, uncle and aunt of the bride, served as host and hostess. Judy Sundberg of Sebeka registered the guests and Eileen Carlson served the punch.

The four tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Bernard Wold and Mrs. Gail Bergland, was trimmed with blue roses and topped by a blue and white bell ornament.

Mrs. Elmer Kron and Mrs. Leo Hoefer, aunt of the bride and groom, respectively, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Darrel Wood, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Ted Schmidt, aunt of the groom, poured. Waitresses were cousins of the bride, Mary Wood, Peggy Wold, Wold, Judy Wood and Bonnie Wold.

Presiding at the gift table were Phyllis Kees of Red Lake Falls, cousin of the groom, Sue Rost of McIntosh, Mrs. Roger Peterson of Grand Forks, N. D., and Mrs. Andy Welsch of Bloomington. Others assisting at the reception were those who served the ice cream, Mrs. Virgil Wold of East Grand Forks, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Gordon Dunham, cousin of the bride and the kitchen helpers, Mrs. Dennis Kezar, Mrs. George Munt, Mrs. Herb Swenson and Mrs. Bert Kron.

Guests attending were from Grand Forks, N. D.; Sebka, Minneapolis Bemidji, Bloomington, McIntosh, Trail, Red Lake Falls and the surrounding areas.

For travel on the wedding trip, the bride wore a blue linen A-line dress with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoefer will make their home at 1823 Ulysses South East, Minneapolis, where both are employed. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and Bemidji State college where she received a major in elementary education with kindergarten endorsement. The groom, also a graduate of Lincoln high school, is a graduate of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, department of electronics, and is employed by the Honeywell company.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Conklin of Holt were Monday afternoon guests at the Mabel Furr home in this city.

Mrs. Ethel Glenden of Hallock, Mrs. Florence Nesbit of Minneapolis and Mrs. V. F. Robarge were Monday afternoon guests at the John Erie home at Gonvick. That evening Mrs. Nesbit left for her home in Minneapolis after spending some time here as a house guest at the V. F. Robarge home.

DIRECTOR of the Oakland Park Activity Program, Mrs. Anderson, assists residents in craftwork. The program is sponsored by the Inter-County community council and financed by the Office of Economic opportunity.

Craft Items Displayed At OEO Council Meet

Art Heinze, registered occupational therapist, consultant to the Inter-County Community council for their nursing home activity program financed by the Office of Economic opportunity, and Miss Ann Rolfson, certified occupational therapy assistant, director of the four-county rpoject, displayed finished craftwork from the two Thief River Falls nursing homes at the council meeting held in Oklee.

Discussing the display Heinze said, "This craftwork reflects the work being done in two different homes. It is our aim to provide activity for as many residents as possible. For this reason there must be a wide and variable range of projects."

Reporting to the council on the progress of the nursing home activity program, Mriss Rolfson stated, "We are well satisfied with the number of residents participating in the program at this early date. Although some of the residents are unable to communicate their response too well, all indications are that the program is well received and appreciated and that we are going to reach a relatively large number of these people as the program progresses."

Seven nursing homes within the four-county area served by the council are participating in the activity program. Completed items from each home are being sold and the money being used to purchase new supplies and equipment. Completed craftwork is also available for display to agencies and organizations wishing to assist the homes in the sale of finished items.

Nursing homes participating in the program are: Valley home, Thief River Falls; Oakland Park, Thief River Falls; Hillcrest home, Red Lake Falls; Good Samaritan, Clearbrook; Fosston Municipal home, Fosston; and Pioneer Nursing home Erskine. The nursing home at Fertile is not in operation at present but the activity program will be started with the first residents.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

I was disturbed to see in Monday's edition of the Times a letter concerning driver's license examiners which was signed by Andrew Anderson of Thief River Falls. It is my wish that the public, and the examiners in question, understand that the writer of this letter is not myself.

A. G. (Andy) Anderson, Auctioneer
Route 5

(Editor's Note: The letter in question was properly signed and deemed suitable for use in our public opinion column. A check of the city directory and telephone directory reveals no other Andrew Anderson in this community. The possibility remains that the letter could have been signed with another person's name, a serious offense, or that the writer is a new resident not listed in the directory. No address was given on the letter other than Thief River Falls. The Times regrets any inconvenience caused to the above writer because of the letter's publication.)

Jodi Martin Is European Tourist During Summer

man of the music department at Minot state college and president of the North Dakota Music Educators' association. Merton Utgaard of Bottineau, N. D., directs the band.

The choir and band spent five days in the London area and gave several concerts. In London the participants viewed Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle and other places of interest.

After a ferry trip past the White Cliffs of Dover and across the English Channel, the group arrived in Brussels, Belgium, where the members gave a concert at the Grand Place. Next stop was Kerkrade, Holland, where the band played in the World Music contest and won a superior rating and the choir sang in a Catholic mass.

Then it was back to Belgium for a concert at the Zoological Gardens in Antwerp. Following this concert, the musicians returned to Holland for a two-day stay in Amsterdam. They gave a concert at Dam Square. Each singer and bandsman was given a Coat of Arms, making him officially a "friend of the city."

The tour of Scandinavia began with a concert at Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen, Denmark. The members stayed in that city for two and one-half days and had time to do some shopping, Miss Martin said.

Concerts were also given at the King's Garden in Stockholm, Sweden, and at the Vigeland Sculpture Museum in Oslo, Norway. While spending four days in Norway, the group was greeted at the small seacoast town of Larvik by the school band and a large crowd. The musicians also traveled to Eidswill, where the Norwegian constitution was signed. While in Scandinavia, many of the choir and band members located relatives, Miss Martin said.

The flight back to Winnipeg was made from Oslo on August 21. In Winnipeg, the group gave a concert and made a recording for the Canadian Broadcasting company. Concerts were also given in Brandon, Man., and Minot, N. D. In the latter city, the two groups made their recording which will be available to all members. Final concert was given in Bismarck August 21.

The choir's repertoire consisted largely of American folk songs, such as "Sourwood Mountain," "Go Away from My Window" and the Negro spiritual, "Oh, What a Beautiful City." The choir also sang German songs by Brahms and "All Breathing Life" by Bach.

Each city the famed musical group visited rolled out the well-known red carpet, Jodi reported. City fathers were particularly eager to show the American visitors their town halls. Food was never lacking, but took some "getting used to," Jodi said. Grass soup, horse meat and other European delicacies were on the menu. Water, with its change in mineral content from one place to another, was tightly rationed, though, and the youths drank a lot of pop which sold for 50 cents a bottle.

Weather was generally good, and only one of the many outdoor concerts presented in Europe was rained out. The only fog Jodi reported seeing was not in London but in Norway.

In general, Miss Martin said, the travelers were able to ignore the hardships of being on the move, and considered the tour a highly interesting and rewarding experience.

Mrs. Clarence Joringdal, Pennington county DFL chairwoman, attended the 12 o'clock brunch at the Pick Nicollet hotel in Minneapolis on Sunday. Vice-president, Hubert Humphrey hosted the event. Mrs. Joringdal was a delegate of the State Central committee. After the brunch she attended the state central committee meeting held at the hotel. Main speakers were Vice president Humphrey, Gov. Karl Rolvaag and Senator Eugene McCarthy. Humphrey made a plea for the party to reunite, to forget past differences and to prepare for the general election November 8. Joining Mrs. Joringdal at the state central committee meeting, open to the public, were her husband, Clarence, Mildren Remmem Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsman and Mr. A. S. Stenberg, all of Thief River Falls.

Upper Rice Lake To Be Developed For Wild Rice

Minnesota conservation department's game and fish division has announced plans to develop a lake in Clearwater county for the primary purpose of producing wild rice.

In low water years, Upper Rice lake near Alida has contained as much as 1,000 acres of rice but has produced very little in recent years because of highwater.

The lake is not considered good for fishing and local property owners agree that management for wild rice is the best use of the lake.

Preliminary plans call for the building of a water control structure and channel at the outlet of the lake to control the water level.

The project is also expected to improve duck hunting. Plans also call for raising northern pike in the lake for stocking in other waters. Upper Rice freezes out periodically and cannot maintain a stable game fish population.

If plans proceed on schedule, funds for the project will be requested from the 1967 legislature.

Reporter Wills Joins Staff of Duluth Herald

James H. "Jim" Wills, news reporter and photographer for the Times for over two years, has submitted his resignation effective Friday. He has accepted a position on the reporting staff of the Duluth Herald and News-Tribune.

Wills joined the Times staff June 1, 1964, following graduation from the University of North Dakota. While in Thief River Falls, he was active in the Jaycees, where he was a SPOKE award winner and a director, and in the Pennington County Sportsmen's club, where he held office as treasurer and vice president. He was also an assistant Scoutmaster in Troop 60, a member of the Times trapshooting team and a member of Elks Lodge 1308.

Willard Gagner, Red Lake Falls, a sophomore at the Thief River Falls state junior college, has joined the Times new staff. He began work September 23.

Overnight guests at the H. B. Rafteseth home last weekend were his two sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rafteseth, Dale and Donna Jean of Minneapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rafteseth and Bruce of Grove City. Kenneth is employed by RCA as an electronic technician and Duane is principal of the high school at Grove City.

Carl P. Anderson, Area Pioneer, Dies October 2

Carl P. Anderson, 80, of Goodridge, a pioneer resident of Star township, Pennington county since 1907, died Sunday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Carl P. Anderson will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Sinding's Funeral chapel. Rev. Harold Peterson will officiate.

Visitation hours will begin Tuesday at 7 p.m. and will continue until time of services. A complete obituary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Olaf Kleven, 80, Local Resident, Interred At Holt

Olaf Kleven, 80, a resident of Thief River Falls for several years, died Thursday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Olaf Kleven were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Green Funeral chapel. Rev. Harold Peterson officiated and interment was in the Holt cemetery. Special music at the service was provided by Mrs. H. Ray Collver, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jorgenson, vocalists.

Pallbearers were Ole Moberg, Ed Johnson, William Bernstein, John Johnson, Edrey Leiran and John Anderson.

Olaf Kleven was born Oct. 26, 1886 a Hendrum to Gunder and Pauline Kleven. As a young boy he moved with his parents to Gatzke where he attended rural school and grew to manhood. On Sept. 18, 1925 he was united in marriage to Alma Johnson at Warren. The couple farmed near Gatzke for over 20 years and for the past 13 years had made their home in Thief River Falls.

He is survived by his wife, Alma; three daughters, Pearl and Audrey Kleven, both of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Matt Bimler, of East Grand Forks; three sons, Gilmore Kleven of Hibbing; Clayton of Kelly Lake and Bennie of Thief River Falls; 14 grandchildren; one brother, Edwin Kleven of Duluth and one sister, Mrs. Mary Kjelberg of Waubun.

He was preceded in death by two sisters.

HEREFORD cattle are the pride and joy of the Silas Hanson family of rural Thief River Falls. In the above photo, Linnae and Ross Hanson show off Si-Mar Laz to Aud Knutsen, IFYE representative from Norway, who is staying at the Hanson farm. "Laz" was born Caesarean section to Ross' show heifer while at the Minnesota state fair a few weeks ago. At first believed to be dead, the calf is now strong and healthy, prompting the abbreviated name from the Biblical Lazarus who was called forth from the dead.

COSTUME of her native Nordland county in Norway is modeled above by Aud Knutsen of Bodo who is visiting for several weeks at the Silas Hanson farm home as an IFYE representative. Worn on festive occasions only, the costume is handmade and intricately embroidered. Each of Norway's 20 counties has a different costume, making a colorful spectacle at inter-county events.

Ludvik Larson Of Rural Holt, Dies Unexpectedly

Ludvik F. Larson, 72, a long-time resident of the Holt community, died unexpectedly Thursday afternoon at his rural farm home.

Funeral services for Ludvik Larson will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt. Rev. Kenneth Kramer will officiate and Mrs. Orville Larson will serve as organist. Hymns will be sung by Marvin Sandberg, Mrs. John E. Ness and Mrs. Alf Movik.

Serving as pallbearers will be Arthur Lunke, Bertil Ness, Tony Peterson, Herman Peterson, Jonnie Nelson and Oscar Carlson. Military rites will be by the Ecklund-Holmstrom American Legion post and interment will be in the Holt cemetery. Funeral arrangements are by the Collins Funeral Homes, Middle River.

Ludvik F. Larson, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson, was born May 3, 1893 at Kempton, N. D. At the age of eight years, he came with his parents to Marshall county, settling on a farm in Holt township. There he attended school and grew to manhood. A veteran, he served overseas with the U. S. Army during World War I. Followng his discharge from service, he returned to Holt where he had since resided. He never married.

He was a member of the Nazareth Lutheran church and the Ecklund - Holmstrom Post of the American Legion at Thief River Falls.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Sorum and Mrs. Norman (Anna) Peterson, both of Newfolden; two brothers, Ole Larson of Los Angeles, Calif., and Alfred Larson of Middle River and several nieces and nephews.

Services Today For Emil Ensrud Of St. Hilaire

Emile Ensrud, 86, a resident of the St. Hilaire community for many years, died Wednesday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Emil Ensrud will be held today, Monday at 2 p.m. at the Calvary Lutheran church in St. Hilaire. Rev. James R. Swanson will officiate and interment will be in the Community cemetery at St. Hilaire. The body will repose at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. Grand Forks Defeats Prowlers 31-14 Friday

An alert and heads-up Grand Forks Central football squad capped its Homecoming festivities by scoring a 31 to 14 win over the Prowlers in a game played on the UND Memorial stadium field in Grand Forks on Friday afternoon.

The Prowlers will engage in their Homecoming game this Friday night when, on the Lincoln field here, they meet the Detroit Lakes Lakers. It will be the final home game of the season for the locals who will play their remaining three games "on the road," meeting Roseau, Bemidji and Crookston.

In Friday afternoon's game at Grand Forks, which was played under blustery and chilly weather conditions, and with an intermittent rain shower or two, found Grand Forks gaining a 13 to 0 first half lead on second-period touchdowns by fullback Wade Jensen, on a 1-yard plunge, and a 7-yard run by quarterback Rod Boatright. Ted Hauser booted a placekick conversion to add a point following Boatright's TD.

The Prowlers fumbled early in the first period, stopping a drive that had carried to the 'Skins 20-yard line. And in the second period Grand Forks' Bill Janzen intercepted a Prowler pass at midfield to stop a potential drive.

Grand Forks tallied a pair of touchdowns in the third period with Jensen capping a 40-yard drive by plunging two yards for a major; and moments later a pass interception gave the Redskins possession on the Prowler 28-yard line. Boatright sneaked over from the one for the touchdown.

The Prowlers, who rolled up considerable yardage on the ground and in the air in the second half, tallied from 18-yards out with Gary Almquist scoring. Bob Brodin hit Rod Collver with a pass for the conversion point.

Grand Forks' Guy Olson then turned in the game's offensive highlight, making a 44-yard touchdown run to give Grand Forks a 31 to 7 lead.

The Prowlers added a final touchdown in the closing minute of play when Brodin, from a yard out, sneaked over for a score. And Brodin added the conversion point on a plunge.

The Prowlers of coach Jim Sims held an edge in the statistics, rolling up 18 first downs to 17 for Grand Forks. The Prowlers gained 139 yards by rushing, and completing 16 of 32 pass tries, picked up 185 yards on aerials. Grand Forks had 139 yards rushing and 144 yards by passing.

PICKING up yardage in this third-period action at Grand Forks on Friday afternoon is Prowler halfback Gary (Woody) Almquist. The junior halfback scored one of the two touchdowns that the Prowlers tallied as the blue-and-gold lost to Grand Forks, 31 to 14.

Oklee Wins Over Middle River in Conference Game

Two extra points converted by Steve Radniecki on line plunges provided the conference - leading Oklee Bobcats with a 20-19 football victory over Middle River Friday at Middle River. Oklee has a 4-0 record while Middle River is now 2-1 in the conference.

The Bobcats scored first when Allen Olson tallied early in the first quarter and Radniecki converted. Middle River came back with a 20-yard pass from Kirk Holmes to Wayne Ruud for a score but the conversion attempt failed.

Oklee scored again in the second quarter when Richard Bluemke plunged for a touchdown from one yard out, and Radniecki converted, giving the visitors a 14-6 lead at halftime.

The Skippers scored in the third quarter on a three-yard run by quarterback Vernon Knutson who also scored the extra point. Oklee gained the lead with a three-yard touchdown run by Allen Olson but missed the extra point try. Knutson scored the final touchdown for Middle River on a four-yard effort, but the conversion attempt again failed and Oklee gained the 20-19 win.

Middle River will host Mentor this Friday.

Quitting school? Ooops... There goes your future

And there goes about $100,000. That's how much more you'll earn in a lifetime with a high school education.

And no high school diploma means no college. Holy smoke—there goes another $150,000. That's how much more you'll earn in a lifetime with a college education.

In all, quitting school now means blowing $250,000. That really knocks the fortune out of your future.

And it could be worse. You could be unemployed.

So stay in school right on through college. Come out a winner. You'll get a better job, earn more money, and enjoy life more.

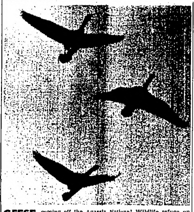
DEFENSIVE tackle Gary Van Hunnick (72) put a good rush on quarterback Bob Brodin of the Prowlers in the above photo, but the pass was delivered just in time to avoid the rush. Halfback John Womack of the Prowlers (12), who is both a receiver of Brodin passes and a passer himself, comes in to assist. Grand Forks Central won its homecoming game 31-14.



GEESE coming off the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge on Saturday were generally met by a barrage of shotgun fire. The above photo was taken by Huck Olson, Times sports editor, using a 400 millimeter telephoto lens. While a number of hunters were successful in getting geese on the opening weekend, others would agree that a telephoto lens would be necessary to picture geese at the height they were flying.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

That Was a Surprise

It is becoming evident that coach Kenneth (Red) Wilson and his staff have another powerful Bemidji Lumberjack football machine in the works.

On Friday evening, in a Northwest conference game played at Roseau, Bemidji rambled to a 46 to 12 win over the previously unbeaten Rams. Coach Ray Kavanagh's Roseau squad, with good weight, and enough backfield strength, had been expected to provide Bemidji with a stern test. But the 'Jacks quarterback John Boyer ran for a pair of touchdowns and passed for three more TD's as the defending conference champions rolled to an easy win.

With two conference games remaining on the schedule, and both games, against Crookston Central and the Thief River Falls Prowlers, being slated for the Bemidji field, the odds are heavy that the Lumberjacks will retain their conference title. It will be a decided upset if the Pirates or Prowlers succeed in defeating the 'Jacks.

Over the years the Bemidji club has been one of the finest football squads in this area, and much of its success is due to the precision and execution of their plays. The timing of the 'Jacks is always excellent, and the offense, ably directed from the sidelines, carries scoring threats from any place on the field. Against the Rams the Lumberjacks had several touchdowns sorties of 60 yards or more.

One of the toughest opponents on the Bemidji schedule is the game against Brainerd at Brainerd on October 28. Brainerd turned in a minor surprise this week by defeating a well-rated Crosby - Ironton team. The rivalry between Bemidji and Brainerd is intense.

End of a Streak

The Dartmouth Indians, winners of the Ivy League football title last season, had an eleven-game winning streak broken on Saturday afternoon by Holy Cross. Holy Cross defeated the Indians, 7 to 6. Paul Klungness, the former Prowler allground athlete who is in his senior year at Dartmouth, and who has been playing at right halfback for coach Bob Blackman's team, did not play in the game. Paul injured a leg in Darthmouth's win over Massachusetts a week ago and it is doubtful when the blond speedster will get back into action.

Incidentally, Paul's older brother Gary, who graduated from Concordia college this spring, is in the army and in training at Ft. Lewis, Wash. The two boys, from the Sunnyside school in Agder township, gave the football Prowlers a powerful double-barrelled threat when they were together on Joe Mrkonich's squad several years ago.

Bowling News

Men's bowling fans, who had been holding their breath in case the Thief River Realty, after winning three weeks in a row, should continue undefeated, can take a deep breath. On Thursday evening, in a Commercial league match against Farrell Harris' Mobil Lefty's the Realty dropped the first game, 850 to 777. And to make it more emphatic, the Lefty's won the second game, 806 to 805. So the city's bowling fans owe thanks to Clyde Shumway, Larry Shetler, George Groslie, Audrey Johnson and Harris.

The Realty was rolling a fine clip, having an average of 862, when they ran into the road-block set up by the Lefty's. And now that an example has been set, it is probable that several of the other teams in the league will be having their innings against the league leaders.

If team captain Mel Scholin doesn't get some more consistent bowling from the team's pilot, it is probable that this "bowler" will be placed on waivers. This bowlers rolls poorly on "dry" alleys, and worse on "slick" alleys. He's a couple of years away from the competition that he has to face on Thursday evenings.

State Purchases Northern Pike Spawning Area

Another new northern pike spawning area is expected to be completed and in operation next spring, the Minnesota conservation department announced this week. Latest addition in the program to acquire and develop such spawning areas is a 57-acre tract on Big Stoney lake in Hubbard county.

State fisheries supervisor Hjalmar Swenson said a contract has been let based on a low bid from the Ralph North company of Minneapolis in the amount of $9,207. The contract calls for building of a water control structure, channel and dikes.

Funds for the northern pike spawning program are provided under the natural resources act which derives its revenue from a one-cent-per-pack tax on cigarettes. The act also provides funds for parks, wildlife lands and other conservation projects.

Swenson said the conservation department now has ownership of nearly 70 spawning sites and has options on more than 50 others.

However, he said, the department's game and fish division has been unable to develop many of the areas to date due to lack of funds earmarked for development purposes.

Duck and Grouse Seasons Open Sat.

Two of Minnesota's most popular hunting seasons get underway at noon Saturday, October 8, when both the duck and grouse seasons open. Bag limits on ducks are more liberal than last year due to abundant water and improved nesting success throughout most of the principal waterfowl nesting areas of the United States and Canada.

Limits on ducks are four per day and eight in possession. The daily bag limit may not include wood ducks and two canvasbacks.

The possession limit may not include more than four Mallards, four wood ducks and four canvasbacks. There are no special restrictions on the red head duck this year. Formerly they were subject to the same regulations as canvasback.

The duck season will run through November 21. After November 1, duck hunters will be allowed to take a daily bonus bag of two and possession limit of four scaup (bluebills) and ringnecks, singly or in the aggregate.

Shooting hours after the opening day are from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. For many previous years, shooting was not permitted until sunrise.

Bag limits on grouse are three per day and six in possession for ruffed grouse and two per day and four in possession for sharptails. Shooting hours after the first day are sunrise to sunset. In most of the state the season on ruffed grouse will end November 6, but in southeastern Minnesota a second season will be held from November 15 to 30. The sharptail season will end October 23 throughout the state.

Waterfowl hunters were reminded by the conservation department's game and fish division that on October 8, first day of the duck season, goose hunting will start at noon. In those counties where goose hunting is restricted to the morning hours, there will be no goose hunting on October 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stinar, Merle and James of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ronning of Rock Falls, Ill., were dinner guests Sunday, September 18, at the Joe Osness home in Thief River Falls. Other afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lappegaard, Selmer Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stinar of Warren.

Income Tax Questions Are Answered by IRS

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of International revenue, St. Paul.

Q—My son returned to school this fall, after holding a summertime job. Will I be able to claim his exemption on my return this year?

A—If your son is a student, the gross income test does not apply. You may claim his exemption on your 1966 federal tax return if you provided over one-half of his total support during the entire year. To qualify as a student, your son must be enrolled at an educational institution for some part of at least five calendar months during the year.

Q—We have received a bill for additional tax for 1965. There was no explanation with the billing. How can we find out where a mistake was made on our return?

A—Contact any of our local revenue service offices in Minnesota for an explanation of the tax determination.

Q—My boss says that since I didn't file a new withholding statement by May 1, I have to wait until January 1 to do it. Is that right?

A—Many employers will let an employee change his withholding statement at any time. Under the law, however, the employer is only required to make changes four times a year, on January 1, May 1, July 1, or October 1, for changes filed at least 30 days previously.

Q—What records do you need to substantiate educational expenses?

A—Initially, you will have to show that you are entitled to an educational expense deduction. Once this is established, presentation of tuition recipts and other paid bills or cancelled checks showing the nature of the item and the fact that it was paid will generally be sufficient.

Q—I just turned 65. Can I ask my employer to reduce my withholding for tax purposes?

A—Yes you can. Ask him for a copy of Form W-4 which you can use to show the increase in your exemptions.

There are other tax benefits you are eligible for, too. These are explained in our publication, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," Document No. 5569.

Q—I just started work. What will I need for tax records?

A—Your tax records should show your income for the year and your deductible expenses.

Your employer will provide you with a statement showing your wages for the year and the amount withheld for federal income tax. If you have income from other sources such as dividends and interest, be sure to keep a record of the amount you receive.

Medical expenses, contributions to charity and interest payments are typical expenses that are deductible. Keep your cancelled check and receipted bills on these items.

Mrs. H. Johnson Attends National Auxiliary Meet

Annual presidents and secretaries business conference of the American Legion auxiliary opened Tuesday in Indianapolis, Indiana. Mrs. Harold M. Johnson of Thief River Falls, department president for Minnesota, and Mrs. Marion Hollenbeck, Minneapolis, department secretary, are attending the sessions, and will bring back to the 46,000 auxiliary members in Minnesota program plans for the ensuing year.

Among the national chairmen giving instructive courses in programming will be Mrs. Merrill K. Smith of Elmore, national chairman of civil defense and emergency planning. Mrs. Smith recently returned from Washington, D.C., where she had two days of briefings in the defense department offices in the Pentagon and in the President's office of emergency planning.

Mrs. Smith stated, "Too many people think that civil defense means building an expensive bomb shelter for their family, and this mistaken thinking is harming the government's civil defense program. Actually, each one of us can be prepared with very little or no expense to the individual householder."

Mrs. Smith also said that, "The job of the American Legion auxiliary this year will be to encourage our communities to be active and knowledgable in the civil defense program; to bring to everyone the realizaton that civil defense is not the business of the government or the local rescue squad—it is everyone's business."

At the conference Mrs. Smith stressed the "common Sense" way of knowing how to cope with disaster, how to be prepared in the event of a nuclear attack and how important it its to be aware of the program in your community.

Local Nurses To Attend Cancer Conference Tues.

Red River Valley professional nurses will attend a cancer conference Tuesday at Mount St. Benedick school in Crookston.

Twenty-four counties comprising Districts 1, 7 and 11, Minnesota Nurses association, as well as the North Dakota side of the valley and southern Manitoba, will be represented at the all-day sessions.

Attending from Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls will be Mrs. Juanita Dahl, Mrs. Corine Haugen, Mrs. Doris Harris, Mrs. Alice Wold, Mrs. Myrtl Mills, Mrs. Ina Hanway, Mrs. Ruth Kimbrough, Mrs. Elaine Wentzel, Mrs. Sharon Erickson, Mrs. Marlene Beedy and Mrs. Vivian Bartsch.

Speakers include several specialists who will discuss the latest detection, treatment and patient care.

A number of medical exhibits related to cancer will add to the teaching aspects of the conference. Sponsors are the American Cancer society, Minnesota department of Health and the Minnesota Nurses association.

PTA Conference Scheduled for Duluth Oct. 10-12

Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will keynote the 44th annual Minnesota PTA convention to be held October 10, 11 and 12 at the new lakeshore arena-auditorium in Duluth.

The address is to be given at the life membership luncheon scheduled for Tuesday, October 11. Subject of her talk, "Facing Critical Issues", is the theme of the state convention.

Workshops, panel discussions, educational films and speakers will be included in the three-day convention.

The convention will include "Workshops on Wheels" which will give each delegate a choice of touring the mental health center, University of Minnesota art center, exceptional child program at Lincoln elementary school and "Project Congdon" in the Duluth school.

Each PTA unit is allowed to send one delegate for each 25 members. If persons in the area would like more information on cost, registration, hotels, etc, they are asked to contact their local unit president.

Mrs. Howard Canneran, Fisher, District 17 president, would like to know if anyone in the area is interested in chartering a bus to the convention; if so, contact her.

Gas Tax Credit Form Available By December 15

Taxpayers who will claim credit for the tax on gasoline used for nonhighway purposes on their 1966 federal income tax returns should use form 4136 and attach it to their return, acording to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue.

In previous years, the tax refund was available only when a claim was filed. In the future, the refund of tax will be claimed on the annual income tax returns of the individuals, Lethert said.

The credit allowable for 1966 will include the tax on lubricating oil used otherwise than in a highway vehicle after Dec. 31, 1965.

This credit should be reported with other credits against atx on page one of Form 1040, clearly identified, and supported by the Form 4136.

The computation of credit for federal tax on gasoline and lubricating oil will be available at revenue service offices about December 15, Lethert declared.

"'I never offered an opinion till I was sixty,' said the old Turk, 'and then it was one which had been in our family for a century.'" —Benjamin Disraeli

All Is Quiet

Members of the Thief River Falls board of education and administration of the public schools are having difficulty in trying to assess the probability of passage of plans have been given considerable publicity, there has been very little public or private discussion on the questions.

With $330,000 being requested on one question and $200,000 on another, it would seem that more conversation would be generated in the neighbor-to-neighbor chat and coffee shop conferences than has been noted to date. We have heard of no organized opposition to either question, nor do we know of any citizens' group being formed for promotion of either issue.

The two questions, of course, deal with authorization of $330,000 in bonds to finance construction of a new vocational-technical school, and $200,000 to finance and indoor swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school.

We can understand to a certain extent why discussion hasn't been heavy in regard to the vocational-technical school. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that the building is needed, and that the community and area can scarcely affort not to build it. Matching funds through the state department of education have been verbally obligated, and much of the bond sale will be recovered over the years through state aids for non-district students.

The swimming pool is another matter. Much fuss and furor greeted a plan for an outdoor pool a short time ago. It hardly seems logical that an indoor pool proposal would not generate some heated discussion now.

Perhaps more discussion and promotion will be forthcoming, but for the present the board and administration must be content to speculate on the thoughts of voters of the district, in whose hands the fate of both proposals lies.

Campaign Talk

Political candidates are beginning to catch election fever, and this generally heats up the campaign for the voters. Two of the candidates we would like to discuss today are Sen. Walter F. Mondale, DFL, and his Republican challenger, Robert Forsythe.

Senator Mondale ascended to the U. S. Senate from his post of Minnesota attorney general when former Senator Hubert H. Humphrey rode the Johnson political limousine into the Whitehouse garage. He was appointed by Gov. Karl Rolvaag, and as an appointee has not been tested at the polls in a senatorial campaign.

Mondale has shown instances during his term when we have felt compelled to believe he could be a good senator. There are other times when he aligned himself too tightly with the Johnson "spend yourself rich" program.

But last week he went on public record with a statement which, if carried out to its stated intent, would make us inclined to think he has possibilities. The senator has been commenting recently on his efforts to prevent a toll increase of 10 per cent on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

At a hearing before the Senate public works committee, Alan S. Boyd, undersecretary of commerce in charge of transportation, not only opposed Mondale's bill to reorganize the seaway's finances but said he favored the 10 per cent increase in tolls.

And Mondale said this: "The health of the St. Lawrence Seaway is vital both for Minnesota and the United States. And I will fight to prevent a toll increase on the seaway no matter who is backing it Mr. Boyd, the secretary of commerce or the administration. . I am tired of seeing the commerce department following a transportation policy which benefits the Eastern interests and the East and West coast shippers, at the expense of the Great Lakes area and the upper Midwest. . ."

That's the way we like to hear a statesman talk, whether we agree with his ideas or not. If he is not merely talking campaign talk—and if he really means he will stand up to the administration and fight for Minnesota we admire his spunk. It is difficult, on the basis of past actions, to believe that Mondale has that much political independence or just plain guts.

Robert Forsythe, former chairman of the Minnesota Republican party, was in Thief River Falls Wednesday and gave a pep talk to a handful of Republicans in the Rex cafe. What he had to say about his campaign, his program and his opponent (Mondale) should have been heard by more people. . . .but that's the fault of the state GOP office.

Forsythe had been scheduled for the Chamber of Commerce "Meet the Candidate" series September 27. Somehow the scheduling in the state office became generally fouled up, the appointment was broken and Forsythe came in on his own Wednesday instead. For someone on the outside looking in, and needing every possible vote he can muster to have a shot at the six-year senatorial term, Forsythe and his staff displayed an abundance of cheek in failing to keep a commitment with the people of this area.

We recognize that campaigning is strenuous, that time is valuable, that the distance here from the Twin Cities is great and that this is an area without heavy voting power. But a man who says he wants to represent all of the people of Minnesota in Washington should give all of the people equal consideration in his campaign. If this is the way he conducts the affairs of his campaign, we sincerely question how he would conduct the affairs of his office if elected.

Forsythe is intelligent, a good speaker, wise in the ways of politics, solid in his views on government and a very personable man. He drives his campaign points home in powerful fashion, and he doesn't talk around issues. But he did break faith with Thief River Falls people who gave his every previous consideration, and for this we believe he merits having his ears pulled.

Here, Mr. Forsythe, when you make a commitment to northwestern Minnesota, you had best be prepared to keep it.

Hark to Hoover

Every person who calls himself or herself an American citizen should pay particular attention to the following message from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which appeared in the current FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin:

"A clarion call for resurgent, revolutionary action has been sounded by officials of the Communist Party, U.S.A. This policy switch was highlighted at the Party's 18th National Convention in June in New York City. Clearly a move for mass agitation, the new strategy comes at a time when hard-core communist leaders sense a growing mood of radicalism in America, a time when they feel a bold offensive will meet little resistance.

Gus Hall, general secretary of the Party, speaking with exuberance and confidence to the convention delegates, stated, "The Party has started to grow in membership and influence. We are a factor in the left stream of each of the mass currents in the country." Emphasizing this point, Hall said the Party must be the catalyst, the teacher, and the guider of the "new left." He called on the membership for a "move up to a revolutionary level. . .where you have a longer range goal, where you will now use the objective developments to bring an end to capitalism and its replacement by socialism.

The Party's aims are broad and sweeping. Accelerated communist influence can be expected in racial matters, civil rights issues, brutality charges against police, peace activities, and numerous other areas. Also, the youth of our Nation are being singled out for special attention. The Party's chief hope for rapid growth and approval rests on its efforts to entice restless young men and women into its ranks, and the communists already have good cause to be optimistic. Their campaign to blanket college and university campuses with communist speakers—a program which has been accepted with palliative indifference by many persons is a resounding success in the eyes of the Party.

Hall gave special praise to those who worked to get Marxism and the viewpoint of the communists onto the campuses, and he was quick to label the response to these appearances as a protest against legal restrictions which have plagued the Party. "Our concept of speaking to the millions," Hall concluded, "became a reality." A bouquet was also tossed to the W. E. B. LuBois Club of America, the communist-spawned Maxist youth organization, for successfully drawing increasing numbers of college youth into the Party. Working hand in hand with the DuBoi Club on the campuses are organizations such as the Students for a Democratic Society, a militant youth group which receives support from the Communist Party and which in turn supports communist objectives and tactics. Hall has characterized it, along with the DuBois Club, as a group which the Communist Party has "going for us."

What does this open, all-out thrust for power and approval mean to patriotic Americans? It means that the revolutionary forces of atheistic communism, which in recent years have been on the defensive, are now working openly and defiantly to destroy our system of free enterprise and democracy. It means that those who choose to downgrade the internal threat of communism are sadly underestimating the zeal and dedication of hard-core Party leaders. And it means that Americans, and all free people, must never relax their vigil against the foes of liberty.

Basically, the Party's immediate objective is to gain acceptance and recognition as a legitimate political party. In reality, of course the ultimate goal of the new communist offensive is still the same—the enslavement of the American people.

To my mind, citizens whose forefathers established a government of laws to preserve their freedoms should not be faced with dwindling legal means to protect that government from an announced attack by those dedicated to its violent overthrow.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Driving along a highway in early Fall we passed a beautiful big tree loaded with large red juicy apples. A man with several bushel baskets was picking the apples. My husband backed up the car and called, "Can we buy some apples?" "Nope," the man replied, "but you can pick all you want."

We carefully chose the largest and juiciest ones. After filling two large paper bags, we turned to the man, who was still silently filling his baskets. "Thanks so very much," we said. "Are you sure we can't pay you?"

"Nope," he replied, after a long pause. "I'm stealing them too." —The Rotarian

The Library Corner

Gradually settling into new patterns, acquainting ourselves and the public with the updated library rules and procedures, the expanded services we are now offering, we are less and less free to find time for this corner. But, our personal contribution to your information receiving the excellent comment that it has, we'll do our best to continue with it.

Moving, of necessity, due to the delays we encountered in construction, furnishing and setting up our new quarters, wasn't at all what we'd planned. We couldn't call on you via radio, as we had space enough at any one time to make a general call feasible. But we want to thank all of you who so generously offered your services. Your spirit of willingness was gratifying and speaks well for the citizenry's interest in educational facilities in general and the library's, in particular.

To the many young people who came out when we needed you. . . the Boy Scouts, Catholic and 7th Day Adventist students, senior, junior and in-between groups (both boys and girls), our deepest thanks. You worked like seasoned troupers, lifting heavy loads, making countless trips up and down stairs, and never thought of quitting until the job was done.

Incidentally, any time you need a recommendation, you know upon whom to call. We can vouch for the fact that although the leg-work was rough, you stuck with it. We're more than proud of you, and we want your parents and the community to know it.

Thanks again. . .to the patient public, who collectively proved to be so understanding of our problems, even though our being closed inconvenienced you greatly in some cases and, in others, kept you from your reading enjoyment. And to the town, it's a tribute to see this beautiful new edifice and a satisfaction in your recognizing the need of satisfying the intellectual hunger of our citizens, both present and future.

The library board, the Friends of the library and other interested persons, through concerted effort, have brought to fruition the plans of many years' standing. Their unflagging efforts deserve a nod of approval from all who now and in years to come will enjoy the fruits of their foresight.

In this vein, we want to extend a special word of appreciation to the Friends of the Library for their valuable assistance on opening day, last Monday. Your interest is reassuring; knowing you can be counted upon when a need arises is a lift to the library personnel. . . you'll never know how much!

Of course, you'll all want to see the place you've anticipated for so long, and there will be opportunity for this at the open house and dedication tentatively planned for the first Sunday in November. We expect a huge turnout, and for that day library rules of silence will be suspended, of course. There'll be all the opportunity you want for expressing your opinions and uttering your exclamations of delight, and for that one occasion we expect that the place will be abuzz with conversation.

The new set-up calls for updating and enforcing library etiquette, and here too we find the cooperation to be excellent. Silence is not a new library rule; however, the old, crowded building didn't seem to foster it. Here, silence is a necessity in order that the many who come here to study and to withdraw from the hubbub of everyday living may find a quiet sanctuary to which they may retire for contemplation, study or just uninterrupted reading.

Your cooperation is both needed and requested, and parents especially are asked to make this point understood by their youngsters. This is not a social club, a place to meet your neighbors for a friendly chat or to meet friends for a ball. Here is an excellent place for learning first hand about the Golden Rule and putting it into play. Silence is a courtesy to others, especially in a study area. We all appreciate courtesy. It's nice, isn't it?

Don't forget the new film service we're offering. If you have the projector, we have the films (16mm). Films may be reserved in advance, if desired, and requests may be made in person or by telephone. Remember that this is a free service, paid for from library funds, just as books are, and available to groups or individuals. Lists of films currently available, plus those for the six weeks beginning October 14, are obtainable at the library and will be publicized in the Times. Watch for them and clip them for future reference.

Books? Ordering has been curtailed during the moving process, due to lack of time, but will be in full swing again very soon. They'll be coming in within several weeks. So read this column and we'll tell you about what's here and what some of them are about.

How's Your Health?

(Prepared in the public interest by the Minnesota Medical Ass'n)

One is often confused by the array of professional titles used to designate various medical and paramedical specialties. This is particularly true of those professions involved in the care and treatment of the eye. What is an ophthalmologist? An oculist? An optometrist? An optician?

The Minnesota State Medical association has provided the following definitions:

An ophthalmologist is a physician, a doctor of medicine, who specializes in the care of the eye and all its related structures. He diagnoses and treats all disorders of the eye and prescribes the treatment.

Oculist is a less commonly used name for ophthalmologist.

An optometrist is a person trainconsultant member of a medical team, concerned with diseases of other systems of the body-diabetes, toxemia of pregnancy, cancer, multiple sclerosis, tuberculosis and other infections, hypertension, muscular dystrophy, brain tumor and heart disease-which manifest themselves in the eye.

Oculust is a less commonly used for ophthalmologist.

An optometrist is aperson trained to measure the focus of the eye for glasses. He is not a medical doctor, and he is not qualified or permitted to use drugs for testing the eyes or any other purpose. By law he is a limited practitioner, neither qualified nor permitted to diagnose or treat ocular disease. He may supply glasses on his own prescrition or, in most states, fill the ophthalmologist's prescription for glasses.

An optician is a skilled technician who supplies and fits glasses on the prescription of a physician. He is trained to make the necessary facial measurements, to formulate the specifications and to make the glasses or other appliances. He is not however a medical doctor and can supply glasses only on the authorization of a physician.

According to the Minnesota state medical association, rural traffic accidents are four times as hazardous as those occurring in a city. A recent study has indicated that there are four times as many deaths per 100 persons injured in accidents in rural areas as in urban accidents.

High speeds and the fatigue of driving long distances have been indicated for contributing to the higher fatality rate in rural accidents. The injuries incurred however are generally of the same severity or less severe, and there are several explanations which are perhaps more valid the medical association says.

Investigators have found that many persons injured in rural accidents choke to death from blood or mucus in the mouth. First aid is not immediately available at the scene of the accident to provide for maintenance of the airway and respiration. More than 90 per cent of the victims of rural accidents who die within the first hour are moreover still at the scene of the accident.

An ambulance must often travel many miles with the resultant delay of aid to the injured. Often there is also a delay in discovering the accident. A large percentage of the persons killed between midnight and six a.m. are non-residents. They are not missed for several hours because no one is expecting them.

While driver education programs have been proposed as a method to reduce accidents, other measures should also be considered. Among these says the medical association, are improved road design with adequate signs, fewer skid areas and better shoulders; licensing procedures which take into account medical factors which prevent effective driving; and safety factors built into the automobile itself.

Ambulance crews in rural areas should be particularly well trained as the aid they give at the scene of the accident may be the determining factor in whether or not the victim lives. The personnel of police and sheriff's departments should also have first aid training since they are most often among the first at the scene.

Production of electricity per person in the United States is about three times what it is in the Soviet Union—the second-ranking power-producing nation. And the use of electricity in the home in this country is almost seven times greater than in Russia.

Luncheon guests Friday afternoon at the Mrs. Maude Mathieu home were Mrs. Harvey Copp of Thief River Falls, and LeRoy Copp of Walker. Evening luncheon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Halvorson.

Milton Mathieu of Babbitt, formerly of Thief River Falls, submitted to a gall stone operation at the Ely hospital Tuesday morning of last week. At this writing he is getting along fine but will be confined to the hospital a few days more and then will recuperate several weeks at his home before he will return to work.

Thursday evening supper guests at the Bert Kron home at Rosewood were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meyer. The Bill Meyers left Friday morning for their home at Crescent City, California, going by way of Kalispell, Mont., where they will visit with the Maurice Russell family.

Coffee guests Sunday afternoon at the L. A. Meyer home were Mr. and Mrs. John Hall of Thief River Falls.

Mrs. William Kettler, (nee Edith Copp) arrived by plane Sunday noon to visit her father, Harvey Copp, who is a patient at Northwestern hospital and be a house guest of her mother, who moved into Thief River Falls, a week ago Sunday.

Proposed Amendment to the Minnesota State Constitution
Submitted by the 1965 Legislature

Amendment—Permission for Legislators to Hold Certain Offices

ROBERT W. MATTSON
Attorney General
State of Minnesota
St. Paul

HONORABLE JOSEPH L. DONOVAN — June 2, 1966
Secretary of State
STATE CAPITOL
St. Paul, Minnesota

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to M. S. 3.21, you are hereby furnished a statement of the purposes and effect of a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota.

By L. 1965, c. 689, the legislature has proposed an amendment to Art. IV, § 9 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota.

Art. IV, § 9 now reads as follows:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he is elected, hold any office under the authority of the United States or the State of Minnesota, except that of postmaster, and no senator or representative shall hold an office under the state which has been created or the emoluments of which have been increased during the session of the legislature of which he was a member, until one year after the expiration of his term of office in the legislature."

If amended as proposed by the legislature, Art. IV, § 9 will read:

"No senator or representative shall during the time which he serves, hold any office under the authority of the United States or the state of Minnesota, except that of postmaster. No senator or representative shall be disqualified for election to any elective office, but any senator or representative who is elected to any elective office under the authority of the state or of the United States, who shall qualify for the office to which elected, shall automatically terminate his term of office as senator or representative and create a vacancy therein.

"A senator or representative may resign his office before the expiration of the term to which he was elected by submitting his written resignation to the governor."

The purpose and effect of this amendment may be summarized as follows:

1. A senator or representative, under the presently existing provision, is precluded from holding any office under the authority of the United States or the state of Minnesota, except that of postmaster DURING THE TIME FOR WHICH HE IS ELECTED. The amendment will preclude those parties so described from holding another office DURING THE TIME HE SERVES. This will permit a senator or representative to hold another office during this elective period, provided he first resigns, or his office is otherwise terminated.

2. The proposed amendment will provide that no senator or representative shall be disqualified for election to any elective office.

3. The proposed amendment expressly provides that any senator or representative elected to state or federal office, and qualifying for the office, automatically terminates his office as senator or representative and creates a vacancy in his office.

4. The proposed amendment further expressly provides that any senator or representative may resign prior to the expiration of his term by submitting his written resignation to the governor.

The effect of this would be to accomplish the purposes stated.

Since the proposed amendment omits the existing provision, "* * * no senator or representative shall hold an office under the state which has been created or the emoluments of which have been increased during the session of the legislature of which he was a member until one year after the term of office in the legislature," this prohibition would be repealed by implication.

Very truly yours
ROBERT W. MATTSON
Attorney General

Federal Income Tax Questions Answered

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal revenue, St. Paul.

Q—I received a refund check with no explanation as to why it was sent to me, or what I overpaid my tax. Where can I get information about this payment?

A—You should contact one of our local Revenue Service offices for information concerning the overpayment and why you received this check.

Q—I have a small farm. Am I liable for the highway use tax?

A—Certain trucks you have which are used on the public roads may be liable for this tax. Vehicles used solely on the farm such as tractors and other equipment not normally operated on the roads are not subjectto the tax.

Write your district director for a copy of IRS publication 349 which gives the details on this tax.

Q—I recently purchased some stock. Why did the broker have to have my social security number?

A—Payers of dividends and interest are required by law to report all payments amounting to $10 or more a year to the IRS. These reports are identified by the recipient's tax account number which, for most individuals, is the social security number.

Q—I took a second job this summer. Is there any way to avoid being taxed twice for social security?

A—The law requires each employer to withhold for social security on the first $6,600 of wages paid to each employee. If more than $277.20 is withheld for social security on your combined jobs, the excess may be taken as a credit against your income tax when you file your 1966 income tax return.

Q—Is there any way a civic organization can raise funds without being taxed on what it makes?

A—Yes, if the organization obtains tax exempt status. Procedures for applying for this status are described in IRS document 5 You may secure a copy from any of our local offices.

Q—If I put my business on a fiscalyear rather than a calendar year basis will it change the dates my taxes are due?

A—The only change for a fiscal year taxpayer is in the due date for income tax and estimated tax returns. The due dates for social security, excise tax and withholding deposits are the same as those for calendar year taxpayers.

$23,000 Dividend Will Be Paid to Land Bank Owners

More than $23,000 in dividends will be paid to members of the Federal Land Bank association of Warren this week, according to Harold Sorenson, manager. This resents a five and one-half per cent dividend on capital stock.

Sorensen said that dividend checks would be mailed on October 1 to farmers who own stock in the association which serves Marshall, Kittson, Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Koochiching and the north half of Beltrami counties. The Warren Federal Land Bank association is owned entirely by the borrower members it serves.

"The Warren association," he said, "has paid a dividend for the past 20 years. More than $147,500 has been returned to members during this time."

More than 100 farmers in the counties served by the association presently have $7 million in long-term farm loans outstanding.

National 4-H Club Week Observed Through Oct. 1

Fourth generation of 4-H boys and girls and some 24 million adults who once were 4-H club members celebrated National 4-H Club Week, September 24 through October 1.

Main objectives of National 4-H Club week, say 4-H leaders, were to acquaint more parents and youngsters with 4-H so that they will join the program. Parents can become local club or project leaders, and their children active members.

Total enrollment in 4-H this year exceeds 2¼ million. The youngsters—from 9 to 19 years of age—reside in every county in every state. They are about equally divided between farm and non-farm residents, reports the cooperative extension service which supervises and conducts all 4-H work, including training of 525,000 adult and junior volunteer leaders.

This youth program also extends to Puerto Rico which boasts nearly 33,000 members. Pennington county enrollment is 472 members.

There are 96,000 clubs throughout the nation in which the members hold office plan activities and work on a variety of projects. As interests of youth have changed, 4-H has changed and expanded.

Private support of 4-H has kept pace. Business firms foundations and other friends help to finance state 4-H foundations, national and regional award programs, scholarships, training and teaching aids.

Nationally, 57 donors this year pledged well over $1 million, according to the national 4-H service committee of Chicago. These funds are used for long established 4-H programs and some brand new ones.

Scholarships alone will amount to $146,500, and an estimated 1,600 deserving boys and girls will enjoy national recognition for superior achievement and receive trips to the national 4-H club congress held in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving. For further information about 4-H, contact the county extension office.

Minnesota Ranks High in Highway Contracts Let

Minnesota ranks among the top 10 states in the total amount of highway construction contracts awarded from January to July 1966, reports the Minnesota highway department.

According to a report issued by the U. S. bureau of public roads, Minnesota awarded a total of 287 contracts from January to July, 1966. The total cost was $85,278,000 of which $56,670,000 was in federal funds.

The contracts include construction and improvements on interstate and regular trunk highways and county roads as well as maintenance improvements. A total of 728 miles of the state's roads are involved, including 46 miles of construction on the interstate system.

Other states ranking in the top 10 are New York, California, Pennsylvania, Texas, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Florida and Indiana. New York is in first place with $274,929,000 involved in the contracts awarded, and Texas, with 2,646 miles, ranks first in the number of miles involved. Minnesota ranked tenth among the states in the total cost of awarded contracts and seventh in the number of miles involved.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—As a widow and parent who is partially dependent on her son's compensation check I would like to know if the veteran should die, would that monthly check be stopped?

A—If your son dies from the disease or injury which has been rated as service-connected by the VA, you would be entitled to dependency and indemnity compensation from the VA as a dependent parent if your income is under the maximum set by law.

Q—I am service-connected for a disability, but am being treated in a VA hospital for a nonservice-connected ailment. Will my compensation be increased to 100 per cent during hospitalization?

A—Compensation is increased only if treatment is given for service-connected disabilities.

Q—Is it necessary to know definitely what school I will attend before applying under the new GI bill?

A—Not if you request counseling on the type or place of training you desire. Applying now will expedite the counseling process. If you do not desire counseling, you must designate your school and program. If the school has not already been approved, it will take some time to have it approved. And since schools are crowded the earlier you are assured of acceptance by the school, the better off you are.

DISASTER? No, just practice. Thief River Falls fire department was given permission by the city council to burn down an old house located on a point of land across the Red Lake river from Tindolph park on Sunday afternoon. Directed by Chief Roy Langevin, firemen set several different types of fires and used several types of equipment in drills to extinguish the flames. Finally the fire was permitted to get a good start throughout the building, with firemen occasionally using hoses to slow the blaze and prevent embers from spreading to a nearby residential area. Those watching the fire were given a memorable impression of the devastation which fire can bring. It would have been a good time to distribute information of Operation EDITH (Exit Drill In The Home), one of the phases of Fire Prevention Week next week.

Co. Hog and Beef Outlook Meeting Set October 13

Will the general agricultural situation continue to improve in 1967? Or will commodity supplies increase faster than improvements in both domestic and foreign demand?

This type of question will be subjected to some thorough discussion at the Pennington County Hog and Beef Outlook meeting Thursday, October 13, at 8 p.m. The session will be held in cooperation with Red Lake county at the Thief River Livestock Auction Market.

A University of Minnesota extension economist, Richard Hawkins, and animal husbandman, Bob Jacobs, will analyze short-term and long-run trends in the beef and hog industries. They will then explain how these trends affect individual farmer's plans.

Here are some of the specific questions for discussion according to Terry Courneya, Pennington County agricultural agent:

1. Cattle slaughter was heavy in 1966. How will this situation affect beef prices and cattle feeders' incomes in 1967?

2. Will the favorable hog prices and profits encourage over-expansion and result in low hog feeding profits in 1967?

3. What are the profit prospects for different grades and classes of cattle in 1967? What income can hog farmers expect next year?

Other questions will also be presented for discussion and review. Hog producers and cattle feeders will be encouraged to take part in the discussion and bring up any questions they wish.

A cattle display and demonstration on grades, profit prospects and feeding programs will also be held. All Pennington county farm families are invited to the meeting.

Police Benefit Ass'n. Schedules Annual Dances

Tickets go on sale Thursday for the 20th annual Policemen's dance, according to Elton Cummings, Thief River Falls police chief. Half of the proceeds from the dance go into the Don Myers memorial fund which is used to send children to summer camp.

Adults will dance to the J-Notes at the American Legion club rooms on Thursday, November 3, while teenagers will dance to music of the "Wonderful Rest" on Friday, November 4. Tickets sold for $1 each will be good for admission to either dance.

IFYE To Show Norway Slides

Pennington county IFYE (International Farm Youth Exchange) student, Aud Knutsen from Morkved, Valosen, Norway, will speak and show slides from Norway on Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the court house meeting room. This is open to everyone who is interested.

CASTING a witch's spell in the above scene from "Bell, Book and Candle" is Diane Marshall who plays the role of Aunt Queenie. Her subject is Sidney Redlitch, played by William Moeglein. Tonight is the final night for the Community Theatre's production, with curtain time at 8:15 p.m. in the Lincoln senior high school auditorium. Homecoming queen candidates at Lincoln high school will be introduced between acts tonight.

Holcomb Becomes CPA Partner of Homer Matheson

Boyd Holcomb, C.P.A., has associated as a partner in the certified public accounting firm of Homer Matheson and Gerald Knutson.

Since 1958, Holcomb has maintained a C.P.A. practice in Thief River Falls and Crookston, which will not be interupted by the new association. From 1934 to 1952 he was secretary of a Production Credit association, a federal investigation supervisor and chief accountant and budget director of a wholesale firm. From 1958, he was associated with a C.P.A. firm in St. Paul.

Holcomb, 51, was born at Detroit Lakes, attended the University of Minnesota, Minnesota School of Business, Cooperative Management institute, and studied with the International Accounts Society in Chicago. He is licensed to practice as a certified public accountant in Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin.

He is marrid to the former Evelyn Danielson of Ely and they have three children.

Program Arranged For Local Fire Prevention Week

Rev. William Wey, Minnesota State Fire Departments Chaplain, will visit Thief River Falls Monday to participate in Fire Prevention week activities, according to Patrick Barry, assistant state fire marshal and Roy Lanvegin, local fire chief.

Rev. Wey will show movies on the "Chicago School Fire" and the "Los Angeles School Fire" at the St. Bernard and Franklin schools during the day and in the evening at the first meeting of the Northrop P.T.A. Rev Wey is also a director in this region for the Minnesota Firemen's Benefit association.

Mrs. Joan Lendobeja, president of the Northrop P.T.A., invites P.T.A. members from other schools and anyone interested to attend the program which will start about 8 p.m.

Cattle Feeders Institute Set

Cattlemen as well as others interested in the cattle feeding industry are urged to be at the Winter Shows arena at 3 p.m.

Plummer School Homecoming Held; Martell Crowned

Plummer high school held its annual homecoming event on Friday. Festivities started out at 7:15 p.m. with a pep rally, which included skits, speeches by Coach Paulson and the co-captains, Duane Walters and Allan Peterson. Speeches were also given by the Janet Martell and Sharon Cardinal.

The theme of the homecoming, "Bury the Bulldogs", was fulfilled as the Cardinals beat Gonvick 34-6. A half time performance was given by the Plummer band, led by the majorettes. Crowning of the queen also took place at half time, and Sandy Mantel, homecoming queen of 1965, crowned Janet Martell homecoming queen of 1966. She also announced that Allan Peterson had been chosen as king.

Following the game a dance was held in honor of the alumni at the Plummer high school gym. Music was supplied by the Czars. King Allan and Queen Janet started off the dance with the grand march followed by the attendants, who were: Seniors, Bonnie Hesse, Sharon Cardinal, Pat Wichterman, and Donald Vandeventer; juniors, Sandy Baune and Bobby Martell; and sophomores, Pat Moreau and Bryon Paradis. Crown bearers were Donna Martell and Billy Nystrom from the first grade.

Plan Area Office Here

State Extension Program Expanded

Pennington county board of commissioners allotted space in the courthouse building to a new program of the state extension service at the regular meeting held Tuesday. The new office is expected to open about December 1.

Howard Newell, director of the state extension service, met with the board Tuesday to present a formal request for office space and to further outline the program. An area coordinator of education programs will be located here to serve a seven-county area in Northwestern Minnesota. Bill Penning, who has had his office in the county extension office here, will be added to the district office.

The new office will direct college-level programs and provide specialized service to farmers in the seven-county area. Office space allocated is currently being used by the farm management program of the area vocational - technical school. Personnel of that department will move to temporary quarters to make room for the new state office, according to C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington County auditor.

Commissioners also accepted the completion of several road projects, including graveling of county roads and bituminous surfacing of SAR 2 from the south end of the airport road to highway 59, and SAR 12 also known as the Wylie road.

The board will act as a committee of the whole to inspect that portion of the Thief river lying to Pennington county with a view toward accomplishing snagging operations. Money was allocated for this project two years ago, but the work has not yet been done.

Allocation of $3,000 was made to the Thief River Falls public library, the same amount as in previous years. In prior years $1,000 of the total had been stipulated for a building fund, but since the new library has been constructed and is in operation, no such stipulation was made in this year's allocation.

Most of the board's time Tuesday was occupied with the setting of ditch maintenance levies at various percentages of the original assessments on ditches in the county.

Police Report Mishap, Larceny And Shoplifting

One accident in the city was reported during the past several days by the Thief River Falls police department. The department also noted the apprehension of two shoplifters age eight and nine on October 4 and the reported larceny of a television set valued at $150 which was brought into a local store for service.

The accident happened Monday about 3:25 p.m. near the intersection of Main avenue and First street. A car owned by James Parkins Sr., was parked on Main avenue in front of the new city library when struck by a truck owned by Land O'Lakes Cremeries, Inc., and driven by Arnold Gunderson, which was traveling north on Main and making a right turn on First street. Damage to the car was estimated at $130.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kohler of Detroit Lakes spent the weekend in Thief River Falls at the home of their son and family, the Kenneth Kohlers.

Nancy Newton Becomes Bride of Richard McGraw

The marriage of Miss Nancy Maureen Newton and Richard Banning McGraw was solemnized Saturday, September 3, in a candlelight ceremony at the Bethany Lutheran church in rural Thief River Falls. The Rev. A. B. Heltne officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of ferns, white gladioli and candelabra graced the chancel.

Traditional nuptial music was played by the organist, Mrs. Arnold Hammer, who also sang. "The Song of Ruth" by Gounod predeling the processionals. She played the "Hymn to Concordia" for the bridemaids' processional and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach as the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Larry Gedde of Wadena, friend of the couple, sang "Beautiful Savior" and as he couple knelt at the altar he sang "The Lord's Prayer". The recessional, "Triumphal March" by Verdi, was played after the couple was presented to the congregation.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newton of this city and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGraw of Delano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line, semi-fitted floor-length gown of white peau de sole which she designed and fashioned. It featured a detachable chapel length train edged with lace appliques. Lace also enhanced the rounded neckline, bell-shaped sleeves and front of the skirt. Her silk illusion fingertip veil was caught by a large white rose fashioned of the same material as the gown. Entwined in the rose was a spring of orange flossoms from her grandmother's wedding veil. For sentiment the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue was carried out. She carried a cascade of glamellias with featured tangering carnations for accent.

Miss Diane Glesne, Underwood, college roommate of the bride, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Gloria Philipp of Thief River Falls, Betty Winter of Currie, both college roommates of the bride, Miss Kathy McGrew of Litchfield, sister of the groom, and Miss Peggy Newton, sister of the bride.

They wore empire fashioned floor length gowns of gold peau de sole, styled with scooped necklines, trumpet slevesan d A-line skirts. A band of similar material encircled the empire waistlines. To complete their attire each wore a pale gold veil secured to a puffed peau de sole rose headpiece, and carried a cascade of arrangement of chamagne colored carnations flecked with feathered tangerine carnations. Their sterling and pearl bracelets were gifts from the bride.

The groom was attended by Larry Klundt of Portland, N. D., as best man. Groomsmen were Charles Swanson of Kennedy; Neil Okerlund of White Bear Lake, Alan Newton, brother of the bride, and Larry Gedde of Wadena. Ushers were Larry Helgeland of this city, cousin of the bride, and Terry Hanson of Minneapolis, friend of the groom. The men were attired in black business suits and wore boutonnieres of White carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Marcia Newton and Barry Newton, sister and brother of the bride. Miss Newton wore a gold peau de sole floor-length gown similar to those worn by the bridesmaids. Her headpiece was a gold peau de sole rose attached to a headband of the same material.

The mothr of the bride was attired in a blue-green three-piece knit ensemble with coordinaing accessories. The groom's mother wore a creme and olive green two piece suit with coordinating accessories. Both wore identical corsages of yellow roses and white carnations.

Attendinga s special guest was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Hatie McGraw of Willmar.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony with Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Norman Johnson as hostesses. Mrs. Clifford Habedank of this city registered the guests and Misses Sharon Peterson and Paula Haugen, friends of the bride, served the punch.

The five-tiered wedding cake was topped by a gold Christogram, symbolizing marriage in Christ. Trimmed with cascades of tangerine roses, the cake was cut and served by Mrs. Gladys Sundt, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph Nelson, aunt of the groom. Mrs. Leonard Helgeland, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lars Thorson, aunt of the groom, poured. Waitresses were Miss Pat Halvorson of Baker, Pat Henum of Kennedy and Ruth Hammer of this city. Groom's cake was served to the guests by Marcia Newton, sister of the bride. In charge of the gift table were Miss Carol Stenseth and Miss Carol Peterson, both of this city.

Guests attending were from Superior and Brookfield, Wis., Portland and Mayville, N. D.; Moorhead, Darwin, Minneapolis, Redwood Falls, Willmar, Wadena, Underwood, Currie, Benson, Goodridge, Kennedy, Litchfield and Delano.

For going away the bride wore a knit creme and olive green dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow and white roses accented by feathered tangerine carnaions.

Rasmussen Named To Head Sinclair For Senate Group

J. C. Rasmussen of Stephen has again been selected to head the "Sinclair for State Senator" volunteer committee to promote the reelection campaign of Donald Sinclair. Rasmussen headed similar committees prior to the 1958 and 1962 elections.

Rasmussen operates a general insurance agency in Stephen. A life-long resident of Stephen, he is presently clerk of the village council and is a former member of the school board.

In accepting the position to head the Sinclair volunteer committee, Rasmussen said: "In these days when so many important issues face our state government, it is vitally important that capable, experienced men represent us in the Legislature. This is of particular importance since the recent reapportionment of legislative districts that decreases representation in northwestern Minnesota.

"Senator Sinclair, life-long Stephen farmer, has established seniority as a key member of the Senate. His position as chairman of the Senate committee on agriculture and as a ranking member of the education, highways and finance committees is of great value to the people of the 67th district. We plan to bring to the attention of the voters of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties the fine record that Sinclair has made in the state Senate during his many years of service."

New Signs Posted At State Parks

Most Minnesota state parks have been posted with new signs to mark their boundaries, but they are still game refuges, the conservation department advised hunters today.

In place of the old black and white game refuge signs, the new signs have black letters on a yellow background reading "STATE PARK".

All state parks continue to be game refuges and are only open to hunting by order of the commissioner of conservation and then only for a specificed species of wildlife.

The only state parks open to any kind of hunting this year are St. Croix state park and Itasca. Deer hunting is being permitted in these two parks under special regulation.

Conservation officials said sportsmen should consult their hunting synopis for the rules covering these two areas.

Davison Calls Langen Liar on Flood Control

Keith C. Davison, DFL candidate for Congress, said recently that funds for he planning and designing of the Roseau river flood control project would not have been possible had the vote of the GOP-incumbent Congressman prevailed in Congress.

Speaking before the Central Labor Union council in Bemidji, Davison said that the incumbent was "now trying to cover up his voting record with press releases implying his support for programs he had voted against."

Davison, in a "gloves-off Approach" in his efforts to win election to the Seventh District Congressional seat, read from a copy of the ifcument's press release which said:

"The sum of $50,000 was set aside for the (Roseau river) project, authorized in the last year's flood control act. Langen previously urged his colleagues on the committee to support it."

"This is a blatant effort to mislead the public," said Davison, "and it's about time that someone set the record straight." All the press releases and fancy Madison Avenue gimmicks in the world are not going to alter the fact that on Oct. 20, 1965, in the U. S. House of Representatives when the flood control act came up for a vote, the incumbent-GOP Congressman from the Seventh Congressional district in Minnesota voted NO. The truth of the matter is that these funds were provided despite the incumbent's opposition."

Radio Speaker in City Next Tuesday

Dr. H. M. S. Richards, speaker on the "Voice of Prophecy" radio program wich originated in the late 1920's and has been coast to coast since 1942, will speak in Thief River Falls Tuesday. He will make a personal speaking appearance at 8 p.m. in the city auditorium.

Appearing with Dr. Richards will be Del Delker, contralto soloist, and Bradford W. Braley, organist. Both are regulars with the "Voice of Prophecy" program which is heard by millions of radio listeners on major networks in the United States and many other parts of the world.

One of the earliest pioneers of religious broadcasting, Dr. Richards has utilized radio for more than 30 years of proclaiming the gospel. The "Voice of Prophecy" for which he is speaker and director is in its fourth decade of broadcasting and its third decade coast to coast.

Del Delker has been singing since she was a very young girl, and for a number of years she has been soloist for the "Voice of Prophecy" program. She tabulates requests for certain songs which listeners ask to have repeated, and sings those numbers which the audience seems to prefer.

Braley has been the "Voice of Prophecy" organist for 11 years, and serves as accompanist for "The King's Heralds" quartet and for Miss Delker. He studied concert piano for eight years before concentrating his efforts toward organ music. He has studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and for 10 years was solo organist with Paramount Theaters.

The public is invited to attend the one-night gospel program Tuesday evening and to hear and see Dr. Richards in person. His appearance was arranged locally through the Seventh-day Adventist church.

y Scouts Set District Meeting

October district meeting of the Boy Scouts of America will be held at Oak Island Saturday and Sunday. A group will leave Warroad at 8 a.m. Saturday morning. All scouters are invited to attend, and are asked to bring their own bedding and food.

They should contact Morris Owen or Mike Mongoven, Thief River Falls, in advance so arrangements can be made.

SMOKE billowed up in a dense, black cloud Sunday afternoon as Thief River Falls firemen held an orientation and practice session across the Red Lake river from Tindolph park. The fire above was used to help give firemen knowledge and confidence in use of fog spray apparatus in fire fighting. As usual the activity attracted youngsters who followed the smoke and watched the proceedings in apparent fascination.

nald Asselin es in Navy dear Viet Nam

Fireman Apprntice Donald L. Asselin, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Asselin of Brooks, is currently serving aboard the destroyer Wiltsie on a six-month deployment off the Vietnamese coastline.

While on a search and rescue station recently, the Wiltsie refueled airborne helicopters 120 times which is believed to be the record for "helo-in-flight" refuelings in a single month.

The modern destroyer has improved anti-submarine and anti-aircraft capabilities as well as the latest in sonar and radar detection equipment. Thus far on its present cruise, it has visited the ports of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, Subic Bay, Philippines and the British colony of Hong Kong.

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Since reapportionment of the Minnesota legislature last year, many of the state's legislators have found themselves representing new areas and communities. District 67-B now has two representatives—and has had two representatives since the apportionment became law upon passage—and I currently represent Roseau and eastern Marshall county in addition to Penning-

Through the media of this newspaper, I would like to bring to the people of this district a report on some of the activities of the legislature, both during sessions on odd-numbered years and during the interim between sessions.

During the interim between the regular biennial sessions, several committees are activated and are quietly studying the problems assigned to them. The education sub-committee of appropriations, of which I am a member and have served the past two sessions, also works during the interim.

This sub-committee handles all appropriations for education—including all state aids for elementary and secondary education, University of Minnesota and all its branches, all of the state colleges, public junior colleges and the agricultural extension service and agricultural research. Total of this appropriation represents approximately two-thirds of the entire state budget.

Chairman Rod Searle of Waseca felt that it would be educational and wise for the committee to visit the institutions of higher learning and meet the faculty "on their home ground". We have visited all five state colleges, the University of Minnesota and its branches at Morris, Duluth and Crookston, meeting with the administration, faculty represenatives and civil service employees on each campus in separate meetings. Problems were thus uncovered which had never been presented to the Legislature before.

We also visited the junior college and area vocational-technical school at Thief River Falls. One meeting was devoted to the agricultural extension service and another to the Institute of Agriculture.

Due to the importance of agriculture to this area of Minnesota, I would like to mention some of the items this committee considers that directly affect the farmer, and cite some examples where agriculture research has increased income for our farmers and the economy of the state. Agri-business now employs 38 per cent of all of Minnesota's employed people.

Soybeans provide an excellent example of the value of research. For the past 10 years they have had an annual value of over $150 million, with an additional $11 million added to the economy of new varieties has contributed to the expansion of soybean production.

If only one-third of the increase in average yield per acre over the past 10 years is credited to improved varieties, the increased value per acre would be over three dollars. Since 2.2 million acres were planted to soybeans in 1963-64, improved varieties through research have added $7 million in new annual wealth to Minnesota soybean producers. Continuing research efforts could produce soybeans which can be grown successfully in this area.

During the last session I introduced a bill which added $1,000 to the research program strictly for research on oats—one of the principal crops in my district. Passage of this bill was the first time an appropriation had been made specifically for research on oats, and I am sure that concentrated efforts will improve varieties and production methods of this crop.

There are approximately four million acres of Minnesota cropland devoted to forage, legumes and grass, and grass crops for hay and silage production as well as seed. Research has brought about higher quality and greater yields through improved cutting practices, fertilizer amounts and application and improved varieties. Net result has been greater returns per acre and per animal unit through greater production efficiency.

Research in specific categories is being continued and in many cases expanded. Legislators do care about farmers and the rural economy of our state. One way we respond to these needs is through agricultural research.

4-H NEWS

Smiley 4-H

Smiley 4-H club held its regular meeting, Wednesday, September 14, at the Smiley hall. President Arlo Rude called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered to "What grade are you in?"

New business discussed was National 4-H Club week September 24-October 1. It was decided to make emblems for store personnel during this week. Those elected to be on the program committee for the radio program to be held October 8 are Charlotte Rude, Norma Belswenger, Lona Carlson and Peggy Newton with Mrs. Rude and Mrs. Stenseth's help.

The awards banquet will be held November 2 at the armory. A motion was made that the club buy tickets for the past adult leaders. Lona Carlson and LaDawn Rude were nams sent in for a trip to St. Paul sponsored by the Red Lake Electric.

Enrollment cards were handed out. Those graduating from 4-H this year are to turn their name into the office.

It was decided to have safety as club project again this year.

Election of officers was held with with the following elected:

LaDawn Rude, president; Norma Belswenger, vice president; Lona Carlson secretary; Donald Dean Knutson, treasurer; David Rude, song leader; Peggy Newton, reporter; Don Knutson, Mrs. Ted Belswenger and Ted Belswenger or Herman Rude, adult leaders.

Demonstrations were given by David Rude and Troy Torkelson; project talks by Charlotte Rude and Donald Dean Knutson. The Stenseth and Newton families served refreshments.

Next meeting will b held October 12 at the Smiley hall. Any new members are welcome to join. Enrollments cards are due then. Members are asked to check their program books as to who is on the program.

Hunters Land Airplane On Refuge, Hunt Geese

Violation of laws were many and varied on the opening weekend of the goose hunting season in this area, according to information received by the Times from refuge personnel and game wardens in the field Saturday and Sunday. Indications point to a generally good opening for the duck season this Saturday.

Among the violations noted, however, none was quite as spectacular as one noted at Agassiz National Wildlife refuge. Three hunters who gave their addresses as Hibbing and the Twin Cities set their pontoon - equipped airplane down on Agassiz pool—a pool normally covering about 17,000 acres directly north of headquarters.

When apprehended by Dave Cline of the refuge staff, the men had one goose in their possession and said they had been hunting in the area since about 11:30 a.m. At that time they were north of Judicial Ditch 11 on the Agassiz pool, about two and one-half miles from headquarters.

Cline told the Times that it was somewhat miraculous that the plane was able to land, since the pool has been drawn down to a depth of two feet and less, and is filled with snags and deadheads. He said the plane jockeyed for position nearly half an hour before becoming airborne again. The men have been charged with hunting on a refuge and hearing will be held before Justice C. Elmar Johnson in Warren Friday evening.

Jay Haraldson at the Thief Lake Wildlife Management area said that goose concentrations and flight patterns on the west end of the refuge caused congestion and extreme hunting pressure in that area, but that law violations were not as great as expected. Most of the problems resulted from firing line hunters shooting at geese before they crossed the refuge line on feeding flights.

Haraldson estimated that between 400 and 450 geese had been taken in the Thief Lake area. Cline said the kill in the area around Agassiz refuge during the first two days was about 500. Only a scattered few geese were snow or blue geese, the rest being Canadas. Last year the kill in the Agassiz area for the first nine days of the season was 1,050. Hunters were considered more numerous this year at both Agassiz and Thief Lake.

Game warden Donald Fearn in Thief River Falls said that between 15 and 20 arrests were made in this area, with assistance provided by other state wardens and federal wildlife personnel. Violations included hunting without a license and-or federal waterfowl stamp, taking ducks during closed season, transporting uncased firearms in a motor vehicle, using shotguns capable of holding more than three shells, shooting Franklin gulls and taking geese before opening of the season.

While geese are concentrated on the two refuges, no feeding is being done for either ducks or geese and refuge fields are being plowed at Agassiz, Cline said. Agassiz currently has a population of 3,000 to 4,000 geese while Thief Lake has an estimated 2,000. Many birds moved out after the barrage of shooting on the opening weekend.

Cline said that the duck population at Agassiz is expected to be about 60,000 by Saturday with some northern birds arriving there. Nearly half of that total is comprised of mallards, with gadwalls the next most numerous. Haraldson said that the mallard population at Thief Lake has decreased and that no appreciable arrival of northern ducks has been noted as yet. Since most grain fields have been plowed, field hunting will be spotty and generally poor.

West accesses at Thief Lake — which were previously opened to hunters on foot—have been closed for the duck opening. Hunting area will remain the same but more walking will be required to reach these hunting spots. The road around the lake remains open and accesses for boat launching remain the same.

Hunters taking to the lake or field this weekend are reminded that shooting will be permitted from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset for all waterfowl. Exception to this rule will be on Saturday when no hunting will be permitted until noon. The noon opening also applies to sharptail and ruffed grouse seasons which open the same day.

Hunters are also asked to check their hunting synopsis for laws relating to hunting of the various species, particularly waterfowl. Among these restrictions is the law which makes it illegal to leave decoys unattended on public waters.

Homecoming

The Prowlers will be celebrating Homecoming on Friday night when they meet the Lakers of Detroit Lakes at 7:30 p.m. on the Lincoln field. With the exception of 1959, the Lakers and the Prowlers have been meeting on the gridiron since 1952. The 1959 game was cancelled because of the unplayable conditions that prevailed here at that time, with heavy rains having made a "lake" of the playing field and its approaches.

Detroit Lakes holds an edge in games, tied one, and lost five. And coach Del Mollberg's Lakers are working on a three-game winning streak, having defeated the Prowlers, 20-19 in 1963, 20-12 in 1964, and 21-12 last year. Fact is, the Lakers have won five of the last six games played, with the Prowlers of 1962, co-captained by Paul Klungness and Jim Ranum, being successful in scoring a 19-7 win in a game played here.

In 1958 the Prowlers, with Phil Hanson and Lynn Nicholson sharing the captaincy, defeated the Lakers, 26-0. And in 1957 the locals edged out Detroit Lakes, 7-6, in a game played on the local field. That 1957 squad had Dave Rasmussen and Jim Nelson as co-captains.

The other two victories in the Prowler win column were recorded in 1955, when the Prowlers of Howard Ptacek and Ronnie Reese scored a 7-6 win; and in 1954 when the locals, with Sid Vrna and Pete Froehle as co-captains, defeated the Lakers, 27-19.

The most one-sided game of the series occurred here in 1953 when the Lakers rolled up a 44-6 win. That was the year that the Lakers, with Rich Borstad as their star, were rated as the state's number two team. Borstad later went on to post a fine career with the Minnesota Gophers.

Many of these games, played here and at Detroit Lakes, have been Homecoming tilts, and they have been interesting and entertaining contests. And Friday night's game should follow that pattern.

Big Game

A number of freezers around town are being filled with moose steaks and roasts as a result of hunting expeditions into the Manitoba, Canada, wilds.

Al Sampson and Hilary Stoltman, hunting the east side of Lake Winnipeg, around the Bloodvein river area, filled up quickly. Al bagged a moose the first day, and Hilary got his the second day. The two then spent several days fishing, and reported fabulous luck.

Russ Williams, Bob Jenkins, Dennis Zachar and their party, six in all, bagged three moose. They hunted around Bissell, also on the east side of Lake Winnipeg.

Drs. Al Scheuneman, Ernest Thorsgard and Herb Achenbach went into the James Bay area of Canada, and Dr. Scheuneman was successful in bagging a moose. They were really out in the "bush country", hunting the Hayes river area.

Well there was one advantage that these hunters had and that was that they were not subjected to hunting pressure that was in evidence around here last weekend. The pressure was terrific, and the sportsmanship was terrible. If the goose hunting pressure continues to increase at the rate of the past several years, and with the trigger-happy hunters on the loose, a hunting tragedy is certain to be placed in the legal files. This past week, threats were made, fist fights developed and retrieving dogs were shot. There must be an answer, but I haven't one.

A Timid Nod for the Orioles

The 1966 World's Series opens this afternoon, Wednesday, in the Dodger stadium in Los Angeles. The odds-makers have installed the National League Dodgers as favorites to win the series, perhaps in six games. If the Dodger pitching staff, headed by the incomparable Sandy Koufax had been well-rested, these odds would perhaps be in order. But Koufax had to pitch on Sunday, with but two days rest, and he will be kept out of the Series until Thursday. Don Drysdale, a big and powerful right-hander, who has a penchant for giving up home run pitches, will be the Dodger starter.

And it must be remembered that the Los Angeles club has been forced to play through a gruelling season's final week, and with several players handicapped by injuries. The Baltimore Orioles, meanwhile, have been playing "for fun", and their hitters—Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Boog Powell and the others—should be primed for the Series.

It will be Dodger pitching and defense against Oriole hitting and offense. Much has been made of the Baltimore bull pen, but the Dodger slash-and-run hitters may cause the Orioles' relief pitching some trouble. But it's a nod for Baltimore.

Roseau at Crookston Cathedral.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks continue to run roughshod over their Northwest conference opponents as coach Red Wilson's team rolled up a convincing 46 to 12 win over a well-regarded Roseau Rams squad on Friday night. The 'Jacks in posting a pair of conference wins, have scored a total of 83 points, defeating East Grand Forks 37 to 13 in a conference opener. This week the Lumberjacks will play at Coleraine.

The Crookston Central Pirates, losers by a 6-0 score to the Warren Ponies on Friday, will travel to East Grand Forks for a nonconference game against coach Ron Thompson's Green Wave. It will be the first conference game for the Pirates, while the East Siders, with a one win and one loss mark, will be in their third engagement.

The Thief River Falls Prowlers will be hosting the Lakers of Detroit Lakes in a Homecoming game at Lincoln field on Friday night. And the Roseau Rams will be playing Crookston Cathedral at Crookston.

Milk Price Regulation Faces Major Problems

State laws aimed at regulating milk prices appear to be facing two major problems, according to Jerome ammond and Ronald Knutson, researchers in agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota.

The problems, which the economists feel will continue and intensify, are (1) the organization and interest of consumer groups and consumer representatives in eliminating state pricing of milk; and (2) the inability of states to individually regulate out-of-state milk.

Criticism of state milk price controls has been considerably widespread over the past few years. Some public officials at state and local levels propose the elimination of wholesale and retail price fixing. Likewise, supermarket owners and their spokesmen often request the elimination of price controls.

While dealers and processors of dairy products often take both positions, managers of small firms tend to favor price regulations while those of large firms tend to oppose them.

In opposition to high milk prices, consumer groups in a number of states have actively advocated repeal of wholesale milk pricing. The governor of one state is currently leading a campaign to eliminate retail and wholesale price fixing, while supporting price control at the producer level.

The second problem of maintaining state control of milk prices is that states are unable to protect their producer milk price programs from out-of-state milk supplies.

An example of this is in Oregon where a 1963 law allows for the establishment of milk class prices according to use. It also provides for the establishment of quotas limiting the amount of milk used for high priced (Class I) fluid utilization.

The problem, however, is that quotas cannot be established on out-of-state producers. In the Oregon example dealers can buy milk in Washington, California or Idaho at low prices and put it into Class I utilization. By so doing they can decrease the amount of Oregon milk put to this use—a practice which depresses returns to Oregon producers.

The Oregon circuit court held that the control board could not require that milk received from out-of-state be allocated for use in the same proportion as milk received from Oregon producers.

In Minnesota, the legislative research committee decided that a milk price control law would not be workable. Since so much fluid eligible milk is available from nearby states, the committee felt that a price control law would probably increase the quantity of milk from out-of-state sources, thus eliminating returns for in-state producers.

Pennsylvania has also had problems of interstate milk shipments. In the western area, including the large Pittsburgh market, low priced Ohio milk undermines the milk control program. According to some charges, Pennsylvania dealers are selling milk in Ohio and buying it back to avoid prices established by the Commission. A bill passed by the state legislature provided that dairies buying out-of-state milk at low prices pay the difference into a state fund, but the governor vetoed it.

Despite these complications, proposals to enact milk price control programs are still numerous. In the past two years, nine states had proposals to institute price control programs. South Dakota enacted such a control law last year.

Nutritionist At U of M Explains Ground Meat Cuts

Penny-wise shoppers usually have hamburger near the top of their weekly marketing list, but at meat counters they may be baffled by the packages of ground beef labeled hamburger, ground beef, ground chuck, ground round or ground sirloin.

Knowing the right meat to buy for the dish you plan to serve will not only save you money, but will also result in a more satisfying, delicious meal, say University of Minnesota extension nutritionists.

Nutritionally, all lean beef, regardless of the cut, has the same content of protein, vitamins and minerals, although the percentage of fat in the meat will have some effect on the total.

Nutritionists point out that a certain amount of fat—between 15 and 30 per cent—is necessary in ground beef to provide tender, juicy and flavorful cooked meat. Lower amounts of fat tend to produce dry, crumbly tasteless meat.

Minnesota-approved plants comply with federal regulations which may include the addition of beef fat over and above that attached to the meat being ground. It cannot contain extenders such as non-fat dry milk, soybean products, cereals, water or other products and still be labeled hamburger.

Ground beef can also contain up to 30 per cent fat, but retailers who grind their own frequently use about 18 per cent, since only that fat which is normally on the meat can be used. No extenders can be added.

Both hamburger and ground beef are made from boneless chuck of less tender beef, along with the less popular cuts such as neck meat, stew cuts, and plate, brisket, flank, shank and trimmings from boned roasts.

Ground chuck is meat from the shoulder or "chuck" of the animal. The chuck is more popular than the cuts of meat used in regular ground beef, so it is usually higher priced. It is slightly leaner, 15 to 25 per cent fat, and shrinks less in cooking than regular ground beef. Because of this, it is especially good for use in patties.

Ground round is what it's name implies—ground up round steak. Since round steak has a fat content of only about 11 per cent, it may not be as desirable for grinding and use in patties.

Ground sirloin comes from the popular sirloin steak. You pay more for this fine meat flavor of steak.

No matter which kind of ground beef you buy, look for a bluish red color to indicate the meat has been freshly ground.

Since ground meat is more perishable than steaks or roasts, specialists advise purchasing only the amount that can be used in two days, unless you have a freezer. Remove the store wrappings, cover lightly with waxed paper, store in the coldest part of the refrigerator and use as soon as possible.

For longer storage in the freezer, try freezing the ground meat in patties. For easy separation, put two layers of waxed paper between each patty, then wrap the patties in freezer paper or in plastic bags, and freeze at zero degrees. The frozen patties can be stored this way from two to three months. Patties thaw quickly or can be cooked from the frozen state.

Cook the meat only to the medium done stage, even if it is put into casseroles or sauces. Don't try to flatten meat patties while they are cooking or you may squeeze out both juice and flavor.

UND Enrollment Tops 7,000 Mark

University of North Dakota enrollment has surpassed 7,000 for the first time in history, Miss Ruby M. McKenzie, registrar, announced September 20. The total includes 6,331 on the campus at Grand Forks, 451 at UND-Ellendale branch and 257 at UND-Williston center. The Grand Forks campus enrollment thus far is 461 over the 5,870 figure at this time last year.

Miss McKenzie said that the total figure is incomplete and registrations would continue until the end of September. Figures released include registrations through September 19.

Friends Complete Farm Work for Donald Boutain

Friends and relatives of Donald Boutain, Dorothy farmer, gathered together last week to do the necessary fall work on the Boutain farm.

Boutain was severely injured in a combine accident and is recovering in St. Francis hospital, Crookston.

Organized by Sidney Kirk, 20 men—got together, brought their machinery and plowed 130 acres, cultivated 140 acres, disked 38 acres, cut the 18 acres of corn and filled the silo.

Not to be outdone, the women of the community and the Busy Janes homemakers club cooked and donated food. They served dinner for the men and an afternoon lunch.

Men who took part in the work were: Sidney Kirk, Albert Doyen, Tony Elbinger, Henry Hutchinson, Robert and Earl Sirek, Adelore, Ralph, Elmer, Andrew and Emery Boutain, Donald Huot, Louis Zutz, Erdman Schultz, Thane Beyer, John Stich, Leland Bol, Joseph Hanson, Alvin Moran, Mark Casavan, Jim Zutz, Gregory Beyer, Eugene Boyle, Alan Wald, Norbert Vanco, Henry Altpeter, Irving Beyer and Dale Boutain.

Minimum Wage

On September 24 President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law a minumum wage bill which calls for increase of the minimum wage to $1.60 per hour and brings an estimated eight million workers—including farm workers—under the minimum wage law. Apparently he does not believe that this is inflationary. At least he didn't say so in his statement following signing of the bill.

"My ambition is that no man should have to work for a minimum wage," he said, "but that every man should have skills that he can sell for more. The new minimum wage—$64 a week—will not support a very big family, but it will bring workers and their families a little bit above the poverty line, $3,000 a year; it will help them carry on; it will help them not to worry about three meals a day; and it will enable them to help themselves develop skills so that they can someday earn more."

Sounds great.

What about the young man or woman seeking part-time work while struggling to obtain a higher education? He or she isn't trying to "support a very big family" but to get by while learning. Increasing the minimum wage will decrease the number of jobs available for him or her.

As the bottom of the labor scale rises, workers in the middle and upper scale will become restless—or shall we say, increasingly restless. They will demand higher wages in relation to the minimum wage. Employers will grant the increases and add the increased cost of labor to the price of their products (except the farmer—he takes what Uncle Sam and the market will give him), thereby contributing to the spiral of inflation. Employers will therefore be "naughty men" in the eyes of the administration.

President Johnson has been in politics too long. He is too accustomed to deficit spending, receiving rather than paying taxes and hiring employees without particular regard to production value.

Hark to the words of LBJ:

"It will not force employers to cut down and fire employees—as critics of minimum wage laws will tell you. Whoever makes such charges is uninformed.

"The straight fact is that when minimum wages were first introduced—and in each year that minimum wages were increased—Mr. Potofsky will tell you that the employment actually rose instead of going down.

"They always predict it is going to close the businesses, that it is going to close down employment, that employment is going to drop—but the record doesn't show that.

"Our first bill in 1938, when the minimum wage was passed, employment rose. Again, in 1940, again in '50, again in '55, '56, '61, '63, '64 and '65 employment rose, rose, rose.

"The straight fact is that a fair minimum wage doesn't hurt business in any way.

"This new minimum wage law, with its increased minimum, with its expanded coverage, will prevent much of this exploitation of the defenselessthe workers who are in serious need.

"If a businessman can't do well with this minimum wage in our booming economy that we have today, well, maybe—perhaps he might not be just a good businessman."

Those of us among the uninformed—at least not informed in the administration's line of thinking which is not at all unbiased—beg to differ. Of course employment has increased. Population has increased, need for goods and services has increased, prices have increased. This is not to say that the increases in employment would not have been as great, or even greater, and expansion of the economy as rapid or more rapid, without minimum wage laws.

In leading the nation in a running charge down a steep hill, President Johnson can not look back to see those who have fallen by the way. He must continue the headlong rush, until the bottom is reached—but it's a long, hard, slow climb to the next summit.

Earning or Getting

The following editorial appeared in Pollock's Newspaper News:

I didn't have a very happy childhood, either, but nobody worried very much about it. I was too busy, I guess. . .cutting lawns, shoveling snow, running errands, delivering packages for ten cents, selling newspapers, doing house cleaning for my mother, and going to school. I passed my grades, too. If I didn't, I'd have had the hide strapped off me.

No one concerned himself about my amusements, either. What fun we had, we made. But if we did any damage like breaking a window in a ball game, we paid by working it out.

We never heard these modern phrases like "standard of living," "subsistence level," "minimum requirements." Our standard of living was whatever my father (and after I was about twelve, my father and I) earned. I don't suppose people "understood" me and if I said so, my mother would have asked, "Why should they?" and certainly no one ever gave a thought to my "problems." They were mine, weren't they? Mine to solve. Why should I expect anyone else to bother?

If my father was laid off, we stopped spending on anything but food, and a lot less of that. My dad spent every waking hour looking for work—any work. We lived on savings and when they were gone, we moved in with relatives. If there had been no relatives, when every penny and every saleable asset was gone, we would have gone to the only place left—but that would have been an admission that we couldn't take care of ourselves.

You'll notice in this true story of a typical American family of a few years back, I'm not talking about privileges nor happiness. I guess we didn't have much. But we had something that was infinitely more important, infinitely more rewarding—we had self-respect, because whatever we had, however little it was, we earned.

It seems to me that is why America is the strong nation it is today—and it will stay strong only as long as there are enough Americans more interested in earning than getting.

More on Examiners

From what we have been able to determine, investigation of complaints against driver's license examiners in Crookston, Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren, Hallock and Roseau is being continued by the Minnesota highway department. We do not know what results these investigations have provided, if any, except in generalities.

Perpetrators of the investigation — Rep. Harvey Wilder of Crookston and Sen. Norman Larson of Ada—have been strangely silent the past several weeks, and perhaps rightly so. It is proper that the investigation continues without further comment from these two legislators.

It is to be hoped, however, that findings will be announced and department action or decision not to take action made public soon. By soon we mean well in advance of the November 8 election, a date which seems quite firmly implanted in the minds of the above legislators who both have new political ground to cultivate this year due to reapportionment.

We will state once again that we have faith in the three examiners who serve the seven communities mentioned above. Each of these men makes approximately 4,500 contacts with individuals each year in performing the dutues of the position. It is virtually an impossibility that some people would not be offended from that total; it would be contrary to all laws of human nature.

We do know that complaints investigated by the department date back as far as 10 years. Incidents that people recall happening last year or a couple of years ago turn out to have happened four, five or six years ago. They have undoubtedly been objects of corrective action previously—perhaps unknown to the complainant. The general public will be interested in knowing these things, when the investigation currently underway is completed.

State employees are human and subject to human frailties. They can make mistakes and no one has a right to expect perfection of them. We are sure the examiners, just as this editor, consider a certain amount of public resentment as part of the job.

The unfortunate aspect of this situation is the manner in which it was originated. Three entirely human individuals were tried and convicted by two legislators on the basis of a few complaints, some of which have festered for years because of misunderstanding and most of which were publicly solicited. The guilt label was spread to the news media and the men were condemned BEFORE an invesitgation was held.

Conscientious legislators, concerned only with solving a problem if it does exist, could have accomplished the desired end by a formal request for an investigation directly to the commissioner of highways, who could have delegated the responsibility to an assistant. The direct interview investigation could have been held without fanfare, the situation analyzed and the conclusion drawn. If public disclosure was deemed justified, THEN it could have been made public.

Rep. Wilder and Sen. Larson used a backward, inside-out approach which is peculiar to some politicians, particularly those to whom self-service comes ahead of true public service.

We feel that the examiners and the people of the area are entitled to a factual, unemotional statement from these legislators prior to the election. And while they are waiting for the final results of investigation, we suggest they prepare for a meal of crow and humble pie.

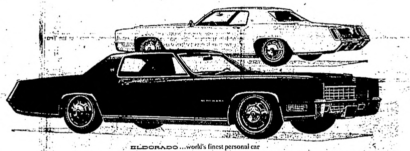
Surprisingly New! Superbly Cadillac!



ELDORADO . . . world's finest personal car

SEDAN deVILLE . . . another dramatic Cadillac surprise

INTRODUCING THE 1967 STANDARD OF THE WORLD

You are looking at two of the newest luxury cars ever created. They are typical of Cadillac for 1967. The Fleetwood Eldorado—the world's finest personal car—is the first exciting case in point. Eldorado is a styling masterpiece . . . with its spectacularly long hood, its daring new roof lines and its dramatic rear quarter design. It is also an engineering triumph. For Eldorado is the first car in the world to combine the sure-footed traction of front wheel drive with the maneuverability of variable ratio power steering and the balance of automatic level control. And with all its spirit and action, Eldorado provides unusual five-passenger spaciousness and the quietness and comfort that only Cadillac could create. This brilliant newness also marks the Cadillacs you are most familiar with. For they are the most beautiful Cadillacs of all time . . . with a new forward-sweeping grille and a new side contour that flows from front to rear! And with this new Cadillac look come a number of other achievements . . . the most luxurious interiors in history . . . a new generously padded instrument panel . . . a more responsive Cadillac engine . . . improved variable ratio power steering . . . and a new General Motors-developed energy absorbing steering column. Discover Cadillac for 1967 for yourself . . . at your authorized dealer's. Once you have personally seen and driven these exceptional new automobiles, you'll agree that never before has anything on the highway said new so beautifully . . . or Cadillac so well!

School Activities

During the past few weeks different school systems have started classes and the community's children and young people are established in schools for the next nine months.

The 7th. and 8th. grade classes at Viking have been closed this year. The students are attending the junior high school classes at Warren, Thief River Falls or Newfolden. Those affected here were Jon Sabo and Laura Kron who are in seventh grade at Newfolden now.

Starting kindergarten in Thief River Falls are Jimmy Johnson, Cindy Anderson, Lorette Aaseby and Jimmy Rooker. Starting first grade at Viking is David Lubarski.

Moving into junior high school at Ben Franklin in Thief River Falls this year are Greg Bulger, Susan Johnson, Douglas Reierson, Dwight Johnson and Richard Haugen.

Judy Reierson and Karen Kron are attending Junior College in Thief River Falls. Susan Holmstrom left last Friday for the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis where she will start studying medical technology. James Dahl returned to Bemidji a week ago Monday where he is a senior at Bemidji State College.

Danny Olson is again playing on the football team at Newfolden this year. Douglas Johnson has been made a member of the Concert Choir at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

At class meetings at Newfolden Janet Holmstrom and Joyce Sabo were elected as candidates from the senior class for homecoming queen. Laura Kron was voted an attendant from the 7th grade for homecoming.

Danny Olson was elected by the junior class to serve on the student council and Janelle Hodik represents the seventh grade on the council. Laura Kron was elected treasurer of the seventh grade class.

Janet Holmstrom, Joyce Sabo and Deanna Jarshaw are among the cheerleaders chosen to lead the sports events at Newfolden this coming year.

Mrs Ormond Johnson was remembered on her birthday last Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Schob and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson and family spent the afternoon and had a chicken supper with the Johnsons.

Thursday Mrs Norman Folden and Mrs. Clifford Johnson visited with Mrs Howard Peterson at Euclid.

Mary Jo Nelson of Thief River Falls celebrated her 10th birthday Sunday at her grandparents home, the Russell Nelsons. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson, Wendy and Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thompson were dinner guests at Russell Nelsons. The Chris Thompsons had spent the weekend there.

Accidents Cost Minnesota Nearly $1 Million Daily

Accidents in Minnesota during 1965 cost its people an average of $900,000 a day in losses never to be recovered, according to a statement issued by the Minnesota Safety council.

Total losses from all types of accidents, according to Rumon V. Juetten, executive secretary, were $331 million for the year. The major categories included death indemnities, hospital and medical care of injured, wage losses due to temporary inability to work, fire and other property destruction.

The figures reported by the Minnesota organization were based on findings of the National Safety council, which collects information from numerous state, federal and private sources, including reports from insurance companies which finance indemnities. The national accident loss was $18 billion.

"This is an exorbitant price to pay for destruction that could be prevented with a little thought and care," Juetten said. "A great many beneficial activities could have been accomplished with this money poured down the drain largely because of carelessness and in attention to accident prevention efforts.

"This $331 million loss would have kept 40,000 persons on the job at going wages in our state," Juetten went on. "Added to our purchasing power, it would have meant $400 more money in the pockets of our average families. It could have financed three new taconite plants, paid three-fifths of the cost of running our schools, paid off the entire Minnesota state government debt, provided hundreds of miles of modern, safe roads, or if applied to our taxes, saved the taxpayer $3 of every $10 they now pay."

Motor vehicle accidents contributed the greatest portion of the total cost, $165 million, the figures showed. Wage losses, hospital and medical care due to accidents amounted to more than $100 million, $66 million in fires, property damage and attending costs of indemnification.

Petroleum Council Meets Monday at City Auditorium

First hand information about some of the problems oilmen will be facing next year was discussed by Norman H. Cruse at the Pennington County Petroleum council meeting Monday night at the city auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Other newly elected officers of the county petroleum council are, D. G. Wegge, vice chairman, and Clarence R. Carlson, secretary, Thief River Falls.

Highway financing and gasoline taxes headed the topics discussed by Cruse, assistant secretary, Minnesota Petroleum council, Minneapolis, according to the newly elected county chairman, Neil McKechnie, Texaco, Inc., Thief River Falls.

A review of the MPC's activities was also presented as was the legislative happenings of 1965 and what might be anticipated during the 1967 session as they related to oilmen.

The industry's public relations program, that involves free use of films, school material and other matters was also explained.

Changes Reported in Manufacturing of Feed

Feed manufacturing as an industry in Minnesota has changed significantly over the last 10 years.

A recent report published in the June issue of "Minnesota Farm Business Notes" by University of Minnesota agricultural economists R. Clyde Greer and Dale C. Dahl, shows distinct geographical and structural shifts in the industry.

Along with the trend to larger manufacturers with annual production of 1,000 to 100,000 tons of feed has been the shift from the Twin Cities to rural western and southern Minnesota. The industry has moved into areas of large dairy and slaughter production.

These geographical areas of the state have the greatest concentrations of beef, swine, poultry and dairy operations and these livestock operations generate a heavy demand for high quality manufactured feed.

Until 1954, the large companies were concentrated in the Twin Cities area and accounted for slightly more than half of the state's annual manufactured feed tonnage. Over 600 small mills each with less than 1,000 tons annual output operated in rural areas.

Large companies began to move into the rural areas around 1954. By offering credit on contract feeding they successfully established themselves in rural Minnesota. Many existing small manufacturers were unable to compete against the credit and services extended by the large companies.

Between 1954 and 1959 about 25 per cent of the small mills had disappeared leaving 502 of the 663 mills which were operating in 1954.

After 1959 the large companies cut back on credit contracts and the number of small companies declined only slightly between 1959 and 1964.

Ingredient manufacturers selling drugs and supplements directly to farmers as well as to the mills increased their numbers during this time. They also moved into the rural livestock production areas.

Large milling companies increased from 83 in 1954 to 119 in 1964. Actual plants operating in 1964 numbered 125, the difference being satellite operations of Twin City based companies.

Greer and Dahl said in the report that the trend toward geographical concentration of large feed mills in heavy feed consumption areas will probably continue. New plant construction will be more closely associated with livestock production than in the past.

The economists also hint that feeding may be on its way out as a competitive practice in the industry. Companies which practiced contract feeding sustained substantial losses in many instances, but are now located to take advantage of their markets without making special concessions to feed buyers.

Because of the continuing emphasis on specialized farming and the sophistication of feeding operations both in dairy and slaughter livestock production, Greer and Dahl said that there is reasonable hope for the establishment of large scale feed manufacturing activity in rural areas of Minnesota.

Norquist Shows Six Paintings

Richard Norquist, Oklee high school teacher who is directing the Community Theatre's production of "Bell, Book and Candle", now has six paintings on display at Northern State bank in Thief River Falls, according to Gene Beito, bank president.

The pictures are titled "Quarter Horse", "Combo", "Two Maidens", "An Old Friend", "Reflections Green" and "Highway 65". The paintings are for sale.

Norquist has directed plays at the Oklee school and has written one-act plays which have been published. His wife teaches home economics at Oklee.

Caribou Area Man Dies in Accident

Lloyd Steien, farmer in the Caribou area, north of Hallock, died September 21 following a freak accident.

Steien was hauling a hay stack down a road with his tractor when he lost control of the tractor and the machine tipped over in the ditch. The hay stack tumbled on top of him and he was pinned beneath the several-ton load as he sat on the tractor seat.

The exhaust from the tractor reportedly set the hay on fire. The Lake Bronson and Caribou fire departments were called but by the time they arrived Steien was dead. His body was later recovered but was burned beyond recognition.

AT THE CHURCHES

Mission Covenant Church

John E. Lind, Pastor

Throughout this week, except Saturday evening, special services are being held at which the guest preacher is Rev. Gordon E. Meyer, pastor of Park Avenue Covenant Church, Minneapolis. Services are at 7:45 each evening. Everyone is most welcome to attend.

Rev. Meyer will remain with us for services next Sunday, preaching at 11:00 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Sunday school teachers meet for prayer at 9:30. Confirmation class meets at 9:45 and the Sunday school begins at 9:45. At present we are participating in a conference-wide Sunday School Advance and at the same time are competing in a contest with Warren Covenant church, continuing through the five Sundays of October. Attendance, new pupils, visitors and being on time are scoring factors.

A Christian Workers' Institute, extending through five successive Tuesday evenings at Warren Covenant Church, will begin Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, at 7:30. Rev. Don Wagner and Rev. Robert Grover of Oak Hills will be instructors. This will give teachers 10 credit hours for a teacher's training course. The institute will close Nov. 8.

Communion service will be held Wednesday evening, October 12, at 7:45.

Released time class will be held each Wednesday 11:00 to 11:45 a.m.

Men's morning watch prayer meeting is held Mondays at 6:30 a.m.

STORY time with GOD

Religion is a vital need at every age. And these boys and girls are busy gaining religious knowledge that will be important to them all through life.

We grownups are accustomed to the Church's presence in community life. It is always there, gracing the horizon with its spire . . . offering its message of faith to a confused world.

But peek into the corner of a beginner's room on Sunday morning and behold the majesty of the Church's mission. It brings the consecrated talents of artists, writers and teachers together, and focuses them upon the eager minds of a generation preparing to face life. It gathers the spiritual truth unfolding for centuries, and in beloved story brings it to the ready ears of tots and toddlers.

Support and attend the church of your choice. Make sure your children are sharing in this life — enriching STORY TIME WITH GOD.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Vinegar vignettes from SPEAS

What the Sphinx Knows About Vinegar

If he could talk, the Sphinx could reveal fascinating historical tales about vinegar. Early Egyptians believed it held marvelous curative powers. They used vinegar in their mortar. Today, Speas knows more about vinegar than anyone . . . as they have been in business since 1888.

We ought to know. We see more tires than anybody. And a lot of them are so-called "bargain" tires. We know them well. We find cracks in the sidewalls, separated tread, ruptured casings, and blowouts. And it's because of this experience, and concern for our customers, that we sell the Amoco 120 Super Tire and Atlas Plycron ("The Round Tire"). We're proud of these tires because we know how they've been made—and the tests they've been through. And because we'd like to see quality tires on your car, we're participating in a "Trade-Up-To-Quality" Campaign. We'll make it well worth your while to drive in for a free tire check. And if you need new tires you can get them with no money down and up to a year to pay. Plus a top trade-in. After all, You expect more from Standard, and you got it!
